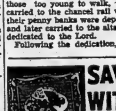
The Reverend Canon J. E. Creegan, in his white alb, welcomed the little ones with their mothers, grandmothers, and friends. The children were reverent, and stated that it was a wonderful and inspiring sight to see all the little children come to call upon God in God's house. He also told the story of the dirty penny which had been lost in the crack of the sidewalk and found by a little girl, who did not take it to the store for candy, but had put the dirty little penny in a box with a little prayer that God would bless it for missionary work and all missionary work over the whole world.



Then one day the little boy with the dirty little penny and other pennies was taken to church where lovely music was played, and then the penny finally arrived in a hospital where a little little boy was counting them, and thanking God for the little boys and girls who had sent these pennies, and the story of Jesus so that he might become well both in soul and body.

Assisting Canon Creegan was the Rev. Everett Smith, whose friendly smile quietly welcomed the little ones as well as the mothers.

Dedication of Penny Banks

During the singing of the children's hymn, "Jesus Bids Us Shine," slowly by ones, and twos, some being led by the hand, and those too young to walk, were carried to the chancel rail where their penny banks were deposited and later carried to the altar and dedicated to the Lord.

Following the dedication, Mrs.

S. Hastings District Y.P.U. Holds Rally Elects New Officers

Over 130 young people of South Hastings District Young Peoples Union of the United Church of Canada gathered last Monday evening at Centenary United Church to hold their fall rally. A fellowship banquet was served by Centenary W.A.

The evening program presided over by Miss Willamine Hoffman, opened with a lively singsong led by Miss Margaret Hillis, president of Belleville Presbytery Y.P.U., a welcome to the church was given by Miss Doreen Rey, president of the Centenary Union.

Members of Tabernacle United Church, Belleville, union, presented the worship service with Earl Lashway in charge assisted by Ida Ketchum, Maribeth Holgate and John Hannah.

Guest Speaker

Rev. G. J. Minielly, Trenton, introduced the guest speaker, Rev. T. E. Floyd Honey, B.A., S.T.M., a returned missionary, who was supported in China by the offerings and prayers of the young people of the Bay of Quinte Conference. He pointed out that the Church of Christ in China did exist although the Communist government had placed a great many restrictions on its conduct. All foreign missionaries have been driven out and no evangelistic work is allowed. He asked that those who are not forced to live under compromise and limitations, pray constantly for the people of China that they may keep their faith strong.

National Council

Fred Bayliss, past president of Belleville Presbytery, brought an interesting report on National Council held in Winnipeg this summer. He encouraged the young people to attend rallies and conventions of this kind to increase their training; make them better members and leaders in their local unions.

Discussion groups were formed and were led by the following Presbytery and District officers: Irene Walters, Eloise Sine, Gaynor Rendall, Fred Wajte, Burton Norton.

A resume of the year's activities and financial report was given by the secretary, Reta Christie.

The report of the nomination committee was presented and an election of officers for the coming year held and the result was as follows: past president, Don Williams; president, Miss Cameron; vice-president, Reta Christie; secretary, Ruth McMullen; treasurer, Vic Haire; adviser, Rev. G. J. Minielly; convenors: Faith and Evangelism, Willamine Hoffman; Missions and World Outreach, Shirley Hall; Stewardship and Training, George Wilson; Citizenship and Community Service, Ralph Swan; Culture and Recreation, Eloise Sine; Leadership Training, Earl Lashway.

The rally was brought to an effective close with the installation of the new officers conducted by Rev. G. A. Puttenham, Trenton, chairman of Belleville Presbytery.

Britons Revel in Unrationed Tea

It has been 12 long years since London housewives were able to buy as much tea as they wished, and shoppers are revelling in the privilege of selecting their brands. Though tea has come off the ration list, many foods are still scarce throughout Great Britain and are expected to remain so. — Central Press Canadian.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

In debt, she's at her wits' end

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am very badly in debt, and I don't know what to do. I got a letter saying that my husband's pay was going to be attached. I try and pay some each week on the debts, but they say it's not enough and I am just at my wits' end.

I am expecting a baby, and I've been to the doctor just once because I haven't the money to pay the fee for further visits. We need so many things, but we can't afford to go into debt any further. There's three of us, and my husband only brings home $36 a week after everything is taken out of his pay.

I just don't know what to do, or where to turn, so I hope you can give me some advice.—W. E.

Dear W.E.:

What you most definitely need to do is to take all your problems to the nearest social service organization where they will help you work out a solution.

If you don't know how to find such an organization, ask your minister or priest, or your local newspaper, where it is located in your town. Or, if you prefer, you can write me again, and this time enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope so that I will know how to reach you directly, and I will find out for you where you can go for the help you need.

I can understand how desperate you must feel, but I can assure you that if you will get in touch with the people I have suggested, they will help you find a way out of your difficulties.

If it's your fault, you should apologize

Dear Miss Fairfax:

There is a boy I was going steady with for seven months, but recently we broke up. It was all my fault that we broke up, for I am badly spoiled and got mad at every little thing.

I would like to explain to this boy and make up with him, so will you please give me some advice, for I am so miserable.—J. S.

Dear J.S.:

If a person has done or said something for which an apology should be made, the only way to make things right is to be honest enough to go ahead and apologize. You seem to have the honesty to recognize your own failings, and to accept blame you feel is definitely yours, so I think you have the character and directness to make any apology necessary. If you find it too hard to say what you want to say right to him, then send him a nice little note and tell him how sorry you are for what happened; that you know you were to blame, and that you would like to be friends again so that you could show him what a good friend you really can be.

Food For Thought

Thanksgiving: Two Viewpoints

By Mary Moore

When we give thanks at Thanksgiving it is supposed to be for the abundant harvest prior- ity—and I do—but every day of the Canadian year. When I give thanks at Thanksgiving I have to put first things first, and give thanks in this order: For the privileges of worship and our faith in our Heavenly Father; for Marianne and Peter who are now away at school and missed more than I care to admit; for my good health; for the love of relatives and friends—some of them gained through this column; then comes food (even though it is last on the list, it does not mean I don't love the stuff a lot).

Anyway, of Thanksgiving dinner menus, I was talking turkey to a turkey dealer. He said that turkey would be no more of an extravagance for Thanksgiving dinner than a prime roast of beef pound for pound, at present beef prices.

At "present beef prices" and "turkey"—ay, there's the rub.

So to get myself out of the dilemma of trying to guess what you have planned to have and what you would like me to suggest to you, this is different and tested, so will give you two menus.

One of the menus is an all-out high-style dinner with "turkey and trimmin's". The other is more of a family affair where love and flavor reign supreme.

FAMILY THANKSGIVING DINNER

(In our house we sing Grace on this grand occasion. Pete goes sides at the piano and with his resounding first chord we all join in with "Be present at our table Lord. . . .")

Fruit Salad in Grapefruit Cups
Prime Roast Ribs of Beef
(Yorkshire Pudding would make a extra thankful)
Duchess Potatoes
Brussels Sprouts
Waldorf Salad
Mince or Pumpkin Pie
Mints Coffee

I think I can guess what recipes you will be wanting if you are going to prepare either of these feasts.

GLAZED SWEET POTATOES

Wash sweet potatoes, boil in water to cover until nearly but not quite tender. Drain, peel, cut in halves lengthwise. Place in buttered baking dish. For 6 medium-sized sweets make a syrup by boiling together one-half cup sugar and one-quarter cup water for three minutes. Add 1/4 or 4 tablespoons butter. Pour half of this syrup over the potatoes and bake 15 minutes, or until potatoes begin to brown, then baste with remaining syrup and turn them over and bake 15 minutes longer.

PLUM PUDDING PROPER

Bring out your large bowl and mix all together in it 1 cup finely chopped suet, 1-2 cup brown sugar, 1-2 cup best quality molasses, 1 cup sour milk, in which you have dissolved 1 teaspoon baking soda, 4 cups sifted flour. Add 1-2 lb. each chopped figs and washed and dried currants, 1 lb. washed and dried raisins. Add the grated rind and juice of 1 lemon, and 1-4 cup finely chopped candied orange peel. The best spices are 1 teaspoon cinnamon and 1-2 teaspoon each ground cloves and freshly grated nutmeg. Mix well. Turn into buttered large mold or 2 smaller ones, cover well. Lie down with several thicknesses wax paper and steam 4 hours, keeping water at halfway up mold and steamer covered.

Be extra thankful for being a Canadian too.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECHMAN

Attention . . . all wedding ushers!

Do you know the difference between your right arm and your left arm? If you don't. . . and so many ushers apparently don't. . . be sure to learn this difference before the wedding day. For . . . are you listening? . . . it is your right arm you should offer to a woman when escorting her to your seat or up the aisle. As knight-of-the-aisle at the wedding, be right with your right arm!

Best man "gets a shock" when mentions bachelor dinner plans!

Dear Mrs. Beechman:

My sister's fiance has no brothers or cousin, and, as we are very good friends and have been for some time, he has asked me to be best man at their wedding. The other day my sister said something to me about it is "your responsibility, you know, to make arrangements for the bachelor dinner, which Ted wants to have given at the Country Club." I got a shock! Does this mean that I am expected to pay for the bachelor dinner? —Bob H.

When a bachelor dinner is to be given . . . and this is not so often done as formerly. . . it is the bridegroom's responsibility to give it, and to pay for expense of the dinner. Usually bridegroom himself makes all the arrangements for this dinner. . . although it is true that occasionally a bridegroom does ask his best man to make these arrangements. But I never have heard of a bridegroom asking his bride to ask the best man to make the arrangements for the bachelor dinner. . . like you, I'm a bit suspicious about this, and my advice is that you find out what's going on in the bridegroom's mind about these expenses. The expenses of a bachelor dinner given at a Country Club can be quite formidable. . . and if the bridegroom can't meet them himself, the dinner shouldn't be given. Certainly you shouldn't pay for this dinner!

Maid of honor usually carries groom's ring

Dear Mrs. Beechman:

Our wedding is to be a double-ring ceremony. I know the best man carries the bride's ring. But who carries the groom's ring?—Ann S.

Usually the maid of honor carries the groom's ring. . . which he hands to the bride after the groom gives the bride her ring part of the ceremony. (Occasionally it is the plan to have the best man take charge of both rings, but I think it's wiser to have each chief attendant take charge of only one ring.) Note: Be sure to inform the clergyman beforehand that you wish to have the double-ring ceremony, so that he will include the correct procedure for this in the wedding rehearsal.

Bride should send organist, her friend, a corsage

Dear Mrs. Beechman:

The organist of our church is a very dear friend of mine. She is to play at our wedding, and my mother is going to send her a cheque (in a thank-you note) for the amount of her usual professional fee for this service. Of course we are inviting her to the reception. Should I send her a corsage to wear at the church and the reception?—Aline J.

Yes. . . a charming gesture, and customary.

CAMPBELLFORD

Duck Hunters Get Ducking, Boat Capsizes

CAMPBELLFORD— Jim Meharron, 23, and William Bleeker, 24, of Campbellford, got a ducking on the weekend when their boat capsized while duck hunting on Bradley Bay, a few miles southeast of the town.

They were thrown into the water when strong winds lashed the waters of the bay, upsetting the boat. Bleeker managed to hang on to his gun as the boat turned over but McPherson's gun went to the bottom. The pair clung to the overturned boat and were pulled out about two minutes later by Allan Parr, Mr and George Rose of Campbellford, who were in a boat nearby.

The water was so rough that a second boat with a 10 horse-power motor, towing the disabled shell, had some difficulty in making its way to a marshy island where the towed wet duck hunters tried to dry themselves out. Rose and Taylor, their owners, shared some of their heavy clothing with the dripping hunters and then they made their way back to the mainland. Just to make it all the more pleasant, the party went home with no ducks.

There's an old trail through the Laurentian Mountains in Quebec Province that is seldom used any more, except on those rare occasions when the forestry department sends men to patrol the threat of bush fire, to look the lot, or to help bring out the victim of careless marksmen in the fall hunting season. That old trail begins at Riviere Petit Jardine, winds its tortuous way south through narrow gaps and long valleys, over the lowest peaks, avoids swamps and lakes, heavy timber and dangerous rocky slopes, and ends eventually on the shore of Lac Petit—Little Lake. Thirty miles as the crow flies, they used to figure it, but more likely 40 miles or more on foot.

There was a time when that path provided a most important short-cut for Indian and white trappers from the upper reaches of the river to Angus McKee's trading post on the north shore of Lac Petit, but only when the longer route by water was held in the grip of the frost king. But then, if there had not been such an overland route, there undoubtedly would not have been a trading post, and above all no wild life sanctuary, and consequently no basis for this story. For the days of the fur-traders in that part of the Laurentians have long since passed.

Following the death of his wife in the early '90s, Angus McKee sold his trading post. Then cut off from a place to sell their furs the trappers followed the game north, found a closer market for the fruits of their labors, while the southern part of the area through which the trail winds, an area four miles deep and all 2,000 acres of it—mountains and valleys and lakes and woods—fronting on Lac Petit, has been zoned as a game sanctuary, a private game sanctuary which is ghostly patrolled. Thus carrying out at long last and to the final detail the last will and testament of its founder, Angus McKee, the half-breed Scots-Cree Hero of the hinterlands. McKee was not to live to see how his wishes in this important matter were to be so fully, so completely, carried out by his son and heir, Colin, more familiarly known as "Colly."

Two persons were on the old trail shortly after dawn of that mid-June morning in '48. Leading the way through the tall grass across the flat, which in ages past had been an extension of the lake bed, was the tall, spare, reall-eyed Colly McKee, who, bellied his 55 years, his trying experience as a sniper for the Black Watch Highlanders in the First World War. The dark skin, high cheek bones, straight black hair, now tinged with grey, coal black eyes, light tread, stamped him as of Indian extraction. And so he was, but farther removed than his physical appearance would indicate. Colly's grandmother had been an Algonquin who had married his Scots-born grandfather when he had been factor for the Hudson's Bay Company at their post farther north. But his father, Angus McKee, the half-breed with the Midas touch, had come to Ontario, to Hastings County to be exact, and returned with a Canadian-born Scottish bride who had become Colly's mother. Thus you can see that Colly McKee was three parts Scot, one part Algonquin, but with the Indian blood in him predominating, indicating what he was not—a full blooded Indian. Not that it matters, but just to keep the records straight.

Colly McKee's companion, his only child and a motherless child she was, was in no respects like him. While he was tall and dark, Sandra was short and fair, with blue eyes and reddish-brown hair. And again racial blood had left its mark. For Sandra's mother had been Flora Stuart of Edinborn-Scotland who had married her father when he was overseas, had come back to make a home for him at the abandoned trading post on the shore of Lac Petit. Sandra, or "Sandy" as she was called, had been schooled in Ontario, had entered a city hospital as nurse-in-training. Confident with her graduation, she had been called home to nurse her mother during her long illness from an incurable disease, thereafter to remain with her father. That was two years ago when Sandy was 21.

The more you looked at Sandy McKee, the more you were convinced that she was a pretty girl—pretty, even in grey slacks, light blue sweater that came well up on her throat, her father's faded grey felt hat pulled well down over her wealth of hair, long black gloves reaching to her elbows as a protection against the berry bushes and the black flies that would awaken as morning advanced.

After crossing the flat, Colly McKee and his daughter approached their first climb of the morning, the crooked trail up the side of a high wooded hill, part of a ridge that ran east to west across the entire width of their sanctuary property without any variation in height from one end to the other.

"Y'know, Sandy," Colly said, as he stopped and raised his eyes to the top of the ridge. "Every time I look at that blasted old hill, the higher it seems to grow. Guess I'm getting old—guess I can't take it any more. Some day I'm going to get me a man to do my climbing for me," he stopped. Now if my memory serves me, I believe there's a clause in Dad's will which tells me that if needs be, I can hire a man and pay him out of the funds set aside for the upkeep of this sanctuary."

"Then, why not make sure, and look it up, Dad," Sandy said. "At your age, you shouldn't be climbing hills at all. First thing we know, your heart will be giving out, and then what about me? Remember, you're all I have."

"Yes, lass," Colly agreed, "I'm all you have, and you're all I have too. And I should play fair with you. But after all, a fellow hates to give way to age—like to keep going as long as he can." He stopped again and gave the hill another look, "better wait here for a few minutes until I clear that path for you—it's getting more dangerous all the time."

Sandy soberly watched her father as he pushed up hill, stopping now and then to snap overhanging branches of trees, to bend back the hazel and berry bushes, to upset a dangerously poised birch and send it crashing down the hillside, to heave obstructions from the path. After a while he reached the top, motioned her to follow him.

While she came, he dragged an old tree trunk to the front of the wide plateau and he was sitting on it, fanning his face with his hat, when she came and stood behind him, her hands on his shoulders.

From such a vantage point, the scene unfolded below, and beyond was one of which they never tired. Here, indeed, was a photographer's dream picture.

In the foreground their low colonial type red-roofed, log-clad bungalow set beneath towering pines, the broad grey stone fireplace chimney jutting above the west side of the roof, the white, fenced flower and vegetable garden also to the right of the house. In the rear, the old log stable, the only reminder of the old trading post on the same grounds, the radio aerial lightning rods, clothes line, the many painted bird houses scattered around the place were seen. The broad flagstone walk ran from the kitchen door on the left of the house to the front where it met the lake shore. The green lawn sloped up on the south side, its tilted outboard motor gleaming in the light of the morning sun like a piece of silver.

And that, the long, semi-circular sand beach the width of their property, all their very own, and not one foot of which was for sale at any price. And Lac Petit, a lake that was the same length on the beach and about half the distance wide, dark, untruffled birch water under a light mist, a mist through which a herring gull was lazily circling in search of breakfast, and to the right upshore, a small flock of wild ducks dying for food.

Level of Price Support For Farm Products Key Issue on Farm Policy

By NORMAN ALTENDORF
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (CP)—The level of price support for farm products is the key issue on farm policy discussions in the United States election campaign.

Both Governor Adlai Stevenson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower have given similar answers to farmers' queries on their plans for keeping the farmer happy. So the issue seems to boil down to which party will give the most satisfaction in fulfilling farm-policy pledges.

However, there has been some backbiting on the recent history of farm legislation as there has been on the history of other legislation.

The Republicans have charged that President Truman gained many votes in 1948 by telling farmers that the Republican-controlled 80th Congress was to blame for a shortage of grain storage facilities. The Republicans claim there was no shortage in 1948.

Truman's 'Whistle' Slogan

Truman in his current whistle-stop tour reiterates there was a storage shortage and that it was the 80th Congress which blocked measures to increase storage facilities.

Eisenhower and other Republican spokesmen say that the Democrats in 1948 manipulated the grain market to force prices down and to compel farmers to dump grain at a loss.

But the big issue is the regulation of prices. Since 1933 the U.S. government has taken a hand in regulating farm prices so that farmers' incomes could be good. This was attempted through establishment of a standard for farm prices. The standard, called "parity," aims at giving the farmer a fair return in relation to the things he has to buy.

This level does not fix market prices at the parity level, but uses various devices to push farm prices up to that level. That's where the fight comes. Parity price standard is generally accepted by both major parties, but there have been bitter differences on the method of achieving parity prices.

The most extensively-used method is that under which the government gives the farmer a loan on his crop, a loan based on parity. The farmer's crop is stored under loan and is not available for the market while under loan. Thus a miller must pay a price in line with the government loan rate if he wants the farmer to sell him his crop.

90 Per Cent Parity

At present, major products are being supported at 90 per cent of parity. In the case of wheat the support rate is $2.20 a bushel, 90 per cent of the parity price.

Some farm leaders argue that supports at 90 per cent of parity are too high, contending that high supports encourage over-production. But other farm leaders say that supports should be set at full parity.

The Republican platform "aims" at a program that will bring "full parity prices" but it does not specify any level of government support. Eisenhower, however, has stated that he backs the 90 per cent of parity now on the government books, noting that the Democratic platform calls for "mandatory" price supports at 90 per cent of parity, ridicules the use of the word "aim" by the Republican platform. He pointed up the fact that more than half the Republican members of the House of Representatives voted last June against having 90 per cent of parity.

Lord Rothermere First Chancellor Nfld. University

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Lord Rothermere, British newspaper publisher and a man with a major investment in this province's industrial life, yesterday was installed as the first chancellor of Newfoundland's Memorial University.

President of the Harmsworth group of papers and a principal of the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company which operates a large paper mill at Grand Falls, Nfld., Lord Rothermere accepted the post at Memorial University earlier this year.

Following the ceremony Lord Rothermere said he had received messages of congratulations and well wishes for the university from Prime Minister Churchill, the chancellor of the University of Bristol, and from Earl Baldwin, chancellor of Oxford University.

SENTENCED IN SEX CRIMES

TORONTO (CP)—Two men were sentenced to jail yesterday following their conviction earlier this week on charges of attempted carnal knowledge. Roy Twichin, 31, of Weston, a dairy employee with two children, was given six months definite and three months indeterminate. Bruce Malone, 25, of Tillsonburg, a clothing salesman, was sentenced to five months definite and three months indeterminate.

Norman Boyd Is Acquitted Of Bank Robbery

TORONTO (CP) Norman Boyd, brother of Edwin Alonzo Boyd, yesterday was acquitted of bank robbery in a drama-packed trial which reached its peak when his father, a former Toronto policeman, testified in his defence.

Edwin Clever Boyd, who said he retired from the police force in 1946, testified that he borrowed money from Norman to help pay for a farm near Wiarton. He said he gave his son a mortgage on a house in suburban North York and when most of the mortgage later was sold.

Edwin Boyd had pleaded guilty to the $8,047 robbery a year ago of the Dominion Bank in suburban Lansing. Norman Boyd, jointly charged, told the court that he wasn't in Toronto the morning the bank was robbed.

He said that he had driven to Lindsay, 70 miles northeast, that morning to spend the week-end with another brother, Gordon, and had—arrived before the noon hour the bank was held up at 11:05 a.m.

Gordon Boyd corroborated Norman's story.

House Building Down

OTTAWA (CP)—Indications are that the number of new houses completed in Canada this year will fall far below the total for 1951. The Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday that only 33,055 houses were completed in the first seven months of this year compared with 45,620 in the corresponding period of 1951, a decrease of 19,565.

The report showed that if the 1951 total is to be matched, 46,355 houses will have to be completed in the last five months of this year.

TOUGH FOR BUSTERS

ST. THOMAS (CP) — Broncho busters will have a harder time of it this year. The St. Port Stanley Lawanian' annual rodeo at Union Monday. Last year the Kiwanians were unable to find horses wild and mean enough so this time they bought six from the Indians on Walpole Island. The horses have never been saddled or bridled.

Trek of Canyon in Atlantic

Jon Morrow Lindbergh, one of eight scientists recently engaged in oceanographic surveys, displays a glass cylinder with a sample of water taken from the sea floor as he arrives at Hoboken, N.J. Jon, who is the son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, said the expedition came upon hitherto unknown Atlantic canyon that stretches for 800 miles somewhere midway between Bermuda and the Azores. — Central Press Canadian.

Whole Atmosphere of Front Changed by the Accuracy, Intensity of Chinese Fire

By BILL SOBS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA (CP) — Chinese artillery and mortar fire became such a terrific factor in recent static warfare both in accuracy and intensity—that the whole atmosphere of the front changed.

Where 50 shells in a day were notable a year ago, the average touched 2,500 in the Canadian area.

Even the cook can't escape. When the divisional commander, to force the Canadian into tin hats. They are worn in all forward areas, but not on patrols or raids since they make too much noise.

Frenzied on Patrol

On patrol the troops wear armored vests as protection against fragments and bullet injury but do not wear them for routine front-line duties.

During the early weeks after the brigade moved into the line from a summer period in reserve casualties resulting from shelling were extremely high. The proportion of killed to wounded—normally 1 to 10—was 1 to 4.

Mostly the trouble was bad luck and "thike" hits. But there were controllable factors, such as troops showing themselves in the enemy, gathering in groups and failing to take cover.

Casualties strained the reinforcement flow, reducing the Royal 22nd Regiment to three companies, for instance. To compensate, the Royal Canadian Regiment created a fifth rifle company out of its own depleted strength to take over the area formerly held by a Van Doo company.

Today leave allocations were curtailed because the men could not be spared.

Chaplains Active

Morale remained surprisingly good. So many factors operated against it, yet constant good work by unit chaplains was an effective counter-agent.

The Princess Patricias, spelling out their last days of service here, found themselves cliplicating the same looking-over-the-shoulder attitude which a year ago they deprecated in the veteran 2nd battalion. Nobody dared to "cop it" on the eve of his rotation.

The Chinese shelling brought many changes at the front. Jeeps no longer buzzed about the forward areas. Troops no longer lazed about, sunn' themselves in full view of the enemy.

Tanks of the I rd Strathcona's Horse, staggered along the Canadians' hilltop positions, were timbered and sandbagged right up to their turrets. And still they suffered direct hits.

Wary Commander

Brig. M.P. Bogert, the force commander, had to change his visiting hours and limit his party to himself and one officer commanding the battalion being visited.

Ground contact between the Communists and the Canadians was not frequent. The Chinese put in the occasional probe — sometimes a heavy one—but artillery and mortars: "ve were the extent of their regular attention.

"Th: Canadians have a hard time reaching the Chinese, too.

One patrol from the Patricias' under Capt. Scott Campbell of Moose Jaw and Calgary were out 2½ miles without making contact.

A:l Fuel Oils Form Sludge!

WHY IS KLEEN-FLO FREE OF SLUDGE

Fuel oil leaving refinery is clean and free of impurities. "Water Cushion" in large tanks make it impractical to add Kleen-Flo at refinery tanks.

During the journey to your burner, fuel oil picks up condensation and comes in contact with air to form natural gums and varnishes called sludge.

Number of Milk Cows Increases

OTTAWA —The first significant upward trend in Canada's dairy cow population in seven years was revealed by a Dominion Bureau of Statistics survey published this week. The report shows that on June 1st, 1952, milk cows and heifers increased by 2.7 per cent over a year ago.

The increase in milk cows on farms amounting to 84,000 head, reflects the embargo on Canadian cattle shipments to the U.S. imposed following the outbreak of foot and mouth disease, but nevertheless, exceeds the total number of milk cows exported in the year prior to the ban, by some 13,000 head.

From the standpoint of future milk output, dairy officials note the sharp increase of 72,000, or 8.6 per cent, in heifers kept for milk purposes, as providing relief from the declining milk production which has been in evidence since 1945.

Quebec and P.E.I. Highest

The Provinces of Quebec and Prince Edward Island show the highest heifer increase with gains of 20.5 per cent and 18.3 per cent respectively. Ontario showed an increase of 8.9 per cent, Saskatchewan is the only province showing a decline during the year.

In contrast to the proved Canadian outlook, the United States Department of Agriculture reports a continuation of the decline in milk cow numbers and milk production in that country. Increased production, loss of export markets for dairy cattle and greatly restricted outlets for cheese and evaporated milk, together with better and cheese imports during the past 18 months have resulted in abnormally high stocks of all dairy products for the season of the year.

WALLBRIDGE

Wallbridge — Old Jack Frost certainly made his appearance last Friday night when all flowers and garden produce were killed.

The severe storm which passed over this vicinity on Wednesday night last kept everybody wondering as the thunder and lighting seemed to be one continual roar. No damage was done around here only the lights were out from 5 p.m. to 3 p.m. and so lamps and candles were in quite a demand.

Mrs. Chas. Fair had the misfortune to get her hand caught in the wringer and glad to report that no bones were broken.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace and the former's aunt, Mrs. R. Graham, of Ballerick, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jeffery of Oshawa and Mrs. R. Farnell were called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Stanton on Sunday, also Mr. and Mrs. R. Woods of Madoc were called last week.

Mrs. A. Wannamaker and children were Sunday guests of her sister, Mrs. Elmer Smith and Mr. Smith.

A number of ladies from this vicinity attended the one-day short course held in the church dining hall sponsored by the Women's Institute, on Wednesday last.

Quite a few attended the Quarterly Board meetin Friday night and sorry to report the pastor, Rev. W. Weslands, has a call to Desoronto and expects to leave Sidney circuit the first of the new year. Mr. Weslands has been on Sidney charge for over five years and his going came as a regret to his many people of Sidney circuit.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Langabeer, Mrs. R. Latchford, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pound, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Pound and baby Dale, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. Harris on Sunday evening.

Glad to report Mr. George Ketchum who was confined to his home a few days with a bad cold, is able to be out again.

The tax papers were received last week and many were surprised at their raise of taxes which are climbing every year but all think that they have jumped this year.

GORE

COMMUNITY PRESENTS WATCH

Gore — Victoria community gathered at the church on Tuesday evening to honor Johnny MacIntyre, who has joined the army. Johnny has been in training at Wallbright, Alberta, and had a few days leave at his home here as he was en route to Petawawa for further training. Following a short program of community singing, a reading by Mrs. Fox and a recital, Johnny was called to the front of the church and given a address of appreciation and good wishes was read to him by Gerald Fox presented him with a lovely wrist watch for which he made a fitting reply.

Refreshments were served in the church basement and a social half hour enjoyed.

During the business period Mrs. A. H. Palmer made herself a life member of the W.M.S. At the November meeting, at the home of Mrs. Brickman and Audre, the Baby Band members with their mothers are the guests.

Victoria Mission Band held their October meeting on Wednesday with Miss A. Brickman, leader.

THIS IS FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Little Care Could Have Prevented 40,875 Fires With Property Loss of $21,317,651

Written for The Canadian Press By D. HENRY EDWARDS President Dominion Fire Prevention Association

OTTAWA (CP)—Exercise of a little care by Canadians last year could have prevented 40,875 fires and property loss of $21,317,651.

During Fire Prevention Week it is well to impress upon Canadian people the serious consequences that result from fire in the loss of life and prop rty.

In the last 26 years, 534,735 fires in Canada have claimed 4,085 lives, seriously injured 15,000 persons and destroyed property valued at $540,000,000.

In 1951 alone, there were 90,000 fires. They claimed 483 lives and caused property damage of $78,000,000. Most of the fires—45,000—were in the Home.

Shocking Record

Just think, careless smoking caused 21,985 fires and damage of $2,500,394. Defective chimneys flues, stoves, furnaces, boilers, pipes, hot ashes, coals and open fires were responsible for another 11,427 fires and loss of $2,813,413.

On the human side, 15 persons died in fires as a result of smoking in bed. Sixteen children left alone were lost in fires. Children playing with matches were responsible for 12 deaths. The careless use of gasoline and kerosene was responsible for the deaths of 11 others.

The fire causes in the home require your attention and this loss of life can be prevented with the application of your care and knowledge of how to protect your property against fire.

Need for Inspection

During Fire Prevention Week it is recommended that:

1. All dwell s, public buildings, stores, warehouses, factories, farms, mines and forests be carefully inspected by their occupants and all conditions likely to cause or promote the spread of fire be removed.

2. All theatres, hotels, hospitals and other institutional buildings being ted and provision made for all changes necessary to pro- the occupants in case of fire.

Canada's Fire Losses Heavy Despite Efforts to Awaken Public to Great Danger

TORONTO. — All through the ages man has been prone to take an apathetic view of dangerous conditions which are apparent to ordinary reasoning, and eventually catastrophe occurs.

Year after year newspapers, fire marshals, insurance associations and other ;fire prevention authorities publicize their efforts with a view to awakening the public to the ever present danger of fire. Despite all these efforts the fire bill for Canada reaches a figure that is one Canadians cannot be proud of.

In 1951 there were reported in Canada, 66,150 fires causing the death of 464 persons and property loss estimated at over $80,000,000.

It is the old story of "It can't happen to me" and fire is looked on as a fire occurs and affects a particular individual, fires warfare is regarded as "just one of those things".

On an average, every 10 or 15 minutes a fire occurs in some home, institution or manufacturing premises causing untold disolation, loss of lives, homes, factories and jobs.

The tragedy of these fires is that most of them are caused through carelessness. If more care were exercised and thought given to eliminate or minimize potential fire hazards, the yearly toll of destruction could be ,easily reduced.

The property, Forest and Federal Government, losses of over 80,000,000 in 1951 effects the economy of the country. In other words, we wasted this sum in buildings and goods. "Fire Prevention Week" is designed to focus public attention upon a great and ever present social and economic problem, but it does not mean that efforts to reduce fires should be confined to this one week, as the perils of fire are present 365 days of the year.

It is said that half the business firms burned out by a total fire loss never resume business. What does this mean? Loss of jobs, loss of tax revenue to the municipality, and so the locality is that much poorer.

The objective of all business must be the eradication of fire hazards by constant attention to all the principles of fire protection and prevention measures.

1. Fire drills be held for the children in all schools, for the inmates of all institutions and for the employees in all factories.

4. Special instruction on the subject of fire prevention be given by the teachers and by municipal officials in the schools and that such appropriate literature as may be made available be distributed to the pupils.

5. Federal, provincial and municipal authorities endeavor by means of public meetings, the press, radio broadcasts, specially prepared motion pictures or otherwise to impress upon citizens the national importance of protecting life, property and natural resources from loss by fire.

Careless Use of Matches And Careless Smoking Habits Main Causes of Fires

TORONTO—Waste of life and property by fire has increased so that the problem extends far beyond the insurance business, fire marshals and fire prevention organizations. It is a problem of national interest both economically and socially.

The tremendous loss of life and property every year commands the special thought and attention of every citizen interested in the welfare of Canada.

Insurance can reimburse the insured for lost property values, but again, it has been shown from experience that only a small percentage of policy holders are insured up to full value, so that the policy holder is unable to be recompensed for his full loss. While insurance monies may be collected it does not mean to say an assured can get immediate repairs or replacement for damaged or destroyed property.

Insurance cannot bring back national resources from smoke and ashes, nor can it restore lives.

Carelessness and recklessness are the principal enemies that we must constantly fight against. Careless use of matches and careless smoking habits rank first in the list of known causes of fire.

In 1950, the last year for which statistics were published, out of 59,710 fires reported 21,955 were caused by matches and smokers carelessness. The match or tobacco are not to blame, the careless user is the offender.

A government official stated the problem very clearly and simply in these words:

"Laws and ordinances, and the earnest efforts of fire officials in enforcing them, will not alone control fire losses. Almost every fire is the result of someone's carelessness. We must strive to develop in individuals a deep sense of personal responsibility to prevent fires—to be careful at all times with things that cause fires."

All citizens are in a position to play a most significant part in this vital conservation program —to safeguard their own useful and irreplaceable properties and to take an important part in the work of fire prevention.

Co-operation and leadership in a situation that concerns the welfare of our national economy is the duty of every Canadian.

Stress Elimination Industrial Hazards

Urging industry to participate in Fire Prevention Week, October 5-11, the National Fire Protection Association makes these recommendations for elimination of fire hazards in industrial establishments:

(1) Make frequent inspections of automatic sprinklers and other fire detection and fire fighting equipment. Be sure sprinkler valves are turned on. See that stock isn't piled so high that it interferes with water distribution from a sprinkler head. Keep fire hose attached to standpipe outlets.

(2) Keep aisles wide, clean and clear at all times.

(3) Enclose stairways, elevators and other vertical shafts with fire-resistive partitions and equipped with self-closing fire-doors. Keep stairways clear of obstructions. Never block fire doors. Mark exits plainly.

(4) Use care with inflammable liquids. Provide metal containers with tight-fitting lids for oily rags and waste materials. Beware of static electricity.

(5) Obey "No smoking" signs and other safety rules.

(6) Don't wear oily or paint-soaked clothing near open flames, furnaces or welding operations.

(7) Keep motors and generators well lubricated and free from dust and dirt. See that circuits are protected with approved fuses or cut-out devices to prevent overload. See that belts and pulleys don't slip. Don't allow machinery to run unattended.

(8) Train plant fire brigades and hold drills twice a month. Cooperate with the local Fire Department, providing information to the fire officials which would be helpful in the event of fire.

BELLEVILLE FIRE DEPT.

Fire-Resistant Materials Best

In conjunction with Fire Prevention Week, sponsored by the National Fire Protection Association and the Office of the Dominion Fire Commissioner, Fire Chief W. R. Elliott today cautioned property homes, to use fire-resistant materials and fire-safe construction.

"Let us be careful", the chief said, "and make sure that in remodeling for greater comfort and more livability we also remodel for greater safety. The roof, exterior and interior walls, as well as the floors, ceilings, door and partitions should all be planned and constructed with an eye to fire-resistance and preventing the spread of fire."

"On the exterior, the roof is important, as roof-communicated fires historically have been the principal cause of conflagrations which destroy wide areas. If the roof is old and combustible, recover it with a fire-resistant material such as asphalt shingles."

"On the interior, look first to the heating plant. There should be plenty of space all around the heater so that walls, floors and ceilings cannot get dangerously hot. Be sure there are fire-stops at floor intersections, as fire races swiftly from floor to floor through hollow walls."

"Wiring must be adequate to meet present and future needs," the Chief continued. "Overloaded circuits are giving the Fire Department a good deal of trouble, so plan on heavier wiring and more outlets than you think you will need. Be sure not to connect more than one major appliance to a single circuit." In a final note of warning, Chief W. R. Elliott recommended the installation of a heavy self closing door at the top of a stairway leading to any basement.

RAWDON

Bethel Church Holds Anniversary Services

Rawdon—Last Sunday the annual anniversary services in Bethel United Church on the Rawdon circuit were held with visitors from many parts in attendance. Bouquets of asters were used for decorations with potted plants.

The pastor Rev. R. R. Bonsteel preached at both services.

A special dedication ceremony took place at the morning service when two tall wicker pedestals were received in loving memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Heath. These were given by their family, Mr. Roy Heath, Belleville, Mr. William Heath, Edmonton, Alberta, and "Cla's", Mrs. Harold Elliott, of Bethel.

Guest Speaker

The guest speaker in the morning was Rev. A. E. MacKenzie, principal of Albert College, Belleville, who read Hebrews 11, and based his message on the true theme. "The Works of Faith."

He emphasized three points in his sermon: That by faith people knew God; by faith character is built, and individual goodness follows; Through faith in God the pioneers built the churches that today people might have suitable places of worship.

Today's Problems

The evening speaker was Rev. K. J. Crawford, pastor of St. Andrew's United Church, Marmora. He read the Prophecy of Ezekiel as found in chapter one and based his message on the subject, "Today's Problems are Much the same as in Bible Days."

The speaker said, "after all, human nature doesn't change much down through the years." He pointed out the various problems in the days of Ezekiel and compared them with those found in this year of 1952 and proved that history repeats itself. "The international problems and the everyday problems are always with us. However, through it all, God is everywhere as found in 139th psalm. Through His power, we have a picture of the omnipotence of God and are assured that all things work together for good."

Mrs. Harold Elliott A.T.C.M. presided over the day's music. The choir of 14 voices rendered an anthem in the morning, "Go Forward."

In the evening they rendered "In the Service of the King," and "Beautiful Words of Jesus."

At the morning service Miss Beverley Buck of Belleville, rendered two vocal selections, "Prayer Perfect" and "My Redeemer Liveth."

At the evening service Mrs. Walter Warren Festival of Praise gold medalist for 1951, was heard in a vocal solo, "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings."

Visitors were in attendance at the services from Belleville, Campbellford, Salem, Carmel, Wellman's, Mount Pleasant, Marmora and Stirling St. Paul's and St. Andrew's.

The evening service closed with the rendition of that old familiar hymn, "Thee, We Would be Always Blessing as we Glory in Thy Perfect Love."

Tenders Will be Called For New Collegiate Institute

PICTON — Tenders for the construction of a Prince Edward County Collegiate Institute in Picton will be called immediately, it was decided at a board meeting yesterday. Plans for the school are complete.

The board also decided to call for demolishing of the burned building and after salvage work, the ground will be levelled. The board will then accept an offer of the town to buy the site as a possible location for a much needed public school.

When the Collegiate Board was discussing plans, town council was hearing of the need for a new public school. Spokesmen were Dr. C. S. Slack and Jesse Mason. The school board is waiting for the town to give them the "go ahead" signal, the spokesman stated.

It will cost the town $10,000 to accommodate the 565 children attending public school in town this year. Five buildings are now used to house classes. An inspector of the Department of Education has stated that a twelve-room school, in addition to the present two schools, is required, they revealed.

The council authorized the public school board to purchase the site of the burned collegiate for the sum of one dollar when it becomes available but took no further action on the matter.

Thousands of U.S. Citizens May Lose Their Citizenship

MONTREAL (CP) — Thousands of United States citizens living in Canada, even though they hold valid passports and other documents, may possibly lose their citizenship overnight Dec. 24 when denationalization clauses of the McCarran Act come into effect, the United States consulate here said today.

The object of the new law, a consular official explained, is to tighten the security of the United States by stricter control over admission of aliens and by withdrawal of citizenship privileges from persons failing to meet its obligations.

The official said that although detailed instructions regarding application of the new law have not yet been received, the consulate is asking U.S. citizens to check with their consulate to determine how they stand.

There was no cut-and-dried rule applying and circumstances could alter any individual case.

Among those expected to be affected are Americans of military age living in Canada who have failed to register at a U.S. consulate. There was no immediate estimate available of the number in Canada.

National Hockey League Swings Into 35th Season Tonight; Wings Favored

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

NEW BOSS

The Belleville senior "B" Glen Keys will take to the ice tonight for the first time under the discerning eye of their new coach Alfie Moore, former National Hockey League goalie. Alderman Don McNevin, "boss-man" of the Glens announced last night he had made arrangements with Moore to take over the helm of the new senior "B" club and Moore will send his charges through their paces this evening starting at 6.30. More about Moore later.

OFF TO NORTH BAY

Glen Bay juniors seeking the all-Ontario OASA junior "A" softball championship will leave the city tomorrow afternoon shortly after one o'clock on the long trek to North Bay where they meet the Algonquin juniors for the coveted title. Alderman Don McNevin sponsor of the club says another car or two will come in mighty handy and anyone desirous of using their automobile to help transport the team, is asked to contact him at 4382. The team plays two games on Saturday and the third if necessary on Sunday.

MINOR HOCKEY

With the hockey season practically around the corner, the minor division of the Belleville Hockey Association is readying plans for the coming season's various operations.

Last year, it is recalled, some 250 youngsters played under the banner of the BHA's organized minor division and it is expected a similar number if not more will see action this year.

Chief Coach "Red" Doran will visit all the schools of the city this week and hand out the necessary application forms for the youngsters to fill out.

Outfit "Roller" Lloyd and Don Stanton, two men who have been part of the backbone of the BHA minor division since its inception will again head the bantam section. This section is expected to see its first action on October 25th. Peewee, midget and juvenile sections will start at a date to be announced later.

Officials of the minor division are hoping that the same sponsors that so generously supported the association and various teams will again see their way clear to act in a similar capacity. Uniforms of practically all the bantam teams have seen their day and are not fit for further use.

It is also hoped the bantam league of this year will be comprised of the same teams as last year, namely Kiwanis Red Wings, Rotary Black Hawks, Y's Men Rangers, Kinsmen Maple Leafs, Optimist Canadiens and Lion Lodge Bruins.

Complete organization will feature the BHA minor activities this year and all regulations will be strictly adhered to. Boys should remember that all applications must be filled out by the boy and signed by a parent or guardian. These applications must be handed in at the player's school not later than Wednesday, October 15th as no applicant will be allowed to play until his form has been submitted.

Another rule that will be strictly observed is that pertaining to birth certificates. All players must produce an official government birth certificate not later than November 1st. City certificates and baptismal certificates will not be accepted.

The bantam age is 13 years. No player need apply if he reached the age of 14 years previous to August 1st, 1952. Each player must play for the team to which he is assigned and must take part in each scheduled game unless he is sick or has the consent of his club manager to be absent. He also must obey the orders of his manager or coach, and is liable to suspension for breaking any league rules. These regulations with the exception of the age limit applies to all minor classifications.

Every year sees a dearth of coaches and managers for minor hockey teams. And it appears this year, the situation is the same. Anybody desirous of coaching or managing one of these boys squads, or assisting the minor division in any way, is asked to contact Chief Coach Doran at the City Hall or at 4003-W.

COLLEGE TEAM STRENGTHENS

Albert College senior football squad has added some valuable strength to this year's team in the form of outstanding high school and collegiate stars of the district.

From Timmins comes Malcolm Black, regular quarter of the of the THS last year who weighs 190 pounds and is 17 years of age. Al Carter, snap of Lisgar Collegiate, Ottawa, is a six-footer weighing 190 while Ed McKay, who "snapped" the Port Arthur C. I. squad in a young giant who tips the scales at 225 pounds. Don Hill who quarterbacked the Carleton Place HS team last year is at the fullback position for the college and weighs 175 pounds. Wallace Austin, last year with Brockville CI team and Herb Shaw of Pembroke H. S. are valuable additions. Don Reid, six-foot two, 183 pound lassie is a holdover from last year's Albert COSSA finalists as is Harry Joy an inside and Bert Faulkner, starry half-back and hockey player.

A GOOD JOB

Back to minor sport for the scnoe, Les Digby and his associates of the Bay of Quinte Football League are doing things in a big way for the soccer-minded young fry. Digby has eight teams operating in two bantam sections and four in a peewee division. This is not counting those in a juvenile league. Upwards of 170 youngsters are kicking the ball in the bantam and peewee loops in battle for the Bill Harvey Trophy. Soccer is growing in poularity by leaps and bounds here especially in the minor ranks and Messrs Digby, secretary F. Jones and company rate a well-deserved pat on the back for a job well done.

Champions Meet N.Y. Rangers With Habs Hosts to Chihawks; Toronto Leafs Open Saturday

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Hockey League swings into its 35th season tonight with the defending champion Detroit Red Wings playing host to the injury-r "ed New York Rangers while veteran-studded Montreal Canadiens are entertaining the rejuvenated Chicago Black Hawks.

Seeking their fifth straight league title, the Red Wings will take the ice without Sid Abel. The reliable centre, who played for Detroit for 13 years, is coach of the Chicago Black Hawks. Also missing from the Red Wings' line-up is rugged defenceman Leo Reise, traded to the Rangers in a deal which sent Reggie Sinclair to Detroit.

Sinclair will centre Detroit's famed "production line" that has seasoned Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay at the wings.

Red Kelly, Bob Goldham and Marcel Pronovost will bear the brunt of the d fensive duties in front of goalie Terry Sawchuck, starting his third season in the nets.

Two Rangers Out

The Rangers, hoping to better last season's fifth-place finish, are plagued by the injury bug. Goalie Chuck Rayner is shelved with a leg injury and forward Don Raleigh is out with a broken wrist, suffered in a preseason exhi'-n game.

Rayner's place as net-minder will be taken by 23-year-old Lorne Worsley, recalled from Saskatoon of the Western Hockey League. He had been farmed out last week for further seasoning.

Reise is expected to plug a big defensive gap for the Rangers as the teams with burly Allan Stanley on the backline. Jackie McLeod will replace Raleigh as the centreline pivotman between Ed Slowinski and Gaye Stewart.

Montreal, second to the Red Wings last season, remain intact and will begin the season with no new faces in the line-up. The only doubtful starter is second-year Dick's Power, out of action with a knee injury.

A trio of seasoned stalwarts, Elmer Lach, Bert Olmstead and Maurice "The Rocket" Richard, comprise the Canadiens' first line, Sophomores Bernie (Boom-Boom) Geoffrion, Dick Gamble and Paul Meger, were notable sensations last season and will be around again to haunt the opposition.

Hawks Strengthened

The Black Hawks, after finishing in the cellar for the last three seasons, have undergone several additions that should bolster them for the coming campaign.

Strengthening the club include goalie Al Rollins, defenceman Gus Mortson and centre Cal Gardner, all obtained from Toronto Maple Leafs in exchange for goaltender Harry Lumley.

Abel, expected to be a playing coach, is impressed with the way Chicago has looked in the pre-season exhibitions and the team records say he has handled the defeatist complex.

Toronto inaugurates its season at home Saturday night against Chicago, while Detroit visits Montreal. Boston Bruins take the ice for their 1d-lifter Sunday night when they play host to Montreal. Other games that night include Toronto at Detroit and New York at Chicago.

Ezzard Charles KO's Reynolds In Second Round

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ezzard Charles, former heavyweight champion, last night knocked out Bernie Reynolds of Cliffside, N.J., in one minute and 40 seconds of the second round of a scheduled 15-round bout.

Charles, weighing 186, felt his opponent out carefully in the first round, sized him up, and put the finisher with a series of left and right to the chin in the second. Reynolds weighed 187.

Charles, who told reporters before the fight that he was out to get Reynolds faster than the present world's heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, could find no opponent with sharp lefts and rights from the beginning of the bout. His action missed.

Marciano knocked out Reynolds in the third round when they met.

"Now, I want another crack at the title," said Charles. "I think I can take Marciano."

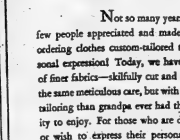
Holmes signed as manager of the Braves' American Association farm club, Milwaukee Brewers, for General Manager Bob Quinn of the B ves obtained Brooklyn's permission to negotiate with him.

At Milwaukee, Holmes succeeds Bucky Walters, who asked to return to Reds as coach after finishing the season as manager and piloting the Brewers to the American Association pennant. They lost out in the playoffs to Kansas City.

Holmes, who spent most of his baseball life with the Boston club, finished out the 1952 season as pinch hitter and utility outfielder with the Dodgers.



Now 34, Holmes played 11 seasons in the majors, 10 of them with the Braves. He appeared in 1,320 games and made 1,907 hits in 4,982 times at bat for a lifetime average of .302.

In 1945, Holmes set a modern National League record by hitting safely in 37 consecutive games.

Yanks Hope to Make It 5 in Row, Prize Rookies Ready to Help 'Em

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel gave it the "cold perfesseer" to wink when they asked him how it felt to win four straight World Series.

"It's a short record," he said. "Won't stand up. You got to win eight or nine before they pay any attention."

Old Case was kidding, of course. But there is no hint that Stengel or his New York Yankees expect to stop with a record-tying four straight World Series or 18 pennants.

Whitey Ford comes marching home from the army in November. Ford would be a tremendous lift to the pitching staff's "Big Three" of Allie Reynolds, Vic Raschi and Eddie Lopat. The spunky little left-hander stepped right out of the minors to help pitch the Yanks to the pennant in '50 and turned in a fine World Series job before he went into service.

Big prize in the Yank farm system is supposed to be Bill Skowron, an all-Purdue football player who was voted "Rookie of the Year" in the American Association.

Don Bollweg, ex-St. Louis Cardinal chain first baseman, was named most valuable player in the Association, after his .325 year at Kansas City. He'll be up there pressing Joe Collins for his regular job next spring.

After his Series performance, nobody is going to be pressing big Sarge Sarcisi, a bonus youngster, also bit like mad in the Association.

Andy Carey, another bonus player who was a pretty fair training hot shot at St. Pete, shifted over to shortstop at Kansas City for a trial. Both he and Sargisi definitely are prospects for the future, possibly even in 1953.

And then there is Mickey Mantle, who seems to have arrived as the man to fill Joe DiMaggio's giant shoes. Unless Mickey goes into the army, he is sure to get a look at the top Yankee for many years to come.

Bloomfield 'Silver Ribbons' Ousted By Delhi in Intermediate 'C' Finals

By CEO H. CARVER
Sports Editor

Maybe genial Ed. Baxter over in Prince Edward's Bloomfield had better change the famous "Silver Ribbon" brand of his pork-and-beans, tomato juice, tomatoes and other tasty canning factory products to "Orange Blossom".

For the plucky baseball team that bears the name of Ed.'s brand has twice been "brides" maids but never a bride" at the wedding of ORA intermediate "C" finalists.

This time it was the Delhi Tobaccomen who won the sectional diamond flurber from the canning factory village lads. The Bloomfield lads took it decisively, too, for the boys from Sidney ville (not Wellington) defeated them in straight games in the best-of-three series, the first by 8-1 and the second yesterday by a 14-7 score.

Kicked It Around

According to reports the games were not only as decisive as the scores might indicate if the Bilbonaers (sic) didn't really bat it around and come through with some colorful hitting. After all look what happened to the Dodgers.

Or they hit the ball enough. After all twelve bashes outside the park should be good enough to win any game. It was for the blokes with the Indian (India, that is) name. But the Duke Snider and Mickey Mantles of the Ribbonaers were sadly mistaken when a smash into the wild blue yonder would have sent one, two or possibly three streamers cavorting across the plate.

But that is baseball. You can't win 'em all. And the Silver Ribbons can hold their heads high for another outstanding diamond achievement that put the name of their home town and sponsor into the hinterlands of Ontario.

Were Promoted

They tell me that even the honorable Ontario Baseball Association, recognizing the somewhat superior calibre of the Ribbons in intermediate "D" circles, rewarded them, (send streaks of diamond gold among the silver and bolsted them into intermediate "C" company. That was after they disposed of two playdown scrubs at the expense of provincial clubs. Those "Silver Ribbons" get around, even as the the brand they represent gets around a can.

They took on the prides of North Hastings in the Bancroft squad in their first clash in 'C' company, and the boys from the "banana belt" ousted the lads from the village of "tin roofs and optimism" as former reeve Dr. S. S. Lamb, once put it, from any further diamond activities.

Then came a lengthy interval of rest. So long, it is said that Ed Baxter and Manager Dustin ordered the boys back for some late spring training in order to get back into shape.

Tied a Knot

Meanwhile up in Western Ontario, around Chatham way, the Delhi tobaccomen were wending out the tare from the district baseball scene. Just at the front was zimming the Prince Edward "punkins" headed thataway by Joe McCarthy, the knot in the Ribbons. That they did, in fact it was a double knot as they revelled the Ribboners in. However, the Silver Ribbons, Ed Baxter, Manager Dustin and the rest of the Ribbons were by no means disgraced. They battled the best down to the wire and instead of borrowing the old cliche "Wait till next year" they could do like Brooklyn Dodgers did this spring. They took their programs. "This is next year."

The Ribbons are worthy runners-up in Delhi baseball circles, and after all somebody must win, and somebody must lose. Maybe next year the Ribbons will repeat in the village where we learned the true "Yip!," how to manipulate a pair of skates, and play "Run, Sheep, Run" around Herb Cooper's loggin.

Sport in Brief

MONTREAL (CP) — Chicago Black Hawks, a changed team in personnel and in a mental attitude, open the new National Hockey League season here tonight against the stand-pat Montreal Canadiens.

"The team has lost its defastist complex," General Manager Bill Tobin of the Hawks said yesterday. "I don't want to appear too optimistic but I think the pre-season exhibition series we played against Detroit is signif'-nt. We won two, lost two and tied three."

The Hawks have also been successful against minor league clubs.

Off-season deals brought new players to the Hawks, including goalie Al Rollins, defenseman Gus Mortson and centre Cal Gardner in the big swap with Toronto Ma_le Leafs.

In addition, Sid Abel, long a veteran centre star with Detroit, is the new coach and will help his club actively on the ice, although he is expected to play only part time.

The Hawks have finished last in the six-team league for three successive seasons.

MONTREAL (CP)—Frank Selke, managing director of Montreal Canadiens, announced last night that, acting for Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League, he has purchased Frankie Eddolls from New York Rangers and that Eddolls will join the Bisons immediately as playing coach.

With the placement of Eddolls in a coaching job, Selke said he has fulfilled a promise he made to Buddy O'Connor and Eddolls when they were traded to New York by Canadiens several seasons ago. At that time he promised them coaching jobs in the Montreal organization when their playing days in the National Hockey League were over.

O'Connor, a forward, signed last week with Cincin. ti Mohawks, Canadiens' farm team, and will coach the club in the International Amateur League. Eddolls, a defenceman, served as playing coach with Saskatoon Quakers of the Western Canada League part of last season when sent there by Rangers. He now moves to Buffalo, a Montreal affiliate.

VALLEYFIELD, Que. (CP)—Valleyfield Braves of the Quebec Senior Hockey League blanked Cicinnati Mohawks 6-0 last night in an exhibition game.

Toronto Defeats Soccer Juveniles

A combined Belleville and Wellington juvenile soccer team lost to the Toronto Juvenile League All-Stars on Sunday afternoon in Toronto by 6 goals to 1. Although outclassed by a more experienced and bigger team the local boys were by no means disgraced and fought hard all the way.

The score was 4-0 at half time but Mofina reduced the lead soon after the change of ends, however, Toronto were able to increase their lead by two additional goals in this half.

Belleville and Wellington — Martin, Bryan, Archer, Zamaere, Snider, Phillips, Guthrie, Bill Cornell, Evans, Segar, Mofina; sub, Cathcart, Bridger and Phil Cornell.

Petes Orphans Trim Oshawa

TORONTO (CP) — Peterborough Orphans moved back into a first-place tie with Toronto Marlboro Ghosts in the intermediate Ontario Rugby Football Union yesterday by defeating Oshawa Red sliders 24-11.

Buster Jessen, taking a pass, scored the first touchdown of the game for the Petes. Roy Armstrong converted. Oshawa tied up the game in the second quarter on a touchdown by Jim Lorens with Moe Schanck converting.

Clive Hamilton scored another third session with Armstrong converting. Armstrong converted his own third touchdown after Jim Wilde went over the line. Dickey Collins scored the final major of the game for Oshawa.

BARONS SWAMP SENATORS

OTTAWA (CP)—Every player on the roster on the Cleveland American Hockey League club figured in the scoring last night as the Barons defeated Ottawa Senators of the Quebec senior Hockey League 9-1 in an exhibition game.

SKATING TONIGHT
THE ARENA

The mystery of the 1953 World Series proved to be Gil Hodges, the husky Brooklyn first baseman who went hitless in all of the seven games in the series. In 31 times up to bat, Gil failed to get a safety and thus became the first player in series history to go that long without a hit. This tale of woe is all more unbelievable because of Hodges' performance during season which he ended by topping his team in runs batted in with 102, home runs with 32, doubles with 27 and bases on balls with 107. — Central Press Canadian.

New York Yankees Battle of Ice-Borne Blondes Looms As Barbara-Sonja Play Same City

Baseball's most prized possession is once more in the hands of the New York Yankees following their 4-3 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers in the seventh and deciding game of the 1953 World Series held in Brooklyn. To the Yanks it meant their fourth series triumph in a row and the same applied to their pilot Charlie Stengel, who became the second manager to win four championships in succession. Casey Joe McCarthy, who piloted the Yankees to same number from 1936-9. As for the Dodgers, they saw what could have been their first series win go flying home to the Yanks in Micky Mantle's homer in the sixth. Above, Roy Campanella of the Dodgers fails to make first base due to brilliant catching of Johnny Mize. — Central Press Canadian.

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A box office battle of ice-borne blondes—Canada's Barbara Ann Scott and her Hollywood Ice Revue versus Sonja Henie and her 1953 Ice Revue—looms here.

They'll appear simultaneously in Indianapolis for eight of the next 10 nights.

Barbara Ann, the sweet school girl type took Sonja's job in Arthur Wirtz's Hollywood show a year ago.

Sonja immediately organized her own show. Her management claimed a total attendance of more than 1,000,000 for her 1951-52 tour. Her first show claimed more than 2,000,000.

Brings Own Rink

The little Norwegian wasn't able to book her show into Indianapolis, and it always has been one of her best audiences. This year she brought a portable rink to the Butler University fieldhouse and opened Oct. 3 after a premiere in Chicago.

The Hollywood Ice Revue management thought it was more than coincidence that the Henie show came to town almost a week ahead of the Scott-Feuzzo, announced April. Sonja didn't improve relations with an announcement that ticket sales are good she'll stay an extra week to Oct. 18.

The Hollywood Ice Revue's first stand this year will run through Oct. 26 at the Indiana State Fair Coliseum. It played a private "pre-opening" show last night.

Barbara Ann and Sonja are both former world and Olympic figure-skating champions, but they never competed against each other. The Canadian girl is 24, Sonja 39.

A reporter asked Barbara Ann what she thought about Sonja. She said she was a "wonderful admirer of Miss Henie's skating.

"When I was a little girl," she said, "I went to see all her movies."

Scott Show Praised

Critics after last night's private performance called the Hollywood show one of the best of the 18 annual Wirtz productions. They found Miss Scott more sure of herself, "a real pro now."

Sonja stops her own show with her hula number and she has added some new wriggles this year in a "Hula Hattie" number.

In Barbara Ann's show, the hip-shaking is done ably by bouncy, strawberry-blonde Andra McLaughlin and versatile Carol Lynne.

Sonja, lacking Barbara Ann's stars as the Hollywood Ice Review's Mi-chelene Kirby, Skippy Baxter and Freddie Trenkler, has a group of non-skating vaudeville acts in her show.

Both shows are lavishly costumed.

The Hollywood Ice Revue will go from Indianapolis to St. Louis, Omaha, Denver, Milwaukee, Chicago, New York, Detroit and Cincinnati and then on tour of Canada.

The Henie show will go next to Raleigh, N.C., and Washington, with the rest of the itinerary still indefinite.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

What sounds screwy to me is how south five spade bid in this case. But that's what the man said who bid was. He said that. If west when south held the hand shown here:

NORTH
♥ 8 4 3 2
♦ 7 5 3
♣ 9 8 4 3
None

The way they bid it went like this:

South	West	North	East
1 C	3 S	3 D	3 S
5 S	Pass	Pass	Dbl

Now, don't get me wrong. This is not bidding that I recommend or even condone. I am merely telling what happened. And if you are disgusted with it, imagine what my opinion of it must be.

In the spot the five spade bid by south is like an elephant seeing pink men. But north expressed no surprise at all. He was only concerned about his three diamond bid.

It seems that south was so stirred at north for coming in with an immediate responding bid. South insisted that north should have said pass on the very first round.

North held that Sam Gordon counted shorts even in his parlance. He said that a count of three compelled a responding bid; that a six card suit was biddable. And he brought out a book to prove it.

Reminds me of a sailor in the Aleutians who started to write: "It is very cold here." But he did not mail the letter until he was at a South Sea base. From the trophies the same words did not fit.

What north said in quoting me applies to other situations. Those words he was using applied to a reply to opening bid of one. And then it applied only when responder also had two high cards.

Furthermore, the same things do not fit the spot in which he made his bid of three diamonds. He was not rejoicing in a bid of one. He was answering a bid of two. I'll give you details.

Movie Column

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The age of vaudeville is over for television; says Milton Berle, whose variety show made him TV's top draw.

Berle has abandoned his slam-bang vaudeville format this season, substituting a story-line program.

"I'd say I did about all I could with the vaudeville format," he remarked. "I was the first one in it, and I played it for four years. I milked it."

"The vaudeville format was great in all modesty, I can say that I introduced to TV such performers as Lucille Ball, Bobby and Lewis, Tony Martin, and many magic others who now have their own shows. That's one of the frosties for me — many of the big names have their own shows.

"And another thing — people have gotten tired of the vaudeville type of show. You can't go on doing the same skits. The material is bound to get thin."

The comic added that the TV market was flooded with too many vaudeville shows after his initial success, and he predicted that the same thing will happen with situation-comedy shows, which are now the rage.

New Show

Berle said he was delighted with his new show, which permits him more freedom of material.

"People get to see a new side of me," he said, "I play myself, a Milton Berle, and his troubles of putting a show together.

"Another thing I am now merely a performer," he added. "With my old show, I did ever thing — producing, directing, writing. The result was that I was neglecting my own performance. I was spreading myself too thin, and I didn't have enough time to devote to myself as an actor.

"But now I'm happy to sit back and let other people do the work. It's about time. Next year I'll be celebrating my 40th year in show business." He blushingly admitted to being 44 now.

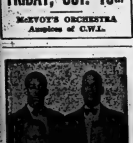
Five Killer Ships Back at Base With 451 Whales



VANCOUVER (CP)—Five killer ships were back at home base here today, boasting a post-war record catch of 451 whales.

The 250-ton vessels, British Columbia's entire whaling fleet, sailed from Vancouver in May on a $2,000,000 gamble. It was either come back with enough whales to put the company, B.C. Packers, in the black or go out of business. The whale oil market had dropped to less than half of last year's.

Unlike European whaling fleets, which set out with half-dozen killer boats and another, or factory, ship and a helicopter to spot the animals, B.C. whalers tow their kills to Coal Harbor shore station, once an R.C.A.F. base, on the northern tip of Vancouver Island. There the whales are cut and processed into oil, meal and fertilizer.

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY, OCT. 10, 1952.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—You Arians are advised to start this day in an agreeable, cooperative attitude; never mind how the other fellow acts. Harmony, important now.

April 21 to May 20 Taurus)—Many ways to increase your advantages. Know what you are about, have faith in yourself, and plan well before acting.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Suggest you wait a while to see how the wind of possibilities blows; then act surely and promptly. Tact and more tact needed.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Point directly for the better things on your day's plans. Be in tune with those with whom you work, and they will in turn be agreeable with you.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—You've more favorable aspects today than most other Zodiacal natives; they spell success if properly executed plans. Make the best of every opportunity.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—A day that can be just what you kneen-minded folks try for if you meditate awhile on the how and wherefore of things. Come now, Virgo, concentrate!

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Start day attending to lawyers to ease schedule; then

Ernest efforts can bring deserved gains.

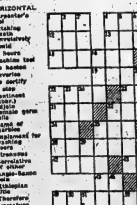
October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Maybe agreeably surprised at some events turning up unexpectedly for you today. Those in distant places may communicate, be listening.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius) — Be especially careful dealing with strangers, giving out information. Your rivals may be up to something; be on guard.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn) — Take the right path; remember, honesty should never be compromised. Your day will be rated according to your thinking with what you say, do.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius) — By being magnanimous in act and spirit, you have a fine chance of collecting unusual credits, having new successes. There are hidden possibilities, find them now!

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—If you plan ahead and follow on schedule with sincerity, you can expect returns. Romance, personal affairs rate high today.



YOU BORN TODAY: Libra is especially suited to positions of authority, trust, intelligent reasoning. You are not naturally domineering or imbued with your own powers, but sometimes are very definite. Why We Say—

... just a field
Our memory of a field, for sure, started as merely meaning a field. When it was time to measure land, a unit of square measurement should be made. King Edward I of England made the first official unit of measure, one day. He said: "Let a rod be measured out in 40ft square yards, called 'one acre'."

$30.00, this being $1,325 more than the previous year. $705 was spent on the Junior Farmer section. Other prizes included H.S. Cattle Prize, Calf Prize, Edward Grain, Potato Prize, Vegetable, Horseshoers, Girls' Gardens, Rotary Poultry, also a field crop competition and a commercial display.

President R. W. Henderson, in reviewing the fair, spoke of the hard work and co-operation which had made its success achieved. It was the biggest and best ever here. He felt if a similar night could be arranged here again there would be a sell-out crowd each night. He expressed thanks to donors of special prizes, for donations and support by County and municipal councils. This year, the fair became eligible for "D" class rating, with application and approval to come. He praised the secretary for the great amount of extra work involved, including the car draw, selling advertising, the ticketing and collecting of special prizes. Co-operation spelled success, he stated.

The secretary commended the president on his untiring efforts and directors and others who had helped make the fair one of the biggest and best in this part of Ontario.

The Banquet

A banquet for fair directors and wives, judges and guests, will be held in the near future, with E. W. Henderson, Willis Sills, F. Dodds and A. A. Bowerman in charge.

Directors expressed the opinion that the fair was the best on record.

RAWDON

The annual thanksgiving of Mount Pleasant Auxiliary W.M.S. Mission Band and Baby Band will be held next Monday evening, October 20th.

Stirling Fair

A large number of Rawdonians attended the Stirling Fair last Wednesday. The weather was ideal until 3.30 p.m. The display of some sections was much better than usual and a fine parade was presented in the afternoon. The Fourth Line School S.S. No. 7 with Miss Joan Rands, west frm and S. S. No. 4 Williams school at Mount Pleasant, with Mrs. Russell Pearse as teacher, came second in the parade.

"Syntona certainly has been a wonderful tonic for me and I advise anyone who is feeling rundown this time of year to take it," said Mr. Joseph Clancey, Base line Road, London, Ontario, in a recent report.

"For years I suffered from bad with constipation, gastritis and sinusitis. I had pains in the back of my chest and caused a palpitation and nervousness. I was afflicted with frequent headaches, dizzy spells and pains in my joints and arms and hands and I became tired and run-down easily.

"I took so many tablets, tablets, tablets and I tried so many medicines and liniments for my rheumatic pains, that I was discouraged. Then I read about Syntona. Previous to taking this medicine, my stomach, gas and constipation troubles were terrible and I was bothered with headaches and rheumatic pains. I began to lose heart and my whole system felt so much run-down, when one day I said to me how I keep on till I am tired to tell them that I use Syntona when I feel run-down."

Syntona is sold and recommended in Belleville at Dolan The Druggist.

THE GREATEST GAMBLER IN THE WORLD!!

If you were asked to bet several thousand dollars on a turn of a card or to take such a gamble in any game of chance you would probably refuse.

"A terrific gamble", you would say. You know that you cannot afford to take such a risk.

And yet, when you drive your automobile and do not carry adequate insurance — what then?

It takes years to accumulate a home and savings, but it takes only seconds when you have an accident and have inadequate or no insurance to lose them.

CAN YOU AFFORD TO TAKE THIS GAMBLE?

Sea Of Fanatical Reds Seizes Crest, Soon Recaptured

Battle Hand to Hand In Drenching Rain

By GEORGE A. McARTHUR

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — A human sea of fanatical Chinese Reds pushed South Korean soldiers off White Horse Mountain tonight but the weary U. N. troops screamed right back to the top and battled the Reds hand to hand in a drenching rain.

The wild fighting broke off at 9 p.m., with the Chinese in control. The South Koreans battled from the south slope 150 yards from the top.

Earlier reports said a "military brawl" swirled around the peak in almost pitch darkness. Reds and South Koreans fought it out with grenades, rifle butts and bared bayonets.

It was the seventh time today that savage close-in fighting has swept across the rubbled crest of the vital peak.

A pelting rain started just after dark. It soaked the wearied soldiers who have been fighting continuously more than four days.

A front line officer said it was so dark on the crest that the Republic of Korea troops had to grope their way forward to close with the Reds.

Rule For Fighting

He said the South Koreans had one simple rule for fighting in the dark: if they felt a shaved head on their shoulder, they knew they knew it must belong to a Chinese. That, one officer said, simplified what they wanted.

The officer said the only sounds from the hilltop were "the screams when someone is knifed" and the moans of the wounded. Because of the darkness, the big guns of both sides were silent.

The South Koreans launched their attack from a line about 100 yards below the crest at 8:30 p.m. They apparently ran head-on into the Chinese, who were pushing their way slowly forward.

The ROKs stormed back to the crest less than two hours after a fresh battalion (about 750) of screaming Chinese had driven them from the top to the base of the hill mass.

The Chinese surged forward in a human sea behind. The officer said they "stormed the north slope with bayonets, fists, grenades and dirty words."

Clawed Back To Crest

The ROKs regrouped and moved back up the southern slope behind the protective curtain of a roaring Allied artillery barrage. About 200 yards from the crest they established a defence line at 7:30 p.m. One hour later they clawed back to the crest.

The Red attack a few hours earlier had come as no surprise.

By front-line estimate, the Chinese have lost 8,000 casualties in trying to save face on the strategic height. They have been hard for 86 hours with hardly a break. Not since the battle of Kyeye ago has a hill cost so much blood.

The action on White Horse Mountain overshadowed fighting elsewhere. Sharp but minor fights were reported along the 155-mile front from northwest of Yanchon and in the west.

The Eighth Army reported Red casualties for the first week of October were 17,177 (17,2-); Saskatoon, 182.7 (183.8); Winnipeg, 179.8 (180.9); Toronto, 183.3 (184.2); Montreal, 181.7 (181.7); Saint John, N.D., 183.1 (183.1); Halifax, 182.7 (182.7).

The St. John's, Nfld., index, based on 1935-39 equal 100, remained unchanged at 163.6 from 162.3.

The index numbers show changes in retail prices and services in each city. They do not indicate whether living costs are or are not to live in one city than another.

Huge Woman Confesses Murder, Ax Cutting of Employer's Body

BLUEFIELD, W.Va. (AP)—State police said a strapping, six-foot housekeeper has admitted she cut up her employer with an ax after a quarrel because he wanted her to leave the house.

Corporal R. D. Bazzie identified the 240-pound woman as Arizona Love, 48.

The victim was Sunny Marshall, 80-year-old retired railroad brakeman. His dismembered torso was found last Sunday at a nearby garage.

Bazzie said the woman signed a statement yesterday after submitting to a lie detector test. She was jailed and Bazzie said murder charges would be filed against her later.

According to Bazzie, the woman admitted the following in her statement:

She and Marshall argued last Thursday because he wanted her to vacate. They fought in the basement of Marshall's house and she hit him several times with a poker. When she realized Marshall was dead, she cut up his body and burned parts of it in a furnace. She threw the head and the torso in a cabbage bag and dragged it down an alley, from where it was later hauled to the dump.

Catholic Church Leaders Favor More Immigration

OTTAWA (CP)—Leaders of the Roman Catholic church in Canada indicated yesterday they believe more immigrants should be admitted to this country.

The church's archbishops and bishops said at the conclusion of an annual meeting that countries with unoccupied land should open their doors to people from overpopulated countries.

In a statement they said:

"Since God created the entire earth for man's use and benefit, the countries which have unoccupied land should open such fertile areas to people of overpopulated countries.

"The policy that governs the flow of immigration should be truly democratic and any regulations that would restrict, in an arbitrary manner, the emigration of people from an overpopulated area, and of refugees from persecuted lands, should be opposed to limit the fundamental principles of justice and true peace.

"Canada has almost all emigration from the Orient and limits the number of entries from India and Pakistan. Earlier this year, the government decided to limit the types of workers brought to this country because of the shortage and because of the surplus of fertile workers in this country, Europeans who, otherwise, were discouraged from coming to Canada.

Canada admitted 194,000 immigrants in 1951, the largest number for any year since 1913 when 500,000 entered.

In the first eight months of this year 138,028 were admitted as compared with 116,637 in the corresponding months of last year.

The prelates urged that action be taken to see that families are not broken up by immigration.

Living Costs In Eight Cities Decline in Aug.

OTTAWA (CP)—A "substantial" decline in the price of potatoes and other fresh vegetables pushed down the cost of living index in eight of nine regional cities, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Egg prices rose generally, but meat prices were lower in all centres except Saskatoon. But Saskatoon's rents remained unchanged and the city climbed in the eight other centres.

Potato prices rose in Toronto, Montreal and Saskatoon, but in Halifax the index was offset by lower coke prices.

The regional index, based on 1935-39 as 100, rose from 183.2 to 183.6 in the July figures in brackets:

Halifax, 182.7 (182.7); Saint John, 183.1 (183.1); Saskatoon, 182.7 (182.7); Winnipeg, 179.8 (180.9); Toronto, 183.3 (184.2); Montreal, 181.7 (181.7); Saint John, N.B., 183.1 (183.1); Halifax, 182.7 (182.7).

The St. John's, Nfld., index, based on 1935-39 equalling 100, declined to 163.6 from 162.3

The index numbers show changes in retail prices and services in each city. They do not indicate whether living costs are or are not to live in one city than another.

CANADIAN P.O.W. WILL RECEIVE DOLLAR A DAY

Govt. Announcement Made by Prime Minister

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadians who were imprisoned by the Japanese and by certain German organizations during the Second World War will be paid $1 a day for each day of that imprisonment, the government announced today.

Prime Minister St. Laurent said in a statement these "maltreatment," awards "cover Canadians who were held by Japanese-operated internment or prison camps or in the hands of certain German organizations such as the Gestapo which were declared by the Nuremberg tribunal to be 'criminal organizations'."

Nearly 1,400 veterans of the Hong Kong military expedition of 1941 would be among the recipients. A man of Japanese race, so many of them were, would draw roughly $1,400.

The announcement said:

"These awards are for maltreatment and amount to $1 a day for each day of imprisonment and are payable to members of the Canadian armed forces irrespective of disability and to civilians provided that they were Canadians and lawfully resident in Canada at the present time.

Payment This Month

"Payment to former members of the armed forces will commence not later than Oct. 15. Payments to civilians will be made as soon as they have established the necessary facts, particularly with reference to their nationality and the duration of internment."

The awards will be made out of proceeds of German reparations and out of Japanese reparations and assets seized in Canada early in the war. About $10,000,000 is available, $7,000,000 from Germany and $3,000,000 from Japan.

The decision stems from the report of an advisory committee on war claims tabled in the Commons June 18. The commission was headed by St. Hon. J.L. Ilsley, chief justice of Nova Scotia and former federal cabinet minister.

Mr. St. Laurent said the Ilsley recommendations have been accepted with a few modifications.

He said the government accepts the proposal that a committee on claims be named to investigate and recommend on payment of awards of other Canadian civilians who suffered war claims.

"Appointment of a chief committee-sioner to carry out this compensation for civilian claims will be made at an early date."

Brampton Woman Mentioned in Will

BRAMPTON (CP)—A Brampton woman who formed a casual, part-time acquaintance on an R.A.F. base in Italy has been willed a home and $500 by a man she only knew as Jack.

Mrs. Harriet Biggs, wife of Ontario's dairy commissioner, worked on the base in 1943. Jac, whose real name as given in his will was Alexander Gow, was a Royal Canadian air force civilian employee there at the same time.

The British legal firm has been searching for the Canad'an heir for the last three months. She was mentioned in the will as Irene Biggs. Her maiden name, it was seen listed in a legal notice in a British trade journal by a friend of Mrs. Biggs in England, who wrote the firm.

Candidates Agree Strong Plan Could Halt Red Aggression But Disagree Sharply on Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Governor Adlai Stevenson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today were in apparent agreement that a strong United States security program could halt Russian aggression, but they disagreed sharply on whether the present policy is doing the job.

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate, contended it was. Eisenhower, his Republican opponent, said a drastic change in policy is needed.

President Truman said in Buffalo last night a phony campaign against Communists is being waged by Republican "hotheads" — and some Democrats — just to win votes. He said these tactics could lead to turning the nation apart.

Stevenson said in Oklahoma City today that Russia may abandon its aggressive policies because Am-ica's unprecedented collective security has "worked so well."

Guard Against Trickery

But he continued that the U.S. must continually be on guard against any Soviet trickery. He said he "don't see any likelihood of immediate changes in the wor'd situation." He said the principle of "long-run improvement" provided the present course is followed. He said that even the chance he now sees for long-run gains towards peace might all be sadly altered if the Republicans get in the White House and proceed to do what they say they will do."

Stevenson said Democrats will follow the lead of Senator Robert Taft and the old guard who, he said, "have fought our bi-partisan foreign policy right along."

In Los Angeles last night, Eisenhower spoke of a bigger and better social welfare program, better medical care and a stronger national security program.

He promised — if elected — that the Republicans would promote a program of social welfare which would bring increased security beyond anything yet achieved under the Democrats.

Eisenhower said he was against a health plan "supervised under a compulsory bureaucracy." He said an expansion of the voluntary non-profit health insurance program, possibly aided by federal loans "or other aid to local health plans," should be explored.

Must Develop Strength

On the point of national security, he said the U. S. must develop a program and position of strength by which will persuade the Kremlin that further military aggression anywhere is senseless." He emphasized that it's not the present program was strong enough by itself to win peace but our program is worked up with "Communism live at home and leave the rest of the world alone."

President Truman, while stopping in Los Angeles, drew a stiff attack launched an assault on the Republican Party's foreign policies.

He sa'd hurling false charges of Comm-ism in an effort to win votes can spell the country and can lead to similar attacks on Roman Catholics, Jews, people with foreign names or any other minority.

Like the anti-discrimination sections of the constitution, he said in Buffalo last night, "is one part of the law of being President that you better not turn over to a professional military general."

Churchill's Union Supporters Demand War On Communists In British Labor Movement

SCARBOROUGH, England (CP) — British Conservatives today declared war on Communists in the country's trade unions.

The action was taken as followed complaints that the Churchill government is using the movement's union supporters like stepchildren. got mass backing from 4,000 delegates at the party's annual convention.

A resolution was adopted pledging the Conservatives to resist the growing influence of Communist backing of Communists or others who would make the movement subservient to political ends."

Air Grievances

Britain's massive trade union movement is the backbone of the Labor party. Debate on the move aired long-standing grievances of Conservatives who have fought the party leadership and brought in all the political issues to outlaw the closed shop.

The Conservative party claims it has 2,000,000 members in British unions.

At a result of today's decisions, a conference source said, the party's policy committee on Conservative League will be a spearhead to bring more Conservatives eligible will join unions and those already in will be expected to set forth opposition to Communist-inspired moves when they spot them.

The conference urged earlier that Britain's rent-control act, under which landlords may not evict at pre-war figures, should be brought into line with modern conditions.

The conference also passed resolutions condemning the government on its housing drive. The government has pledged one day to discussing domestic affairs.

200,000 Houses

Housing Minister Harold Macmillan promised that the Conservative government would keep to its target of 300,000 new houses a year "if all goes well with us in the larger fields of policy." He said Socialist Chancellor that the government was building more houses for sale than for rent.

Another successful resolution pledged the Conservative party's belief in a free and independent trade-union movement and urged Conservatives to take an part in union activities.

Prime Minister Churchill received a warm welcome from 4,000 party supporters when he arrived overnight. He is due to wind up the conference tomorrow with a major speech.

Valet Runs Amok, Kills Two Butlers Hits Lady Derby

PRESCOT, England (Reuters)—A 19-year-old valet to the wealthy Earl of Derby killed two servants here today after running amok with a machine-gun in his master's home last night, killing two other servants and severely wounding Lady Derby as she dined alone.

Harold Winstanley stood in the door to Lady Derby's dining room and told the story of his rampage about the stately Derby mansion, spraying it with bullets from a Sten gun.

The 34-year-old Earl was at his dinner and Lady Derby was dining alone in the smoking room when Winstanley opened fire, shooting they said. The sten-gun stuttered and a bullet tore into the back of Lady Derby's head.

Roving through the 400-year-old house, Winstanley killed butler Walter Stallard and under-butler Alexander Gow. He also severely wounded valet William Sullivan in the head and hit a chef on the arm.

Admits Shooting

Chief Superintendent W.J. Would said Winstanley admitted the shootings. He was remanded until Oct. 17.

Police could give no motive for Winstanley's actions.

Lady Derby was reported by the local hospital today to be in a "satisfactory" condition, suffering a superficial wound and shock.

Two hundred police scoured the countryside for Winstanley some hours last night after Winstanley had fired on a passing motorist.

But police headquarters got a call from a farm from a public telephone booth in Liverpool, eight miles away. One policeman kept the line open while control raced to the telephone station and arrested him.

Knowsley Hall, scene of the shooting, is one of the stately homes of Britain, where kings and queens used to stay when they visited the country.

50 Cents a Look

Nowadays, like many other stately homes, the young Earl throws it open to summer visitors at 50 cents a look to help pay for its upkeep.

His marriage to the Countess formerly Lady Isabel Miles-Lade, was the social event of 1948, attended by the late King George VI and Queen Mary. More than 1,000 guests went to the reception at the plush Savoy hotel.

LEWIS MAY CALL STRIKE UNLESS BOOST APPROVED

Gives W. S. B. Until Wednesday to Decide

CINCINNATI (AP) — John L. Lewis was reliably reported today he is considering calling a nationwide coal strike in the United States unless the government Wage Stabilization Bo. rd approves a recently-negotiated pay boost by next Wednesday.

Lewis sent his chief legal lieutenant, Welly Hopkins, flying from the United Mine Workers Union convention here to confer today in the Wage Board in Washington.

The problem, it was understood, may complicate the current political situation.

Lewis, who seemed to be on the verge of ending the Democratic political famine, Friday night stalked Stevenson of Illinois, after apparently favoring Republican nominee Eisenhower in the last three national elections, is holding up any flat endorsem nt until he sees how the Democratic administration handles his wage case.

The miners union president has just negotiated one of his famous labor contracts — a pay boost of $1.90 a day, boosting the basic daily wage for miners to $18.25. In a 10-cent-a-ton increase in the wage royalty paid by coal mine owners to the miners welfare fund. The increase brings the royalty to 40 cents a ton, or better than $150,000 a year.

Coal operators maintain they can't pay the new contract without the Wage Board approves it. It has promised to do so because those close to the situation that the board probably will give its approval, but perhaps later than the Oct. 15 payday when first grosses bearing the new pay rates become due.

In the last convention Lewis has seemingly leaned heavily toward Stevenson and against Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee. The miners' chief has not, however, said any end ement. Both the A.F.L. and C.I.O. have come out formally for Stevenson.

Union Official Identified As Worker's Killer

CHICAGO (AP) — An officer of a union conducting a strike against the International Harvester Company was identified today as a police said, by an eye witness as the killer of a fellow picketing a non-striking worker.

The victim of the attack, William Foley, 47, was killed Friday while he was on his way to work at a Harvester plant here. Police said he said he had been struck with a blunt object.

Harold Ward, 29, secretary-treasurer of Local 1031 of the Farm Equipment Skilled Electrical Workers Union (independent), was placed in a lineup with seven detective bureau last night.

Foley's widow identified John T. O'Malley said an eye witness identified Ward as the slugger.

Ward was booked by S. Doyle said a murder charge will be filed against Ward.

Thumb-Sucking in Childhood Cause Of Migraine Headaches in Adults

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Thumb-sucking in infancy and childhood is a cause of migraine-type headaches and other neuralgias in some adults, says a dental researcher.

Dr. Myron Lieb reported to the Dental Explorers Society of Philadelphia that findings of 12 years' study of 1,000 patients in all departments and paint in the head and headaches have been attributed to thumb-sucking.

He pointed out that "rapid and complete cures" of these migraine headaches and other similarly-caused head pains has been effected by restoring the jaws to their normal relationship.

Dr. Lieb emphasized that "all infantile thumb-sucking is not a cause of migraine, that "research confirms the fact that as it persists, thumb-sucking does cause an imbalance of jaw relationships."

R.C.M.P. Offer $13,000 Reward In Gold Theft

Believed Bullion Cached Somewhere in This Country

TORONTO (CP) — A $13,000 reward was posted today by the R. C. M. P. for information leading to the recovery of $214,000 in gold bullion stolen three weeks ago from the airport at nearby Malton.

Solving of the mystery has been passed to the Mounties by Canadian National Railways investigators and special detectives hired by insurance firms who have been unable to find any trace of either the thieves or the gold. Police officials said a Toronto gang of hijackers may have carted off the loot as it lay on a cargo truck awaiting shipment to Europe.

It was learned that in future thefts of gold in transit anywhere in Canada the R.C.M.P. will be asked to take charge immediately.

A conference of officials of the R. C. M. P., provincial, city and township police yesterday named Inspector J. S. Cruickshank and the Toronto detachment of the R. C. M. P. to take charge of the investigation.

Believe Bull in Canada

Police believe the gold is still in this country and cached away," said Inspector Cruickshank. "We have reason to believe people have information about this gold or members of the gang. Any information forwarded to us will be treated in strict confidence."

It was learned that information obtained within the last week indicates that an international gold theft ring has its headquarters in Toronto and that investigators have gone into hiding.

It was believed that the loot still is here and that leaders of the ring are "local." It was believed that members of the gang are in Northern Ontario mining cities and in Montreal. Police said they have no information that the ring has agents in New York or in other United States cities.

McGill Students Taken to Task By Professors

MONTREAL (CP)—McGill students, who chided their University of Toronto cofreres o linking Varsity Week with panties, were themselves taken to task yesterday—by their own English professors.

The McGill Daily, student newspaper, published a parody of a test conducted by the University of Toronto department of English regarding vocabulary, punctuation, knowledge, composition facility and ability to interpret literature.

The McGill Daily's heading read: "Varsity Supports Panty Raid" and test proves disasterous."

The English professors sharply reminded their students that cowards successful writing. They pointed to the heading and suggested it was misleading.

REFUGEE LIVES IN STYLE

SOUTHAMPTON (AP)—A Polish refugee from communism settled down yesterday to at least a month of solitary luxury living in the Cunard liner Scythia. Mischel Hasbrouck, 24, and his wife had been turned down for entry by France and Belgium and was reported by Canada in the Scythia. So the Cunard people have to keep him as a guest, a man without a country until his future is decided. The Scythia is due to be drydock here for several weeks.

Representatives of the two departments will attend the 11 o'clock morning service at the Salvation Army Citadel here which will take the form of the annual Harvest Festival Thanksgiving.

Senior Captain Fred Brightwell, in charge of the citadel here will deliver the message. The choir and band will be in attendance.

Members of the two civic departments will assemble at the Fire Hall and parade from there to the Citadel headed by the Salvation Army Band.

Captain Brightwell extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend this special service.

Two Families Made Homeless In Hillcrest Fire

Two families were rendered temporarily homeless Thursday afternoon when fire swept through a two-storey frame duplex in Hillcrest just north of the city.

Residents of the upstairs apartment, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Armstrong and four children, three girls and a boy, lost most of their household possessions and personal effects, while downstairs most of the furniture owned by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Boomhour was saved.

All members of both families were away from the flat when it caught shortly before three o'clock, Mr. Boomhour's father returning to come home and was successful in saving most of the downstairs furniture. The blaze is said to started on contents by either family.

Firemen, who fought the blaze holding fire damage to two rooms said the blaze apparently started upstairs from overheated stove pipes. The house is owned by Susan Hearnes.

Today Captain Fred Brightwell of the Salvation Army appealed for clothing and furniture to assist the Armstrong family members of which lost clothing and household effects in the blaze. The family consists of the parents three girls age 8, 6 and 3, and a boy two years old.

'Officer, You Can't Do This'

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A policeman here can't seem to remember it — but he gave himself a parking ticket.

This, was discovered yesterday when the patrolman hurried to police headquarters and pruned to know why he had been summonsed for overtime parking.

A check of the records showed that he had indeed been sent a ticket, and that it carried his licence number plus his signature as arresting officer.

Mayor Whitton Ignores Truce Flag

"Say it isn't so!" says Mayor Lamport of Toronto, who finds Mayor Charlotte Whitton of Ottawa still unapproachable at the end of their plowing match at Carp, Ont. Mayor Lamport, a city slicker, won the contest over eight other reeves and mayors of Ontario, some of Whom, like Mayor Whitton, were born on farms. After the match Mayor Lamport adopted this genuflecting attitude to pass the Mayor Charlotte forgive and forget and that they kiss and make up. "I would rather," said Ottawa's chief citizen, "have seen the mayor of Hong Kong win the plowing title." — Central Press Canadian.

City Firemen Parade Streets With Equipment

Drawing attention to Fire Prevention Week which is being observed this week, city firemen staged a parade in the downtown section of the city Thursday night.

Practically all the fire fighting equipment owned by the department appeared in the parade. Included was a float on which the lighting personnel demonstrated first aid and the administration of life giving oxygen to a "patient" on a stretcher. Following the parade pictures on fire prevention were shown in the local armories.

Two interesting window displays, one at the Tip Top Tailors and the other at Fred Lewis Industries on Front Street, are drawing further attention to the prevention of fire. In one window the model of a fireman is shown carrying a child out of a burning house. A poster at the rear warns parents never to leave children alone in an unprotected home. The other window brings home to residents the heavy loss of life which fire claims annually in Canada.

And it is not all talk and no action for firemen during Fire Prevention Week. Fire fighting personnel with a special truck have been scouring the city. When they see a back yard that is a fire hazard for vanity of cleaning up they go into action and do the cleaning job themselves.

Trees, with the yard cleaned and the fire hazards removed the owner is shown the transformation with a gentle hint that it would be nice if the premises were kept in that condition.

The Second Wife Had a Grievance

PORTLAND, Me. (CP)—In the bedroom was an urn containing the first wife's ashes, pressed flowers from her funeral were framed on the wall, and in the closet all her clothes hung neatly.

Mrs. Marie van Zelm, the second wife, unfamiliar these facts as evidence yesterday in her uncontested divorce suit on grounds of cruel and abusive treatment.

She added that at Christmas there were two trees, and that her husband said:

"One is for us. The other is for you."

Six of Hunting Party Killed In Car Crash

WARREN, Man. (CP) — Six men were killed and three persons injured last night in a head-on collision between two cars north of here Warren E. Miller reported west of Winnipeg.

All but one were firemen, believed on a hunting trip.

The victims were identified as Alfred Vincent of Stony Mountain, Jim Sopko, Edward; Peter Henderson, Argyle, Man.; David Gall, Winnipeg; J.H.G. Ross, Winnipeg, and Lorne Mackie, retired Winnipeg deputy fire chief.

Injured were Robert Vincent, a brother of Alfred; his four-year-old son, Robert Jr., and Elmer Ashworth of Elm Grove, Man.

Strand of Braided Hair Only Human Remains Found

ROSSLAND, B.C. (CP)—A length of braided hair was the only human remains found near the wreckage of an R.C.A.F. plane which exploded five years ago with nine persons aboard.

The bit of woman's hair—the plane carried seven R.C.A.F. personnel and a civilian couple—a bobby pin and his wife—was found by the R.C.M.P. police dog Wolf Wednesday.

Discovery of only the hair indicated the bodies of all nine had been eaten and the bones carried away by wild animals.

The Mitchell bomber was on a photographic mission when it disappeared Oct. 18, 1947. Hunter Wife Gibbard spotted the wreckage Tuesday on a mountain slope 13 miles northwest of here.

Found Guilty

HAMILTON (CP)—Louis Cole, 21, yesterday was found guilty of the attempted murder of a policeman April 13. He will be sentenced Oct. 17.

Cole was charged with the attempted murder of constable Ray Houlihan. He brought a gun out of a duffle bag and shot at the officer and his companion, constable Joseph Gratz, when they hailed his car for a minor traffic violation.

House-to-House Canvass For Community Chest Drive

From October 21st to October 31st a house-to-house canvass will be made in the city so that every person will be given the opportunity to make contributions to the Belleville Community Chest. Out of the funds realized through this medium six of the city's organizations will be benefited.

These include the YMCA, The Victorian Order of Nurses, The Children's Aid Society, St. John Ambulance Brigade, the Navy League and the Belleville Boy Scouts organization.

The objective set is $34,500 slightly in excess of that asked last year due to extra organizations being admitted to the chest fund.

Campaign chairman J. J. Trudeau said today that some 150 canvassers have been enlisted who are under the jurisdiction of allotted supervisors. They are now undergoing instruction included in which are shown films pertaining to this important work secured from the National Film Board.

The Community Chest, chairman Trudeau points out, has but one campaign annually. Its headquarters are situated at the YMCA.

There are many arguments in favor of the Community Chest plan. One, of course, is the convenience it affords the general public in doing its charitable works; another is to relieve the public of numerous appeals which through their very numbers have become nuisances. There probably can be no greater argument in favor of the plan than the fact it is working so well in other parts of Canada and the United States.

There is ever an existing need to assist the less fortunate. While today is a far cry from the depression years with their glaring needs, there are nevertheless great numbers dependent upon this help to keep them from to some semblance of comfortable living.

The need is great. These organizations are doing a great social and welfare work that surely is deserving of public support.

POLIO EPIDEMIC WORST

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP)—Stock market price changes slowed down in early afternoon trading today after a rise that carried western oils eight points forward on the exchange's index in a day and a half.

Volume for the first three hours totalled 1,221,000 shares.

Senior golds gained strength and junior producers also advanced as MacLeod and New Dickenson added pennies. Among the prospects, New Alger added pennies as turnover of 40,000 shares and Calmo also gained. Holding companies traded lightly for a general gain.

Base metals recorded a majority of gains as leading issues advanced. Feninore added pennies in a turnover of 31,000 shares and Labrade and East Sullivan also advanced. Noranda drooped more than $1 and Consol Miller also slipped.

Western oils advances ranged up to 75 cents as Bailey Selburn, Canada Southern, Grandi, Fraser River and West Home, gained. Home Oil was one of the few losses in the list.

Those two men, Candido de la Torre, centre, and Manuel F. Maderaga, right, tell U.S. police at Fort Worth, Texas, a story of having been robbed of $10,000 in a hotel room. Known Death Toll In Tram Wreck Reaches 107

LONDON (AP) — The recorded death toll from Wednesday's triple tram crash at Harrow station rose to 107 today.

Digging in the debris went on slowly. Railway officials said they feared more bodies still were buried in the wreckage.

Last night 94 injured still were in hospital. Another 63 had been released after treatment.

The death list may rise higher as a result of critically injured victims dying in hospital.

It will take at least another day before the mountain of debris is finally cleared. Salvage gangs continued their work today after struggling through the second night by searchlights and kerosene flares.

A private railroad inquiry into the disaster — in which an express piled into the rear of a stationary commuter train, and then a second express was wrecked by debris scattered across the right of way — opened here.

George Raver, Cooksville, was found guilty of having more than the legal limit of lake trout in his possession here. Dr. William Stubbs, and Dr. James Thomas, Caledon, and Lockwood Stubbs, Alton.

Charges against three other men of having more than the legal limit of lake trout in their possession were dismissed for lack of evidence.

Plastic Heart Valve Placed In Human Patient

WASHINGTON (AP)—Successful placement of a plastic heart valve in a human patient—the first operation of its kind in medical history —was disclosed yesterday.

The valve, consisting of a small plastic ball in a chamfered tube, is reported working perfectly in preventing a backflow of blood into the heart, a condition which had constantly threatened failure of the patient's heart.

The operation was performed by Dr. Charles Hufnagle, cardiovascular surgeon at Georgetown University medical centre.

The Washington Post says the operation was performed three weeks ago at Georgetown University hospital. The patient was identified only as a 39-year-old housewife, whose own heart valve had healed perfectly damaged by the effects of rheumatic heart disease.

Last Sunday, the Post said, the woman left the hospital for her home "hale and happy."

HUSBANDS WILL UNDERSTAND

It is probably a Scot — but in any event a discerning reader — who takes us gently to task for not having reported in this page last Saturday. It was a reprinted editorial piece from the Brockville Recorder and Times under the heading: No-Kilt for Philip.

It had reference to a report that the Duke of Edinburgh had refused to wear the kilt in Scotland or elsewhere; that his refusal had led to a marital dispute and that Her Majesty was much put out about it. The comment of the Recorder and Times was: "Full marks to the Duke, say we. A man has the right to choose his own dress, even though his wife be a Queen."

So in the mail this week came a letter from a reader. It read: "Seems to me one made a mistake. The small clipping appeared in (your) Saturday paper and the other was received a week ago from Scotland. Speaks for itself, don't you think?"

We hardly agree that the clipping from Scotland speaks for itself. It is a three column picture of the Queen, and the Duke — in the kilt. The caption under it reads: "Onlookers had their first glimpse of the Duke of Edinburgh in the kilt as he stepped from the Royal car behind the Queen. The Duke made the Braemar Gathering the occasion of his first appearance in public in Highland dress, and the crowd roared its approval."

For all the evidence, we are not persuaded, however, that "some one made a mistake" — unless it could be said that Philip had; but, then, what husband would ever concede that it could be a mistake to disagree with his wife's preference in opinion, perhaps, but hardly a mistake?

It is only fair to consider the whole thing in the enlightened perspective of anyone familiar with the ordinary pattern of married relations. We know that next month the Queen and Philip will be five years wed. It was at that time that the ex-Prince of Greece — Lieutenant Philip Mountbatten by choice became the Duke of Edinburgh.

Does anyone suggest, that in the five years since, Philip has not been reminded more than once that nothing would quite become the Duke of the ancient seat of the Scottish kings — and consequently as Highland dress? Would he not have been reminded, also, of the family ties with Scottish history through the Queen Mother? Undoubtedly, perhaps, have reminded. This is that the Wouldn't someone, perhaps, have reminded him that his father in law was Prince Charlie had a particular obligation to fulfil in respect to the wearing of the kilt?

Any husband who has been subjected to even so much as a determined wifely campaign against an old hat, or the wearing down of his excuses for avoiding a dinner jacket appearance as infrequently as once a year, will understand the Duke's position. We would be quite certain that the question of Her Majesty's royal prerogatives never entered into this domestic debate at any time. After all, Elizabeth was a wife before she became a Queen and, therefore, quite adequate to deal with such a situation without recourse to any exercise of regal authority.

We can almost imagine the argument having gone as far as some such remark as this: "Now, after all, Philip, there is a great Greek tradition associated with the kilt, too — remember those fighting Evzones who came out of the mountains of Greece in their white skirts in 1940 to rout Mussolini's men and send them scurrying back into Albania?"

Yes, it could have gone that far. So, all in all, we can't see where any mistake has been made about it. Philip held out for nearly five years before he finally capitulated. Against those odds no husband has given way in such a determination in a good deal less time.

And we choose to think that in the magnanimity of a wifely victory, Elizabeth, then chose to exercise her royal prerogative by declaring her good husband "the First Gentleman of the Realm."

NOT ALL EMPTY HANDED

Not infrequently comment is heard upon the apparent degree of material success which is won in so short a time by many of those who have come to Canada from Europe only since the end of the war.

Quite a few newspaper stories have revealed the success of some family or individual as an example of the fruits of initiative and industry in a new land of opportunities. And no doubt many new Canadians have remarkable achievements to their credit in the face of the obvious handicaps that face any stranger in a strange land. However, just how the whole story

Some new light on the subject was given by Immigration Minister Walter Harris throw new light on the subject. He says that despite the fact that, most European countries have tough restrictions on the movement of currency many of the $60,000,000 newcomers of the post-war years have arrived here well-heeled.

Mr. Harris estimates that the amount of new capital brought to Canada by immigrants has not been less than $360,000,000. Last year alone the total was well over $60,000,000. The only large group to arrive empty-handed has been the displaced persons and they number less than one-fourth of the total.

But in truth I can't deny
Such a captive bound am I.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE SELF OF OURS

Many are the writers who have contended that self knowledge supersedes all other knowledge. One of the greatest of these writers was Montaigne. It has been said of him that he wrote of himself "so genuine, so true, that in the reading of the Essays recognizes himself."

The single book of Essays that Montaigne wrote fit aptly so universally to all mankind that they are read eagerly to this day. He is regarded as the father of "the essay. His essays were first published in 1580. They are a look from beginning to the end and you will have this author's autobiography!

We know of very little about this self of ours, yet we are constantly with it. Others can know us only as we reveal the things that we know about ourselves. It was Pope who exclaimed that "the proper study of mankind is man." In a sense we cannot study anyone else until we go to make up mankind. Each one of us, however, is so unique, as Emerson once stated.

It is a great thing to get well self-acquainted, for we are bound to spend a great part of our life alone with this self of ours. With all the remarkable gifts with which mankind has endowed us, we should never grow despondent. Every new day of life should be filled with the wonder of existence. We belong to everything that we love; in the flower, sunset, forest, sea, bird, or man himself. We carry about in our bodies every element of the earth on which we tread each day!

Nothing is so miraculous as birth which has brought us into this world. Next to that is this self of ours. It develops from day to day, and we grow to learn refreshed by frank emotion.

of the endless opportunities that are afforded us to be useful, to be kind, to spread our influence in all directions.

We need to live more naturally and sincerely, to inquire of ourselves more than from others. I like that line from Montaigne: "My reason is not framed, to bend or stoop; my knees are."

The Tears Of Churchill

(Ottawa Journal)

The Peterborough Examiner is intrigued by a picture of General Eisenhower and Senator Nixon "weeping brokenly as they embraced each other" after Senator had defended himself against charges of taking money improperly. This scene led the Examiner into an interesting study of the character of the tears, and it must be agreed that the stiff upper lip is a peculiarly British, Canadian and United Kingdom politicians' stock in trade.

Tears are no sign of weakness of character and this can be proved by the hardy, Winston Churchill. At Conservative gatherings in the United Kingdom his arrival usually was signalled by the playing of "Land of Hope and Glory", with Mr. Churchill standing at attention on the platform and all the assembly singing with strong voice.

On these occasions the old warrior let the tears run down his cheeks, found refuge in his handkerchief when the singing was finished with only a few sniffs and thrust jaw to throw his challenge at the world and the Socialists. Courage, belligerent, indomitable,

The Way to Get Along in B.C.

(Jean Haworth in Vancouver Province)

Had a splendid time at lunch yesterday. Had it with a character who just arrived two weeks ago from Ontario, had never been at the coast before, and left her for out on the prairies because she didn't think she would need it out here.

"A-a-a-h," said I, with deep and heartfelt pleasure as we reached this point. "My dear, you must get on it at once, or you'll be out here. Everybody does. After a while you get used to it. Also, get a pair of fur-lined rubber boots."

"But I just sold a pair of fur-lined boots," protested she.

"Then get another pair," said I, and settled into my lecture on How To Get Along in Vancouver. (I do seem eight years preparing this lecture, or even eight years before, I suppose myself; but this is the first 24-carat opportunity I have had to deliver it.)

"During the first year you are out here," I explained impressively, "you must remember not to really warm more than once on twice for not more than half an hour at a time. You better get a hot water bottle too. We don't believe in insulation or storm windows, and we never really been converted to central heating. And you'll be surprised at the way you will go out in the evenings. No; take two, for I do not trust you not to go because that would prove you're an Easterner. We have Easterners.

"But I'm a Westerner," said she, "I've lived in Alberta."

"Anything east of the Rockies," I explained condescendingly. "I'm sure. Do not dwell upon it: Or if you must mention it, do it in a low voice. It is quite all right to say, Calgary is hot and dusty. Being hot and dusty is Calgary's fault. Being wet and foggy is not. Of course, Vancouver's Inuit."

"But I don't like the Vancouver weather," said she.

"There!" cried I with horror, "what I mean. You must not must not make remarks like that! It doesn't rain here more than 335 days a year. Hardly any rain at all.

"All bad weather in Vancouver is unusual. It is quite all right to talk about the weather. About 90 per cent of all Vancouver conversations concern the weather. Just look at the magnificent improve of the weather."

"I don't think Vancouver people are very friendly, either," said she — a stubborn type.

"That's a libel," said I. "After you have been here six months somebody is almost certain to ask you out for coffee. They start saying good morning even earlier than that. Sometimes they even ask you goodnight. Vancouver people are not unfriendly, they are merely reserved."

"Well, in Calgary——"

"Calgary is full of Calgary! Calgary is a cow town on the baldfaced prairie with no roads. Everybody is yourself every morning. Of course people are friendly there, because they haven't anything better to do. In Vancouver there is the fine mountains."

"And their dirty buildings and their dirty streets," said she.

"Be still!" said I. "I am only, as it were, trying to ease your path. If you must make unpleasant remarks about Vancouver, confine yourself to the B.C. Electric and the telephone service. That is unexceptionable. The fare increase or the tenth phone call, even commendable. But no more!"

I think I'll go back to Calgary," said she.

But she won't.

None of the rest of us did.

Warning To Scribblers

(Critic, in the New Statesman and Nation)

All the regular stories about the dukes of Wellington and Marlborough still recently. Here is one that I hope is less well known. It comes, I believe, rightly, from the memoirs of one Abraham Hayward, a Victorian journalist of some distinction. He tells it as a warning against bad manners.

A reporter, wishing to write a life of Wellington, went to Apsley cent avenue of trees planted in the Duke's estate in Hampshire, in celebration of his victory over the French, wrote to ask permission to view the "Waterloo beech."

He received in reply a courteous letter from the Duke's secretary saying his Grace would have been glad to let the reporter see them if he had been able to, but the pantaloons the Duke had worn at the battle of Waterloo had been disposed of to the third footman 30 years earlier.

It Does Happen

(R. M. Harrison in Windsor Star)

"It can't happen to me!" That's precisely the attitude of those who have been killed, injured or taken ill from J. J. Doddington, assistant general manager of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association, the attitude is widespread.

According to this safety expert, there were 301,234 preventable accidents in Ontario industries last year. These took 421 lives and cost an estimated $125,000,000. That equalled Ontario's bill for medical aid.

Each of the 421 fatal accidents, Mr. Doddington figures out, represented a loss of 6,000 working days in industry—a total loss of 69 centuries!

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

NOT IN OUR HANDS

We have many things for which to thank God but one of our greatest blessings is—as we recently observed — that God never leaves the issues of events in our hands. Even in Washington, where the President has said he and his colleagues would "take responsibility for the right and prudent might result. The issue" he declared, "is in the hands of God."

The issue of all events is in the hands of God, but some of us are very slow to realize this. We think that we can bring things out all right. To say this is not to counsel a supine resignation to life as it is. God has given us power to overcome as against every imperfect and evil thing we may encounter. We are to be "more than conquerors" through Him who loved us. But we are to remember that the issues are not in our hands. God is the Lord of history. He is the Lord of our lives. He is the Lord of our nation. He is the Lord of the world. He is the Lord of the universe. He is the Lord of the future. He is the Lord of eternity.

When Not To Smile

(Loudon Free Press)

We all laugh when the Russians claim that they invented the telephone, the electric light, gunpowder clearly shows to have been invented in the western world. But we do not laugh when Britain and the U.S.A. are all serious when the same country may claim the invention of the motion picture.

The British claim has been eloquently and emphatically set forth in a film called The Magic Box, which deals with the career of William Friese-Greene, an Englishman who invented a type of camera which, according to Thomas Alva Edison got around to doing so. This film has been released in the U.S.A., and New York critics are busily explaining how Edison is the real inventor. The point is not worth arguing about, but of course, true. This controversy will be left to truth and films purporting to be historical is something new for Hollywood. We do not know anything about the matter, but the history of invention shows that several cases in which several men in different parts of the world have been occupied with the same problem; one of them at last finds a clear solution that the others, and most of the credit usually goes to the man who is first in the field have had good ideas, too, and might have brought them to perfection in time. The dispute as to the real inventor of the motion picture will still rages, to name but one instance.

Our neighbors to the south, however, have made a wealth of films about Thomas Alva Edison, and they do not like to have any concern knocked off what is apparent. They are determined that he, and no other, is the inventor of moving-pictures. And we must not smile when we speak of this matter. Rather we are permitted to smile when Russia claims the invention of the umbrella and the streetcar.

Personal Health Talks

TEN DOLLARS A SHOT

Have been talking shots regularly since last fall, writes a gullible customer, for my arthritis. Now a new doctor has joined the clinic and they are giving me a new kind of medicine by shots twice a week. Each shot costs ten dollars, which is more than I can afford. (Signed)——

Well, if you can't afford to be bounced why have truck with the "clinic" racketeers?

The practice of medicine is still a personal service, although the trick specialist and get rich quick artists prefer to exploit victims as impersonally as possible—that's why organized medicine "clinics" to separate suckerpiddle people from their cash.

It is much easier for the busicessike lady in the anteroom to demand, say, $40 when in an honest doctor would charge $10 or $20 for the same service. Also you are so overawed by the getups and the gadgets and the hurry-scurry at the "clinic" that you pay through the nose without quite realizing what a racket you have been.

I say these combinations of specialists that foist themselves on the community as "clinics" are nothing of the sort, and I cite Webster as my authority for this statement. The fastbuck boys can find anything in Webster's quaint book of definitions that they'll be happy—well, no, but I'll apologize to the world for giving a wrong impression of the Yankee clinic racket. It is within possibility that some newly developed medicine, hormone, endocrine or vitamin actually costs as much as a dollar a shot, but more likely the charlatan puts up $3 to $7 cents per ampoule and makes a net profit of $9.83 every time the gullible customer can be persuaded to come to the "clinic" for a "shot".

And the wiseacres as well as the ninnyhammers are "suckers" for that sort of thing. They imagine medicine injected under the skin, into muscle or into a vein, is more potent or somehow more effective than it would be if taken in the ordinary way. This is true of vaccines, antitoxins and insulin. It is not true of most medicines which the clinic racketeers administer by injections.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Black Coffee

Does black coffee without sugar hurt any one? I drink about 13 cups a day. (H. F. A.)

Answer—Yes, excessive use of coffee would harm most persons. It overstimulates the heart, makes you less accurate in color selection, is hitting a spot on a moving target, in drawing a straight line. Makes you wakeful, produces disturbances of digestion, nervousness, kidneys. For most adults moderate coffee drinking is one of the things a day, is beneficial in every respect.

No Mere Leg Cramps

Several months ago I wrote four your pamphlet on leg cramps. My sister suffered with those cramps in feet and legs at night. She followed the advice in the pamphlet and in a few weeks the trouble left her. (Mrs. W. L. Hart)——The pamphlet Adult Tetany and Growing Pains is available to readers who write it if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

The neighborhood in which I have lived for many years is in immediate proximity to a large open park of several hundred acres of trees and hills and gullies and streams. Before the days of automobiles and motor buses, the park was a long way from anywhere. It was the large, old houses that attracted them chiefly, because by converting one of these residences into a boarding house, as many as fifteen to twenty-five persons were conveniently accommodated.

But it turns out that it is the park that is the chief attraction.

"Those of us," one of the boarders who have lived in old, congested cities of Europe during bombing and fighting will never feel safe again until we live near open country. To us the cut-throats of cities here is too difficult for us to get to even if we knew where to go. But to live near a big park gives us peace of mind. You who have not experienced these things can hardly believe how terrible it is to be trapped in buildings and streets when trouble comes. Buildings are not up so that you cannot run this way or that. The crowds and the shooting smash the buildings, it drives you mad.

"But if you can get into open country, or a big park, even though you have nowhere but little beds to hide in, or nothing more than some bushes or the grass to conceal you, you feel safe and free.

"I think you will find throughout Canada and the United States that wherever colonies of those who experienced the war in Europe are set up, it will be right beside a park or near the open countryside. In former times I can told the newcomers where the cafés and night clubs of your cities to establish their colonies. Most of us have a horror of such localities that will not leave us in our lifetime."

The doctor examined him twice a week.

He wore his rubbers when it rained.

He slept with the window open.

He stuck to a diet with plenty of fresh vegetables.

He relinquished his tonsils and tried gargling with salt glands.

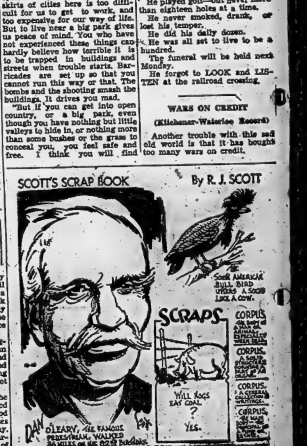
He played golf—but never more than eighteen holes at a time.

He never smoked, drank, or lost his temper.

He did his daily dozen.

His exercise was all he could take.

He lived to be a hundred.



The funeral will be held next Monday.

He forgot to LOOK and LISTEN at the railroad crossing.

WARS ON CREDIT

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record)

Another trouble with this sad old world is that it has bought too many wars on credit.

Safety bulletins posted in manufacturing plants throughout Ontario remind workers that industrial accidents can be prevented. Bulletins above, issued by Industrial Accident Prevention Associations, give evidence of why safety glasses and safety shoes should be worn. October, is "No Accident" months and industrial workers are being urged to "Work Safely", "Think Safety", and "Practice Safety."

Warns Stronger Enforcement Of Food Handlers X-ray Test

The local health department is going to check up more closely on food handlers in the city according to the M.O.H., Dr. A. M. Breuls.

A regulation passed last year, November 12, 1951, by the Belleville Board of Health, requires that all waitresses, chefs, or anybody connected with the handling of food which the public is served, must have a chest X-ray done within the past six months.

Last year the motion was not as strongly enforced as it might have been, but this year the department is going to go all out to see the rule is enforced, Dr. Breuls said.

The motion reads: "Before renewal of annual permits for eating establishments is given by the Board of Health, the proprietor of such eating establishment must present evidence that he has complied with the regulations for eating establishments, and that all employees have been X-rayed for tuberculosis within the past six months. Such evidence to consist of a signed statement to that effect from the M.O.H."

May Lose Licence

Dr. Breuls said the penalty for failure to comply with the regulation, will result in cancellation of the establishment's license or it's licence will not be renewed next January. The department has already sent out letters to the eating establishments all-over the city concerning this regulation. The letters went out last week.

Some cities require food handlers to have a physical examination and a blood test as well as an X-ray. The physical exam and the blood test are not required by law in this city.

In a statement today, Dr. Breuls said, "This regulation has only been recently inaugurated in Belleville. Last year we received co-operation from about 75 per cent of the eating establishment owners. Next year it will be better."

To Make Inspections

"To assure the regulation is enforced in the city next year, a sanitary inspector from the health department will make periodic rounds of the eating establishments and report to me the certificates of the food handlers.

"When the examinations were carried out last year, it was found that some of the food handlers had tuberculosis and as a result, some refused certificates. Those certificates are obtained from the department of health. The procedure in effect at the present time stipulates, those to be X-rayed go to the clinic. When the plate has been read, notice is sent to the M.O.H. who will send out the food handlers card to the individual, providing the results of the X-ray are satisfactory.

Dr. G. G. Brearley, director of the chest clinic said, "I think the M.O.H. has done an excellent thing by enforcing this regulation. There is absolutely no use in only having half of the food handlers X-rayed.

Says Some Solution Must be Found For Anglo-Canadian Trade Problem

OTTAWA (CP) — A member of the British government today called the Anglo-Canadian trade situation ridiculous and said "we must work out some solution."

Rt. Hon. Derick Heathcoat-Amory, British minister of pensions and a textile manufacturer by background, veered off into the question of trade at a press conference called primarily to discuss the situation among British pensioners living in Canada.

Despite earlier fears to him this morning for higher pensions by representatives of 18,000 Imperial pensioners and war widows living in Canada, the minister held out little hope that anything more could be done for them beyond seeking a wider distribution of a special hardship allowance introduced at the time of the 1949 devaluation of the pound.

Britain, he indicated, cannot hope to make up the difference in British and Canadian wage and price levels for British pensioners even though their rates are roughly one-third those of Canadian war pensioners.

Mr. Heathcoat-Amory, a veteran of the wartime Arnhem airborne landing, found himself discussing trade when reporters swung away from the pension discussion.

He said "no one in Britain is happy about the state of Anglo-Canadian trade."

"We must work out some solution. It is certainly a ridiculous situation when Canada has the cheese and other food, timber and other products which Britain wants to buy and yet can't buy because she has no dollars. I'm sure some kind of solution will be found."

Red Deputy Boasts Third War Would Finish U.S. as Power

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Deputy Premier Nikolai Bulganin told the 19th all-union Communist party congress Wednesday night that a third world war would finish the United States as a fighting power.

Bulganin and Britain's Communist chief, Harry Pollitt, joined the parade of speakers to the podium of the congress — apparently the largest meeting of Communist leaders in history — after Mariya Z. Saburov, chairman of the state planning commission, outlined objectives of the current five-year plan.

Emphasizing the strength of the Soviet Union, Bulganin predicted that if "American aggressors" kindle the flame of a new world war, it will be their last one. The deputy premier however, appealed for still further strengthening of the Soviet state.

Pollitt stressed principally the significance of the congress to the workers of the world. The British Red leader is one of at least 115 delegates here from Communist parties of 115 foreign countries. Observers recall no other Communist gathering that included so many leaders, or such a number from so many different countries.

Candidate Delegate

Leslie Morris, national executive member of the Labor-Progressive party, was the Canadian delegate.

Moscow newspapers disclosed today that Deputy Premier Lavrenty P. Beria (head of the Soviet police organization), has called for vigilance against American spies, which he said were being sent in especially to Russia.

In his speech to the congress Tuesday — published in full only today — Beria declared:

"The vigilance of the Soviet people is the keenest weapon in the struggle against enemy infiltrators and there is no doubt that their heightening and sharpening their vigilance, the Soviet people will be able to render harmless agents of the imperialist warmongers, no matter how many they send to us and no matter how they disguise them."

Confident of Victory

Beria also confidently predicted his country would triumph in any future war.

"If any enemy dares to come at us with war, then the Soviet people, standing at the head of the camp of peace and democracy will be able crushingly to repulse any grouping of aggressive imperialist circles and be able to finish and tame the rampant aggressors and warmongers."

The congress has been told that the Soviet Union is a bulwark of peace and, with the communist world rallied around it, can stave off war. No speaker has made the suggestion that the world actually is on the brink of war.

The impression has been given that the chief task for the party is to proceed with the new five-year plan which already has been in operation for 18 months. The 7,192 voting delegates also are taking up a proposed reorganization of the party administration.

Family Living Costs on Farms Eased in August

OTTAWA (CP)—Family living costs on Canadian farms eased during August, but peak costs for farm labor, building materials and binder twine trimmed benefits to farmers searching for ways to cut operating expenses.

With food prices down, farm living costs declined to 304.1, from 306.8 last April and 314.1 in August last year, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday.

The bureau reported the composite index of commodities and services used by farmers—including living costs—in 227.7 during August from 229.8 in April and 226.8 in August, 1951.

Exclusive of living costs, the index actually increased slightly to 343.4 from 343.3 last April and 357.8 in August, 1951. All indexes are based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, and are surveyed three yearly, in January, April and August.

The farm-wage index climbed to a peak of 471.9 from 454.3 last April and 437.3 in August last year.

A KNIFE BOX that offers both convenience and protection against sharp edges may be quite easily fashioned from a block of white pine — with strips along the sides — and end and bottom of the same material.
First make cuts in the main block with a saw; then add sides, base and front end. Just as a guide to dimensions: a box to hold three paring knives and one kitchen or table knife should be about 4 ins. wide; 2 ins. deep, and 10 ins. long.
Very attractive BOOK MARKS for many years of useful service may be cut from discarded felt hats, or scraps of leather and pieces of silk... either lettered to desired, or left plain.

WEDDINGS

BOWERMAN—LOVELAND

In St. John's Anglican Church, Ottawa, August 30, the marriage took place of Constance Amy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Loveland, of Sherbrooke, Quebec, to Cpl. Lorne Bowerman, son of Mrs. Lorna Bowerman, of Albury, and Mr. W. Bowerman, R.W.V.

Rev. W. E. Wright officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The church organist, Mr. L. B. Virr, played the wedding music and the soloist, Miss Jona Bowerman, sister of the bridegroom, sang "Lovely Coronation," during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was beautiful attired in a white bridal satin gown with a bridal veil of tulle illusion which formed a train and fell gracefully from a headdress of satin and pearls. The bride's bouquet was of red roses, white gladioli, petals and stephanotis tied with white satin ribbon.

She was attended by her two sisters, Mrs. Betty Salt, of Port Neuf, Quebec, as matron of honor, dressed in pink net over satin taffeta, and Miss Phyllis Loveland, of Sherbrooke, as bridesmaid, wore lavender net over satin taffeta. Both wore flowered headbands with matching gloves and carried nosegays of pink roses and blue mums.

The groomsman was Mr. Vernon Bowerman, brother of the bridegroom, of Drummondville, Quebec, and the ushers were LAC. R. Hummell and LAC. Kenneth Trull, both of Rockcliffe.

At the reception held in the church parlor, the bride's mother received the guests gowned in navy, with pink accessories and corsage of pink carnations. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother, attired in navy with navy and white accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

The young couple left later for their honeymoon by motor to the Maritimes. They will reside in Ottawa.

'Canada and World Today' Topic of Talk to Women's Club by Murray Ballantyne

"No nation can stand half slave and half free" was the core of a fine address on the "Canada and World Today" by Mr. Murray Ballantyne, eminent travel-journalist and author, as he spoke to the Women's Canadian Club in Queen Alexandra School, Tuesday on "Canada and the World Today".

Mr. Ballantyne, who was introduced to his audience by the president, Mrs. E. Hickey, prefaced his remarks by saying that even if the subject was not too pleasant because of the sad things being faced, it was necessary to see them clearly and without pretence and truthfully.

Half Free—Half Slave

"Today," said Mr. Ballantyne, "the world stands at the moment in the condition of being half free and half slave. If the present trend continues, the people of the world will either be slaves or they will be free, either one or the other. Half slave and half everything-else million people are living in a condition that is intolerable, and these people are as human as the people of Canada.

Other subjects the speaker mentioned the people of Poland, Czechoslovakia and Hungary, which the people of Poland, who fought with the United Nations, are now in exile with those suffering most severely. In his work with the International Rescue Mission, he had come personally in contact with some brilliant minds, one hundred of whom had been rescued and brought to the land of freedom, including a great scientist, Thomas Mann.

Others with whom he had had personal contact were the three who had escaped by plane, and who, upon landing had been put in jail because they had entered free land without passports. One of these young men had been tortured by having his hand pierced with a five 19 times in an endeavor to make him 'confess'. The young woman of the party, a 19-year-old fiancee of the other, had been forced to witness this before her parents, lest they be tortured.

Controlled by Red Element

The universities were being denied the right of professors as that educa-tion might be controlled by the element opposed to freedom professors had disappeared from circulation in most horrible manner. Mr. Ballantyne made the rule of slavery.

The same fear also prevailed in Hungary that the secret police would make knock calls in the early morning hours, when resistance was at its lowest ebb. Continuing they live in fear, a fear so great that a rap at the door causes one to leap from the window to his death, when the rap turned out to be but a lighting of a match for his cigarette.

In Czechoslavakia life was the same; educated men were confined to be engulfed in uranium mines. A specific case being of one whose wife kept writing him information which, he who never received any of his letters in reply, though he had answered each one.

Spirit-Mind

"What are we going to do about it?" slowly and deliberately spoke-er. "The crisis in front is one of ideology versus militarism, with that ideology being most important as it is a war of the spirit and mind. The United Nations could win a shooting war, but could we win? The Soviet communistic spirit is turning a whole generation into brute, sadists, setting children against parents.

"In a school in Hungary, where the custom had always been for the children to write letters to Baby Jesus before Christmas, in the same manner that Canadian children write to Santa Claus, for the things they want, the Communists arrived and had them write to the Baby Jesus, before letters were confiscated. After Christmas, they returned and asked whether the gifts had come, and of course the answer was, 'no'. So, they were told then to write to 'Father Stalin'. The children did so, and in two weeks every little gift each child had asked for, was received.

Overwhelming Forces

"We must never start a war, but if forced to it, we must win it. The threat of war is grave; Russia has overwhelming forces; her aeroplanes are as good as ours; and she also has the atomic bombs but not in as great numbers. Winston Churchill said that the atomic bomb is holding the balance, but we are holding the hordes back for the time so that they cannot come, if they must, we have a target.

"Canada must play her part; we have wealth and peace, so pay the taxes willingly and cheerfully, never try to dodge these, and by so doing help to win. If there is a war, it will, said Mr. Ballantyne, in his opinion, be fought in the air over France and England. But the real war is the spiritual war, which we must fight, not for territorial gain, or for raw materials, but for the sanctity of life, where morals, religion, decency, honor, and respect of parents is upheld. If we fight, says he in all force, we will die for these, not the others for the greatest right, freedom. The answer to war is ideology and the answer to slavery is freedom.

Ready to Sacrifice

"We must be ready to sacrifice for our beliefs; perhaps it is because we were so complacent that comunism was allowed to come. It is only a few years since the weak will go under. We must defend the truth. We are being given one last supreme chance to preserve the religion at home for which yet we must be called upon to fight and perchance die," were the concluding admonitions given by the great sincerity of purpose.

Mrs. W. C. McCutcheon most graciously tendered a vote of thanks to Mr. Ballantyne for his superb address.

Refreshments and tea were served following the close of the meeting with Mrs. C. G. Wright and Mrs. A. W. Geen pouring tea.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By HEATRICE FAIRFAX

He wants to make her happy—she's unresponsive

Dear Miss Fairfax:

For the last three years I have been going with a girl of 17 and I am the only boy who has ever gone with her. I am 18.

My problem is that she doesn't seem to care about me the way I care about her, and she doesn't when kept company with other boys. Maybe someday we could get married, but if she acts the way she's acting now it would be a failure. I have asked her several times if she would rather go with someone else, but she says she doesn't want to and that she still likes me. I often wonder if maybe she pretends to have something to do with the way she is.

I want to make her happy if I can. She is one who should be happy always, but maybe you can love a person just so much. Please, maybe you can find a solution to my problem.—C. C.

Dear C.C.:

I suspect that perhaps you have been trying to hurry your girl too much into a serious attachment for which she is not ready. After all, she is only 17, and if you have been going with her almost three years, she couldn't have been more than 14 when you began to see so much of each other. Very few girls are ready to stick with one boy alone during any such age period, and I think that girl must like you a lot if she has done so.

I think you will have a much better chance of eventually winning this girl over if you stop talking about romance for awhile and just let her be the way she wishes to be. If you really love her as much as you suggest, then you should be willing to wait patiently and keep yourself from trying to tie her up to you.

I suggest that you try the plan of telling her that anything she wants to do is all right with you. Be her very good friend and help her out whenever she will let you, but let her know and have understand she may occasionally wish to go out with someone else, whether it is a girl friend or a boy friend. And don't, for goodness sake, keep all her about her feelings for you or yours for her. You are not serving her interests for her good if you do, than if you stop being so possessive and so demanding.

Wants to make her first date a success

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am just past 14 years old and so my mother will now permit me to date boys.

Since I started back to school, I have met one special boy I like very much, and I think he is going to ask me for a date because he has already started walking me to school.

The only thing that is troubling me is what to do on the date. I'm afraid I won't know what to talk about, and I don't want to bore him. Could you please give me some suggestions?—G. B.

Dear G.B.:

I don't believe you are going to have as hard a time finding things to talk about with this boy as you are afraid you will. Since you both go to the same school, and presumably have lots of common interest there, you can start with your school activities, and from there on lots of subjects will probably come up in your mind to discuss. You can swap ideas on things you like to do outside of school, books you like to read, hobbies you have, your dreams and ambitions for the future and so forth. You don't say that you have any trouble talking with your friend on your walks to school, so just remember that a date is only spending a little more time together than that.

Perhaps you would like to have me send you my suggestions on how to be popular. If you would, let me have a stamped self-addressed envelope and I'll forward them to you.

Readers' Friday Column

QUESTION:

. . . I have a lot of vegetables on hand. The cucumbers are larger than 2 to 4 ins. as recommend. Will it be O.K. if I cut them and discard the seedy part? Also could other vegetables be cauliflower, onions, red sweet peppers be added and brined at the same time. . . .where would I be without a good recipe before me!—G. E. S.

ANSWER:

I will repeat Crock Pickles for your question is similar to that of many readers—and it answers all the details in your letter.

CROCK PICKLES

One 6-quart basket cucumbers, either small ones or larger ones cut into pieces; 1 quart small onions, 2 heads cauliflower. Pour enough boiling water over to cover and add 1-3 cup salt, mixing it through. Let stand 24 hours. Drain. Repeat twice more so that vegetables are in three fresh brines over 72 hour period. Bring to boiling 1 gallon vinegar, 8 lbs. white sugar, 2 oz. cinnamon buds and 1-3 oz. allspice buds (buy these buds at the drug store). When boiling pour over the drained vegetables. More cucumbers may be added at any time, as long as there is brine to cover. The spices should be tied in a cheesecloth bag and left in only long enough to spice the vinegar to your taste. These must be kept cool and covered.

QUESTION:

. . . when I make potted meat in tin muffin pans. Tin is one of the safest of metals regardless of the old-fashioned notion that food in tin cans should be tipped out the instant the can is opened. . . .

As for the fallen cakes—after I put them on at 2 Fahr. higher temperature and for 2 or 3 minutes longer. Shall I give you my standard 1-egg cake recipe? It may be a little different and detailed than the one you are using.

STANDARD ONE EGG CAKE

Sift cake flour and measure 1 1-3 cups; sift with 1 1-2 teaspoons baking powder and 1-3 teaspoon salt. Cream 3-8 cup mixed shortening and butter until fluffy then cream into them 1 1-4 cups sugar until both are light and fluffy; then beat into them 1 very large egg. Sift over them the sifted dry ingredients, 1-3 at a time, alternately with 7-8 cup milk and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Pour into paper-lined buttered 9x9 square pan. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 35 minutes. In your case, since your oven thermometer may be registering lower than the actual heat bake this at 375 deg. Fahr. Let me know if my ideas do not correct your trouble.

QUESTION:

Here is a different recipe for canned fruit salad:

CANNED FRUIT SALAD

(Contributed by Mildred L.)

Six peaches, 6 pears, 3 firm apples, 1 honey-dew or ripe cantaloupe, 1 No. 2 can cubed or sliced pineapple, 1 small bottle maraschino cherries. Peel, core and cube the peaches, pears, apples and cantaloupe. Add pineapple and blend fruits well. To every 3 cups prepared fruit add 1 cup sugar and place mixture in earthenware bowl and allow to stand 4 to 6 hours. Add cherries and place fruit mixture in sterilized jars. Process in hot water bath for 10 minutes, counting time water starts to boil. When serving add banana cubed, orange and grapefruit. . .Mildred L.

ANSWER:

Thank you very much Mildred.

QUESTION:

Would you please give some advice on using bluestone in making sine-day pickles. Also what to do in case of having put too much bluestone. My pickles taste terrible and don't seem at all like those of other years.—H. K.

ANSWER:

As you know, I dislike being discouraging, but bluestone is sulphate of copper and should not be used in pickling. Some compounds of copper are poisonous. I would be remiss if I did not say start all over again making your 2-day pickles and never use bluestone again.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

Means to parents

Your children's manners are tell-tales of your manners. Children are mimics, and what your children do and say when they are in school or in the homes of their friends and your friends, are "show up" what they have seen you do or have heard you say . . . for better or for worse!

Again the problem of divorce . . . this time the groom's parents

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My fiance's parents are divorced. He doesn't live with either of them. His mother has not remarried. His father has. At our church wedding, he wants to have his mother sit in the first pew, and his father and stepmother in the second pew. Also he would like to have both his mother and his father in the receiving-line at the reception. Are all these plans correct? If it is correct for his mother and father to be in the receiving-line, what does his stepmother do in the meantime?—Bride-to-be.

Your fiance is right in saying that his mother should be seated in the first pew, right side of the aisle, which is "the groom's side." And his father and stepmother should also be seated on the right side of the aisle . . . but I would suggest that a more considerate plan to his mother, for his father and stepmother to be seated at least three or four pews from the front. His mother would correctly be in the receiving-line: at the wedding she is the woman guest of honor, and stands next to your mother, as the hostess of the wedding. His father may be a member of the receiving-line also, but to me it would seem more considerate, in more delicate taste, for him to leave the privilege of being in the receiving-line to the bridegroom's mother. In today's weddings, as a matter of fact, the bridegroom's father generally prefers not to be a member of the receiving-line, but instead to mingle with the guests. So, from every point of view, this would be the best plan for the groom's father.

Widow writes note of invitation to her home wedding

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

We are a mature couple—my prospective bridegroom is a widower, and I am a widow. We will have a small home wedding with relatives and a few intimate friends present. Please tell me how to word the informal notes of invitation.

You may, if you wish. . . and it is correct. . . invite the guests by word-of-mouth as you meet them or go to see them; or by telephone, writing notes to those at a distance. Or you may write notes to all:

Dear Grace,

Tom and I are to be married here in my home on Saturday, November first, at four o'clock, a small, informal wedding. It will make us both very happy if you and George will say that you two dear friends will be with us on Our Day. . . for the ceremony at four o'clock, and then to drink a toast to our happiness.

Dearest love to you both from both of us.

Devotedly,

Sara

WHY does Westinghouse SINGLE DIAL TUNING select and hold both picture and sound easier and more accurately?

No matter what sort of picture any TV receiver could give you, what you actually get depends largely on the tuning. Westinghouse Single Dial Tuning puts you in instant command of your set and brings in a better picture — with sound automatically synchronized — even if you have never tuned Television before.

This convenience is an advantage in itself, but there's more to tuning than just turning a knob; you choose the programme, but the set has to find it and bring it in. If it doesn't, no amount of fancy technical talk can hide the fact. Good tuning will pick up and build up even a fringe signal properly — it is "sensitive". It will pick out the signal you choose while filtering out unwanted conflicting signals — it is "selective". It will stay tuned without fade or drift once the signal is correctly selected — it is "stable". Sensitivity, selectivity and stability are engineered and built into every Westinghouse TV receiver, and for that reason Westinghouse Single Dial tuning selects and holds both picture and sound easier and more accurately.

The "Prelude" (Model 217VH2) — 21-inch table television, standard and short set radio, and 3-speed record player. Contemporary cabinet in walnut, mahogany, or blond mahogany. In walnut at $510.50.

Promotion Went To Her Head Says Husband

NEW YORK (AP) — After 11 years at a sewing machine, Mrs. Tessie Brennan, 43, was promoted to forelady in a blouse factory.

She was put in charge of 40 women, her pay raised from $50 to $59 a week. That was three months ago.

The result, said police, was this:

Her husband, Tom, 42, stormed into the factory yesterday with a pistol and shouted at the owner, Samuel Rosenglick:

"If you don't take my wife off as forelady I'll blow your brains out."

The women workers ran to windows and screamed. They didn't know then that the gun was not loaded. They did attract police who carted Brennan off to the police station and booked him on felonious assault and illegal weapon charges.

"The job of forelady is going to my wife's head," Brennan explained to the police. "She's making too much money."

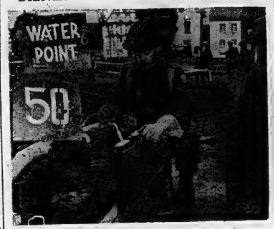
Still, we cant jern if we wont listen, and it's possible to jern from practically everybody, regardless of their age, he said, and I said, Do you think you could even jern from me, at my age?

It's well within the bounds of possibility, pop said.

Meening he mite, and I said, Well why dont you ask me sumthing you want to know, and see if I know the answer?

By golles I will, pop said, I've got a bizness problem and I'll put it up to you. Nobody else seems able to help me. There's a certain dim witted numbskull who is taking his bizness away from me and giving it to another insurants company. I've spent a whole week pointing out his mistake to him, by the light of reason and by the lite of exonerative food and drink, but he still cant see he would be better off if he sticks to me. What would you suggest? pop said.



I'd suggest the heck with him, if he's such a darn fool, I said. I'd just forget him and spend my good time getting bizness from people smart enough to asoriciate me, I said, and pop said, By golles you're a teckinological expert, otherwise known as a trubble shooter. You've made my evening brighter, and I'm going to think seriously of raising your allowance at the end of the week if you'll think seriously of reminding me, he said.

Sunday School Lesson:

The Righteous Are The Lucky

By ROY L. SMITH

It is commonly assumed, both by the religious and the "religious, that good people have all the trouble and that bad people have all the good times in life. Jesus said very positively that the righteous were the fortunatics.

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for October 12: "Jesus Describes the Christian Life," Matthew 5.

No words of the Master are better known or more often quoted than the beatitudes—the eight stanzas whom Jesus called "blessed". Perhaps he would have said, if he had been speaking to us and using our vernacular, "Fortunate are those who"

1. Lucky are the humble. This sounds like strange doctrine to a generation which is laying its tributes at the feet of the go-getters, the high-pressure boys, and the outstanding successes. But it's worth remembering that Jesus said, "How fortunate are the mild mannered and the unpretentious."

2. Fortunate are the mourners. At long last a positive word was to be spoken to those whose loved ones were gone into the unknown. The oldest and the most wistful question of the ages—"If a man die shall he live again?"—was soon to be answered in terms unmistakable and irrevocable.

3. Fortunate are the meek. The promise of survival is to them. In the world-famous La Brea tar pits on the west side of Los Angeles, there have been found more fossil remains of prehistoric dinosaurs and triceropsa, than in any other one spot in the world. And among those ancient bones have been found, also, the bones of rabbits equally ancient. Gone are the mighty triceropsa and the other monsters with their terrible wrath, but the rabbits we still have with us. The meek do seem to inherit the earth. The other kind kill each other off.

4. Fortunate are those who aspire to godliness. The hunger and thirst after righteousness can be satisfied, but gluttony and avarice cannot. Someone has said that no man is rich until he has just a little bit more, and no one ever gets that much. But there is always an increasing satisfaction ahead for the man who aspires to godliness.

5. Fortunate are the tender hearted. Jesus was talking to a hard-boiled generation, in which savagery and cruelty were commonplace. The iron heel of Rome rested upon the neck of the whole world, and it was easy to assume that the future belonged to the mailed fist. Jesus, on the other hand, declared that the gentle, the merciful, and the tender hearted were fortunate, and that the hard-boiled were to be pilled. They get so little out of life. When the Kingdom of God is established the law of club and fang will be repealed.

6. Fortunate are the pure in heart. This doctrine is in strange contrast to the dogmas of the sophisticates who like to think they have tried everything, seen everything, experienced everything. There is an enthusiasm in chastity that sophistication knows nothing of. There is a power in purity which always proves superior to licence. There is a satisfaction in the disciplined life which the prodigal has never experienced.

7. Fortunate are the peace makers. If any generation in history ought to understand this word of Jesus, ours is that one. We have lost two world wars and are trembling on the brink of the third which will inevitably lose. All the world has lost them. There are no victors—only conquerors. How fortunate the peace makers are in comparison!

8. Fortunate are the persecuted. The sympathies of all decent men go out to the Korean people in this hour of high tragedy, but all will probably agree that their fate is more to be desired than that of their enemies. "Better to be lied about than to lie; better to be abused than to be the abuser." In the long run the liar has won the world by his sufferings as he could never have conquered it with his sword. There is something inside of evil which destroys it; there is something inside of virtue which preserves it.

South Koreans Drive Reds From White Horse Hill

By STAN CARTER

SEOUL (AP) — South Korean troops early today stormed through a hail of Red fire and drove Chinese forces from atop White Horse Hill, focal point of battle in the big Communist drive north of Seoul.

A front-line officer reported the weary South Koreans seized the summit at 12:30 a.m., with four quick stabs after hurling "foot by foot" up the slope, scarred and pitted by violent artillery barrages.

Allied and Communist tanks duelled in the valleys surrounding the hill as the conflict roared on with unabated fury.

A U.S. officer estimated the Reds had lost 9,000 killed and wounded in three days of fighting around White Horse. A division usually numbers about 10,000.

Head of Chicago Paper Endorses Adlai Stevenson

CHICAGO (AP) — Marshal Field said today he is in complete agreement with the aims of Governor Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate.

Field is president of Field Enterprises, Inc. The Chicago Sun-Times, a division of Field Enterprises, has endorsed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican nominee.

He set forth his views in a letter to his son, Marshall Field Jr., editor and publisher of the Sun-Times. The letter was printed in the "Opinion of the People" column of the newspaper.

The Sun-Times said the letter "does not alter or diminish this newspaper's advocacy of Eisenhower for president."

Over 100 Fete Young Couple With Many Gifts

GILEAD—Over 100 neighbors and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Huffman on Friday evening to honor the newly-weds, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Dairympig, of Stirling.

Mr. Walter Treverton acted as chairman for a delightful program.

The bride and groom were given an ovation of honor and Mr. Ralph Swan read the presentation address. Mr. Joe Bradden presented the couple with a brochiere floor lamp and a silver tea service from the community and Mrs. W. Treverton presented the couple with many fine gifts on behalf of the relatives.

Both thanked their many friends for the kindness shown them.

Refreshments were served followed by a social time.

Extra Tax Burden Now Only Worry For Casey Stengel

NEW YORK (AP) — All thoughts of retirement cast aside, Casey Stengel, who managed the New York Yankees to the fourth straight world championship, is ready to sign a new contract, reputedly for $100,000 per year.

This would make him far and away the highest paid manager in baseball, almost twice the salary reputedly paid Leo Durocher of the New York Giants. Among active ballplayers, only Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals is supposed to be in that class.

The only other manager to win four consecutive world series championships was Joe McCarthy, also of the Yankees.

Hugh Bradley, writing in the New York Journal-American, said Stengel "is sure to return as manager for a two-year period at $100,000 per season if he feels his income tax statement can stand this extra burden."

Turkeys in Good Supply, Cheaper For Thanksgiving Dinner This Year

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Thanksgiving dinner this year should be a little easier on the pocketbook. Roasting turkeys are in good supply and in most Canadian centres will cost considerably less than last year.

Prices of chickens, ducks and geese also are lower in many areas, a Canadian Press survey shows. The main reason seems to be larger supply of the birds.

Turkey is still the most popular dish for the big meal. Many families, however, are setting for the cheaper chicken, goose or duck and saving the big turkey feed for Christmas.

In Manitoba undressed turkeys this year are selling as low as 30 cents a pound, a 20-cent-a-pound drop from last year's prices. In British Columbia a drop of 17 cents a pound is reported, to 52 cents.

In Alberta the decrease is seven to 10 cents a pound: in Ontario five to seven cents and in Quebec 10 to 12 cents.

The Maritime provinces alone report prices well on a par with last year. Newfoundland authorities report drawn turkeys selling at a country-wide high of 60 cents and New Brunswick at 75 cents.

Prices of chickens, ducks and geese are down about 10 cents a pound in the west and central provinces but there is little change from last year's prices in the Maritimes.

In British Columbia, farmers have boosted production of turkeys in an attempt to make the birds a year-round consumer item. But officials report most consumers are sticking closely to the practice of buying only at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Only in Ontario is any shortage of turkeys in the popular 10-14-pound size expected. The birds in that province got a late start and officials say many buyers will probably have to be satisfied with smaller birds than they would like.

In Saskatchewan the reverse is the case. Consumers may have to accept larger birds than ordered. The quality of commercial feed has so speeded up growth that big birds may be the only ones available.

To date the most popular turkey is the broadbreasted bronze, with some white Holland also being sold. The supply of birds has increased considerably over a year ago.

In New Brunswick chicken is a more pop-lar Thanksgiving dish than turkey.

Iroquois Silences Shore Battery That Made Hit

OTTAWA (CP)—Just one enemy shell hit H.M.C.S. Iroquois last week in an action which resulted in three dead and three injured aboard the Canadian destroyer. The Iroquois silenced the shore battery which made the hit.

This was disclosed this week when the navy issued details of the first action in which a Canadian ship has been hit in the Korean war. The casualties were reported Oct. 3.

R.C.N. headquarters said in a statement:

"Last Thursday. . . the Iroquois and the U.S.S. Marsh, a destroyer escort, were bombarding a portion of a North Korean railway skirting the shoreline. . . .

"The Iroquois and the Marsh blasted the target for about an hour. Working parties were dispersed and the rail line was observed to be well saturated by shell fire. As the two ships broke off the bombardment and turned to seaward, shore batteries opened fire on the Iroquois and almost immediately a full salvo bracketed the ship.

"Although taking evasive action and making smoke, the ship was subsequently hit by one shell, Lt.-Cmdr. J.L. Quinn of Moose Jaw, Sask., and able seaman Elmore A. Bajkie of Hamilton were killed instantly. AB. Wallis M. Burden of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., was critically wounded and died a few hours later in the ship's sick bay."

Buried in Japan

The statement said the three dead were buried yesterday with full naval honors in the British Commonwealth cemetery at Yokohama, Japan.

Three other men were wounded by shrapnel and shell fragments and seven received minor cuts.

"As the two ships withdrew," the statement said, "the Iroquois' main armament poured a steady fire at the shore battery and silenced it."

Solandt Praises British Methods In Atomic Test

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — Dr. O.M. Solandt, chairman of Canada's Defence Research Board who witnessed last week's atomic weapon test on the Monte Bello islands, today praised British work in "getting so much information (from the explosion) so short a time."

He said the number of scientists present was only a fraction of the number at the United States Bikini tests. He was particularly impressed by the ingenious methods used by the Britons to measure the effects of last week's explosion.

Solandt said animals on and around Monte Bello were "surprisingly little harmed" by the test. Many birds and sharks were seen near the site of the explosion immediately after the test.

Solandt will fly to Canada Sunday to make an unofficial report on the test to the Canadian chiefs of staff.

"I sincerely hope," he said, "that the success of the test will bring about closer co-operation between Britain and the United States on these matters."

His job at Monte Bello was a civil defence survey to determine what effects the explosion would have had on humans in the area.

He said today observers had been close enough to the blast to require special safety precautions.

Russia Rapped For Ousting U.S. Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States rapped Russia last night for ousting Ambassador George F. Kennan and for "systematically" keeping foreign envoys in Moscow from making contact with the Russian people.

A new U.S. note said the imposition of restrictions on foreign diplomats "grossly violates the traditions and customs in international intercourse developed over generations."

It said nothing, however, about retaliation and authorities forecast that the Truman administration will leave it up to the new president to decide whether to expel Soviet Ambassador Georgie N. Zarubin or hit back in any other way.

The note replied to the Oct. 3 Soviet demand for the recall of Kennan on the ground that he voiced "slanderous attacks hostile to the Soviet Union." Kennan said in Berlin Sept. 19 that an American's life in Moscow is not much different from the experiences of U. S. diplomats interned in Germany after the attack on Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941.

The Soviet demand meant that Kennan, then in Geneva, could not return to the Moscow post he had filled less than five months.

The State Department told Moscow: "Ambassador Kennan's statement accurately and in moderate language described the position of foreign diplomats accredited to the Soviet government."

The latest Soviet restriction on western diplomats was an order preventing them in effect from travelling more than 25 miles from Moscow.

North Of Forty-Nine

By Harry Meldrum Moore

But there was more to the picnic than that. To their left, at the end of the lake, there was a town of toys for Fayette's sawmill. Hidden around the point, and across the river from that, is the village of Ste Petit, only the west end of which was showing. Following the high shores from the village westward, a long string of cottages—owned collectively by all sizes and shapes and colors, cars parked here and there among stumps, boats and canoes pulled up on the sand, children and dogs at play, even then. Behind the long row of cottages, a broad band of cedars is their native state, and beyond that, rolling farm land, buildings and fences and hay stacked, and brown and cattle grazing.

A red-shirted man came out of a blue roofed cottage, walked down to the shore, shoved his boat into the water, rowed a short distance, stepped from his seat to drop anchor, then let it down again, to toss out his line.

"Baxter, the man from Ohio, is about to get himself a chicken for breakfast," Colly McKee observed with a hint of envy in his tenders. Sandy smiled broadly. Her father had pronounced unique habit of saying 'Smith, the man from this,' 'Jones, the man from that,' 'Lafrance, the man from some other state.' He never seemingly thought of merely mentioning the family name of the individual but he must always give his geographical origin. "Pickerel — fish for breakfast," Colly was saying, "or something else. I'll get it. I suppose a man holed up in a city all his life needs a hobby. Fishing's such a thing at 'any time, anywhere, maybe even up to Heaven before breakfast or for the night." He stopped, and ran his eyes up and down the row of cottages. American cottages going up all the time—pretty soon they'll have to start a second row behind the first, and when they complete that row, what will they do next? Lafrance certainly struck pay dirt when he added that beach to his farm. Now it's all Yankee owned, every last foot of it, and pretty soon President Truman will be hearing about it, and the next thing we know he'll be asking Congress to take this part of Canada into the Union—the 49th State, I presume. Seems to me that you don't like our American neighbors very much, do you, dad?"

"No, I wouldn't say that, lass," he said, taking off his hat, straightening it, placing it on his head again. "After all I can't see that they're any better or any worse than we are. They're windier, of course, they are not serious braggarts, but then I suppose they have so much more than we have to brag about. Other than that we have much in common. We speak the same language, read the same books and magazines, grouse at the same radio programs. However, we'll get along, we always did, we always shall, now that we have no more questions or boundary to set us at loggerheads. But to stop them from walking all over us, we shall have to keep them in their place, even though they are our neighbors. You may recall that we never had any trouble in this sanctuary until they came, to shoot at our cows, run wild all over the place, banging at everything they saw or thought they saw, taking more trout than they ever could find use for, and then they jumped them, they gave me plenty of abuse, showed me their fishing licences a long said they'd fish anywhere they pleased."

He stopped and looked up at her, "It all adds up to this: I have built this sanctuary, put up signs and hire an able man to patrol it with regularity. And whether there's anything in dad's will that provides for such a contingency, I shall most certainly attend to it and just as soon as it can be arranged. But till not, where am I ever going to get a ranger, a ranger who could never be bought or bribed. Of course I expect more of him than that. He must be a clean and tidy person, one that we can get along with, for after all he'll have to make his home with us. Yes, where are we ever going to get such a man?"

"I'm afraid, Dad, I wouldn't know. You could advertise in the newspapers—doesn't cost a great deal—that's the way they do it outside." 'Outside' to Sandy McKee was that area of the world not a part of the Laurentian Mountains.

"We'll think it over, Sandy, we'll think it over." He sprang up suddenly. "But, say, while I've been talking my neighbors apart, are we forgetting what we brought up here this morning?"

"Oh, I hadn't forgotten, Dad," Sandy said, "We're after a certain cow, isn't that it?"

"Yes," he agreed, "a certain cow, the old hellion! And, where do you think we're going to look for her? We'll never locate her this time by her bell, she lost it when she hit that marshy Found the bell last night down on the flat between the lakes. But why didn't the old fool have her calf nearer home where we could find it, instead of coming up here where she could hide it, tell me that! Well, let's go. We'll follow the old trail, keep our eyes open and, if we've been living right, we may be lucky enough to locate her, don't you think?"

Colly led the way through deep dark brawlwoods and was about to step into a broad clearing when something caught his eye. He stopped suddenly with a low, "Just a second, Sandy," and Sandy came up alongside the better to see what he was looking at. And then, out of the alders across a creek in a little valley below, some sort of white animal in a few bounds dashed into the dense cedar swamp to the right.

"Now what was that, Dad?" Sandy asked excitedly.

"That," he answered, obviously baffled, "is something beyond my ken. I didn't see much of it and you? Not tall enough for a deer. A fawn, perhaps, if there's such a thing as a white fawn. White bear, maybe, or white fox, they are common in the Arctic, away up north, but what would ever bring one of them here? So you see, Sandy, your home time is up for you now."

"There's the cow, Dad!— over in the left — under that big spruce."

Colly shaded his eyes with his hand and looked. The cow was a brindle without a white mark on her.

"Yes," he agreed, "there's old Jezebel, in person. See if the calf is with her, Sandy. As for me, I'm all fired curious. I'm going up the creek to see what that strange white animal was doing there."

Sandy reached the cow, talked to her, petted her. She walked around her, searched with her eyes in all directions for the calf, but she could not see any signs of one. Possibly it had not arrived yet. She ran back down the animal's side and then she went over carefully. There was a long gash in the cow's left leg just above the knee, there was a long smear of dried blood from the wound to the hoof. Sandy was carefully examining the wound when she heard her father's voice.

"You don't have to look any farther for the calf, Sandy!" he shouted. "It's here and it's a mess. Been killed and partly eaten, I don't doubt but what that white animal we saw was the killer. Too gruesome a sight for you to better take my word for it."

"The cow's been attacked too," Sandy said as he joined her. Then he stooped and looked at the gash in the animal's leg. He saw too that the cow's udder was all bursting, the milk dripping from her teats.

"Well, that is nice!" Colly said, straightening up again, "but she'll get over it. That's only a cut, a little iodine will fix that up. But that calf! Well, that's one we have to raise all by hand before the summer months. And it's just as well, too, for I'm getting fed up with calves and—cows. They are too darn much bother, particularly during the winter months. And now that the price of cattle is so high."

He left her to milk the toes of his boot into the ground, then returned again.

"Y'know, Sandy," he said, looking at her, "Farmer Lafrance has asked me if I'll take $200 for that cow, and you know, three hundred dollars will buy a lot of milk and butter in Mermier's store in the village. So, what say if we sell her?"

"Of course, Dad; sell her, when you can get such a good price for her," Sandy said. "We can get along without her. And besides, why let her spoil the winter?"

"Then that settles that," Colly said in a tone of relief, "I'll tell Lafrance to come and get her." Then stepping up to the cow, he gave her a resounding slap on the rump. "Get going!" he shouted.

They stood and watched Jezebel crash through the alders, heard her splash across the creek, saw her come out into the clearing on the other side and head for the old trail that would lead her home.

"Now that she's lost her calf," he said, "she'll lose no time getting down to the stable. Even a cow must be mighty uncomfortable carrying around such a load of milk as she has."

They had recrossed the creek now to follow her, were pushing through the alders into the clearing when Colly stopped abruptly.

"Now," he said, pointing up the hill to the left, "what's going on up there?" Sandy stood beside him and looked. Something was indeed swaying the tall saplings. Presently the young trees separated and then, a bareheaded man in light colored shirt and pants staggered into the clearing, stopped, and, swayed drunkenly on heavy legs.

"That guy's lost!" Colly observed. "It looks as if he's been in the bush for some time. Weak and helpless from starvation, no doubt, and badly fly-bitten—" He stopped for a moment. "Listen Sandy, in such a condition as he is, yet subconsciously he knows that he's got to call on hidden strength when he sees us and try to get away. You know that's the truth as anyone who has had anything to do with a lost man will verify. Here's what—give me a few minutes to get up there behind him and when I'm ready I'll whistle, you walk towards him. Don't be afraid, he can't hurt you. OK?"

"I'm not afraid, Dad." Sandy said bravely, aware that her training as a nurse would stand her in good stead, since this stranger appeared to be in such a bad way, would require careful attention to get him back on his feet again. And—and besides she dearly loved nursing.

It seemed no time until she caught the man's signal, and slowly picking up her steps she went up the hill and forward to the man. Step by step she closed the gap between them. The stranger was still swaying, with eyes on the ground. She was within a few feet of him when he raised his head. He stiffened suddenly, looked at her with staring eyes, turned quickly. But he turned into strong arms that left him little room. There was a brief struggle, a long terrible sigh, and Colly McKee carefully lowered him to the ground.

And stripping her gloves Sandy was on her knees beside him, gently lifting about his head, feeling his forehead, taking the beat of his pulse.

The man on the ground was in his twenties, brown-eyed, unshaven, matted, brown wavy hair, hair and scalp matted with blood, eyes and lips and ears much swollen. His light shirt and pants, what was left of them hung in shreds about his body. There were countless scratches on his chest, neck, shoulders and the backs of his hands. The only clothing he had that had withstood the ravages of the bush was his boots, sturdy, heavy, hob boots.

"He's completely spent," Colly observed, looking down, "but he's young, and I don't think any bones are broken. Though he had been war hardened, he had seen men more messed up than this one.

"His heart is pounding, and he has a little fever. Sandy dear—"

"And Doc Belaire may not be in the village today."

"We may not need a doctor, Dad," Sandy said, getting up and brushing her knees, "if we can pull him round all right."

"I'm pleased to hear, Sandy, you should know," Colly said proudly, "after all you're a nurse, and a good one, I'm sure they say."

"We'll take him home, put him to bed in the spare room," Sandy said. "I'll ask you to bathe him, then I'll treat those fly bites, those abrasions. After that, a spoon-feed him on soups and fruit juices until he's strong enough to eat—" she broke off.

"Have we any liquor in house, Dad? We don't need much."

"If Scotch whiskey is liquor, then we have some," he chuckled. "Not much, but some. I've been saving it—saving it for a wedding."

"Did you say wedding, Dad? I hadn't heard—"

"It's a little early yet to hear much about it," he said archly, "But some day your Sir Galahad will come riding in from the north or south or—"

"Need any help to get him down the hill?" Sandy changed the subject quickly.

"No, Sandy, I'll manage. I'll just pick him up like this, toss him over my left shoulder like this—" he suited action to word as he lifted the stranger from the ground and concluded by draping him over his shoulder, limp arms dangling. "No weight at all," he asserted.

"Now, run along lass, I'll be with you after a while. But I mean to take my time. A few minutes or less shouldn't make much difference with him now — the lucky stiff!"

Sandy was crossing the flat and nearing the cottage when Colly McKee brought his burden to the plateau. The cow was standing in the rear of the stable. Colly took off his hat, folded it into a pillow, lowered the young man to the ground, stripped the hat under his head. Then he stood and looked back in the direction he had come. A white spot high up on the side of Big Moss, the highest mountain peak in the whole district and within the borders of the sanctuary caught his eye. He shaded his eyes the better to make it out, but the hot-mile was too great for him now. Finally the white spot moved, moved around to the left side of the mountain, then disappeared.

"Well," Colly said aloud, scratching his head, "this old sanctuary has seen some strange things in its day but apparently something new has been added—a white animal, other than a wolf or bear, which will kill a man's calf, injure the cow; a strange youngster who loses himself and his subsequent wanderings finds his way to a sanctuary, of all places, and a trained nurse who will have nothing undone to make him well again."

For some minutes Colly McKee stood in deep puzzlement, and he was to be puzzled for some time. For how was he to know that there was any connection between the two new arrivals in the sanctuary—the helpless young man, the stranger, and the animal, the white animal, that he had not been able to identify.

And even looking ahead, how was Colly McKee to ever dream that within two years that helpless young man, with his mysterious animal in their own way would do much to put a new sanctuary, in fact all of that particular part of the Laurentians on the map of the continent as a winter playground, that their exploits, their environment, would be used by a travel bureau to provide a film for public showing abroad.

And still further how, then, was Colly McKee to see a future that when Harry S. Truman, president of the United States, ordered American troops into such a far-off place as Korea in June '50 that there was a matter that was to greatly concern this young man and Sandy and himself, even here in the Laurentian Mountains in Western Quebec.

The cottage to which the lost man was carried that June morning and put to bed in the spare room was a one-and-a-half storey bungalow trimmed with logs. Built in the days before there was a sign of a cottage on the lake shore opposite, and there was also nothing more than a group of crude log buildings in which the men working in the new saw mill lived with their families. It was then with vines, Virginia creeper, wisteria, clematis. There were blue shutters on the windows, neat porches over the front and back doors. When built and for years afterwards, It's occupants' nearest neighbors were the Lafrance families on their farm south of the lake. Indeed, it was in that isolation that was not hard to bear since Colly McKee and his wife Flora had been alone in common.

But even though everything about the place was always meticulously clean and tidy, the buildings kept in a high state of repair, you would have to go indoors for a true valuation of this cottage as a home. Americans who came to the lake to build cottages, to call on Colly McKee to ask permission to hunt or to fish in the sanctuary, always to be politely refused, or who came just through curiosity, or to seek information, were never invited to depart without stepping inside, perhaps for a friendly chat, perhaps for a welcome cup of tea with Sandy. They would go away wondering what in the world ever possessed a man to sink so much money in a house like this in such a wild, out-of-the way part of the country.

A large living room ran across the southern part of the building facing the lake. In that room lighted by a large drape bordered window, could be seen expensive furniture, deep rugs, rich carpets, large fireplace, piano, radio, large oil paintings on the walls. A hall ran north dividing a dining room model kitchen on the east side from three bedrooms and a bath on the other. The entire lage was lighted by electricity from a gasoline driven plant in the cement room at the rear and a spring water in the kitchen — water that came from the sands many feet below, in the basement. In addition to the lighting plant, was a large wood furnace, a home-made self-draining refrigerator for milk and butter and meats, a cistern to hold water for the wash, to feed the tank that provided water for the bath. In the rear of the building was the septic tank. Carefull winterized, Colly McKee,s home was comfortably warm in the coldest weather, comfortably cool during the hottest days of summer.

Escalator Clauses in Labor Contracts Will be Affected By New Consumer Price Index

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Cost-of-living escalator clauses in labor contracts covering thousands of Canadian workers will be affected by the new Consumer Price Index, but unions and firms are confident changes will be negotiated without strife or costly arbitration.

Escalator clauses provide for pay boosts or cuts in accordance with the rise or fall in living costs, expressed in terms of the cost-of-living index, now due to be replaced by the new price index.

The key to optimism lies in the fact that the escalator clauses were worked out on the basis of previous changes in the index, based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100. For example, some contracts call for a cent-an-hour wage boost for every 1.3-point rise in the index.

Based On 1949

However, the new index will be based on 1949 prices equalling 100. Roughly, a three-point rise in the old index would be expressed in only a two-point increase in the new. This would have the effect of reducing payments to workers under the old escalator clause if living costs should rise again.

To prevent that from happening, union men say they plan to approach management either:

1. To re-negotiate the escalator clauses on the basis of the new index, or

2. To agree to a conversion formula to equalize rises and falls in both indexes through a simple process of arithmetic.

Most popular view is that the conversion factor will be accepted until current labor agreements run out and new ones are negotiated.

The conversion factor will be roughly about 1.4—that is, any point change in the new index will be multiplied by 1.4 to bring it to where it would have been under the old prices barometer.

Sticks An Average

The factor is reached by estimating the average of the old index during 1948—roughly about 160.0—which would be equal to the new index base of 100.

For example, a two-point increase under the new index, multiplied by the conversion factor of 1.4, would bring the increase to 2.3, which, roughly, it would have been under the old index.

The first edition of the new index is likely to be published by the Bureau of Statistics before the end of the month. But the bureau also plans to continue to publish the old index, along with the new, for several months, before discarding the old prices tape measure altogether.

This, said labor officials, will give unions and management a chance to get together and discuss methods of modernizing the escalator clauses.

Though the exact number of work agreements with escalator clauses is unknown, the Labor Department says they are embodied in a big portion of all work contracts signed.

Captain Says Reports Just 'Propaganda'

By KINGSLEY BROWN JR.
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

HALIFAX (CP) —The captain of the Canadian cruiser Quebec today said Russian reports of misbehavior by his crew in the Norwegian port of Narvik were "a neat bit of propaganda."

Capt. Patrick D. Budge of Halifax and Toronto added however, the reports did have "an element of truth, all except the one saying that our seamen had insulted and accosted women."

The Quebec and aircraft carrier Magnificent docked here today. The Magnificent, commanded by Capt. K. L. Dyer of Toronto, R.C.N., and an escort group June 2, sailed 27,000 miles and participated in exercise Mainbrace, Castinets and Emigrant.

Soviet news agency quoted the misbehavior charges from Russian papers several weeks ago.

"Our shore patrols and civil authorities in Narvik, a town of 12,000 population, had received no reports that women had been insulted," Captain Budge said.

"Russian radio and press reports charged wholesale looting of hotels. The answer to that is that some hotels had the odd, attractive ashtray and some of the boys quite likely picked them up as souvenirs."

U.C. Group Criticizes Govt. Tourist Booklet

OSHAWA (CP) — A United Church group yesterday criticized the Ontario government for telling tourists beer and liquor are available in the province.

At the Oshawa presbytery meeting, a presbytery committee on evangelism and social service passed the resolution about the Ontario government's booklet "Fun in Ontario," intended to attract tourists.

Referred to a committee for further study was a recommendation that the CBC be asked to make sure no drinking scenes appear in its television programs.

The presbytery passed a resolution opposing any move for commercialized Sunday sports in Oshawa.

An official survey during 1951 showed that of 1,140 collective agreements signed during the first eight months, 220 — or approximately one-fifth—included an escalator plan.

The plan covered 163,000 workers or more than 40 per cent of the total 347,000 workers covered by all agreements examined.

High River Lads Canada's Finest Air Cadet Unit

OTTAWA (CP)—No. 187 Air Cadet Squadron of High River, Alta., has been judged the finest Air Cadet unit in Canada.

In a joint announcement, the Air Cadet League and the R.C.A.F. Association today named No. 187 the first winner of the R.C.A.F. Association Trophy—an association designed silver trophy depicting the spirit of modern flight. The award will be presented annually to the most proficient Air Cadet squadron in Canada.

All phases of squadron operations are taken into account in deciding the winner, including quality of cadet training, average attendance on parades, effectiveness of civilian sponsoring committees and other factors. Squadron rates are made by visiting officers of the R.C.A.F. at annual inspections each spring.

The announcement placed No. 187 in the top spot with a score of 2,449¼ points of a possible 2,500. In second place is No. 22 Powell River, B.C., Squadron, with 2,426 points.

Air Vice-Marshal A.L. Morfee, president of the R.C.A.F. Association, will present the trophy to officials of the High River Squadron in Calgary Oct. 17.

$50,000 Missing From Airliner Out of Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An investigation was under way today to determine how $50,000 disappeared from an airliner as it flew from Miami to Lima, Peru.

Puzzled officials of Pan American-Grace Airways said the money might have been stolen in flight or while the four-engined DC-4 stopped briefly at Panama and Guayaquil en route.

W.F. Lewis, assistant treasurer of Panagra, who came here from New York to head the investigation, said there was also a possibility the cash might have been "misdirected."

The loss was discovered Sunday when the airliner landed at Lima. The Panagra New York office said a bag containing the money was found ripped open.

The last big loss of treasure in air transit occurred in Canada last month. Gold weighing nearly half a ton was stolen at Toronto's Malton airport Sept. 24. It was legally worth about $215,000 but would have brought more than $300,000 on the United States market.

WANTS MILKING MATCH

HAMILTON (CP)—Mayor Lloyd Jackson yesterday suggested a new competition for mayors—a cow milking match. Mr. Jackson, who owns a farm at nearby Waterdown, said he wouldn't guarantee his entry in a mayor's plowing match next year, but he would challenge Mayor Charlotte Whitton of Ottawa to a milking match any time.

Algoma Central Railway Becomes First to Use Diesels Exclusively

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) —The Algoma Central Railway has become Canada's first to use diesel locomotives exclusively.

In announcing the changeover, Traffic Manager C.F. Mader termed it the "end of an era."

The line's total tractage is 227 miles, running between the Sault on the south to Hearst on the north, with a spur-line to Michipicoten on Lake Superior.

Nine of the 39 A.C.R. steam locomotives are here in little-used sidings where the grass has already begun to grow. They are the last of the line's "steamers," replaced by more active service in Diesels.

"The steam locomotive has character," says Jim Gordon, the line's senior engineer who joined the railway in 1905. "A steamer coming through the Agawa Canyon in 40-below-zero weather was a sight a man never forgot."

Diesels Better

The 1951 diesels are 1,000 per cent better, there is no arguing around that fact."

Twenty-four diesel road switchers now are doing the work of the 39 steam locomotives better and cheaper, Mr. Mader said.

The line pioneered in two major railroad developments. It designed and built its own steam cars for hauling passenger trains in winter. All its freights are equipped with two-way radio to enable locomotive crews to communicate with "caboose and with other trains.

Founded in 1900, the A.C.R. last year did a gross business of more than $10,000,000. Pulpwood moved down the line to the Sault in hundreds of thousands of cords, and mined from the Algoma Steel Corporation plant went north by the trainload for trans-shipment over trans-continental lines.

A million tons of iron ore is hauled by the railway yearly from the Helen Mine at Jamestown to Michipicoten Harbor, where it is loaded into ships for the Sault or U.S. points. Coal for Central Ontario Ontario goes north from the harbor, as does sulphur for paper mills at Espanola, Smooth Rock Falls and Hearst.

Detective Says Boyd 'Safe Man With a Gun'

TORONTO (CP) —A Toronto detective testified yesterday that Edwin Alonzo Boyd was a "safe man with a gun" and that he had more regard for the lives of persons he robbed than for his own.

The testimony came a few minutes before Boyd's trial was adjourned until Oct. 15 and during an eventful day which saw the 37-year-old robber, ill and grey-faced plead guilty to five charges of bank robbery.

His admissions also included three charges of attempted bank robbery, car theft and to his bride of Panama City, Doris, his second in less than a year.

He has been fired on many times but only once did he return the fire and then over the heads of police.

Payne told of Boyd's capture in a Toronto apartment last March when "he had great opportunities to fire on me . . . and never did."

Payne said Boyd's bank robbery pattern was "very thorough."

Tobacco Growers Urge Barter Plan With Britain

ST. THOMAS (CP)—District tobacco growers are urging the government to arrange a barter plan changed for British goods needed in Canada.

The 1952 crop of flue-cured tobacco is estimated at about 110,000,000 pounds, more than the domestic requirement.

Arthur Robson, former vice-chairman of the Ontario Tobacco Marketing board, said yesterday he has been advocating such a scheme for some time, fearing a heavy surplus this year unless the export market is greatly increased.

Trophy Offered By U.S. Citizen In Gratitude

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—A $2,000 trophy was presented today by a United States citizen to the Canadian Tourist Association in convention here.

Called the Julian Crandall Conservation Trophy, it was presented by Julian Crandall of Ashaway, R.I. It will be given yearly to the Canadian who, in the opinion of the C.T.A., contributes most to the "preservation of the nation's renewable resources of forest, field and stream."

Outdoor writers on Canadian newspapers and magazines will be asked to nominate candidates for the honor.

The trophy will be awarded for the first time in 1953. In presenting it to the C.T.A., Mr. Crandall said it was a form of saying "thank you" for pleasures he has had in hunting and fishing in Canada.

Thinks Mediterranean Nudist Colony Good for Soul But Hard on Feet

By PRESTON GROVER

ISLE OF LEVANT, France (AP) —Life in this Mediterranean nudist colony is fine for the soul and hard on the feet.

The island lies 18 miles off France opposite the summer vacation spot of Le Lavandou. I took a boat ride over.

As the boat comes in to the small dock, the nudists come running out from among the trees and rocks and help the passengers ashore.

The men are more nude than the women. The children are nudest of all—right spanking nude. The men wear a covering about the size of a folded pocket handkerchief, say five or six inches square.

Some women wear halters, but most don't. Elsewhere they wear about the smallest bathing suit you ever saw.

The law requires that the minimum one piece of cloth be worn. We were told that a good many are not very particular about that when they get back into the "interior."

The island is six miles long and two wide, containing nearly four square miles of trees, barren rocks and brush. Mainly the island seems to be rocks, gravel and dry paths under the trees.

Many live in tents although there are four small hotels. People come from England, Germany, Holland, France, Sapin, Italy and both North and South America. At a grocery store the nude little Marketing board, said yesterday he has been advocating such a scheme bread and sacks of food, cuddling them in their arms as they mince along on sandled feet along the gravel paths to their tents.

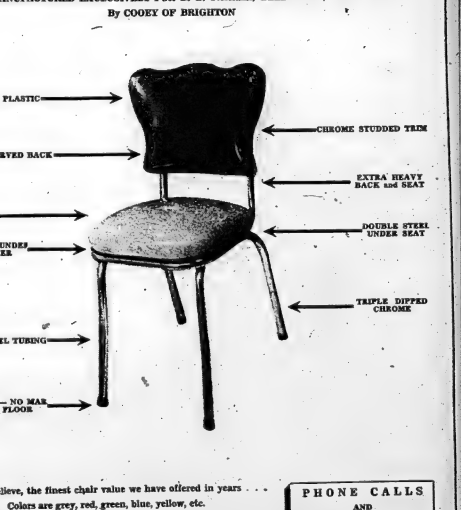
Rejected Suitor Shoots at Girl Through Window

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP) — A rejected suitor fired a five-shot fusillade through a dining room window at his estranged wife's 19-year-old sister Saturday as she sat eating dinner with her family.

One of the revolver bullets hit Miss Spaulding in the shoulder and ranged into her neck. She was in fair condition at a hospital. Four others at the table were not injured.

Police arrested William Pflugfelder, 29, on a charge of assault.

Murder, Arson Case Probed in New York



NEW YORK (AP) — The burned body of a man identified as Sanford, Tilles, about 35, a television scenery artist, was found tied hand and foot with wire under a burning studio couch in a Manhattan apartment early today.

Firemen answering an alarm found the bedroom and living room of the first floor apartment in flames.

Police Capt. Henry Wade described the case as "arson and murder."

FRANKFORD

FRANKFORD — The regular monthly meeting of the W. M. S. of Frankford Full Gospel Tabernacle was held on Thursday evening, October 2 at the home of Mrs. Fred Wannamaker. Devotional: Mrs. Fred Miller opened the meeting. Mrs. Reg. Solmes brought a message from Isaiah, on the "Fruits of the Lord, and Isaiah's Commission."

Mrs. Miller read an article from the testimony on Miss Annie Sprague's farewell. Articles were handed in, and work given out. Mrs. Harold Gaga closed the meeting. Refreshments were then taken adults. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Reg. Solmes.

3M Club

The 3M Club of Frankford United Church held its regular monthly meeting in the church hall, Monday evening. President Claude Moran opened the meeting and welcomed the guests after the evening who were to speak on the "National Young People's Convention." Also the neighboring Young People's Group from Stockdale. The group was asked about going to Wesley on October 16 on an installation from that group and it is believed that about 30 will be going.

The meeting was then turned over to Ruth Beach for the devotional period. She opened with the 95th Psalm, a psalm of praise and thanksgiving and read an article on "What We Have to Be Thankful For" following which all joined in the church prayer on Thanksgiving. Psalm 107 was read. Everyone present asked which the church trio, Carol Mercer, Evelyn Martin and Marilyn Spooner favored with two beautiful numbers, "I Love Him" and "How I Belong to Jesus."

Guest Speakers

Rev. MacEachern was called on to introduce the guest speakers for the evening. Mr. Sprague was Miss Dorothy Lane and Miss Phyllis Parker, who were the Bay of Quinte representatives to National Young People's Convention in Winnipeg last summer.

They conveyed their information to the group by means of a panel discussion. One fact of importance which they discussed, was the rapid decline of Y. P. U. membership in the past three years. It seemed to be felt at National Convention that the change in beginning to come now, and that membership from now on should be on the increase. The object of the Young People's Union is to have 50 per cent more members by the fall of 1953.

Young People's Work

The speakers gave extracts from many of the theme addresses, emphasizing the continuance part that young people must take in church affairs. They also stressed the importance of leadership training. Many other aspects were dealt with in turn, and it is felt that all who attended took away something worth while from the meeting.

Gene Lobnes thanked them on behalf of the 3M Club and a hearty round of applause emphasized the appreciation of the listeners for a fine message.

Evelyn Martin and Gene Lobnes then led the group in a sing-song, while refreshments were being prepared.

Bountiful refreshments completed a most enjoyable evening. The 3M Club is grateful to the Canadian Donut Company of Trenton who generously donated several dozen donuts for the meeting.

Little Benny's Note Book

Mrs. Hewn called ma up to ask her if she and pop would go over there and play bridge tonite, and ma told her she would try to go if she could, but she didn't think he would on account of one of his principals being never to play bridge more than once a week if he can help it, and she also till pop was lighting a cigar to smoke with his coffee after she started the subject, saying, Maud Hewn called up about a little bridge tonite, but I poo poo'd the idea. I told her you have certain men played cards one week and certain men have certain limitations, ma said.

Yes, that human nature for you, we can take just so much of some particular thing, and then we crack, pop said, and ma said, Oh well, don't get badly about it. Some men dont have very good recuperative powers when it comes to certain capabilities. It's not their fault, she said.

That's a fact, pop said. Some men can only smoke one cigar after dinner, but I can get 3 and still keep a clear eye and a clickety brain. Some men grow faint at the very thought of more than one lump of sugar in their coffee, but I can take 4 without a change of expression. Oh well, ma said, Well one of your specialities is a fine cigar stroke a smile long and a yard wide. If you were diving to play bridge you wouldn't give in, just for sheer contrariness, she said.

Making pop laff so hard it made him feel wonderful, and he proved it by going to the Hewses with ma.

Being the happy end.

Govt. Compiling List of Payroll Employees

OTTAWA (CP) — The government is trying to find out how many persons it has on its payroll, it was learned today.

A new system being worked out by the public finance and transportation division of the Bureau of Statistics, in co-operation with the treasury board, will include "regular" employees, Crown companies and various government agencies and boards which do not fall under normal departmental organization.

The bureau earlier this week placed the number of regular civil servants at 121,646. This figure, however, did not include casual or part-time employees or Crown companies.

It is expected the new figures will be compiled by the end of this year and the first reports will cover the early months of the 1953-54 fiscal year. They will not include the government-administered Canadian National Railways, Trans Canada Air Lines, the Prince Edward Island car ferry or the Hudson Bay Railway. However, they will include such organizations as the CBC, the Bank of Canada, the Harbors board, the Polymer Corporation, and many others.

Old works are being reconstructed and the dyke built in the Maritimes to protect 80,000 acres of Canada's most productive lands. Abolitions, as shown, will once more hold back tidal waters at many points in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. NIAGARA TUNNELS MEET...

His Honour
The Honourable L. O. BREITHAUPT, LL.D.
Lieutenant Governor of Ontario
Officially Joins the Two Tunnels

From the draftsmen's sketches to the breakthrough today, each step in the great Niagara Development has been planned and directed by men who knew what should be done . . . how it should be done and why.

The planners, engineers and construction crews . . . the men at the pitheads, and below, tunneling through the rock, in all an army of almost 5,000 men . . . each knows where his immediate job fits into the larger plan. A plan that will once again harness the mighty Niagara to serve the people of Ontario . . . the largest power project in Hydro history, Sir Adam Beck-Niagara Generating Station No. 2.

The breakthrough from Shaft No. 4 to Shaft No. 3 is a major step towards the completion of this plan.

The 14th new power source in Hydro's current expansion program, this development incorporates two of the largest tunnels of their type in the world. They will divert one tenth of the flow of the Niagara River from a point near Chippawa, hundreds of feet beneath the city of Niagara Falls to emerge 5½ miles distant at the open-cut canal that will carry the water 2½ miles to the powerhouse at the foot of the Queenston escarpment, adjacent to its great sister development, Sir Adam Beck-Niagara Generating Station No. 1.

The first 5 units of this new station, scheduled for operation in 1954 have an installed capacity of 525,000 kilowatts (700,000 horsepower). The final 12 unit capacity, 900,000 kilowatts (1,200,000 horsepower) will be completed early in 1957.

ALFIE TAKES OVER

With the strong possibility of two defencemen, a forward and a goalie being added from the Ottawa Senators camp, Coach Alfie Moore of the Intelligencer "B" squad should be able to whip a strong contender for the group honours into shape come opening time.

Alfie, a wandering nomad of the professional hockey trails in his younger days looked over his new charges at the practice grind in Memorial Arena last night. He doesn't know as yet what material he will have to work with as most of last year's veterans with a few strange faces were on hand to greet the new coach at 6.30.

Moore has had a colorful career in professional hockey circles and was probably one of the most-travelled men in the mental ranks in his heyday. He is associated with the Pittsburgh Hornets Creamery in a sales capacity in this district, and while not able to spend all of the time necessary with the squad will devote every spare minute available.

He first saw the light of day in Toronto and played his first organized hockey with the Aura Lee Juniors. He jumped from junior ranks of the London team of the senior "Big Six" and in the season of 28-29 joined the Chicago Cardinals the first team to bring hockey to the Windy City. From Chicago Alfie jumped to Kitchener where he played hockey under Teddy Oakes.

From there he hopped to Cleveland of the then International League and played for Hap Emms. Here his new(r) Cornish ilke eye of the New York Rangers caught the wig sent to the Springfield Indians with whom he stayed until the 1931-32 season. Then came a series of hops back to Cleveland to the New Haven Eagles to Indianapolis and Windsor. All this hedge-hopping was due to the fact Alfie was the spare goalie for the International League.

After the New York Americans goalie Roy Worters was injured Alfie stepped into the breach and performed for the blue-shirted lovers for some time. He highlight of his National Hockey League career came in 1933 when he took over the helm from Mike "Kaiska, Chicago Black Hawks star goalie who suffered a broken toe during the Stanley Cup series, and helped the Hawks win the silverware.

His last year in professional hockey was 1942 when he performed for the Buffalo team.

JUNIORS HERE

Four reinforcements for the Junior "B" Black Hawks are expected to arrive today from the Galt junior training crowds, Manager Bill Cook announced late last night.

They are Tony Pertini, tall rangy centre ice man from Galt, and a lad named Sisson, defencemen and Joe Howes a leftwinger.

Cook who with Coach "Red" Doran "hocked the boys over" in Galt is quite keen on this last Pertini. He's tall, tricky, a great stickhandler and although not a speed wizard appears to be an ideal centre man.

Delbasto is also here from Galt, and one of the quintet will be returned before the schedule opens. The new youngsters will be seen in action tonight at the regular Friday practice which starts at six-thirty.

Incidently Manager Cook is in the market for good boarding houses for these youngsters, three of whom will be going to school. Anybody having such accommodation —is requested to get in touch with him.

MINOR SOCCER

Les Digby's soccer youngsters going into action at various fields tomorrow. In the peewee loop the Villa meets Celtic at Queen Victoria at 9.30 with Argyle tangling with Albion at the Cricket Field at the same time. In the Bantam "A" division, North End and Hotspurs clash at Prince Charles School at 9.30 with City playing Arsenal on the same field an hour later. In the Bantam "B" section, Wanderers meet United at Queen Victoria field at 10.30 with Rangers and Rovers playing at the Cricket Field at the same time.

AWAY TO THE "BAY"

By the time this is being perused, we should be well on the way to Perth Ray where the Glen Ray juniors clash with the Algonquins of that city for the OASA junior "A" all-Ontario championship. The team left this afternoon shortly after one o'clock for the borderland and will meet the Als tomorrow afternoon in the first of the best-of-three series starting at 2 o'clock. Whether the second game will be played at four or at eight is at the moment undecided, in any event the third tilt if necessary will be played on Sunday. We don't know what the weather is like up in Bob Wilson's town but just in case we're lugging along the red flannels, a parka or two, and if we can pick up an old bucket we'll fashion a "brazier" like the kind we used to roast spuds with over a fire of hardtack on the road to Vimy Ridge" scenic of Vimyerridge.

The team left by automobile so at least they will be spared the tiring ride that one gets in a bus on long weary hikes like the one to Windsor.

Cal Gardner, Leafs Cast-off Scores Two in Hawk Debut; Injuries Weaken Ranger Team

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Norrises are in the lead in the National Hockey League, and the saddest guy around the circuit is New York Ranger coach Bill Cook. His 45th birthday anniversary, which coincided with the opening of the 1952-53 schedule, is spoiled into the bargain.

Before a crowd of 11,639 at the Detroit Olympia, the Red Wings, covered by Jim Norris Sr., uncrowned champs, walked over the Rangers 5-3 last night and at Montreal, the Jim Norris Jr., Chicago Black Hawks astounded 14,186 Montreal faithful with a 3-2 decision over their beloved Canadiens.

So how it's one up and 60 games to go for the Red Wings who are seeking their fourth straight N.H.L. title. For the Hawks it is a good start to their campaign to climb out of the cellar with newly-appointed coach Sid Abel at the throttle.

Abel, who spent all his big league playing days with the Detroit Red Wings, 1938 to 1952—when he took over the coaching job midway through last season, couldn't expect too much of a celebration with Gordie Howe, his goal-scoring sensation, with an injury and Lorne Worsley, one of two goalies in the West ern Hockey League, was flown in as a replacement.

Injury-Ridden Rangers

In addition to Howe without Bones Raleigh, first-string centre ice—out with an infected finger and Harry Lumley Edge Lu. ic. Red Wings, with the big end of Gor-ie Howe and Ted Lindsay flanking Reggie Sc.lair, streaked to a 3-0 first p. iod lead before the Rangers' day plans were shattered right there.

Scout Ir. obtained from Rangers in a off-se son trade, was given an assist with defenceman Red Kelly on Lindsay's goal just 2:07 after the opening whistle. Alex Delvecchio notched the second at 7:34 and Howe, with Marty Pavelich getting an assist, made it 3-0 at 15:18.

Rangers tried hard, but could manage only one goal in the second period, by Jack Stoddard.

The clubs split four third-period goals by Pavelich and Glen Wilson for Detroit and Wally Hergesheimer and Paul Ronty for Rangers.

It was a real shindig at Montreal with 14 penalties being handed out, 10 in the second period. And it remained for a Toronto Maple Leaf castoff, Cal Gardner, to come up with the winning counter.

Gard , traded to the Hawks in a four-for-one r.f-season swap for goalkeeper Harry Lumley, scored twice. His first was potted in the second period after a scoreless first frame and his big one came with less than eight minutes remaining and the score deadlocked at 2-2.

Big Weekend Ahead

Floyd Curry matched Gardner's first goal at 15:26 in the middle session and big Butch Bouchard sent Canadiens ahead at 2:32 of the third on a pass from Dick Gamble. It appeared to be a 2-2 finish with the red-headed refugee from the 7 ats sank his second past Gerry McNeil.

The league returns up at the week-end with five games on tap. Sat rday night it's Detroit at Montreal and Chicago at Toronto and Sunday Canadiens travel to Detroit, Toronto meets the Wings at Detroit and Rangers go to Chicago.

SKATING TONIGHT at THE ARENA

Albert Seniors Nip Campbellford By 33-6 Score

Campbellford H.S. were no match for the strong Albert College squad in the first league game played in Campbellford, the final score being 33-6 for the visitors.

Albert had altogether too much weight and experience for the hometown crew. Faulkner, Harris, Slack, Bill, Scott, and Burk of the Albert teamsters constantly dug on the offensive, the first three each gathering in two T.D.'s each. Ron Rose, Campbellford's Ontario Interscholastic 100 and 220 champion, did a good job in the halfback position for his team, but was too closely watched to get away for any big gains. Campbellford's long touchdown came in the second quarter, when on a forward pass play, a long pass was gathered in behind the Albert defence by Shortly after the 2nd quarter got underway, Rose intercepted a Campbellford pass which resulted in their touchdown which was not successfully converted. Campbellford then threw passes on almost every down each time out of a fullback spot. Members of Albert intercepted one and went 90 yards for Albert's second touchdown, which Slack converted. The half ended with Albert leading 13 to 6.

Reserve strength helped Albert go all out in the second half. Gilchrist, Springer, Biggs, Austin, Hummell and Brown all helped advance the ball, but again offside penalties were costly. Toward the end of the quarter Albert went for a third T.D. when Faulkner carrying the ball on a three point extension from a punt formation went over the line from forty yards out, this was converted by Slack. Campbellford had much of the play, and on a fumble by Lavelle, got down to the Albert-five yard line, but on a next play fumbled themselves away going across for a touchdown, Burk falling on the ball for a single point.

Albert's weight told on the Campbellford line, and in the last play playing quarter, sneaked across the line for two touchdowns in rapid succession, and Harris added the sixth of the game on a line plunge.

Speaker Balmer Albert end suffered a compound fracture of his right ankle on a forward pass play when he slipped when tackled. Campbellford had one man sustain a badly wrenched knee, and another suffer a bad concussion. Speaker of Campbellford attended the injured players on the field.

Roy Campanella May be First Colored Coach

BROOKLYN — (AP) — Roy Campanella, Brooklyn's popular catching star, may become the first Negro coach in major league baseball when his playing days are over.

Walter F. O'Malley, owner of the Dodgers, disclosed today he and the club's All-Star receiver have discussed the idea at some length and that he favors employing Campanella as a Dodger coach "in a few years."

O'Malley said:

"I believe the coloy angle is a thing of the past in baseball. Roy and Jackie Robinson and the rest have taken care of that . . ."

O'Malley said he believes the 31-year-old Campanella can continue as a top-ranking star for five more years provided he takes care of himself. He regards Roy as the best catcher and one of the greatest clutch hitters in baseball.

"COOL" CONTROL

PUNTING THE FOOTBALL

1 Feet pointing straight ahead, kicker brings right leg back behind your centre. Keep left leg bent, left foot pointing straight ahead, body well forward, head down, hand covering rear of ball, fingers pointed down. Ball is held firmly, point slightly down but front edge of ball slightly higher than back edge.

2 Timing and control are essential. Ball should be dropped so that it will meet the instep of foot, not the toe. Kicker must keep his head down and his left foot should point in direction of kick. Kicking leg should swing from the hip, knee slightly bent, and foot of ball slightly to left.

3 Toe turns slightly inward and ball is struck with instep of foot. Leg must be properly controlled with knee bent. Ankle should be locked, "follow-through" kicking technique. Arms swing back with kicking leg, allowing body to move completely off ground. Always keep your eye on the ball until kick is away.

Yes, it's control that counts, in football as in every sport that is control which brings the extra-effort quality that sets one performance above the other. In the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and concentrate, lies the answer to other results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

Campaigning from one end of the U.S. to the other is a tough grind for a presidential candidate, and it's just as hard on a matrimonial mate who volunteers to accompany the candidate. Color-Picture Essay on Canada Run in 'Life'

NEW YORK (CP)—Life magazine in its current issue says Canada's "industrial revolution" is rearranging the balance of the world.

The magazine, which runs a 13-page color-picture essay on Canada, says:

"Because prosperity has made her the only N.A.T.O. nation except the U.S. able to pay her own way and help others as well, Canada is becoming not only a major economic power in the western world but a major political factor as well."

Small Village Built for Destruction

This small-size village was built at Bowling Green, Virginia, for training troops in house-to-house combat. Damaged figures pop out of todays and booby traps wait for unwary feet as the soldiers run fresh blocks to homes in step-up operations. Live ammunition is used and umpires keep tab on the number of hits scored. In a later operation the village is demolished by bazooka and mortar shells. Central Press Canadian.

Weary South Koreans Pushed Off Crest of White Horse Hill In Savage Hand-to-Hand Fight

SEOUL (AP) — Chinese Reds have pushed back the defenders of White Horse Mountain through intense Allied tank and plane fire today, and pushed weary Koreans off the crest in savage hand-to-hand combat.

Far to the north, United Nations Sabre jet pilots shot down six Communist MIG jets.

The battle for strategic White Horse, dominating the Chorwon road net into South Korea, passed its 90th hour of almost constant fighting. The hill has "changed hands more than 30 times."

Ninth Division South Koreans, whose motto is "Stay Fight," were "standing at arms' stand only 300 yards from the crest."

Details Few

Reports from the front were sketchy. It was not known here whether the attack was made by 18,000 Chinese troops which earlier had been reported massed for a counter-attack.

The South Koreans, in a bold manoeuvre, had won the hill crest in a few hours' earlier. They circled White Horse below the crest, charged from all sides, and killed or drove off all but two small pockets of Reds.

Tanks manned by South Koreans rumbled into the valley that winds north of White Horse. They turned their big rifles on the Reds on the mountain. Some have used as a springboard for assaults on White Horse.

But the manoeuvre did not stop the Reds for long.

Before launching the operation this far, a Reid Van Zack White Horse, Navy correspondent fought off seven fanatical human-wave attacks against a single platoon that threw slopes of the hill. They counted 350 Communist dead around the platoon in fierce, close-quarter fighting.

Comrade Reads

The South Koreans called their finishing moves around White Horse "Operation Comrade."

No fearless to the city of Chorwon, which fell to the Reds in 1950. The hill controls the road-net leading into Chorwon.

In the week ended Friday, the Air Force said, Allied Sabre jets destroyed or did fighter-type damage to 12.

One Sabre was shot down in air combat and five other planes were lost in other causes.

No Publication Thursday

Monday being Thanksgiving Day, there will be no publication of the Ontario Intelligencer.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synopsis: A series of weather disturbances from the Pacific have been moving across Western Canada and Northern Ontario for the last day or two. The path of these small storms has been far enough north that fine autumn weather has prevailed in all but northern sections. Little change is expected in the weather on Sunday and Monday except for warm and cool periods which will cause maximum temperatures to fluctuate about the summer's normal.

A Nail Polish Bandit, No Less

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — A tall man leaned over the desk of Mrs. Boris Reesman, secretary to the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday and asked softly:

"You have any nail polish?"

Mrs. Reesman, surprised but courteous, said she didn't think so.

The man then pulled a gun from his pocket.

"I'll check again," Mrs. Reesman said hastily. In seconds she found a bottle of the bright red lacquer.

The stranger applied a little of the red lacquer to the sights of his weapon.

Satisfied with the glare," he explained quietly, then walked away.

Martha Raye Ill

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The condition of Martha Raye, singing comedienne, remained critical today after a blood transfusion in St. Francis hospital.

Miss Raye, in private life Mrs. Nick Condos, was flown to the hospital Thursday from Cuba with a severe intestinal disorder.

Tests were being made to determine if the ailment will require surgery. The 35-year-old star was married eighteen days ago in Havana on a vacation when stricken Thursday.

TAX COLLECTIONS BEGIN TO CLOSE GAP IN FUND

Money Being Secured To Pay Pensions

OTTAWA (CP)—Tax collections are beginning to close the gap between the sharp cuts made in Canada's old age security fund and the sum needed to cover pension payments.

The fund was established Jan. 1, 1952, to provide pensions of $40 a month to all Canadians 70 and over. By Aug. 31, the fund owed the federal treasury $121,928,000.

However, the latest Treasury report disclosed that the rate of indebtedness is slowing as tax receipts begin to reach new ears.

The fund started from scratch. Its three special taxes were earmarked for the fund and were calculated to make it self-supporting eventually. A two-per-cent sales tax and a two-per-cent tax on corporation profits were in effect Jan. 1. A two-per-cent tax on personal incomes went into effect July 1.

Debt Increased

From Jan. 1 to March 31—the end of the last fiscal year—the fund ran up a debt of $55,000,000. The debt was increased by $62,928,000 from April 1 to Aug. 31.

Since approximately $208,000,000 has been paid out in pensions to more than 660,000 Canadians in July and over. The last payments into the fund amount to a little more than $66,000,000.

Treasury reports showed how the amount the fund has had to borrow from the government has been decreasing each month.

In June, it had to borrow $13,333,000. In July, the amount was $10,000,000 and in August $7,958,000.

No forecast has been made as when the fund will become self-supporting. The operations of the fund are under the Department of the Secretary of State.

The government then will decide whether any additional taxes are needed to support the fund.

Drive Is On To Get Vote Out Nov. 4th

NEW YORK (CP)—Americans are having their record-room paired unfavorably with those of Canadians and other peoples, and are being urged to get out and vote over the radio as a drive to get the biggest vote in history is on.

Posters in public places tell them that with almost 62 per cent of the Americans voted in the last presidential election in 1948, 75 per cent voted in Canada in the June, 1949 federal election. The posters say: "Let's make it 75 per cent."

In spot announcements between radio programs announcers tell Americans not to be "Lanvocci—lazy, non-voting citizens.

Early all-out campaign to get more Americans to the polls Nov. 4.

Capsules Immunizing Against Polio May be Available in Two Years

By KENNIE BATLOK

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A capsule that will cost $1 to $2 and will make a person immune to small-type polio paralysis may be available in a couple of years, say medical scientists.

The pill will contain thousands of weakened polio viruses grown in fertilized chicken eggs. The viruses will pass into the patient's blood stream and his blood will start building anti-bodies to destroy the viruses. Because they are weak, the viruses will not cause the disease but their presence will give immunity to the pill taker from defences against future polio virus invasion.

The immunity may last five or more years and may even give life-long protection, researchers said.

Basis for this outlook is the disclosure here yesterday that the fertilized hen's egg is an almost ideal medium for mass-producing the most deadly type of polio virus.

The process was developed by Dr. Harold R. Cox and associates of Lederle Laboratories, Pearl River, N. Y., and reported by him at a gathering of scientists for the opening of the University of California's new virus laboratory.

A great quantity of vaccine has been made but it must be tested on animals before it can be tried out on humans, Dr. Cox told a press conference.

The deadly virus was made harmless by growing it in generation after generation of the organism until some of them became non-lethal. This is the "weakened" virus employed to create Actual Stevenson — if the election were run, off at that time.

After Shot

But the AP pointed out that many newspaper men who took part in the poll have said that large numbers of voters had not made up their minds.

An interesting sidelight on the Stevenson boom was provided as a tiny corner of the State of Oregon where Crook county has, since 1880 voted in favor of the candidate who turned out to be the nation's President.

Now the Crook county people are taking no chances and the polls are taken by election pollsters and are hanging up the telephone or slamming the door on public-opinion testers.

We Never

The Baltimore Sun's special correspondent, Thomas O'Neill, reported from Prineville:

"A poll a day became a problem that has taxed the ingenuity of Democrats here in trying to state a preference, slamming the door on possibly priceless advance information as to what the nation will do Nov. 4.

"Even Democratic Chairman Mrs. Ile reported that Mrs. Dolly Fesler, county Democratic committee woman, has had a large party leaders for campaign material and has received no response. '

Thanksgiving Days Takes On Added Significance as Farmers Harvest Biggest Crop in History

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canadians celebrate Thanksgiving Day Monday. This year the observance has an added significance as farmers complete harvesting the biggest grain crop in history.

The traditional Thanksgiving Day dinner tables will be loaded with turkey—cheaper in most centres this year than last—and with geese, ducks and geese that are also lower in price than a year ago.

It's the big day on the farms, which this year produced a record wheat crop of almost 634,000,000 bushels and an all-over grain crop estimated at 1,320,000,000 bushels, beating the record of 1942.

And in the towns and cities there will be sports events and general celebrations from the Atlantic to Pacific. Thousands will attend major football games in east and west, and other thousands will crowd into a wide range of attractions.

96 YEARS OLD

The first Thanksgiving Day in Canada was on April 15, 1872, proclaimed as a day of thanksgiving for the restoration to health of the then Prince of Wales, later Edward VII. In 1879 the government came this year with proclaimed Nov. 6 as a day of thanksgiving for that year's abundant harvest, and it's been a harvest celebration ever since, with some exceptions.

In 1897, for instance, the annual observance was held June 23 to mark Queen Victoria's golden jubilee. In 1899, Victoria's diamond jubilee was celebrated.

For the last 19 years, however, Thanksgiving Day has been held on the second Monday in October. Seven years ago it was proclaimed as a day of thanksgiving for the restoration of peace.

In normal years Canada's Thanksgiving-day as a harvest festival follows traditional customs of times in other lands. On this continent the first Thanksgiving was observed in New England after the harvest of 1621.

The autumn equinox in ancient Rome was marked by feasts and parades in which "horns of plenty" symbolized man's gratitude for the fruitfulness of the earth. The Greeks, Incas and the Israelites of Biblical times also celebrated similar festivals.

In the United States, Thanksgiving Day is fourth Thursday in November, and therefore doesn't Unpredictable American Voter Has Pollsters Stumped in '52

By JOHN TRACY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (CP)—The pollsters, whose prophecies turned sour in the 1948 presidential election, are out sampling opinion again, but this time they're not sure their prediction has prevented any flat prediction.

The consensus is that many Americans have not yet made up their minds how they will vote Nov. 4.

It was the voter's indecision or his propensity for changing his mind that threw the pollsters off-base in 1948 when they predicted a win for Republican candidate Thomas E. Dewey over President Truman.

Stopped To Soon

Dr. George Gallup, whose American Institute of Public Opinion poll was regarded as the most reliable in the 1948 election, has said in an interview earlier this year that he had erred in stopping the polls two weeks before the election, thus failing to catch the shift of opinion particularly in the farm section. He plans to poll right up to the wire this time.

The pollsters are emphasizing that many voters have yet to decide on how they will vote. Gallup says another pollster who was caught off base in the 1948 election now uses over the radio as a drive to get the "undecided" to get out and vote.

Posters in public places tell them that with almost 62 per cent of the Americans voted in the last presidential election in 1948, 75 per cent voted in Canada in the June, 1949 federal election. The posters say: "Let's make it 75 per cent."

Customs Officer Admits Smuggling Aliens Into Detroit

DETROIT (CP) — A Canadian Customs officer confessed yesterday that he smuggled aliens into Detroit in the trunk of his car for $100 each.

United States Immigration officials said the inspector told them he brought seven persons into the U.S. via the Ambassador Bridge in the last year.

Stanley Carley, 40, of neighbouring Windsor, Ont., was held on $2,000 bond for a grand jury investigation. He has been an inspector at the Canadian end of the Ambassador Bridge since 1947.

Carley was arrested Thursday night at the U. S. end of the Detroit-Windsor tunnel after driving his car with the trunk empty.

He was arrested, officials said, on information supplied to the Immigration Service by Dominique Ghertich, 28, of Windsor, and Nicholas Landouris, a Greek. Both were illegally entered aliens at the border by Carley.

Ghertich's statements made by Albertini and Landouris, Carley broke down after several hours' questioning and gave an account of his activities.

Ghertich, being held on a charge of offering a $10,000 bribe to an immigration official.

An Immigration spokesman said further arrests are expected. Carley is suspended from his post as an international smuggling ring.

TWO PLOWING CHAMPIONS READY FOR EUROPE TRIP

Doug Reid, Brampton, A. Wallace to Go

CARP (CP)—Two dairy farmers met after the international plowing matches last night and decided it was pretty good to be Canadian plowing champions.

They were Doug Reid of Brampton, Ont., Algie Wallace of North Gower. Reid won the tractor championship and Wallace the horse-plowing championship yesterday.

The 36-year-old Brampton dairyman met Wallace at a banquet in Ottawa. "I'll see you," they were told as the top prizes in the three-day international—free trips to Europe.

"Shake hands, Algie," Reid said. "I guess we'll be seeing a lot of each other from now on."

Anxious To Start

Reid, who has a 50-head herd of dairy cattle on the 285 acres he farms with his father, said he is anxious to get overseas and compete in the ploughing matches next month in Scotland.

After that, he said he wants to see London and take a trip to Holland.

"We have a lot of Dutch farmers near our place and I've talked to them a lot about Holland," he said. "I've heard they have some pretty good dairy herds and orchards there."

Wallace, a 55-year-old bachelor who farms 225 acres south of Ottawa, said he hasn't thought much about the trip.

"No, I won't excited when I first heard I was going," he answered from reporters. "I don't get excited. I came up to do my best and I guess in my mind and I'm not too disappointed in it. I didn't win."

The two plowing champions will leave for Toronto next week-end to make arrangements to be completed. Both said they are ready to go any time.

The Canadian champions in past years have gone to the United Kingdom and other Commonwealth countries in January. But officials are trying to get them there this year in time for the Coronation ceremonies at which they will represent Canada.

KINGSTON (CP)—Cleo McCrae, 51, of Arnprior, 41 miles west of Kingston, died in hospital early today of injuries suffered in an automobile accident Thursday night.

4 Children, Grocer Carrying $7,100 Kidnapped In Calif.

CHESTER, Calif. (AP)—Sheriff M.H. Schooler said today four children and a grocer carrying $7,100 apparently had been kidnapped.

More than 100 lumberjacks and business men sworn in "as sheriffs' deputies are searching for the missing man and children through the high mountain forests of Plumas and Lassen counties' northeastern California.

"I can see no possibility other than that they were kidnapped," said Schooler, reporting to the disappearance of the five.

SEOUL, Korea (CP) — United Nations Jet pilots including Squadron Leader James D. Lindsay of Arnprior, Ont., today shot down a total of six Communist MiGs in their biggest victory of the war over the Russian-built jets, the United States Fifth Air Force said.

Lindsay, one of seven R.C.A.F. exchange pilots now flying with the U.S. Air Force and previously credited by the U.S. Air Force with destroying three of the mugs, shot down a MiG today to bring his total bag to five planes and 15 Red planes near the Suiho reservoir, on the Yalu river.

100,000 Tons Rock Loosened By Heavy Blast

MARMORA — On Wednesday afternoon, the heaviest blast thus far, was put off at the Bethlehem Steel Mine, situated between the Petite and shake in Marmora village. The mine, approximately 100,000 tons of rock broke loose from the working face of the pit and was buried about 100 feet, being piled up in small chunks easy for handling with the mine's huge equipment. The wall of the pit had been drilled to a depth of over 60 feet and about 25,000 pounds of explosive were used in the blast.

The rock is being removed in layers of about 30 to 40 feet. As the rock is broken loose, three huge electric shovels load it into the fleet of log trucks which operate with clocklike regularity between the crushers and the place where the rock is being dumped. A large crusher has been installed on the whole surface of the rock-pile covered with conveyor belts which carry the rock to travel over the pile in any direction just as though it were a regular road.

At the mine headquarters, surrounded by the steel framework erected for three large buildings to be duty as office, warehouses, machine and repair shop, two buildings include an oil and grease building and a modern washroom and dry for the miners.

At the north side of the building a large parking lot is being levelled off which is expected to accommodate about 130 cars.

POLICE BLOTTER

Five Persons Sent to Hospital In Three Highway Mishaps

Three separate highway accidents occurring in the Immediate Belleville district Friday night and this morning send five persons to hospital, two with serious injuries.

Most seriously injured are Robert Purna, 20, 2nd concession Sidney, who has severe back injuries, and Arnold Conley, 17, same address, with possible skull fracture.

The two youths were driving on No. 14 highway near Marsh Hill when their car went out of control on a curve and slammed into the ditch. Conley, who was driving, bumped his head severely, while Purna, riding alone in the back seat, received the back. Provincial Constable Ron Bower investigated.

Two Toronto youths, Allan M. Gomes and Bert Green, were injured early this morning when their light English model car skidded on No. 2 highway near Albert College, clipped off a telephone pole and smashed into a tree. Both suffered facial lacerations and bruises.

The two youths were following behind Orom's parents, the twosome party being on their way to an Eastern Ontario lake for a Thanksgiving holiday. After the accident Groom managed to flag down another car and the driver raced back to inform the parents of the accident. Constable Ivan Dukes investigated.

The third accident occurred north of Corbyville, on No. 2 highway. Thomas Kerr, 55, of Thrasher's Corners, was riding his bicycle along the edge of the highway when a Toronto car struck him from behind. He suffered head injuries.

James Buchanan, Toronto, driver of the car, said he had been blinded by the bright lights of an approaching car and did not see the bicycle until too late to avoid the accident. Constable McNutt of the O.P.P. investigated.

All five injured persons were taken to hospital by Busby's ambulance.

Belleville in The Year 1860

The following information was obtained from the directory of the County of Hastings, first volume, printed in the year 1860 by Mackenzie Bowell and deals with the town of Belleville and the County of Hastings. The material was selected and prepared for publication by Mr. J. V. C. Truscott, former postmaster of this city. This is the fourth of a series of articles dealing with the early history of Belleville.

Geology of the country: These rocks in layers or strata of different colors, alternate with one and another and occasionally by the absence of feldspar pass into mica slate and hornblende slate. They are frequently traversed by broad bands and veins of white quartz, and in some localities are interstratified with beds of white, pink and greyish crystalline limestone or marble.

A bed of this substance occurs at the village of Bridgewater (now called Actinolite) or Troy, in the township of Elzevir and others of fine quality lie in Barrie township, a little beyond the limits of the county. Marble is likewise found in the townships of Madoc and Marmora, but it should be mentioned that while quartz is often mistaken for it. Attempts have been made by persons ignorant of the nature of this latter substance, to burn it into lime.

It may not, therefore, be out of place to point out the more salient distinctive qualities of the two as in the following table.

Marble: Dissolves with effervescence in diluted hydrochloric and nitric acid. Does not scratch glass but may be easily scratched with a knife.

Quartz: Not attacked in any way by acids. Scratches glass easily and does not yield to the knife.

These Laurentian or gneissoid rocks constitute also the great iron holding rocks of Canada. This metal occurs in Hastings county in the form of specular, magnetic iron ore, a compound of the oxide or the sesqui-oxide of iron, containing in percentage values, from 72.4 and oxygen 27.6. The most valuable mineral forms thick beds interstratified with the gneiss in the township of Madoc and Marmora, but the ore used at Marmora smelting works, when these were in operation, came chiefly from the south shore of Crow or Marmora Lake in the adjoining township of Belmont. When the ore contains small shining specks or particles of a brass yellow color, it should be made up into heaps and roasted, and afterwards subjected to the action of the atmospheres, before being taken to the furnace.

The masses of ore broken out of the rocks and mixed up with the drift of this locality are abundant in some places and excellent quality, but others have become decomposed or oxidized by long exposure to atmospheric agencies.

In the north part of Elzevir township as well as in the adjoining townships beyond the limits of the county some of the green or hornblendic beds of gneiss, contain numerous garnets in well defined twelve-sided crystals or rhomboidal dodecahedrons of a brownish-red color. These, however, are only of value as mineralogical specimens.

The Laurentian rocks described above, occur highly inclined strata, dipping generally, (at least along their own most southern outcrop), towards the northwest. The succeeding or overlying Huronian strata, on the other hand, lie on the upturned edges of the Laurentian rocks, in almost horizontal beds. A good geological exhibition of this relation may be seen on the river banks of Marmora village.

Although as a general rule, where Laurentian rocks prevail, the country is not favorably adapted for agricultural occupation. Many acres of good and fertile land occur on this formation in Hastings county. The more rocky portions also, if useless in other respects, will probably constitute available granite lands, as the country becomes gradually cleared.

The lower Silurian formation: This formation is subdivided from the upper downwards into the following subordinate groups: (4) the Black River Group; (4) the Utica Slate; (3) the Trenton Group (the Trenton Limestone), the Black River limestones, the Bird's Eye limestones; the Chazy limestone; (2) the calciferous sand rock; (1) the Potsdam sandstone.

In Hastings county, the three lower members of the formation are alone present and of these, the Potsdam sandstone and the calciferous sand rock are more or less blended together, and are also but slightly developed. Their common representative seems to be calcareous sandstone of a few feet in thickness, occuring immediately above the Laurentian rocks or at the actual base of the Silurian formation.

This sandstone is of a light green color above, passing into pale red and gray without greenish spots below. It may be seen in a horizontal position or dipping almost imperceptibly towards the southwest on the river banks of the village of Marmora and also on the banks of the river Moira at Tweed village in the disjointed township as well as other places near the outcrop of the Laurentian rocks. It is apparently destitute of fossils.

The succeeding Trenton Group, properly so-called, is on the other hand largely developed and constitutes the foundation rock of the whole of the south side of the county and also of the southern portion of the north riding. At its base in the north riding, a band of fine gray limestone available as lithographic stone is met with. This is succeeded by (in general) a thick bed of limestone, poor in fossils and the latter is again followed by calciferous sand by thin bedded and shaley limestones containing fossils in great abundance.

The Trenton limestone is well displayed along the banks of the Trent, Moira and Salmon rivers and in many places on the shores of the Bay of Quinte. It yields excellent lime, and the building stones of good quality are obtained from some of the thick beds as at Dr. Point near Belleville, and elsewhere. Some care however is required in their selection as many of them are apt to crack from minute flaws, but properly selected are found to resist the effects of frost very well.

Stories of Famous Hymns

By HORACE B. POWELL

Ring the Bells of Heaven

Ring the bells of heaven! there is joy today,
For a soul returning from the wild!
See! the Father meets him out upon the way,
Welcoming His weary, wand'ring child.

Ring the bells of heaven! there is joy today,
For the wand'rer now is reconciled!
Yes, a soul is rescued from his sinful way!
And is born a-new a ransomed child.

Ring the bells of heaven! spread the feast today!
Angels, swell the glad, triumphant strain!
Tell the joyful tidings, bear it far away!
For a precious soul is born again.

Chorus:
Glory! glory! how the angels sing!
Glory! glory! how the loud harps ring!
'Tis the ransomed army, like a mighty sea,
Pealing forth the anthem of the free.

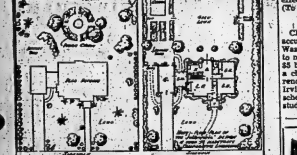
"Ring the Bells of Heaven" is missing from most twentieth century hymnals but those who lived 50 years or more ago will remember it as a favorite hymn of the post-Civil War era.

It was written by William C. Cushing, whose gospel hymns — "Under His Wings", "Follow On," "Beautiful Valley of Eden" and a host of others — were still going up and down America with leading evangelists at the turn of the century.

Cushing received one day from George Frederick Root, the composer, a fascinating tune which kept singing in his mind for days while he tried to give it a religious setting. Those who have sung the choruses of "Ring the Bells of Heaven" can understand why Cushing was attracted by the melody. Somehow, he decided, it must be saved for a Sunday School song or some other religious purpose.

A writer of soul-winning hymns, Cushing was interested in drawing men and women to Christ and one day, as he saw a man seek the altar at the close of an evangelistic meeting, the thought of how the bells of heaven must be ringing in gladness for a sinner's return.

"Then," he tells us, "the words, 'Ring the Bells of Heaven,' flowed at once into the waiting melody," and the new hymn was made.



George Root, who composed the tune, wrote other gospel music and many patriotic songs including "The Battle Cry of Freedom" and "Just Before the

LET US GIVE THANKS

Monday is Canada's national day of Thanksgiving. To most Canadians it will not mean much more than another holiday — the last of the long week-ends of the year.

It is something of a commentary on human nature that we, who, among all peoples in the entire world, have the most to be grateful for in this time of universal distress, will find scant time to acknowledge in gratitude the mercies which have come our way through a beneficent Providence and the fortuitous circumstances of geography.

Indeed those among us who will pause to give thanks on this appointed day are the men and women who need no special time set aside to acknowledge the blessings which have been theirs. For the rest of us there will be more concern about the weather and the outcome of the week-end football results.

It is a fact of course that the good things of life that we enjoy in such abundance have come to us so easily and are so commonplace that the matter of gratitude for them seldom enters our minds. So it is appropriate — just as we are being reminded by the slogan of "Thanksgiving you" — that, by proclamation of the Governor-General-in-Council, one day is decreed an occasion for National Thanksgiving.

This month is particularly suitable for the festival. The harvest has been gathered. The fruits of the fields and the orchards have been counted. It has been another good year in a land which has known few years that were not good.

It is well for us to remember that Thanksgiving Day is the only widely accepted religious festival which had its beginning on this continent. The earliest harvest thanksgiving in America was kept by the Pilgrim fathers at Plymouth in 1621. It was entirely natural that the custom later spread from New England into Canada for our ancestors, too, knew the wonderful details of pioneer life in the New World. They braved the rigors and the dangers of wresting a livelihood from a wilderness. They suffered the privations and the hardships. Today, we are reaping the bountiful dividends.

It is well, too, that this day should remind us that we have most to be grateful for in the choice of our successors; that it should prompt us to pause and consider whether we have been better or wiser or more industrious than those in other lands.

At no other time in our Canadian history have we had so much reason to be aware of this fabulous country of riches and wonders which we have been given to share. Within even the last year it has become the cynosure of all eyes as new wealth of Canadian resources is revealed in startling proportions almost from day to day.

Let us count these things for which we should return thanks. But that is not all. What more anguished blessings are known to mankind today than those which are ours as free men — to hold our own opinions, to vote as we see fit, to worship God in our own way?

For all these things, let us give thanks.

IRONIC POLITICAL SEQUEL

The death last week in Scotland of Major C. H. Douglas must have prompted some of the more profound among Canadian political pundits to ponder one of the most ironic developments in ever-creative to one man's wholly unwitting progeny of political economics.

Major Douglas was the founder of Social Credit. It was a monetary reform theory which only a few pretended to understand and which was to be the vaguest kinks of its principles were ever formulated. It will be recalled that the people of Alberta in the hard days of the '30's were moved by the radio pulpit preachings of the late William Aberhart to elect a Social Credit government.

Mr. Aberhart called in Major Douglas as an adviser. They soon disagreed, but in the meantime the inexperienced legislators in the foothills province proceeded to outline by statute their Social Credit reforms. The big appeal, of course, had been its promise of regular monthly dividends for every Alberta citizen. These did not materialize and most of the provincial legislation was found to be ultra vires of the provincial authority.

But the abandonment of almost everything that Social Credit was supposed to stand for did not — as might have been expected — mean the end of Social Credit government. It survived and in recent times people were less concerned about monthly dividends and they were impressed with the character of sound government the new administration was providing, and has continued to provide.

All of which brings us to the ironic sequel.

Five years ago one of the greatest oil booms in history began in Alberta. Every one knows this fabulous story and what it has meant to that province. Today the provincial debt is less than that of some of Canada's larger cities. The day when Alberta is not only debt-free but taxfree is in the foreseeable future.

And from that day on Albertans will be eligible for "Social Credit" dividends.

JUST FOLKS

YES AND NO

Two little words are "yes" and "no",
Yet from them differences grow,
It always causes some distress
When Pa says "no" and Ma says "yes."
And two opposing views must show
When Pa says "yes" and Ma says "no."

But many a Pa has reasoned out
Just what to say when he's in doubt,
Then neither "yes" nor "no" he'll say,
For he has found an easier way.
"Go ask your mother," he'll politely say,
"She has to settle this, I've found,"
Still better will it always be
When both on "yes" and "no" agree.
Grave differences sometimes rise
When Ma allows what Pa denies,
Though little words are "no" and "yes,"
They often cause unhappiness.

Still The Missing Link

(Kingston Whig Standard)

Everybody has ancestors of some sort, even if they are only grandparents. There are perhaps a dozen families in Britain, an authority on genealogy says, who can really and truly trace their ancestry back to the Norman Conquest without resort to guess-work and jumping at generations. We have heard of people who claim even more ancient lineage. It not unlikely that Senator Taft's press agent that he counts Mark Anthony among his forbears? But the greatest prize of all awaits the man who can prove that an ancestor of his was the first true Man, as distinguished from an ape.

Many years ago it was fashionable to talk about the Missing Link—the creature which bridged the gulf between man and ape. Many centuries ago that title have appeared since Darwin suggested that man might have evolved from an ape. One of them was a prehistoric Neanderthal, he did not wing about in trees, but on the other hand he appears to have walked on all fours. Another was an ape who could control fire. He was called the Australopithecus Prometheus. But any ancestor of the Missing Link has not yet been found and a fortnight ago the London Zoological Society said the matter in detail.

We hasten to seem reactionary, and we would not dream of trying to tell the Zoological Society a thing, but we suggest, very humbly, that perhaps there never was a Missing Link; perhaps there has always a separate species. After all, Darwin knew that the fossil were spes in the beginning; he merely suggested that it might be a good plan to explore that idea.

Perhaps scientists have been misled by the undoubted resemblances between man and ape. Perhaps they think that such a power of reasoning and destroy things would only be possible if he had an ape somewhere in his family tree. But is not out of the question that whatever power we may have as they always were. Man, on the contrary, seems to be declining in strength, or from folly to folly, whichever way you look at it.

Strength for the Day

SPIRIT OF THE LORD

Have you ever seen the type of person who appears always to be doing things for others? While others about him are flustered and confused, he remains calm. While most of us are blowing our top over every little thing that rolls, he calmly comes across with a sane, sensible idea which accomplishes everything that needs to be done — and all this without getting excited, or irritating anybody.

The secret of such a man is that he has power in reserve greater than he ever needs or uses. Such men are calm because they know exactly where they stand with God. They have learned that they know that although fools may malign the truth, they never do real violence to it. Such men have within their hearts a Lord.

"peace which passeth all understanding."

Nothing gives us this peace so surely as does firm religious faith. The man who has a strong inspiring because the thing which made these persons saints was their ability to bring vast strength to bear in meeting certain situations. Francis of Assisi was a gentle man who found God in all things. Joan of Arc, by her unswerving faith in God, and his consecrated life and Scotland today reveals him as her patron saint.

What is power? We have a variety of answers to that query, but God has one which is all inspiring. He says that power is by power, but by My Spirit, said the

The day after her operation, the nurse got the patient's head her room for a few minutes. She complained of being tired, protested even more the second day, when she was kept on her feet for short periods bath in the morning and afternoon. By the end of the weeks, still grumbling, she was shuffling around the hospital corridors, egged on by her nurse. A few days later, to the delight of their cheerful walker, she was home. Soon after that, she dropped in at the surgeon's office to show him that the whole family, he said, couldn't have been more pleased with the result.

"Well, it was rather a dough operation," the surgeon said.

"Oh," said the lady's son, "it wasn't the operation so much. It was getting mother on her feet. She thought she hadn't walked for seven years."

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

PAINTER AT WORK AGAIN

I glance from my library window and note new colorings creeping into the summer green. Each day I walked in the springtime for the first bursting of the buds, and the later leafing of the trees and shrubs, so now I follow the lavish and dramatic — the Great Painter at work again.

How like life are these seasons of ours — each with its definite character. All of them have their own particular beauty, but somehow the autumn weeks out-glory them all. Like a painter with his canvas, the Great Painter in nature works slowly, day by day putting in colors as well as emphasizing the shadows against the blue sky above.

And as the painter on his canvas selects the various colors to make up the whole, so does the Great Painter moment by moment keep changing and perfecting the remarkable designs and combinations that make this autumnal glory of ours one great canvas of breath-taking beauty.

How interesting to note the progress each day. How brilliant the sumac, how poetic the maples, and the quieter tones of the oak and elm. Along the roadside what a succession of colors, like one continuous poem or song. How does "perfect days" of June that Lowell wrote about are duplicated in a new dress as autumn days are ushered in.

Could humans ever have planned a parade or celebration so beautiful and dramatic as we witness in October's almost approaching completion? Melody and mellowness are in these quiet days of autumn. It is the deepening of the leaves as they finally drop their last leaf to the ground.

How like life are these seasons of ours — each with its definite character. All of them have their own particular beauty, but somehow the autumn weeks out-glory them all. History is on the road again. Every year about this time a procession of nostalgic automobiles takes to the highway in the northeastern United States in the revived Glidden Tours. This year the route—see north, at Hartford, plays York to Wilmington via Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania.

So great is the popularity of "antique auto" clubs now that other similar gatherings in the country may also bring out collections of Stevens - Duryeas, Locomobiles, Apperson and predecessors, Stanley Steamers, Wintons, Pierce - Arrows, Reliances and Stutzes, with perhaps a Mitchell, Jackson, Templar, Cole, or Kissel Kar.

Among other oldsters, how many recall the "E.M.F." before it became a Studebaker, the "Chalmers" and "Maxwell" before the rise of Walter Chrysler, the "Hamilton" before the Nash, and the "Oakland" which preceded the Pontiac? Specially cared for cars we carry motifs of makes that have retained real identity—Packard, Ford, Buicks, Cadillacs, Oldsmobiles, Packards, Hudsons, Chevrolets, and Dodges.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Because our own human lives are, as Shakespeare put it, rounded with a sleep, we have over the past few thousand years of thinking, talking and writing, built up a conception of life as being fragile, delicate, at the mercy of countless vast and ruthless forces. A little reflection will set that notion right. Life is not a plant in a room which is stopped in at the surgeon's office. It is the family, the whole family, he said, couldn't have been more pleased with the result.

"Well, it was rather a dough operation," the surgeon said.

"Oh," said the lady's son, "it wasn't the operation so much. It was getting mother on her feet. She thought she hadn't walked for seven years."

CAMPBELLFORD

Tax Collector Rehired After Long Debate

CAMPBELLFORD — One of the most lengthy meetings of town council was held this week with all members present and Mayor W. A. Kingsley in the chair.

Councillor George Free read a letter and a sample by-law he had received from the Community Planning Branch of the Ontario Department of Planning and Development. Mr. Free had sought information in drawing up the new zoning by-law.

He showed a master plan, with the proposed restricted residential and industrial areas marked in different colors. He impressed upon council the need for such a plan, and also this was just a tentative plan and, would need a great deal more discussion and consideration before the by-law was drawn up. The by-law, when drawn, could be altered from time to time if it was found necessary. He suggested the master plan, and the by-law be left in the council chambers so that council members could study them at their leisure, and that a meeting be held before October 20 at the latest, at which time the plan would be discussed.

Much discussion about the hiring of a tax collector occupied council. The former collector, J. C. Birmingham was suspended, because of being absent from his office for a period of six weeks. The tax collector previously received a salary of $1,-200 and a commission on collection of arrears of taxes boosting his income to about $2,800.

Some members of council felt that the town treasurer, Zidon M. Ibey could handle the job along with his duties as treasurer, and that he should be given an increase in salary. Deputy Reeve Oscar Mason moved that Mr. Ibey be given the job of tax collector at an increase in salary of $1,200 per year. Councillor F. H. MacMillan seconded the motion. Mr. Ibey is also treasurer for the Public Utilities Commission.

Collector Rehired

Councillor D. R. Maybee moved that the town rehire Mr. Birmingham at a salary of $2,200 per year, and that he receive no commissions. He failed to get a seconder, but Councillor Free said that if Mr. Maybee would amend this motion to read a salary of $1,800 a year, he would second it. The motion was amended and on being put to a vote the result was a tie. Councillor MacMillan asked that the vote be polled, which resulted as follows: Opposed to naming Birmingham: Deputy Reeve Oscar Mason, Councillors MacMillan, Collette and Free. Year: Reeve R. J. Locke, Councillors Free, Tatham and Maybee. Mayor Kingston cast the decided vote of Yea. Mr. Birmingham was contacted immediately by telephone to see if he would accept the job at the decreased salary and he apparently agreed.

The question of remuneration for the treasurer Mr. Ibey, was discussed. Mr. Ibey had apparently been looking after the duties of tax collector for a couple of months, and some members of council felt that some remuneration was in order. Councillors Tatham and Nese entered into a discussion with the treasurer as to what were his duties and how much of his time was involved in working for the P.U.C. The question of the duties of the tax collector was also gone into, and the clerk, Mr. McGregor, was kept busy looking up the duties of the various town officials in the various acts outlining them. No agreement was reached as to extra remuneration.

To Get Advice

It was brought to the attention of council that a number of bread trucks are delivering bread from door to door in the town. These trucks are from companies outside the corporation and they do not pay a local business tax of licence. It was left with the legal committee to see what action could be taken.

Councillor Tatham, who headed a fact-finding committee to compile a questionnaire to be presented to the P.U.C., read a report. Council decided that the question would not be gone into any further at the present time and that Mrs. Tatham's report be received and filed.

Reeve R. J. Locke and Deputy Reeve Oscar Mason, together with Councillor Maybee, noticed an item of a uniform for Chief George H. Hardy on the payabret and question this item as the chief is sick at the present time and has been granted leave of absence. Councillor Collette, chairman of the Police Committee, explained that the uniform had been ordered several weeks before Mr. Hardy took sick. This appeared to satisfy the three council members and the pay sheet was passed, after which council adjourned.

Fifteen Blasts Link Tunnel Sections of Project

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Fifteen explosions 185 feet underground yesterday linked two tunnel sections under the Niagara escarpment. They also marked another step in one of the most ambitious projects of the Ontario Hydro's $1,000,000,000 expansion program.

Set off by Ontario's Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. Louis O. Breithaupt the blasts of 1,800 pounds of explosives bit through 30 feet of rock linking two separate half-mile sections of what will ultimately be a 5½-mile tunnel.

The 21-foot-wide tunnel, and another parallel to it, will ultimately feed water from above Niagara Falls to the new Sir Adam Beck-Niagara No. 2 generating station at Queenston. There it will be converted to 1,200,000 horsepower.

Watching the ceremony on a platform 3,100 feet away were 400 business, government and construction industry officials, all wearing hardrock miners' helmets. An inspection afterward showed that the two crews, starting more than a mile away from each other, had met less than an inch out of line.

Chairman R. H. Saunders of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario said it was "an occasion of great significance for Hydro."

The first tunnel, when completed next year, is expected to be the biggest hydraulic tunnel in the world. Already 1,125,000 tons of rock have been hauled up the six shafts from it. When finished, it will carry 15,000,000 gallons of water a minute.

Drew Urges Freer World Trade in Talk

Ottawa (CP)—George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said yesterday Canada should co-operate in "every way possible to bring about convertibility of sterling and freer world trade.

The main objectives of the conference of Commonwealth Prime Ministers in London next month, he said, should be the removal of trade and currency barriers.

Mr. Drew's conference after his return from a three-week fact-finding tour of Europe he made these points:

1. There is a "great desire" in the United Kingdom for greater trade with Canada.

2. One of the things that impressed him most during the tour was West Germany's reconstruction.

3. Russian-controlled East Berlin is "alive with police."

4. If other countries respect tariff and trade agreements, then the United States should respect them as well.

His references to the United States came after he said that the Geneva trade agreements and other international pacts would have been reached if it had been expected that sterling and the dollar would not be convertible.

Mrs. Burgess, the president, opened the October meeting of the Tabernacle United Church W.A. by reading hymn "Rise Up O Men of God", followed by a reading. "Unity" and the Lord's Prayer.

After the business part of the meeting, Mrs. Davidson took charge.

During the devotional period, Mrs. Izard read Psalm 100, and a few verses in Ephesians, followed by a Thanksgiving reading and prayer.

After singing a hymn, Mrs. Davidson introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Rev. W. Middleton from Bayside circuit, who spoke on "Stewardship Women". He illustrated his talk by referring to women of the Bible such as Mary Magdalene, Joanna, Dorcas, Phoebe and Peter's wife's mother.

Each of these women represented different standards of living but each in her own way ministered to the cause of God.

"Today God still needs the service from the highest to the lowly, but none of us can do any, unless for Him. Let Him be done something for us."

Mrs. Middleton thanked Mr. Middleton for his inspiring address, and after the meeting closed regarding Sunday services and a social half-hour enjoyed.

Mrs. Linton Reid led the devotional taking her theme from "Means of Grace" and subject "Worship".

Mrs. Whitfield directed a pageant which showed the life of African women as it used to be, then with the improved conditions which followed better methods and ways of life as taught by the missionaries.

Miss Daisy Young acted as reader while Mrs. K. Mack Miss Dora Osborne, Mrs. Whitfield and C.G.I.T. girls portrayed the story.

Lovely music was contributed by Mrs. Clinton Macdonald, Miss Norma Arkells and Miss Marion Nichol.

Attendance was gratifying and reports point to a successful year.

Rev. J. W. Scott was chairman for the evening's program.

SISTERS ALL

By Jean Love Galloway

If you are having a before-dinner or evening party and you want a tasty "dip" course, we've found something popular and easy to prepare. Buy a tin of minced clams. Beat this up lightly in a bowl; drain off the juice. Then add a package of cream cheese which has been standing at room temperature. To this mixture add a teaspoonful of garlic vinegar . . . You will be surprised how good this is to dip potato chips in as your guests help themselves.

The garlic vinegar is prepared double boiled salt water than the single breasted style. With hats, placing them in a small frying pan and pouring over them white wine vinegar. Let the vinegar stand on the garlic buds a few days. When the vinegar runs cool, pour more on the same buds and keep in the refrigerator. Garlic vinegar sparks up salad dressings and sauces of all kinds.

Church Rides

There is no excuse for not attending church in Kingston, Ontario. Several churches there charter buses Sunday morning to pick up church go-ers at their front doors.

These church buses are financed by general church funds. Those who use them usually contribute a little more to their offering than the transportation expenses.

Buses are reported good. The buses are full. So are the churches. This is a particularly good scheme when church members are scattered over various housing developments in that area far from the mother churches.

Over 300 Attend Operetta 'The Cobbler of Fairyland'

RAWDON — Stirling Theatre, in the Community Hall, was filled to capacity Tuesday evening for the first performance of the famed operetta entitled "The Cobbler of Fairyland," presented by the Royal Junior Choir of St. John United Church, Stirling. This choir is composed of children from the public schools in Sidney and Rawdon, as well as from the town of Stirling. Many children from River Valley, Carmel, Bethel, Wellman's and Springbrook practise at Stirling and then attend their own churches. Other children are members of St. Andrew's and St. John's junior choirs, but they are also members of The Royal Junior Choir and practise with them each week. The group is directed by Mrs. A. E. Baker, A.R.C.T., who puts forth every effort to give the children the best of musical training.

Flower-decked Stage

The stage was banked on either side with potted plants, and white pedestals filled with baby 'mums and evergreens.

The colored lights gave the presentation a magic array of exquisite hues as the colors were flashed on and off during the scenes.

Folks from Belleville, Trenton, Frankford, Campbellford, Marmora and all in between points were in attendance and this included a large number of proud grandparents.

Rev. A. E. Baker, pastor of St. Paul's, Stirling, introduced the cast. Their costumes were colorful and appropriate. He also gratefully acknowledged the assistance of many people who had helped in various ways to make the presentation a success.

The operetta was pictured in three scenes. Act I, late afternoon; Act II, one hour later, and Act III, a week later.

The time was summer, and the setting was in the Royal Garden of The Land of Make Believe."

Cast

"The Cobbler of Fairyland" is a up-to-date fairy tale and it opened with King Martin, (Keith Hansen), and his domineering Queen, Monarchia, (Janet Reynolds), with their retinue of ladies in waiting planning a birthday party for their young daughter, Princess Delmarie, (Wendy Warren).

The Queen is hard to please and is constantly finding fault with the cobbler and painter.

The cobbler, (Ralph Carlisle), is so fed up with the Queen's actions, he decides to obtain revenge. His elves, Vengefulette, (Donalda Heath), is a wicked fairy and he relies on her and the witch, (Rose Anne Vandervoort), to give him assistance.

Later, Machiavelli, (Allyn Warren), a crafty cat, confuses the witch with his evil deeds and sayings, and the witch is sure he is casting the proper kind of spell on his friend, the cobbler. By casting the Princess a frowning witcher and after a lot of narrow escapes the schemers are defeated.

In the last act, all is well, the horrid Queen reveals better manners in her household and everything ends very happily for all with the King as the head boss.

Solo Parts

There were many solo parts throughout the two-hour presentation with groups taking the choruses and all were heartily applauded.

The painters were led by Gary Rose and Gordon Wannamaker and were assisted by Dale Hubel, Allyn Warren, David Bell, and other boys who sang, "We're Union Men." They pointed out that with a five-day week and all other rights a union men it is hard to get the palace paint completed in time for the individual parts but each child gave an exceptional adaptation of the character she was representing.

Lady Lacinda, Mistress of Robes, was taken by Marjorie Ketcheson and Donna Carlisle.

Rosalind, first lady in waiting, Carolyn Belcour; the first elf cobbler, Wayne Wannamaker, and second one, David Sager; Lord Mayor of the Palace, John Sager.

Fairies

The fairies were: Thelma Stewart, Linda Micklejohn, Mary Ellen Warren, Jean Anne Mayhew, Helen Hawkins, Fairie Warren, Imnie Visser, Sandra Chambers, Caroline Hansen, Sandra West and Sandra Wannamaker.

Joan Fraser, Beverley Cooney, Cheryl Utman and Lois Morton.

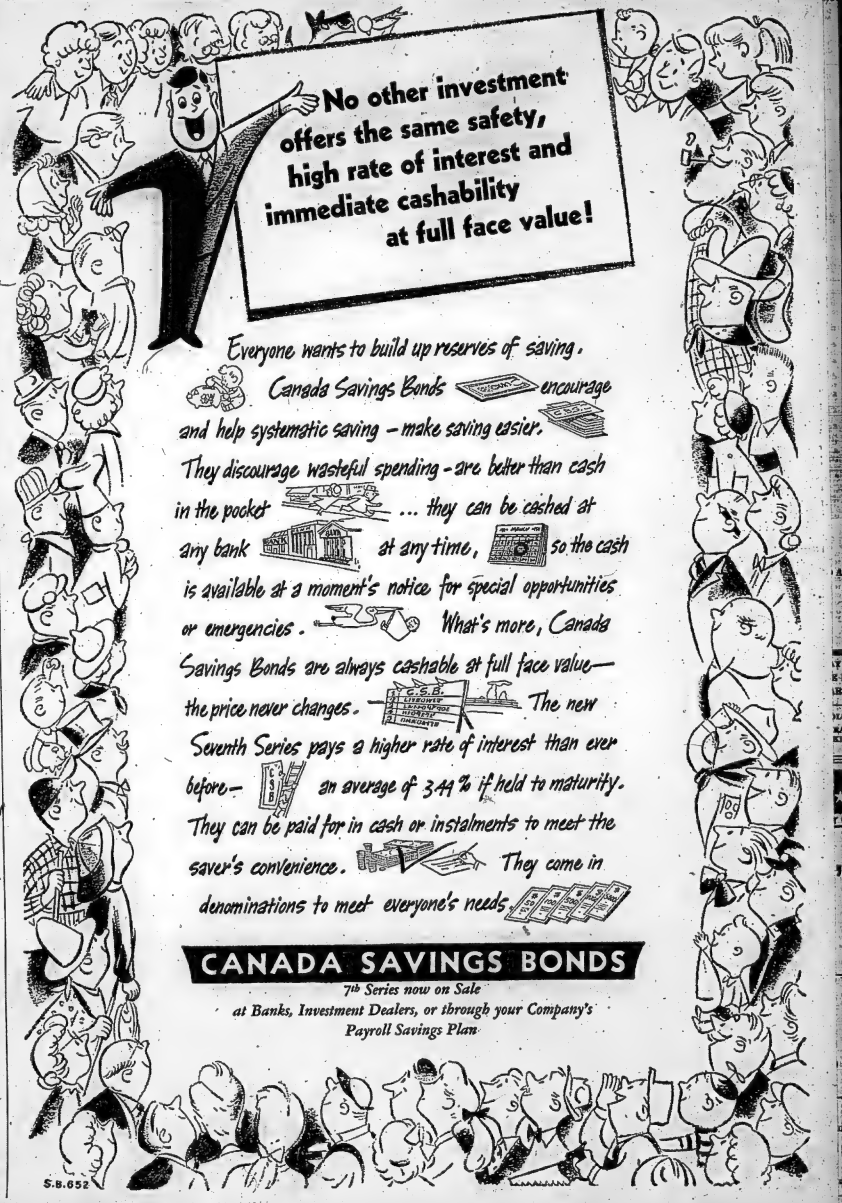
The ladies in waiting: Margaret Brooks, Sally Fox, Barbara Woodbeck, Tinka Visser, Donna Carlisle, Marjorie McArton, Barbara Green, Patricia Fraser, Grace Clarke, Mildred Morton, Muriel Morton and Janet Reynolds.

The Cat Elves, who were brought in to guard the palace gardens and fell asleep on the job, were: Rose Carlisle, Douglas Ketcheson, Robert Vandervoort, Jack Donnan, Fred Heasman, Billy West, Robert Leury and Douglas Wilkins.

The girls in the maypole drill were: Sally Fox, Donna Carlisle, Rose Anne Vandervoort, Grace Heasman, Sandra Stewart, Marilyn Rose, Mildred Morton, Carolyn Belcour, Sandra West, Barbara Green, Joanne Heasman, Donalda Heath, Doris Grills, Patricia Fraser, Eleanor Stapley, Tinka Visser, Marjorie McArton, Barbara Woodbeck, Dawn Hubel, Doris Grills, Imnd Visser, Sandra Melkiejohn and Margaret Brooks.

Over 300 people gathered at the theatre Wednesday evening for the second presentation.

Owing to the sudden death that afternoon of one of the prominent business men in the village, the attendance was smaller. If anything, the children were more at ease and gave a natural presentation of their various parts.



The lovely pastor, Rev. A. E. Baker, read a long list of names of individuals who had given assistance to this venture which will net the Junior Choir around $300.

Presentation Made

Between Act II and Act III the Director, Mrs. A. E. Baker, who has given of her time so generously, was presented with a tray and saucer by Miss Heather Rogers, the Princess of the evening.

In the closing finale, the choir excelled in rendering parts of their various choruses given throughout the evening. In this colorful massed group they sang, "Make Believe", "Cheer Up", "Fairy Shoes", "Tap, Tap, Tap", "Garden of My Dreams", and other songs after which "God Save Our Queen" by the entire audience closed one of the finest performances that has been given in the town for a long time.

Mrs. Ed. Warren and a group of the ladies, who assisted on the platform behind the scenes, served each of the choir members ice cream and cake.

Twenty-five per cent of the world's aluminum supply is produced at Arvida and three other Quebec plants of the Aluminum Company of Canada. Canada's Production of Aluminum In Next Two Years Stepped Up 50 P. C.

By W.R. WHEATLEY.
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's production of aluminum in the next two years will be stepped up nearly 50 per cent and is expected ultimately to approach figures that today tell the story of world production.

This swift rise comes through huge development operations of the Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd., only producer of aluminum in this country.

The expansion is in two provinces, Quebec and British Columbia. At present Canada's entire production is centred in Quebec. The company's biggest production unit is at Arvida, up north in the Saguenay district.

Further production is under way in this area—through power projects at Chute du Diable and Chute a la Savenne, each of 370,000 horsepower, on the Peribonka River.

Kitimat Project

The newest expansion is in northern British Columbia, a 850,000,000 project. There the gigantic task has been started of building a 850-foot-high dam to reverse the normal eastern flow of water, pouring it through a 10-mile tunnel through solid rock of the Coast Range.

From there the water will plunge on, still controlled, to the power site at Kemano, 125 miles west of the dam. The electricity generated—eventually 1,800,000 horsepower—will be carried by transmission lines 30 miles to Kitimat, site of what is expected to be the world's largest aluminum smelter.

The huge smelter, to be producing in 1954, will then have a basic annual output of 100,000 short tons. When other phases of the planned development are completed, ultimate production of 400,000 tons a year is looked for.

Canada now supplies about 25 per cent of world production of aluminum; the United States 50 per cent and other countries 25 per cent. Outside of Canada and the United States, most production is in the United Kingdom, continental Europe and Russia. Actual production in Russia is not known but was estimated at 300,000 tons in 1951.

World production in 1951 was 1,700,000 tons. Canada's production was about 440,000 tons, of which roughly 350,000 tons came from the big Arvida smelter. The rest came from smaller production units at Shawinigan Falls, Ile Maligne and Beauharnois—all in Quebec provinces.

Quebec Developments

With Alcan's power development at Chute du Diable, 50,000 tons will be added this year; through the development at Chute a la Savanne another 50,000 tons will be added in 1953.

Then in 1954 will come the expected 100,000 tons from Kitimat. The date for the ultimate step-up to 600,000 tons a year at Kitimat cannot yet be forecast—depending possibly on world demand—but when that figure is reached Canada's total production will be running more than 1,100,000 tons.

Bauxite ore, from which aluminum is made, now comes to Canada from the British Guiana mines of Aluminium, Ltd., parent company of Aluminum Company of Canada. With increased production of aluminum, extra bauxite will be brought in from Jamaica and from French Guinea in Africa.

Aluminium Ltd. operates, through subsidiaries, in 19 countries. Its principal operations are the mining of bauxite; the generation of hydro-electric power and production of Aluminum of Canada, and the fabrication of aluminum in England.

Aluminum ranks sixth among Canada's exports and the Aluminum Company of Canada exports more than two-thirds of its production.

U.K. Best Market

In 1951 the United Kingdom took 46 per cent of Alcan's output, the United States 23 per cent and other countries 12 per cent. Nineteen per cent went to domestic consumers. As Canadian consumption has risen from 10 per cent to 18 per cent of total production during the last five years.

Until 1951, exports to the United States rose during the last few years. In 1947 the United States took only five per cent of Canada's production; in 1948, 22 per cent; in 1949, 21 per cent; in 1950, 38 per cent; then in 1951, 23 per cent.

When the United States began feeling an aluminum shortage, Alcan in May, 1951, offered the United States government 440,000,000 pounds—220,000 tons—of aluminum at 16 cents a pound. Delivery, beginning at once, was to be made over a period of about 36 months.

There was no immediate acceptance and later an extension of the offer until Oct. 31 was asked. This was agreed to, say Alcan officials, but when the time limit was reached there was still no word from Washington. Britain stepped in and took the aluminum. Since then the United States has obtained some of the same aluminum. Under this plan conditions men from Britain, Alcan shipping if over the border to designated points instead of to England.

Another Plan

Again, say Alcan officials, when commercial users of aluminum in the United States were short early this year the company submitted a plan to the United States government outlined by which Alcan would make 150,000 tons available. The United States government was asked to guarantee 100,000 tons—that is, if commercial users took only 50,000 tons, for instance, the government would take the remaining 50,000 tons. There was no acceptance.

Prospects of sharp United States expansion in aluminum production were seen late in August when the Aluminum Company of America announced it is contemplating building a $400,000,000 smelting plant in Alaska with annual capacity of 200,000 tons.

But the project would hinge not only on purchase of land and government approval but also upon getting electric power from Canadian water.

The proposed smelting plant would be built near Skagway, Alaska. Power would have to be generated by damming the Yukon River near Whitehorse.

Foreign Problems

There have been no definite announcements since then, but Canadian officials in Ottawa at that time said there would be many complications. First, Alcan would have to obtain agreement from the Canadian and British Columbia governments before there could be diversion of the Yukon waters. Second, the Canadian government would want assurance that power and navigation interests in the Yukon would be well protected.

First production of aluminum in Canada was in 1901 at Shawinigan Falls. The little company at that time was known as the Pittsburgh Reduction Company. Production was about 70 tons a year. In later years Alcan shifted main operations to the Saguenay district, where it owns the Shipshaw hydro-electric-power development.

Shipshaw construction was in two main stages, although there was an early plant in 1925. The first stage, utilizing the fall of the Saguenay River and with an installed capacity now of 300,000 horsepower, was completed in 1934.

A second, and larger, stage was completed in 1943 with an installed capacity of 1,200,000 horsepower. To support this capacity, water storage facilities at Lake St. John had to be augmented to bring the storage capacity up to 400,000,000,000 cubic feet.

JET BOMBER A DAY

SEATTLE. (AP)— Boeing Airplane Company says more than 300 B-47 stratojet bombers have been built since production was started in the spring of 1951. The company now is averaging more than one of the six-jet medium bombers a day. The 600-mile an hour ship has a 116-foot wing spread and is 108 feet long.

Charles Carter Speaks At Lions Club 7th Anniversary

BANCROFT — The seventh anniversary of the charter of the Bancroft Lions Club was celebrated Monday night at a gala banquet at the Legion Hall attended by more than 100 members and guests.

Guest speaker of the evening was Lion Charles Carter, Bowmanville, International Counsellor of Lions Clubs in Canada. He was introduced by Lion Whitney Martin and gave a splendid, thought-provoking speech in which he stressed unity as the mainstay of today's troubled world. Mr. Carter congratulated the local club on its fine progress in the past seven years. It was Mr. Carter who presented the club's charter in 1945.

Out-of-town guests at the head table were: Deputy District Governor Lion Vic Frederick and Mrs. Frederick; Lion Alec Simmons and Mrs. Simons, Peterborough. The guests were introduced by secretary Art Hewitt.

Jack Follis was master of ceremonies for the evening, the program called to order by President "Mike" Burns.

Presentations of several awards to members for commendable work in the past year were made by the immediate past president, Cecil Wiggins. Entertainment by the Campbellford "Hill-Billies," an original amateur group, was much enjoyed at the conclusion of the program.

Following the banquet, a dance was held at the Community Hall. Don Wilson, Bancroft, was the lucky winner of a pair of woollen blankets given as the booster prize.

The Bancroft club has a membership of 53 and a fine record of welfare and community service work, notably the swimming pool and community centre projects. Also active is the women's branch, the Lionettes.

UNUSUAL GIFT

CHICAGO. (AP) — Some one left a shopping bag on a table in an office at the University of Illinois research and educational hospital several days ago. The bag was opened yesterday. It contained about $500 worth of penicillin in liquid and tablet form and an unsigned note which read: "I love the President, I want to do good, I believe in unions, and I have lost a loved one. Perhaps this will help save someone."

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

GLENS TAKE THE ICE

Coach Alfie Moore had a strong squad of Glen Rec regimented at his first practice Thursday night, and right off the bat he gave notice that he was the "boss". Alfie directed the squad from the boards and pushed them through a stiff twenty-minute drill.

Stars Reid Mulvihill, Vern Geyer and Keith MacDonald twhirling up and down the ice on one line "Red" Dornan centering crafty Peter Jones and Gerry Desiardins on another. The "old line" of Billy Strahan, Duke Dornan and Ted DeGray flashed fine pre-season speed and the ex-Junior "Hawks" trio should be a distinct asset to the "big" team.

Messrs. Nest Jeal Bennett, Huck Reeves, Johnny Mastro, Harry Brown, Don Hurst, Doug Eastside and a couple of "unknowns through defence paces. Richhart who played for Peterborough Eagles last year was in uniform as was "Red" Wanson ex-Peterborough junior goalie and another "unknown" said to be from the CNR.

The next practice is slated for Tuesday night at 8.30.

MINOR BASEBALL

Ted Schwab's "Little Giants" city peewee champions and Bryson Reid's "Gents" another starry peewee baseball squad will tangle in an exhibition game at the Fair Grounds here on Monday afternoon starting at 2.30. The ball-picks have been lolling up their baseball gear so Messrs. Schwab and Reid decided to let them have a final fling on the holiday.

Speaking of minor baseball Frank Graziano, chairman of the executive division of the Belleville Baseball Association announces that the "big party" for the players will be held in the YMCA on the evening of Friday, October 24th. There will be a banquet and a grand program being readied which includes a floor show, motion pictures, and other entertainment besides hot dogs, ice cream ,soft drinks etc. Remember the date, folks, October 24th.

TWAS A SAD DAY IN FLATBUSH

The pall of gloom still hangs heavy over Brooklyn. From "Greenpoint" to say "perut" the Flatbush faithful are still crestfallen over the defeat of their beloved "Bums". The Dodger moppers had word crept around in their respective to beat the Yanks, the barn, the cowbell, the hanse orr, the handicap and the fervant prayer, but these combined were not enough.

High school girls wore "Peewee Reese" and "Duke" Snider sweaters. The Ebbets Field organ shrilled paeans of victory. Alas, 'twas not opsoob.

Interesting local stories come out of Flatbush and "New York" of the post-mortem celebrations across the river and of the doleful dirges that were almost sobbed along the banks of the Gowanus.

The story is told of fanatic Brooklynese in that heart-breaking last game. One young man in a mackinaw married to a Brooklyn Yankee fan, "Why douche ye beat wherevers Flora, y' Yankee lover?"

"I gotta right to cheer for my team" stammered the Yankee fan. "This is a free country."

The Flatbusher bared his teeth. "This aint no free country, y'hoos. Dis —is Brooklyn."

After the game ended a wag man was trying to cheer his cheerier panting spouse. "Cheer up, Mollie" he forced. "You don't gotta give up now. Wait till next year."

"Stella!" turned a red puffy face. "Wait till next year" she hurtled. "Next year, they should choke a'drums."

After those larcenous catches by Andy Pafko and Sari Furillo at the Stadium, the "Oh Pretzers" Casey Stengel said he was "thinking of it all fizzered out Lebrun Dressen won't put Pafko and Furillo on Bedford Avenue. They's too much traffic. So hit 'em over the fence into Bedford Avenue. That'll fix 'em. Unnerstan?.

Peterborough Timbermen Take 3-0 Lead in Best-of-Seven Series

TORONTO (CP) — Peterborough Timbermen, today only one victory away from their second straight Ann Cup, can thank their agile forwards and fast that Vancouver Pilsecers don't step up their offensive until the final quarter.

Peterborough last night squeezed out a 9-8 win for their third straight in the best-of-seven series for the Canadian senior lacrosse title. Vancouver counted four times in the last 15 minutes and the Timbermen were hanging on to their 16-goal margin for dear life when the bell sounded.

Ind Easy Opener

The defending champions had it easy in the first game last Saturday — 9-5 — workout—but the second contest Tuesday was almost a replica of last night's affair. Vancouver counted four tallies in the third quarter, but fell one shy of the equalizer, 8-7.

Wooton, a chubby character whose inspiration to his team, has been terrific in all three games. One of the sport's best netminders, he made nine hard stops in the final 15 minutes last night. His miscue on any one of them could have sent the game into overtime — with the westerners taking the fresher club.

A crowd of 2,251— there spark of Toronto's big Maple Leaf Gardens, where the games are scheduled—witnessed the contest. Among them were about 300 Peterborough fans who travelled here by special train.

ree Fair Each

Russ Slater who got four goals in the second game, and Don Ashner, an American Hockey League player when he's not on a Timbermen, led the Peterborough attack with two apiece. The others who scored by playing coach Bob Thorpe, Curly Mason, Grant Burns, Doug Richards and Ross Powless.

Ernie Smith and Jim Swanson turned in a two-goal effort for Vancouver, who lost the final to this same Peterborough club in the full seven games last year. Denny Huddleston, Fred Whitaker, Elmer Buchanan and Ken Webb supplied the other tallies.

The series resumes Monday night.

Allie Reynolds On Stevenson's Band Wagon

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Just how much wear and tear is there on a pitcher's arm during a strenuous baseball World Series?

So much that Allie Reynolds couldn't even comb his hair yesterday because his arm was too stiff. Mrs. Reynolds obliged so that her husband could look pretty as he rode in a parade with Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee.

Reynolds was quick to tell reporters that riding in the parade had no political significance although reportedly he voted in the weavy for Stevenson bottom.

"I just wouldn't want to make a commitment at this point," he said. "I've been too busy lately to think about politics."

New Era in Eastern Canada Junior Hockey Begins, Teams Will Play 287-Game Schedule

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

A new era in Eastern Canada junior hockey began last night with the opening games of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A league.

The 1952-53 season will see an interprovincial Ontario - Quebec schedule embracing 13 teams—nine from Ontario and four from Quebec.

The O.H.A. has a schedule of 287 games, ending March 12. In the league are the defending Memorial Cup champions, Guelph Biltmores; Toronto Marlboros, Toronto St. Michaels, Barrie Flyers, Windsor Spitfires, Kitchener Greenshirts, Galt Black Hawks, St. Catharine Teepees and Oshawa Generals.

During the heavy interlocking schedule the O.H.A. entries will meet Quebec Citadels, Three Rivers Reds, Montreal Canadiens, and Montreal Royals in the Quebec Junior Hockey Association.

Barrie Whips Galt

Three games ushered in the O.H.A. season last night. Kitchener Greenshirts thrashed out a 3-2 overtime tie with the Biltmores at Guelph. Toronto St. Michaels put a damper on St. Catharines' home opener at the Falls by trouncing the Flyers whipped Galt Black Hawks 7-3 at the latter home town.

Orv Tessler, whose contract was in dispute right up to game time, got both Kitchener goals. He had a chance to break a third-period tie on a penalty shot but missed the puck wide of the net.

Ron Murphy and Bill McCreary scored for Biltmores.

St. Michaels broke a 4-4 tie in the second period at St. Catharines for their win despite a strong Tee-Pee attack in the final minutes of the game. Jack Caffrey and Don Logan provided spice for Toronto while Les Duff, Murray Costello and Mike Rathford scored singles.

Teeps scorers were Ian Cushman, Chuck Marshall, Allan Kellog, Ralph Markarian and Brian Cullen.

Many Penalties

At Barrie the Flyers overcame an early two-goal deficit for their 13-3 win. Play was rough with referee Andy Bellmore handing out 24 minors, 12 majors and one 15-minute misconduct penalty.

Don McKenney picked up 15 points for the Flyers as he had a hand in every scoring honors with seven goals and one assist. Johnny Martin, Minden Flyer, Bob Wiley, Fred Pletsch and Ken Collins scored one each.

Jim McBurney slammed home four Galt tallies while singles were made by Ron McDonald, Buddy Horne, Frank Bonello and John Seaver.

Six games are on tap for Thanksgiving week-end. Toronto Marlboros are at Kitchener, St. Catharines at Oshawa, Guelph at Galt and Barrie at Windsor. Sunday Oshawa meets Marlboros and Windsor plays St. Michaels.

The Q.J.H.A. opens its schedule Sunday when Quebec Citadels face Montreal Canadiens and Montreal Royals meet Three Rivers Reds.

Galt Black Hawks open the interlocking schedule at Montreal Oct. 21 when they meet the Canadiens.

Webb Denies Stengel Has Come to Terms

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Del E. Webb, co-owner of New York Yankees, yesterday denied reports that Casey Stengel, Yankee manager, has signed a new two-year contract at a salary ranging from $75,000 to $100,000 a year.

"Those quotes are amusing," he said in an interview. "We haven't even talked to him about it. It's very apparent this is quite a guessing game. It will be handsigned."

Asked if Stengel will get an increase, Webb said:

"That's my business."

Barbara Draws Bigger House As Shows Overlap

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Sonja Henie and her 1953 Ice Revue drew a "good house" Thursday night as it lapped over into the run of Barbara Ann Scott's Hollywood Ice Revue, but the newcomer had the bigger crowd.

Herb Carlin, press representative for Miss Henie, said she played to a 75- to 80-per-cent house. The Butler University Fieldhouse where she is appearing will seat 7,500 to 8,000.

Dick Miller, speaking for the Scott show, said there were 9,000 seated in the big State Fairgrounds Coliseum, which holds 10,500.

The estimates of the press agents did not indicate how many were paid admissions.

Reporters estimated there were about 5,500 at the Barbara Ann show and 4,000 at the Sonja revue.

The box-office hubbub over the ice-skating bloodlets became unavoidable when Miss Henie announced ticket sales were so good she was holding over her show for an added week.

This threw her into direct box office competition with Miss Scott, the Ottawa miss whose revue will show nightly through Oct. 26. Miss Henie started Oct. 9.

Miss Scott replaced Miss Henie last year as the star in the Holiday Ice Revue.

Vancouver Canucks rebounded from their season-opening defeat at Victoria to whip the Cougars 5-1 at Vancouver last night in a Western Hockey League game.

At Edmonton, veteran Johnny Checl scored from a goalmouth scramble in the last two minutes to enable Saskatoon Quakers to salvage a 3-3 tie with Edmonton Flyers in the night's other game.

The tie kept intact the unbeaten record of the Quakers, defending league champions who blitzed crushed Calgary Stampeders 9-0 in their opener. It was the revamped Flyers' debut.

Sports Roundup

BY GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) —The veteran umpire was helping hold up the front of his hotel on Times Square when the night the World Series ended, and we asked him how he had enjoyed working the great classic between the Dodgers and Yanks.

"Enjoy it?" he barked. "Did you ever try standing out there in the sun for seven days at a time without even a drink of water and with a lot of young smart-alecs trying to use you as an alibi because they don't know how to play ball?"

We conceded readily that the experience was one we had missed over the years.

"Not This Muck"

"Well," the arbiter friend said grimly, "you've just lucky and don't know it. These three-hour games are killing me and I'm getting out. There's easier ways of making a living and I've found myself one. I've loved the game a long time, but not that much."

It was suggested that all umpires had been urged to speed up the games, if necessary to crack down hard on the more dilatory managers and pitchers. Were they perhaps partly at fault?

"No," the umpire said. "All of them have really tried to speed them up this season, but we found we were biting our heads against a brick wall . . .

"You can't realize unless you're out there with them every day how many little ornery tricks they have to keep you from laying down a game when their pitcher isn't going too good. A pitcher way they slow it up is by examining the ball. One game I worked we were told they called for the ball 66 times by actual count . . .

"Another thing you might not have noticed is that it's become baseball's standard practice for a batter to step out of the box after every count reaches 2 and 2 on him. It's supposed to throw the pitcher off stride, or something . . .

"The less a pitcher has the more he seems to mix up. If I could have had a couple of years of umpiring where I could call ball and seen what some of these so-called pitchers get by with, I could have hit .400, easy."

Revamped Black Hawks Meet Acid Test Tonight When They Tangle With the Maple Leafs

(By The Canadian Press)

Chicago's revamped Black Hawks meet their acid test tonight when they tackle the Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey League season opener at Toronto gardens. Faces and New York Rangers in the loop's first big week-end.

If the Hawks can continue their good showing after edging Montreal Canadiens 3-2 in a league-opener Friday night—they'll make the fans sit up and take notice.

For Toronto fans tonight will be their first glimpse of winger Cal Gardner in a Maple Leaf uniform. Leafs traded Gardner during the summer. Thursday night he popped in the winning goal against Montreal.

Rallied via Farm

The Hawks will also view one of the biggest reversals of pro hockey. Toronto's lofty sport Harry Lumley, for whom the Leafs traded four players. In Chicago's goal. Al Rollins, one of the traded four, will fight off the onslaughts of his former teammates.

Rollins, no doubt revenge-minded was once touted as the successor to hardy Turk Broda, regular Leaf net-minder. Now he has the backing of a club toughened by a hard pre-season exhibition tour and under a new coach, Sid Abel, a former Detroit star.

Out For Victory

Abel said as a Red Wing that he'd never beat the Leafs than get paid. Tonight may tell the story of how well he has coupled his old feeling to his players.

General M. ager Conn Smythe of the Leafs will be honored at a dinner before tonight's game in recognition of his 27 years with the team.

Tonight's next will defend his pets against New York Rangers at Madison.

In tonight's other games, Detroit Red Wings, winners 3-2 over the Rangers Friday, take on Canadiens at Montreal. Sunday night Canadiens go to Boston Bruins while Toronto meets the Stanley Cup champion Wings.

Sport in Brief

TORONTO (CP)—It was give-away day Saturday at Maple Leaf Gardens, home of Toronto teams in the National Hockey League for 25 years. And the donor was General Manager Conn Smythe who has since minded the blue and white palace since it opened.

He drew 13 number-1 cards. He gave Detroit Red Wings, Montreal Canadiens, Chicago Black Hawks and Boston Bruins playoff spots apiece; the 70-game N.H.L. schedule starts October 16 and March. What about the Leafs and Bill Cook's New York Rangers?

Well, Smythe told a gathering of sports writers and sports broadcasters at his annual early-season press conference, "their future is in doubt."

The Leafs, who made the playoffs last and then went out in four straight in the Stanley Cup semi-finals to the Detroit Wings, have a chance at making the post-season series "if" they can get replacements for the four men traded to the Hawks this autumn for goalkeeper Harry Lumley. And "if" they get five the Leafs are "in."

Toronto opens the season against Chicago Saturday night and Smythe said the club will be with out sight or sound if you were on his 1,200-52 team. "This is probably the biggest turnover any club has made in the history of the game," he added.

He called the Hawks for a play-off spot for two reasons: They are "well balanced with good manpower," and Jim Norris, Jr., the club's new owner is "a keen sportsman who loves the league and he won't be content with a poor club."

Hawks started in the right direction Thursday night when they defeated Detroit 3-2 at Montreal. They're keen collar-dwellers so long that in past years it has been a habit to have them on sixth place in pre-season predictions.

TORONTO (CP)—The University of Toronto's intermediate football team opened the intercollegiate season yesterday by trouncing Guelph's Ontario Agricultural College 44-12.

The Aggies jumped to a first-quarter touchdown lead when Wayne Gretzky went off tackle from the Varsity 10 and Dave Francis converted. Al Silva of the Blues scored a field goal and a single in the first quarter.

Varsity led 12-12 at half time on two touchdowns by Don Cheesman. Ridgen scored their second major when Doug Kincaid went over from the Varsity five. Dave Francis converted.

In the second half the Blues scored five touchdowns, converting three, and Micked a single while keeping the Aggies scoreless.

GUELPH (CP)—Guelph Collegiate-Vocational Institute yesterday won both ends of a Western Ontario Secondary Schools Football doubleheader from Brantford Collegiate Institute. The Guelph seniors won 25-0; the juniors 16-7.

The G.C.V.I. seniors, spurred by quarterback Bill Weber and his brother, Dick, running from the half slot, rolled up 23 points in a driving first half.

Fresse, Northmore and Dick Weber scored the majors.

The juniors got off to a flying start with Evans grabbing a touchdown after only three minutes of play. Brantford bounced back with McCormick scoring around right end. Then, late in the second quarter, Evans scampered 43 yards for his second touchdown.

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton's junior Tiger-Cats nailed down their sixth consecutive Interprovincial championship last night, coming from behind to edge the second-place Toronto Parkdale Lions 9-7.

The same two teams will meet in a home-and-home series and after Hamilton finishes out the string at Brantford next Wednesday.

TORONTO (CP)—The Globe and Mail says today an Ontario-Quebec senior soccer league has been proposed for next season by senior team heads in Montreal.

The story says that four officials of the Province of Quebec Football Association met with committees recently with Arthur Arnold, chairman, and Bill Simpson, Secretary of the Ontario Football Association.

All-Star Game On January 10

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The third annual pro bowl All-Star football game will be played Jan. 10, 1953, at Los Angeles, it was announced today.

The American Conference won the first game 28-27 and the National Conference took last year's game 30-13.

27 Amateur Heavyweights Ready for White Hope Tourney

TORONTO (CP) — Twenty-seven Canadian amateur heavyweights with stars in their eyes and—their boxing dynamite in their mitts, will shut it out here next Thursday in Jack Dempsey's third "White Hope" boxing tournament. The former heavy champion will be around to view the mauling.

The winner, after the three-round elimination bouts, will receive $300, ringside seat for the all-star card and a crack at bigger things in the flatic world.

"This is the only way to inject new blood into the heavyweight division," Dempsey said yesterday.

"Out of these tournaments will come some young fellows whom we can develop into a real title contender. Look what we have in the heavyweight division now — Joe Rocky Marciano. He's 28 and in two or three years he'll be ready to be beaten. Some of your young fellows by that time might—be ready to turn the trick."

"A million dollars to the man who makes good" is the slogan of Dempsey co-promoter Frank Tunney of Toronto. They've received entries from Fredericton, N.B., to Toronto—guys who have never fought for money and who probably wouldn't know a right cross from a left hook.

Preliminary entry is Bob O'Rec, 21-year-old inside with Toronto Rotary Beach of the Ontario Rugby Football Union. Bob is six feet one inch tall and weighs 205 pounds.

Many Hopefuls

Others are from Montreal, Ottawa, Niagara Falls, Toronto, Hamilton, Sarnia, London and Timmins.

Entries include: Tex McEwan, Frank Dedio and John Kelly, Niagara Falls; Gene Hunks, Hamilton; Phil Simpson, Sarnia, and Bobby Hesson, London.

Only one non-Ontario entry of Winnipeg—has made good in the three previous tournaments. Zastre won in 1949 and now is Canadian light-heavyweight titleholder. The last tournament was held in December, 1951, and was won by Al Hogan of Toronto. Also recruited to the promoters, has made $3,000 by his fists since then.

Sport From Britain

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Victory over John Arlia—Bobby Locke, one of golfdom's all-time greats, has been realized by 1,641 United Kingdom divot-diggers.

They are the proud survivors of an original field of more than 25,000 shotsmiths in the champion's challenge event, introduced this year.

For Locke, current holder of the British and French Open golf titles, the competition marked the successful launching of a long-range scheme for advancement of golf around the world by introducing the game into the curriculum of British schools.

"I Was Taught

The terms of the challenge were simple. Locke, playing from a handicap of plus two, undertook to play on a model round of 18 holes over any designated course against the scores, less official club handicaps, of those contributing an entry fee of about 35 cents. Competitors were granted unrestricted choice of courses and allowed to test their skill against the champion as often as they were ready to put the cash on the line during the two-day tournament.

Locke played his test round over Surrey's windy Wentworth course. Although handicapped by a steady drizzle and below his usual form on the putting greens, the stocky little South African checked in with a three-under-par 69. With his plus two handicap he set up a target of 71 for his army of opponents.

Among the 1,641 winners receiving an "I beat Locke" autographed certificate were schoolboy Agecs nine, a 75-year-old veteran of the Boks and 94 women.

Handsome Returns

The enthusiastic response to Bobby's challenge brought in about $8,000 which has been turned over to an organization to be known as the British Golfing Foundation, headed by Raymond Oppenheimer, captain of the Walker Cup team, and Henry Cotton, three times winner of the British Open.

Henry Cotton, closely associated with the scheme, said the foundation is a non-profit-making concern which will seek co-operation from golfers generally as well as the trade.

"It is not our idea that golf should supplant cricket and football but rather that it should become a supplementary sport in the schools," Cotton said.

And all this because he had kept his word. All because he had promised his Scottish bride that her home in the Canadian wilderness would be as comfortable, as convenient, as money could make it. For Colly McKee was a wealthy man, wealthy with the wealth he had to earn one dollar off his estate. His promise was not difficult for him to keep. Besides the sanctuary, his income tax, the small house on his property, with much to spare.

We will say you ask the source of Colly McKee's great wealth. In brief it was this: His grandfather, Donald McKee, the highly paid, square-man factor of the Hudson Bay post, had been a frugal man. What he had amassed was in cash. That cash had been passed on to the only son, Angus, not that the son had ever needed any start, for Angus McKee, the half-breed, had been a born trader, a born dealer, a born...with a fortune-sense of values. Born at Hudson Bay post, Angus McKee had grown up in the fur trade...but he had never confined himself entirely to that one business. After his father and mother had died, and the post had been closed, Angus McKee was on Lac Petit in his canoe. The Indians had told him about the lake to the river shore. He had at once been attracted by the possibilities of Lac for a trading post of his own. He had done some scrubbing on the north shore, followed the old trail north to the landing, followed it back to the lake and by that time the silver had been made up for him. All this north lake-shore property for a considerable distance back from the trail was acquiring about it, why not add the exclusive trade by the unharnessed water power in the river at the end of the lake? Angus had had the water power-that-be in Quebec City and he had secured what he wanted, deeds and water rights and all, for a nominal sum in hard cash. He had built his trading post, he was to do a thriving business. Back to Belleville to the city, brought back his stores, his bed, pots to Ontario and brought back a wife, a wife who had become a good business woman, a woman who had inherited his affairs when he'd been away. For he had been much away. The big black-bearded man with the fur cap and coat and high shoepacks had been a familiar winter sight in such places as Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec City. Angus McKee got around. But even then you might wonder how anyone could such a rich estate as Angus McKee did in a part of the country where there were wild animals that human beings. But, then, you didn't know Angus McKee, didn't know how wise he was to grab up whole blocks of valuable timber, didn't know that timber for a higher price to lumber companies, didn't know that the power rights on the Petit River below the lake had brought him a tidy sum when the Payettes had come looking for a site for their sawmill; didn't know that when gold and silver was discovered in the northern part of the province, he had been there to invest heavily in the better prospects. Of course, Angus McKee made money— lots of money—he couldn't have made money the way he did?

But despite his uncanny ability to accumulate wealth, Angus McKee had never permitted money-making to blind him to one sober fact: Much of his rich estate had been paid from furs, and the fur bearing animals were rapidly disappearing. Why put furs his property into a wild life sanctuary, where man would never be permitted to hunt or trap, a sanctuary which would be carried on by his son, Colin, who, since he was little interested in furs or business, required something to keep him occupied, something to keep in the McKee family. But Angus McKee had left other things, too, as a reminder that he had not sold himself to the Dollar God. His money had built the first small Protestant building in the village provided it with an organ, and a burial ground long before the French Catholics had built their stone church. By chance he had travelled much since, exhumed the bodies of his father and mother from the lonely plot near the Hudson Bay post, and with his own hands had reinterred them in the new burial ground, the burial ground at Lac Petit village where he had placed his wife, where his own remains were taken during the First World War, when his only son Colin was overseas.

Angus McKee had been aged in body, though comparatively young in years when his son had gone to war, and although they had known in parting that they would probably never meet again it had been the wish of the father that he and should go. At twenty-two Colly didn't have to be persuaded, he was ready for anything, for the day he departed, the son to take...with him his old grandfather's "charm"—a silver ring with a blue stone inset which was the property of a Scottish bride. With Colly was to do.

The old log buildings on Lac Petit, in a bad state of disrepair during the war years, were reoccupied for three long years, had not been a very appealing sight to a Scots-born city girl when she and her husband had arrived after the war. But the former Flora Stuart had been a practical person, and she hadn't complained. Her husband had promised her a new home and she had been satisfied that she would get it if she were patient. She had made the best of the situation, the white old log building, except the stable, had been razed, removed, and their new home built. And when this was done, she had been given indeed of her own. And well she might be. There wasn't anything like it outside the big Ontario cities. A nature lover, an artist of no mean ability, the sanctuary had grown on her as an ideal place to widen her scope, to develop her varied talent. In the home itself she had proved herself to be an excellent housekeeper, a singer with a rich soprano voice. Add to that, that she had been an excellent housekeeper and had worshipped her husband, as he had worshipped her, and had been thely with that they would have a son to carry on the name McKee—the sanctuary but that with her child never being out of her sight, to settle for a daughter, albeit, a daughter who was everything her mother was at the same age, a daughter she must educate, since there were no schools in the area, a daughter who must proceed to an Ontario girls' school to finish her education, to travel from her father to a city hospital as nurse from her graduation to return to the sanctuary, to be with her mother to the end.

THE GREATEST GAMBLER IN THE WORLD!!
If you were asked to bet several thousand dollars on a turn of a card or to take such a gamble in any game of chance you would probably refuse.
"A terrific gamble", you would say. You know that you cannot afford to take such a risk. And yet, when you drive your automobile and do not carry adequate insurance — what then?
It takes years to accumulate a home and savings, but it takes only seconds when you have an accident and have inadequate or no insurance to lose them.
CAN YOU AFFORD TO TAKE THIS GAMBLE?

Turkey Buzzard Caught in Trap At Codrington

CAMPBELLFORD — Harry Rayner of Codrington, had a real puzzler on his hands early this week when he went to inspect a trap he had set for a wolf on his farm. Rayner found a huge bird of a type he had never seen before, caught by one leg. He killed the bird and showed it to friends none of whom knew what it was.

Mr. Rayner took the big bird to Ted Mound, manager of the Government Fish Hatchery at Codrington, located about a half mile from his farm. Mr. Mound identified the bird positively as a turkey buzzard, a type of scavenger rarely found in this country.

The bird had a wing-spread of six feet two inches. It had tried to take a dead chicken from the trap. Mr. Rayner had caught a wolf in the same trap a week previously.

The Turkey Buzzard is seldom seen north of Maryland or Virginia, and just how this bird got so far off course is not known. They are birds of prey and have long talons. The feathers on their legs are quite stiff and protrude from the legs. Sharp spurs help the bird to hang onto its prey.

AGAINST FILM CODE

HOME, (AP)— Film producer David O. Selznick said last night he believed the Hollywood production code, under which American films are censored voluntarily, has outlived its usefulness. "Motion pictures are entitled to the same treatment of expression as the press, for instance," Selznick said at press conference. Selznick is in Rome to produce a film.

TOSSES CHILDREN OUT

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A mother tossed two infants from a second-storey window into the arms of a man passing by last night as fire threatened her apartment. Mrs. Ofine Welch, 30, threw her two children, Otis, two weeks old, and Roger, 22 months, to Peter N. Lividas, 31. Lividas and another man then got a ladder and brought Mrs. Welch to safety.

Ontario Fish Eaters Reject Trout for Cod

TORONTO (CP)— Ontario fish eaters are rejecting their province's lake trout and whitefish for east-coast cod.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics says lake fish consumption is 25 per cent of the total compared with about 50 per cent before 1939.

"Lake fish have pretty well priced themselves out of the market," a Toronto dealer said. "East-coast cod fillets retail at 45 to 49 cents a pound whereas lake trout sell about 69 cents a pound. And the cod is all edible while the consumer buys trout with head, bones, skin and scales."

The bureau reported a total lake fish catch of 10,961,000 pounds, worth $2,797,000 in the first seven months this year. In the same period last year the catch was 12,247,000 pounds worth $2,852,000.

The whitefish catch declined more than 200,000 pounds and lake trout 182,000 pounds.

U.N. Hurls Biggest Attack In Almost Year At Reds

Chinese Knocked Off Two Knobs of Important Hill

SEOUL (AP) — The Allies' heaviest attack in nearly a year knocked Chinese Reds off two knobs of Triangle Hill on the central Korean front today.

Seven hours after the U. N. troops jumped off on their big attack, they were inching slowly toward the crest behind a curtain of artillery and tank fire. Chinese atop the 1,500-foot hill rolled boulders and hand grenades down the slopes.

Two miles east of Triangle, other U.N. soldiers attacked a second 1,209-foot hill.

The twin peaks anchor the east-ern base of the so-called Communist iron triangle south of the Pyongyang area. A U.S. Eighth Army officer described them as "very hard-strong outpost positions outside the normal Chinese main line of resistance." He emphasized they were not part of the main Chinese line.

About 17 miles to the west, south Korean soldiers pushed ahead stoutly in an attack to drive Chinese Communists from their last hills that hold up the Heart Mountain. The Reds held desperately to two knobs about 2,000 yards east of the line.

The fighting on White Horse has raged for eight days and has cost the Chinese an estimated 10,000 casualties.

Allied planes pounded the Chinese.

Associated Press Correspondent Merle Miller reports from the front that Allied planes and ground soldiers were brightly colored cloth crosses on their backs. They also reported their progress so that artillery soldiers could keep a non-stop barrage "walking" ahead of the troops.

Allied planes raided a Communist-held gunsafe factory near the East Korean city of Hungnam on Monday and set off a great explosion. The Far East Air Forces report.

Air Force Denies Russian Charges

TOKYO (AP)—Far East Air Forces headquarters yesterday denied the Russian charges that a U.S. B-29 bomber had been shot down when it disappeared with an eight-man crew last Tuesday off northern Japan.

A spokesman said the missing Superfort "carried only guns and gunners."

A Soviet note to the United States, protesting an alleged violation of Russian territory in the Far East, said Soviet pilots had shot down an American bomber before it disappeared in the direction of the sea."

Sheriff's Cottage Used to Cache Stolen Goods

PARY SOUND (CP)—Two boys who broke out of a training school at Bowmanville and established themselves in Sheriff J.E. Armstrong's cottage have been apprehended in Toronto after barely in time to save his life.

One of the boys, from Windsor, was taken to hospital with blood poisoning in his arm and side. Attendants said it would have been fatal in another 36 hours.

HAMILTON GIRL NAMED IN U.S. MURDER CASE

Court Says Man Killed Wife for Love of Woman

BALTIMORE (AP) — The state today accused George Edward Grammer of killing his wife because he was in love with a 26-year-old Canadian secretary at the United Nations headquarters in New York.

State's attorney Anselm Sodaro in his opening statement identified the secretary as Miss Mathilda Mitzbrocky. Her relatives live in Hamilton, Ont.

Grammer, 35, formerly of Baltimore but for the last two years office manager for a New York metals firm, is charged with killing his wife "with malice aforethought" last Aug. 26.

Listed as Accident

Mrs. Dorothy May Grammer, 33, died of illness, was found in her car at the 'end of a hill near the entrance of Baltimore. She was dead on arrival at hospital. The death was listed as an accident but later investigation brought a murder charge against her husband.

Sodaro told Judge Herman M. Moser that Grammer registered with a false name in November, 1951, in New York City.

Miss Mitzbrocky had not been formally identified as a witness. When she appeared to testify before the Baltimore grand jury, she was labelled as the "woman in the red hat."

Sodaro said that Miss Mitzbrocky would testify Grammer spent so much time with her that it never occurred to her he could be a married man, nor did Grammer reveal that he was married."

Sodaro said that during the latter part of July Grammer boasted he was to take a business trip to Denver, Colo. The lawyer added:

"Evidence will be produced to show that Grammer registered himself and Miss Mitzbrocky as Mr. and Mrs. Grammer at the Edgewater Beach hotel on July 29 and they stayed together as man and wife until Aug. 4, at which time Grammer proceeded by plane to his business in Denver and Miss Mitzbrocky proceeded by plane to her home in Canada."

Sodaro said witnesses have been listed to testify in the case. Grammer was indicted on the grand jury two weeks after his wife's death.

Fatalities Top 60-Mark On Holiday Week-end

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Indian Summer weather that lured Canadians by the thousand out to enjoy the last long week-end before winter was a factor in many violent deaths. The toll reached 62 as the Thanksgiving holiday closed.

Ontario recorded 20 violent deaths — 16 in traffic accidents — while Quebec was chosen by 14 others. Alberta with six, British Columbia, Manitoba and New Brunswick had five each, while Saskatchewan counted four, Nova Scotia two and Prince Edward Island one.

Thirty-seven persons died in traffic accidents, three persons in fires, eight were drowned and 12 met their deaths through other causes.

Two triple fatalities headlined traffic deaths in Ontario. A two-car crash near Norwood took the lives of Mrs. Peter Enns, 26, of St. Catharines, W.E. Harrington, 61, and Steven Hourigan, 78, his cousin both of Trenton.

At Woodridge, near Toronto, a truck smashed into a stalled truck taking the lives of Mrs. Helen Sopuszynski, 37, of Pembroke and Henry Cronkrite, 36, all of Meadowvale.

Other Ontario traffic deaths included Pte. James McCloskey, 28, of Mimico; Mrs. Verna Mole, 43, of Toronto; Horance Mills of Kingsville; Mrs. Clarence Hall of Wellesville, near Simcoe; Barbara and Marjorie Lambert, aged three and six, of Sarnia; Romeo Landry of Almonte district; Armand Bunelle, 30, of Caledonia; Mrs. Ethel Robinson; Gerard Bernard, 41, Stanford Township near Niagara Falls and George Beito, 22, of Mildmay.

Ontario was also the scene of two fire deaths at Collette and Robert Hebert, aged seven and five, burned to death in their Sudbury home. Two drownings were reported from Pembroke where Stanley Stokkiss, 38, of Douglas was found in the Bonnechere River and Robert Cox, 18, of Ottawa, in Mud Lake.

Quebec's six deaths were of two fire deaths at Collette and Robert Hebert, aged seven and five, burned to death in their Sudbury home. Two drownings were reported from Pembroke where Stanley Stokkiss, 38, of Douglas was found in the Bonnechere River and Robert Cox, 18, of Ottawa, in Mud Lake.

James Thompson, Trenton, Injured While Hunting

James Thompson, 23, of nearby Trenton, was seriously wounded yesterday in a hunting accident near Cooper, about 25 miles north of here.

Police said Thompson was sitting down when a companion, mistaking his head for a partridge or ground hog, shot him. Thompson had gone partridge hunting with Glen Groves, 24, of Trenton and Burney Trumble, 23, of Oshawa. Trumble was another who fired at the other two and they sat down to wait for him.

Groves caught Thompson in the right side of his face and neck.

Massey Planning Far-Flung Trip To Visit Out-of-the-Way Places

VANCOUVER (CP) — Some out-of-the-way parts of Canada can expect to see Governor-General Vincent Massey in the months to come.

At a press conference yesterday aboard his train Mr. Massey's future travelling plans were disclosed. He will, at one point, a spokesman said:

"It is His Excellency's hope that in the months to come, he will be able to spend considerable time in out-of-the-way places throughout Canada. He is most anxious to see and meet some people where Governor-General have not gone before.

He is extremely attracted by the greatness of the country and hopes to visit such places as the Caribou country, Akiavik on the Arctic Ocean and, in the eastern-most part of Canada, the outposts of Newfoundland."

Fully recovered from a two-day illness, a throat infection, Mr. Massey today continued his official visit to Vancouver which opened after a civic welcome. He and Mrs. Massey have spent the intervening years in the city.

He says her marriages certificate, signed by the Dean of Metis, is still in existence and adds that evidence exists of a visit by Joan to Orleans in 1439, when she was given 210 gold pounds by the municipality "for her trip to the court during the siege by the English."

Mr. Sodaro adds he declares, is on the records of the city of Tours.

Joan's existence, he says, is recorded as far back as 1443—12 years after her "execution."

Pearson Elected President; General Assembly of U.N. Opens Seventh Session Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—L. B. Pearson, Canada's external affairs minister, was elected president of the seventh session of the United Nations General Assembly which opened today.

Pearson received 51 votes. Another four votes went to Mme. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit of India. Five countries abstained from voting—apparently on the latter.

In a press conference yesterday Pearson said Canada would pursue discussions will be the top problem before the Assembly. But he added that the so-called "colonial" question of Tunisia and Morocco and the racial question in South Africa will be "very difficult" to deal with during the 11-week meeting.

The Big Three western powers were reported split today over the issues of France's North African colonies. The crack in western unity was revealed in moves for that the U. S. delegation, headed by State Secretary Dean Acheson, decided to support a move for full debate on Tunisian and Moroccan complaints against France's rule over them.

Both France and Britain have let it be known that they will oppose putting the Tunisian and Moroccan questions on the agenda. The French also have voiced irritation over the U.S. attitude on colonial questions.

The U.S. will take the initiative in bringing up the Korean war. Acheson is reported ready to urge the Assembly appeal for a democratic acceptance of an armistice at once along the lines proposed by the U.N. Command—that no prisoners of war moment we sent home against their will.

French Historian Claims Joan Was Never Burned at Stake; Thesis Brings Angry Protests

By RUSSEL HOWE

PARIS (Reuters)—A French historian has published a long, learned thesis to prove that Joan of Arc never was burned at the stake and that the English burned a masked "witch" in her place.

Her thesis, which has created a storm of protest in religious world, asserts further that Joan was not born at the national shrine of Domremy, and that she was not called d'Arc.

She was, according to Grimod, the illegitimate daughter of the Duke of Orleans, brother of King Charles VI of France and Isabel of Bavaria.

Saint Joan—she was canonized in 1920—is one of the most revered by Roman Catholics and has been heaped around her statue in Paris as her "mission" which she fulfilled.

Father Donceour, Jesuit expert on St. Joan, speaking to reporters in Orchard's study, described it as "a conspiracy of silence."

Lucien Fabre, author of one of the standard biographies of Joan of Arc, said the thesis was "attractive," but not strictly provable.

Heard Voices

Most historians give the date of Joan's birth as Jan. 15, 1412, and the place as Domremy; hamlet on the border of Champagne and Lorraine.

They agree that in 1428 Joan, saying she was prompted by voices, persuaded the local commander to let her go to the court of Charles VII, at Chinon in Touraine. At Chinon, the Dauphin and his Burgundian allies were in possession of all of France except Brittany, and were besieging Orleans.

Joan raised a company of soldiers to relieve the beleaguered city and, disguised as a page, entered the British army in 1429. Later, she led the Dauphin to be crowned at Rheims. In 1430, Joan's crown was tried on charges of heresy and witchcraft by a court of ecclesiastics.

The generally-accepted version is that she was burned at the stake by the English in the market place in Rouen on May 30, 1431, when she was 19 years old.

Burned Masked Witch

Grimod points to the constant questions of the court concerning Joan's origins and sets out to prove that the English knew of them. Therefore, to avoid burning someone of royal birth, they burned a masked "witch" in her place, he says.

She thus was spared the legendary execution which "is not mentioned in any official, official or official records," the thesis states.

The historian says Joan's cost of living as a child of the French royal family, but bearing the brisure (bar) of a bastard.

Grimod says Joan was married in Luxembourg in 1436 "after her escape from execution," and may have spent the intervening years in the Low Countries.

He says her marriages certificate, signed by the Dean of Metis, is still in existence and adds that evidence exists of a visit by Joan to Orleans in 1439, when she was given 210 gold pounds by the municipality "for her trip to the court during the siege by the English."

Mr. Sodaro adds he declares, is on the records of the city of Tours.

Joan's existence, he says, is recorded as far back as 1443—12 years after her "execution."

Third racing victim was Harry Elgie, 50, of Exeter, who suffered elbow injuries when his car was struck by another at the Nilles town races.

Customs Officer Pleads Guilty To Smuggling

DETROIT (CP)—A Canadian customs officer, Stanley Carley of Windsor, pleaded guilty yesterday to charges of smuggling aliens into the United States in the trunk of his automobile.

Carley, 46, was arrested Friday charged with smuggling seven persons who paid him $100 each into the U.S. at the Ambassador Bridge where he had been employed by the customs service.

Judge Thomas Thornton placed Carley under $5,000 bond and ordered him to the court probation officer for a report before sentence. Maximum penalty under an alien carries a maximum term of five years.

Frank Horvyak, chief of the U.S. border patrol, said Carley admitted smuggling more than 100 persons into the U.S. and five others of Greek or Italian nationality into Detroit.

110th and 111th Victims of Wreck Die in Hospital

HARROW, England (AP) — The 110th and 111th victims of the triple train crash in the main railroad station here last Wednesday died in a hospital today.

One was a man apparently 65 to 70 years old — still unidentified.

The Queen had her first look today at the scene of the disaster. She and Prince Philip toured through the wrecked suburban station, 10 miles northwest of London, en route from Balmoral Castle, Scotland, where members of the royal family have been vacationing.

Talking to railroad officials, the Queen said: "It's wonderful how quickly you have got things right again." Except for the smashed locomotive the crash scene has been cleared of debris.

Police said that on direct traffic from the fair, had to pry the injured out of the wreckage. Three ambulances were called to take them to hospital.

Slashed, Battered Body Of Woman Found In Don R.

Throat Cut from Ear to Ear, Jugular Vein Pierced

TORONTO (CP) — The slashed and battered body of a woman about six-years-old was found floating face down today in the Don River in east-central Toronto. Police described it as "a case of murder most likely done with a carving knife."

The woman, so far unidentified, had her throat cut from ear to ear and her jugular vein pierced. Police said there were bruises and other cuts over the rest of the body.

Chief coroner Smirle Lawson described it as "the work of a madman." He said the woman was killed within the last 36 hours.

Thrown From Bridge

Police said the woman may have been murdered in a house "some time last night." Then she was stripped of her clothes and thrown from the bridge to the river 40 feet below.

Inspector Sam Johnson said "she was certainly hacked up."

Her throat is almost cut away and her stomach was ripped open by some sharp knife," he said.

Police said the woman was an Indian and had been seen in the Toronto east-end area. She is known as "Cabbagetown." They hope to identify her in a matter of hours.

New Broadway Play Is Drama In Dream World

By MARK BARON

NEW YORK (AP) — With metaphysical overtones which at times make it appear to be a drama in the world, Ugo Betti's "The night when it had its premiere at the Ethel Barrymore Theatre with Judith Drake as star and co-author.

Already acclaimed in European and South American theatres, "The Gambler" is a story of a group of newly-married people who try to explain why they do or do not feel certain things in accordance with the accepted customs of their daily lives.

The play is a brilliant tour-de-force for Drake, not only for his performance in the lead, but also for the adaptation he made in collaboration with Edward Kagey from Betti's original.

56 Canadian-Built Sabre Jets Take Over in France

GROS-TENQUIN, France (CP)—Jet fighter units of the R. C. A. F. have officially taken over their operational role in the air defence of Western Europe under N.A.T.O.

The aircraft, 56 Canadian-built Sabre jets, landed on Gros-Tenquin's 1½-mile concrete airstrip Saturday, after a mass flight of more than 3,000 miles in easy stages across the North Atlantic. Known as operation "Leap Frog Two," it was the first large-scale movement of its kind attempted by the R.C.A.F.

Arrival of the Canadian airmen at Gros-Tenquin, about 50 miles from Germany's southwestern border, marked the first time a wing has operated on the continent under the "one country" plan in the Second World War the largest Canadian formation was a squadron.

The Canadian wing is now greeted by George P. Vanier, Canada's ambassador to France, distinguished representatives of the French government as well as top level officers of the Canadian and Allied higher commands.

First to be greeted were Wing Cmdr. J. E. F. Sutherland of Bellaford, Sask., in charge of No. 439 squadron, which had its Canadian training bases at North Bay.

Three other airfields are being constructed on the continent by Canada to accommodate additional squadrons of the Canadian Division. The Canadian units will form part of the Fourth Allied Tactical Air Force, which also embraces the 12th United States Air Force and the 1st French Air Division.

Much remains to be done before the progress of construction and installation at Gros-Tenquin is completed. When the fighter squadrons arrived Saturday the airfield had the appearance of a giant construction camp, with a large force of several hundred Frenchmen and Algerian ranking work on metal pre-fabricated staff buildings, administrative units, hangars and a network of roads and runways.

F. D. Diamond, Lifelong Citizen Of Belleville, Dies

A highly respected and lifelong resident of this city in the person of Fred Davey Diamond, died at his home 320 Pinnacle Ave., on Saturday. Mr. Diamond was actively connected in his younger life with the city's business, church and business life of this city. For many years he has been living retired. He enjoyed a wide circle of friends who will sincerely regret his death. The funeral was held this Tuesday afternoon from Bridge Street United Church with interment in the family plot of Belleville cemetery.

He was born in Belleville, 81 years ago, being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Jeffers Diamond and has resided in this city all his life. After receiving his education in the public and high school he entered business and for a number of years was tax collector for the corporation after which he was appointed master of weights and Measures for the federal government, a position he held until his retirement in 1945. He was a member of Bridge Street United Church and held many offices in that congregation.

Fraternally he took an active part in the Masonic Order, being a life member of all organizations with which he was affiliated. He was a member and past master of Eureka Lodge No. 235 AF and AM, a past district deputy grand master of the Blue Lodge, a member of Quinte Friendship Chapter R.A.M. No. 227 and a member of King Baldwin Preceptory No. 6. In that order he was elected to the highest position in the gift of the members, being elected Grand Master of The Grand Council Priory of Canada in 1940. He was the Grand Treasurer of the Priory for many years and Registrar of King Baldwin Preceptory for many years. He was known throughout Canada for his interest in the Great Priory.

Surviving are one son, Wellington Clarke Diamond of Hamilton, one daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Brandenburgh at home and one grandson, Davey Albert Brandenburgh of this city.

Belleville Y's Men turned out to their regular Thursday evening dinner October 9, and completed formulation of the groundwork necessary for one of this city's major Service Club projects—the annual Radio Auction. Under the skilled generalship of Archie Boyd, Y's Men will for the fifth consecutive year present the popular Radio Auction to the air audience over Station CHAY Monday evening, November 17.

Seated at the head table were special guests Messrs. A. Mazer and M. J. Bradden of Mazer's Jewellery Ltd. Guest speaker and prominent citizen, 'Abe' Mazer came to Belleville in 1945 to establish an industry whose manufacturing products have gained continental recognition.

After being introduced by George Wonnacott, Mr. Mazer's address, pin-pointed with philosophy and the evolution in the costume jewellery field from the original prize in the pop-corn box to the present days artistic masterpieces seen in Vogue or Harpers Bazaar. A firm believer in the time tested states that 'one man is worth a 1,000 words, Mr. Mazer invited the entire group out to the Avon plant. There he and Mr. Bradden personally conducted the Y's Men on an interesting and educational tour that highlighted the evening. The sincere appreciation of the club members was tendered to Mr. Mazer and Mr. Bradden by Y's Man Archie Boyd.

In the afternoon of the same day, the congregation of St. Margaret's-on-the-Hill, Belleville, gathered to witness and participate in a confirmation service. A goodly number turned out, and the choir was at almost full strength under the direction of Mr. Alf Evans, in spite of the holiday week-end. Twelve adults and four teen-agers were presented for confirmation: Adults being Mr. and Mrs. S. Sillitoe, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Spring, Mr. and Mrs. C. Brown, Mr. J. Bennett, Mr. John Grimsby, Mrs. R. Following the service, a reception was sponsored by the St. John's Guild and St. Margaret's Guild, under the convenership of Mrs. A. Watson and Mrs. H. M. Putman, which afforded the members of the congregation a fine opportunity to meet their bishop.

COLORING MAGNIFICENT

Nature's paint brush is again at work in the forests of Ontario and almost overnight a magic transformation has taken place. The annual autumn coloration that never fails to awe visitors from other lands and, indeed, ourselves, is at its best and wooded slopes and valleys throughout the district make a truly magnificent picture that no human brush could capture.

We often wonder how it all happens and while it may come as a surprise to many, most authorities agree that it isn't due to frost. The key to the mystery is the breaking down of chlorophyll, the life-giving substance that gives leaves their green color and acts with sunlight to produce food during the spring and summer months. According to author Rutherford Platt in his book, "This Green World," the formation of certain colorless cells at the point where the base of the leaf attaches to the twig blocks off the supply of water causing the chorophyll to break down.

When the green mask is gone, pigments such as carotin and xanthophyll present in the leaf, show through in their various hues and shades accounting for the beautiful orange coloration in maple and pure yellows in birch. A sugar chemical, anthocyanin, colors the cell sap red or purple depending on the presence of acids or alkalis, like litmus paper, and so we see some lovely deep shades of red in oak trees and mauve and purple tints in ash. Another color, the tan brown left on beech and oak is frequently due to the presence of tannin.

The weather undoubtedly plays a part in the coloring process. Shorter hours of sunlight and longer temperatures seem to intensify coloration. Cool nights, red and anthocyanin develops best when the light intensity is greatest so that bright clear fall days bring out the greatest brilliance.

THERE ARE OTHER WAYS

Many will agree with the English vicar who had the courage a few days ago to state his opinion that sending floral tributes to the funeral of a friend is just so much waste of money.

It was interesting to note that within a day or so of this appearance of this dispatch the report of the funeral of the Honorable Leighton McCarthy, first Canadian ambassador to the United States, carried the information that at Mr. McCarthy's request there were no flowers. He had asked that his friends make a contribution to the poliomyelitis fund instead of sending floral tributes.

We recall having read some years ago that in one of the Scandinavian countries — we have forgotten which one — it has become a national custom to pay one's respect to the dead by a somewhat similar practice. The money that was formerly spent for flowers is forwarded to a fund for the maintenance of the aged and infirm.

These are worthy and sensible gestures. Certainly there are many occasions when nothing is more appropriate or more happily received than flowers. There are times when nothing else conveys a greeting or a sentiment in the same personal way. Yet we have become slaves to a convention that has practically degenerated into a race for the dead — surely the most absurd of all polite amenities.

How it came about in the first place we have not been able to discover. We are quite sure it is not an idea that was fostered by florists and while the abandonment would undoubtedly mean a loss of revenue to them we doubt that it would cripple the industry.

There are so many good reasons and so many occasions for "saying it with flowers" that we must concur with the vicar that their use in such an empty gesture as a tribute to the dead is indeed a waste of money.

DESERT FOX IN GERMANY

German critics have welcomed The Desert Fox, the Hollywood movie that played Canadian and American theatres making a hero out of the Nazi general. The Germans like the movie because it is said it "the first picture since the end of the war which was shot in one of the victorious countries and which shows German soldiers and officers not as criminals and murderers but as decent people."

German propagandists would like the movie to be seen by everyone.

Hollywood minds work in strange ways. They have made a hero out of one of Hitler's thugs. Maybe they can do one showing Stalin as a gentle baby-sitter. — (Windsor Star.)

THE CHECK-ROOM LINE

When ands some brilliant affair,
Of all the several hundred there
Why must this be the fate of mine:
"Last always in the check-room line!"

All life's various frets and things
Finish with at times vexation
The one I dread the most is that Long trip I've got to get my coat and hat.

How far away the smiling face
Of her who runs the checking place!
How long they to coats and shine,

And parcels check-room girls can't find
Delaying all who wait behind.
How all detest that thoughtless one
Who stays in line his coat to don.

I'm sure I could be home before
I get my raiment back once more.
The hour is late; the line is long;
weary of feast and speech and song

I vow when next I'm banquet fed
I'll enter coatless, bare of head
Go without rubbers, rain or

The Civil Servant

(Ottawa Journal)

Ottawa, with so many Civil Servants as her citizens, is familiar with tests about the alleged ease and security of employment in the Government service. We had thought this badinage did no harm and left no bruises, but Mr. B. G. Sullivan, Ontario regional supervisor of National Unemployment Insurance, forces us to look more closely at Civil Service sensibilities.

Mr. Sullivan reported that a questionnaire distributed by government employers in Toronto revealed that 22 percent, wished to be known as other than "Civil Servant" because of constant criticism and of being called loafers, clock watchers, and bureaucrats.

Evidently, incredible as it may seem, it behoves those in daily contact with the Civil Service to say a word, to state the obvious, and to reassure those who think that their service to the state is not appreciated.

Ottawa knows better than any other city in Canada that the good Civil Servant gives to his duty loyalty, diligence and ability. The Journal, confesses to hearing stories that some stenographers sleep under hot knitted sweaters in inactive offices, day in and day out, but we think that such cases, although such a spectacle would make the news item seek its niche with the news lighted in Government buildings and men we know at work when their counterparts in industry and business rest by the fire.

We contribute to the flow of inquiries and grievances which labor the doors of Government departments by saying nothing but courtesy. We see criticism taken in good humor and we see the modest impatient public given satisfaction.

We are sure that every Civil Servant is a model of all the virtues and we are sure that they are better than any other group of men and women. But we are convinced that the Civil Service employees at large have an envious solid, pride in the Canada they seek to serve, a recognition that the nation and its government is judged by them, an understanding that the work they do must be in accord with democracy, a realisation that in doing their job well they are building for a future Canada and an indifference will not live to see.

And when there are comments that Civil Servants are better treated than some other sections of the community, when people look, hours of work or in any other way, we recall the wise words of Richard Barter: "If you would have good servants, see that you be good masters."

Forgotten Celebration

(By Arthur Ford in the London Express)

Here is a story of a banquet which never came off. The Liberals in Fredericton, New Brunswick, were so confident of winning in the recent provincial election that the banquet hall in the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel was engaged for the evening of the day after the election celebration. The victory banquet was to start at 8 o'clock sharp. The chairs were all arranged, the table cloths laid and the flowers put out.

But the banquet never took place at the hotel. For the Liberals lost. Long before 9.30 it was evident that the Conservatives had swept the province. No one turned up. The food was never brought out and the banquet manager after waiting for an hour or so for the Liberals, locked the doors and went home.

In the meantime the Conservatives found that they had won the hall. They opened the doors and joyfully celebrated at the banquet table, drinking for their opponents until the early morning hours.

To Revive Dead Tongue

(The Manchester Guardian)

To revive the Cornish language, which died a natural death in the 18th century, seems one of the least fruitful objects of human endeavor. But it has its devotees, and steady if not widespread progress was reported to the Celtic Congress meeting this year in the Isle of Man. The revival began in 1900, and now, the congress was told, there are about 50 Cornish speakers, plus three families learning to speak from scratch. At this rate Cornwall will be Cornish-speaking again about AD 16700. One may question whether the attempt is well advised.

The gentle purpose of the Celtic Congress is, as a Scottish delegate said, "to unite all the known Celtic nations" in order to maintain their inherent qualities." Something of value would do much to promote their mutual awareness and their defense from pressure by the brash non-Celtic world. But to maintain a dead tongue has been rarely calculated to divide rather than to unite. If the Celts could agree on one language, or perhaps two at most (to give both Brython and Gaelic a chance), they would be getting somewhere.

The effort to revive the long-defunct Cornish tongue prompts the suspicion that its practitioners first and foremost delight in their awards. ✍

Hidden Payrolls

(Time Magazine)

For every dollar paid out in wages last year, U.S. manufacturers paid another 18.4 cents in fringe benefits and non-manufacturing companies paid 16.2 cents. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce said last week. This "hidden payroll" included vacations, free meals, terminal pay, pensions and profit-sharing. Said Chamber Economist Economic Research Director, Dr. Harold Boyd Price: "Fringe benefits now are $25 billion a year. In a survey of 736 companies, Chamber found that fringe-benefit expenditures averaged $644 per employee per year before Dec. 1. Small companies are not included in the Bureau of Labor Statistics wage figures, Schmidt said they should be, because "... wage rates include no allowance for the cost of hiring labor...."

Cocktails For Flies

(News Chronicle, London)

British scientists are seeking to lower the questions of how low can a fly drink, where does it go, and why? To help answer the questions, British scientists have enlisted the aid of 200,000 unsuspecting bluebottle flies.

Before being released, the flies intended to start the first cocktail party at Britain's atomic centre at Harwell, are fed on a drink of radio-active "cocktail" that was brewed for them in the Harwell laboratories. Then they were released from a bomb in the shape of a bluebottle at Islington.

Traps, baited with bits of raw liver, have been set up within a three-mile radius of the research centre, where they will be usually congregate. Flies caught in the traps are taken to the Pest Infestation Laboratory where they are examined for radio activity and tested with a geiger counter. The insects that attended the festivities at Harwell are detected by the geiger counters.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ROCK OR SAND?

Jesus ended the Sermon on the Mount with what is known as a peroration, that is, a summoning up or endorsement of all he had been saying previously.

Mark these words: "Whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon the rock: and the rains descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house, and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock. And everyone that heareth these sayings of mine and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a man, which built his house upon the sand: and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it."

How are you building? This is the most important question that you and I will ever confront. For we are not alone in this world. We do not live in a vacuum. Whether we like it or not, we are all in the same boat. Whether we believe it or not, we are all in the same world. Whether we realize it or not, we are all in the same universe.

Therefore, what we do, what we say, what we think, what we believe, what we are, affects everybody coming from behind, before and on any slope, and, with generous gestures or a modest tool or two, burn, plough, or otherwise out of the side street.

The look of astonishment, as the lady driver, "the wide-eyed, bewildered, grateful glance" I win to an ordinary day's driving give me ten times the kick I would get from a mess in cards and first-wavings we normally get. For instance, if we are caught in a traffic jam at a busy intersection, I let everybody get ahead of me, except the lady in classic manner. Now, watch this.

I were approaching an intersection where he desired to turn left. He would, first, his arm was extended in the signal. He would, four, five, six paces to proceed before edging forward. Horns began to blow from behind and I, alone, would be a dozen more cars were coming. He would stand at last all pass. The horn blowing behind us mounted into a storm of protest.

Finally he made the turn, leaned out the cab and roared back at the procession:

"Yah! You ill-manner bunch of @ Ds & @ Ds & !!".

OPINIATHY FOR DOCTORS AND FOLKS

Now that era of wholesale and indiscriminate removal of tonsils is over, except in a few benighted communities where eager operators still cajole entire families to submit to the knife, maybe it is high time for you doctors and folks to consider a few facts. Presumptuous? Maybe. Here are the facts.

1. In children and young adults the tonsils are usually large.

2. Enlarged tonsils usually require no treatment unless they give rise to interference with swallowing or the voice or impairment of hearing.

3. The tonsils of children and young adults are most enlarged in the autumn, but after a summer of open air life she large tonsils shrink without any particular treatment.

4. In most cases portions only of the tonsils are removed after the most radical tonsillectomy by the most expert surgeon. Despite the prentense of "getting all of the tonsil" it is impossible.

5. Tonsillectomy is a major operation, and one reason why it is so often has a tragic outcome is that too many operators assume that because it is a minor operation and attempt to back up this false assurance by hurrying the patient from the operating room and out of the hospital without thorough physical examination, laboratory study, including blood count, coming and morning time, and urinalysis — such precautions as a prudent surgeon will take for his patient's benefit before any major operation.

These facts are not my inventions. I have garnered them from men, "hypertrophied" tonsils, hypertrophied with medical authorities. The fact, so far, pertain to enlarged tonsils in the adult. As to the so-called "hypertrophied" tonsils, hypertrophied with inflammation, I confined their observations and conclusions to scientific investigation and the principle they developed is as sound today as ever. You must remember, doctors and folks, that the indiscriminate removal of tonsils and adenoids practiced by so many doctors and dentists in the second and third decades of the century, in a blind, and usually vain attempt to cure rheumatic, stomach trouble, liver trouble or whatever chronic complaint the unfortunate victims had, was not countenanced by Billings and Rosenow — nor by any other good authority. It was just an irresponsible craze, and the medical and dental profession should be ashamed of the record of those two decades.

Wealthy Rancher Weds Daughter Of Hirohito

TOKYO (Reuters)—An unprecedented Royal romance culminated today in the wedding of Princess Yori, fourth daughter of Emperor Hirohito, to a wealthy chicken rancher.

The 21-year-old princess has shredded tradition in her romance with Tokumasa Ikeda, 35, a millionaire lover of animals who prefers the wide open spaces of southern Japan to Tokyo society.

She has agreed to live on his lonely ranch, marking the first time in 2,000 years that a princess has lived outside the capital.

Like her father, Princess Yori has accepted the swift changes in court life which followed the last war. Nobody is more aware of the new regime than the prospective bridegroom who lost his title as marquis when the peerage was abolished during the Allied occupation.

It da has withdrawn almost completely from Tokyo society and tends his 2,000 chickens at a ranch near Okayama City, 500 miles west of Tokyo.

PLEASANT HABIT

MARITZBURG, South Africa (CP)—Prof. R. H. Farrer told a meeting of Natal University students it might be a good idea to introduce the siesta habit on hot days. He said animals do not rush around when meals had got to sleep.

HITCHIN, England (CP)—The local Home Guard held its first workout since the war in this Hertfordshire district gol of course had to choose a code name for the exercise. It was styled: "Exercise Lumbago."

Graduating Class Guests of League At Delightful Tea

Following convocation in St. Michael's auditorium, Friday afternoon last, the graduating class of St. Michael's High School, with their parents, friends and teachers, were guests of the Catholic Women's League at a delightful tea.

The tea table was centred with a silver bowl of burgundy colored mums flanked by tri-branched candelabra holding white candles over a lovely hand crochet lace cloth. Presiding over the silver services were, Mrs. Robert Kitchen and Mrs. K. Broadworth, while Mrs. W. Foley, Mrs. C. Lloyd, Mrs. T. Cannon, Mrs. K. Fox, Mrs. J. R. Kelly and Miss B. Joudoin replenished and served. Mrs. R. Johnson was in charge of tea arrangements.

Later that evening, Knights of Columbus Hall was the scene of a gala "At Home", sponsored by the League. Mrs. J. E. Boyd, president, with Mrs. H. O'Neill, Mrs. K. B. Lally, Mrs. J. R. Kelly, Mrs. J. Milne received the many guests.

Under soft lights the graduates and their friends danced to the sweet music of Cam. Walsh and his Modernaires until one.

During the evening several spot dances were featured with Mr. K. B. Lally acting as master of ceremonies. The lucky couples included, Miss Lorraine Belshaw and Mr. Wayne Fox, Miss June O'Neill and Mr. Leo Ross, Miss Theresa Farrell and Mr. Dick Kendrick.

Mr. H. O'Neill, Mr. W. Foley, Mr. R. Johnson, Mr. E. Poirier were patrons.

Mrs. Ernest Finkle was general convener of these events which were so much enjoyed by everyone.

Miss Jean Arnott Honored by Friends

Thursday evening a happy time was spent at the home of Mrs. Jack Arnott, Coleman Street, when about 30 friends and relatives honored her niece, Miss Jean Arnott, bride-to-be, with a lovely linen and cotton towel shower. Mrs. C. Arnott, Mrs. R. Maund and Mrs. Malcolm Irwin were co-hostesses.

Receiving the guests were the hostess, Mrs. Jack Arnott, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. B. McCann.

The tea table was centred with pink and white streamers, and the white, damask linen covered tea table was attractively centred with a silver basket of pink carnations, flanked by silver holders with tall, white candles.

The evening was spent in the playing of various interesting games, and a social get-together. Later, Jean was seated at the tea table, and an address read by Miss Mary Carmichael, after which, a gaily decorated shopping cart, overflowing with gifts, was wheeled in. Miss Ramona Eaton, bridesmaid of the bride-to-be, assisted in the unwrapping and the reading of the many lovely cards. Appreciative thanks were expressed by Jean to the many kind friends for their lovely and useful gifts, and a cordial invitation extended to visit her in her new home.

Bountiful refreshments were served. The door prize was won by Mrs. Stella Smith.

The bride-to-be was also the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower recently held at the home of Mrs. Robert McLaskin, Dundas Street East, when 18 girl friends gathered to wish Jean much happiness in her new life.

A bride's book was made and refreshments served.

Women Out For More Seats In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Women political leaders hope that the Nov. 4 U.S. elections may result in topping the record of 11 women seated in Congress.

Latest reports show that 35 women, including 10 female lawmakers now in the House of Representatives, are seeking election.

Across the country, 43 women are candidates for the House, four for the Senate, two for vice-president, one for president — and one apparently would settle for either the White House or the vice-presidency. Two others are seeking governorships.

In the House race, women are not only battling men in a series of different contests, but in one Massachusetts district three women are fighting it out among themselves.

Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, Massachusetts Republican, Dean of women in Congress, has two women opponents in her quest for a 15th term — Mrs. Helen M. Fitzgerald Cullen, Democrat, and Mrs. Miriam S. Saul, prohibitionist.

Nine women are running on the Prohibitionist ticket for the house, largest list from the minor parties.

Among the major parties, nine women seeking House seats are Republicans, including the six incumbents and three hopefuls, and 16 are Democrats including four incumbents and 12 newcomers.

Mrs. Ellen Lissa W. Jensen, a Seattle, Wash., grandmother, is nominee of the Washington Peace Party which aims to put a woman in the White House.

Mrs. Mary Kenney, a Lincoln, Neb., housewife, is listed as the American Party's lone candidate on its president — vice president ticket.

In about 10 states, the name of Mrs. Charlotta Bass, New York, Negro, former publisher of the California Eagle, will be listed on the ballot for vice-president as a Progressive Party candidate.

The other vice-presidential candidate is Myra Tanner Weiss, also of New York, whose name will be on the Socialist Workers' ticket in New York and New Jersey and on that of the Militant Workers in Pennsylvania.

Only One Now

At present, there is only one woman Senator — Mrs. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine — and her seat is not at stake this year. However, four other women are seeking to join her in the Senate in the coming 83rd Congress.

One is Vivien Kellems, scrappy industrialist, who heads her own cable-grip factory in Stonington, Conn. She is running as an independent-Republican. The other three are: Genora Dollinger, Mich., socialist worker; Mrs. Katherine A. Van Orden, N.J., Progressive, and Anna Chenoweth, Pa., Militant Worker.

Food For Thought

Meat Lesson Number Three For Newlywed G. I.

By Mary Moore

By the evidence of your letters, you like the little meat lesson I have been dishing up. These were requested by Newlywed G. I.

This week I thought I might catch your interest with a few tips on cooking the more unusual —and often economical—cuts of meat such as liver, kidney, heart and tongue.

Need I say to regular readers of this column that these nutritious cuts are indispensable to a balanced diet? Most of us know that we must consume liver once per week. But do you know that heart and kidney and tongue contain vitamins and minerals that add nutritive qualities to the diet that can be gained from few other food sources?

I repeat for the umpteenth time that the most economical way to keep well is to obey the food rules.

EN DINNER

Stuffed Liver Rolls
Potatoes Baked in Jackets
Baked Carrot Strips and Onion Rings
Baked Custard with Plum Jam Sauce
Slaw Coffee

STUFFED LIVER ROLLS

(You can figure the other things on that menu out for yourself for this is strictly a meat talk.)

Make a stuffing by combining 2 cups, well-packed, breadcrumbs, 2 tablespoons melted margarine or butter, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 2 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1-3 teaspoon salt, shake of pepper, pinch thyme or crumbled sage. Ask the butcher to slice pork liver very thinly. Spread each slice of liver with the stuffing and roll up. This amount of stuffing will do for 1 lb. liver. Fix or skewer. Dredge with flour. Fry in melted fat or cooking oil. Transfer to baking dish. Add 1 cup water, cover and bake 25 to 30 minutes at 350 deg. Fahr.

SPICED TONGUE

(Definitely a company dish.)

Wash a fresh or cured tongue, then put in kettle with cold water to cover, add 1 teaspoon mixed pickling spices and 2 bay leaves, cover and bring to boil, reduce heat to simmer and cook three hours. Remove from cooking broth and peel off the skin and trim off fat and tag ends from base of tongue. Place on baking dish.

Make a sauce boiling 1 cup raisins with 1 cup of strained cooking broth until raisins are plump and tender. Add 1-2 or 1 cup red currant or black currant jelly and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Pour this over the tongue and bake 1 hour at 350 deg. Fahr, basting three or four times.

STEWED KIDNEYS

Wash 4 pork kidneys and soak them in salt water 1 hour. Drain, remove outer thin skin, cut open and remove veinous portion and inner fat. Cover with cold water; heat gradually to boiling then cook below boiling point for 20 minutes. Drain. Cut into about 1 inch pieces, dredge or roll in salted and peppered flour. Heat margarine or drippings in frying pan. Saute in it about 2 sliced onions until they are limp, then add the floured kidneys and brown them on all sides. Barely cover with boiling water, cover and simmer 1 1-2 hours or until kidneys are tender. Thicken gravy with a little flour and water, paste just before serving time. Taste and add seasonings if necessary. Serve on toast points attractively garnished.

BAKED STUFFED HEART

Baby beef heart is best but if you have a pressure cooker mature beef hearts are just as good.

Wash heart with salted water inside and out and remove veins and arteries and excess fat. Dry. Fill with stuffing as for Liver Rolls (above). Tie or skewer top. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and dredge with flour. Place about 2 tablespoons fat in baking dish and brown heart on all sides—do not use glass dish over open burners. Add boiling water to 1-inch depth, cover, and bake 2 hours at 275 deg. Fahr, very slow oven—or until heart is tender. Thicken stock in pan with flour pasted and pour over heart. Heart baked this way is delicious sliced cold and served with Chutney.

If you want more meat lessons please let me know.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

Today's Up-to-the-Isotope

When you offer a second helping, or food or drink, to your guest, tactfully omit the word "another", or "second", or "more". For example, don't say "Won't you have another piece of cake? . . . instead say, "Won't you have a piece of cake?" Not "May I give you some more tea? . . . instead say, "May I give you a fresh cup of tea?"

Good news for her . . . the can be both soloist and bridesmaid

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Rosemary, the bride-to-be, is my dearest friend, and we have both studied singing at the same school for two years—as an avocation, as we are both private secretaries. At her wedding soon, her sister is to be maid of honor, and I am to be one of six bridesmaids. But she has asked me if I think it is possible for me also to sing two solos, our two classical wedding music favorites. We decided to ask you—would it be possible for me to do both at the wedding—sing two solos and also be bridesmaid? Also, when are the solos sung?—Solos.

I'm so happy to tell you. yes! Vocal solos in a church ceremony are sung in those minutes after most of the guests have arrived and just before the hour set for the ceremony. You and the bride-to-be must consult with the organist, so to plan perfect timing for you to sing the first solo, then be seated for a minute or so, and then to sing the second solo. Then, as inconspicuously as possible, you leave the choir-place and quickly take your place in the processional forming.

Note 1: Don't be self-conscious or bothered about this plan and procedure . . . for it is quite often done.

Note 2: While you are proceeding from the choir-place to the vestibule of the church (the route depending on the architecture of the church), all eyes will be turned to the important seating of, first, the groom's mother, and then the bride's mother.

What are their responsibilities as proxy godparents?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Mrs. A.'s baby is to be christened soon, and the out-of-town godparents they chose have just sent word it's impossible for them to come to the christening. So Mr. and Mrs. A. have asked my husband and me to substitute for the other couple. What would our duties be as substitute godparents? Would we have to buy the baby's christening outfit, and give the baby a christening gift, and pay the minister?—H.

The only responsibility you and your husband have, as proxy godparents, is to attend the christening and make the proper responses in the ceremony. The minister will direct you both about this.) You, as godmother, may be asked to hold the child during the christening, and to give the child's name to the minister.

You and your husband have no financial responsibilities. The child's parents are expected to buy the christening dress and accessories. You may, if you wish, give the child a christening present . . . not as proxy godparents, but as is quite customary, as intimate friends of the parents. It is the responsibility of the child's father to give the minister the christening fee or gift.

PRESENTATION

MARMORA — Mrs. Hugh Brady and Miss Mary Brady were hostesses at the former's home on Monday evening at a china and linen shower in honor of their niece, Miss Patricia Brady. The bride-elect was the recipient of many useful and attractive gifts for which she graciously thanked the donors.

The evening was spent in a social manner and music was enjoyed. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

A large number of local residents attended the Madoc Fair on Wednesday.

"The Ing's Man" was shown at St. Andrew's United Church on Tuesday evening before a good attendance. The Rev. R. J. Crawford led in the opening worship. The Rev. Boyd Beckett, of Ivanhoe, also showed the picture and at its close, the Rev. W. H. Tonge, of Lakefield, gave a stirring address on the missionary and maintenance work of the church, touching upon the larger work of the church outside of its home responsibilities, and the struggle it has to make in other lands against Communism. A collection was taken for the missionary and maintenance funds.

Club Activities

GOOD COMPANIONS' CLUB

The Good Companions' Club of Tabernacle United Church met in the church parlors on Tuesday evening. The meeting was opened by Rev. R. Rowley, conducting a period of Bible study.

Speaking first of the revised translation of the Bible recently published, Mr. Rowley stated that the last translation which has been used at all extensively, was in 1611. Since then more manuscripts have been available. Also, any languages changes in three centuries and the new translation should be easier to understand.

Mr. Rowley stated that, the Bible is the greatest religious book in the world. One must seek the truth in the Bible. He also warned that one must be honest with the Bible, and try to understand what it means and never make the Bible mean what one wants it to mean. The Bible must speak for itself.

President Lew Andrews conducted the business session. Pictures taken at the corn roast by Bob McCullough were shown to the group and caused much merriment. Bob also showed colored pictures which were exceptionally good photography and of particular interest to the Club members.

Jean Vickers, recreation convener, put the group to work on two amusing contests.

The lunch committee served refreshments at the close of the evening.

Women's Institute

PINE GROVE W.I.

Pine Grove Women's Institute met for its regular monthly meeting at Mrs. G. Bartindale's home, Oak Lake. The president, Mrs. H. Detlor, presided and there was a good attendance of members and a few visitors.

It was decided to hold the next meeting in the evening and members were again reminded of the axtension service, "Aids To Effective Speaking", Part I, which is to be conducted by Miss Ethel Chapman, editor of "Home and Country", in Marsh Hill Church on Oct. 29th, from 10 a.m., to 4 p.m.

Delegates were appointed to attend the area convention in Belleville on October 16-17.

It was also decided to conduct a canvas for the National Institute for the Blind with Mrs. H. Coulter, Mrs. F. Campbell, Mrs. A. Tanner, Mrs. E. Horton, Mrs. H. Detlor and Mrs. G. Bartindale as a committee.

A donation is to be sent to buy food for starving Greek children.

Members were pleased to welcome Mrs. W. Rodgers, who had been unable to attend for some time, Mrs. Rodgers gave interesting "Current Events".

Mrs. A. Tanner, convener of Home Economics, then took charge of the program which included readings, "I Always Sew by Ear", Mrs. B. Searles; "How to Lindenfield; "Etiquette", Mrs. A. Care for White Nylon", Mrs. F. Tanner; "Washing or Doing Up Table Linens", Mrs. F. Heasman. Demonstrations: "Making a Fancy Cushion Top", Mrs. A. Tanner; "Icing a Cake, Feather Design", Mrs. A. Finkle.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served and a social half-hour enjoyed.

Chiang's Troops Given 50-50 Chance to Hold Communists If Invasion Made on Formosa

By STANLEY RICH

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—United States sources here are of the opinion that the folks back home may be a little overwild on Chiang Kai-Shek's tight little island, fortress Formosa.

A succession of U.S. Congressmen, judges and publishers visited Formosa this summer. Almost to a man they gained a quick confidence that the Chinese Nationalist armed forces have grown so powerful that their island stronghold no longer is in any danger of invasion.

U.S. military men who advise, train, equip and live with Chiang's armies express no such confidence.

Chiang's troops are stronger, certainly, but if the Chinese Communists threw a major invasion force across the Straits of Formosa, the defenders are not considered better than a 50-50 bet to hold.

Invasion Doubtful

The two staunch bulwarks of Formosa today, these Americans say, are the U.S. Seventh Fleet which guards it and the 180 miles of rough water between the island and the Red mainland. It is considered doubtful that the Reds could get a big force across now—even opposed by nothing more than wind and waves.

American military men describe Chiang's ground forces as probably the best drilled in the world, but these Americans feel, however, that Chiang's forces have gone about as far as they can go until American equipment arrives in quantity. Nobody expects that will be soon.

Forces Strength

The best available estimates hold the Nationalists at 410,000 overall with the following breakdown:

Army:—280,000 troops of which one-third are non-combat supply personnel. They are well equipped with small arms, but short on ammunition. They are drastically short of tanks and heavy artillery.

Air Force:—80,000 men but only 225 rapidly-aging Second World War vintage planes. Gasoline supplies are shot.

Navy and Marines:—Possibly 90,000 men described as shorter the best improvement of all Chiang's forces.

Good Use for Slit Trench

An opportunity for a bath while in the front lines in Korea is not overlooked by this U.N. soldier. His tub is a rain-filled slit trench and the shower is provided by his helmet. His rifle is handy, just in case he is disturbed. — Central Press Canadian.

Forest fires on film

Forest fires rage all winter long in cottagers' associations, schools, logging camps, service clubs, tourist groups, and wherever anyone is sincerely interested in helping to preserve our forests. These winter fires are all on film, and they're shown by the Forest Rangers for two main purposes: to help educate and instruct those people who may have to fight fires some day; and to show everyone the danger and the useless waste caused by forest fires.

This type of educational work keeps the Rangers almost as busy as they are when they have real forest fires to control but they're quite happy about it. The more people there are who are interested and want to learn about fire hazards, fire seasons, fire losses, and fire-fighting techniques ::: the fewer fires we're likely to have. If you're interested in getting such films for showing to your group you can get in touch with any Forest Ranger and he will be glad to look into the matter for you. It's good business for all of us to know about forest fires ::: to keep them in mind and keep them out of our forests.

General of New East Germany Communist Army 100,000 Strong Is Loyal Supporter

By TOM REEDY

BERLIN (AP)—A lantern-jawed man roars over Russian Zone highways in highpowered automobiles these days, racing from barracks to parade grounds, inspecting, shouting orders, demanding speed and more speed.

Tall, young, black-eyed and tireless, he is the general of the new East German Communist Army, now 100,000 strong and destined to reach 35-division strength in the next two years.

"General" Heinz Hoffmann has come into high station after 25 years of fidelity to the Red cause. As a boy, he ran errands for the Communists in the Red uprisings that tore the industrial Ruhr asunder in the 1920s.

Loyal Communist

As a youth he fought with the International Brigade in the Spanish Civil War. As a crown man he was a Kremlin favorite, living in the Soviet Union like many other German Communists during the years Hitler's Gestapo made things too hot in their homeland.

Now only 41, Hoffmann has been entrusted with the delicate job of raising an East German Army, loyal only to Stalin. The unspoken Russians did a lot r sorting and discarding before they selected Hoffmann.

Former Nazi generals were considered and rejected. The Soviets used some of them, but only in relatively minor roles.

After a quarter-century of International Communism, Hoffmann is a mighty diffeid German. He speak- - ww n_os with a Russian accent, and is married to a Russian woman who speaks no German at all.

People's policemen who have fled to the West say Hoffmann is personally popular with the troops despite rigorous discipline he imposes.

In his position of trust, Hoffmann is believed to know much about the Soviet military aims in Germany, at least, than perhaps anyone else with the exception of the political boss, Walter Ulbricht.

"Sliding Over Time"

His status has given some of his "confidential" speeches to his troop commanders a highly interesting flavor. Some of his remarks leaking out through deserters give the general impression the East is bidding for time. For example, Hoffmann told the Weimar Police School early this year "there is no hurry to graduate because there will be no war in Europe for the time being."

The General is reported further to have said that the Korean conflict would be deliberately prolonged, "then something would happen in Egypt" and only then would Germany be on the timetable for some kind of action.

CENTENARY

Centenary—The lovely season of fall is onte more here and the factories are busy canning pumpkin, to grace the tables this coming year. Some pumpkins will be left however, to the children's favorite night, Hallowe'en. The air is chilly but invigorating and the evenings are frosty. The ladies are busy and the housecleaning, and the men are wondering when the heaviest work will be over. Silo filling is in full swing, and it will soon be time to think of Thanksgiving. One must not lose touch of the real meaning of Thanksgiving—to always be thankful for the many blessings God has bestowed on them, and not grumble or complain.

The man who owns adequate life insurance does his fellow-citizens a service by providing financial independence for his family. For, if anything happens to him, his family will not be a burden on others.

What's Nickel got to do with television?

"A great deal, son. In fact, if it weren't for nickel there wouldn't be any television today. You see, some of the working parts of a television set can't be made without special types of nickel alloys. And others just wouldn't work as well as they do if nickel weren't used."

"In the cathode ray tube, for example, there is what is known as an 'electron gun'. Its job is to fire a stream of electrical energy on to the viewing screen, where you see it in the form of pictures. Parts of that 'gun' can't be made without nickel. Then, too, there are other types of tubes and parts inside the set for which nickel is the best material."

"It's worth remembering, son, that metals have to meet unusual requirements for television. Some must be highly magnetic, some non-magnetic. Others must expand or contract in special ways. Fortunately, metallurgists had developed nickel alloys that meet such needs. And today, we can be sure nickel scientists are keeping pace with new ideas for the future."

Beetle-Shaped Car Conceived By Hitler 15 Years Ago Catching Fancy of World Motorists

By BRACK CURY

BONN, Germany (AP)—A little, beetle-shaped German car conceived by Hitler 15 years ago is catching the fancy of motorists around the world.

It has the curious name of Volkswagen, or People's Car.

The Volkswagen is being exported to 32 countries—and in some people are actually lining up to buy it.

It is rolling toward first place in Europe. It is by far the most popular car with the Germans. One out of every two German cars is a Volkswagen.

Simplicity and Economy

Europeans like the speed, simplicity and economy of the Volkswagen. A rear-engined, four-seater, the Volkswagen hits 70 miles an hour and travels 36 miles to a gallon. It sells in Germany for 4,800 marks or $1,142. Prices in foreign countries are higher.

Drivers of Volkswagens boast that the car's tiny engine can be repaired with a hair pin.

Since the war, more than 100,000 Volkswagens have been exported. The demand abroad is so great that the Volkswagen plant says it could easily sell its entire output in foreign markets.

About 33 per cent of this year's record production of 130,000 Volkswagen is earmarked for export.

Volkswagen officials say the car is a hit in Canada. Since it has no radiator, it never freezes up in the cold Canadian winters.

Despite booming sales, a big cloud hangs over the Volkswagen plant: Nobody knows who owns it.

The car was the brainchild of Hitler who promised every German a Volkswagen in the garage for the equivalent of $268.

Built by Nazis

The Nazi labor front built the plant. Some 330,000 Germans chipped in to finance its construction. In return they were promised cars which were never delivered.

Only a few Volkswagens were turned out before the war. Then the production was fed to the Wehrmacht. Rommel used scores of the cars in his North African campaign.

Canadian Govt. Gains Control Of Butter Market

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government has gained control over the butter market, agricultural sources disclosed yesterday.

They said the flow of surplus butter into government larders during the summer was big enough to give the government the upper hand in stabilizing butter prices through the winter when production is low and demand is met through accumulated stocks.

Officials declined to disclose how much butter the government has stored. One commercial dairy expert estimated that it might be about 45,000,000 pounds, but this figure could not be confirmed.

In its latest estimate, the Bureau of Statistics placed total creamery butter stocks on Oct. 1 at 77,437,000 pounds. These include stocks held by the government and the trade, but the bureau gave no breakdown.

The total stockpile was about 14,000,000 pounds higher than last year's 62,608,000 pounds.

Women Only Allowed to Trap In Certain Area

PELICAN NARROWS, Sask.—(CP)—A "no man's land" has been set aside in the Pelican Narrows area 170 miles northeast of Prince Albert and near Saskatchewan - Manitoba border.

Trappers in the area decided to set aside a 60-square-mile area, rich in muskrat, for women only.

The Pelican Narrows District Trappers' Council decided that the distance to outlying traplines and the severity of the northern winter created hardships for women who earn a living by trapping.

Only those women who depend on their own efforts for their livelihood are eligible. The first two "trappees" or "trapperettes" to be given the right-of-way in the exclusive area were Jean Iroquois, a widow, and her daughter Bernadette.

It is expected the women will harvest muskrat but leave the few beaver to multiply and build their colonies for better harvest later.

A member of the Pelican Narrows Trappers' Council is Mrs. Nancy McCullum, Saskatchewan's famed woman trapper. She told the council that any man found guilty of trespassing in the "No man's land" would be immediately and thoroughly dealt with.

Barrie, St. Mikes Lead Junior Race Galt Hawks, Marlboros Divide

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Entries in the Ontario-Quebec Junior Hockey race shuffled for early positions in standings during the Thanksgiving weekend and Barrie Flyers and Toronto St. Michael's of the Ontario Hockey Assn. set far.

Association Junior A League took the middle track with two wins apiece. The late-starting Quebec Junior Amateur Hockey Association saw Montreal Canadiens and Three Rivers win their openers.

The Flyers, flush with a 12-8 home opener Friday night, downed Windsor Spitfires 4-2 Saturday. Centre Ilfo Trad led the Barrie victory with three goals. The fourth was notched by Fred Petrick.

St. Mike's Go Well

Downing St. Catharines Teepees 7-5 Friday night the St. Michael's lowered their sights on the Spitfires Sunday and scored a 10-4 Bull's eye. Toronto's scoring parade was led by Murray Costello with three goals. Paul Knox racked up a pair while Ed Plata, Marc Reaume, Jack Caffrey, Bill Lee and Jim Logan potted singles.

Toronto Marlboros and Oshawa Generals fought to a 3-3 draw Sunday in Toronto after the Duke's hung on to a 1-0 lead until the third period. Stan Faker and Jack Armstrong were the Oshawa goaltenders, Eric Nesterenko and Wally Maxwell scored for the Marlies.

The Generals slipped at the start, being three goals sooner to St. Catharines Teepees 7-5 Saturday night. Brian Cullen paired for the Teepe. Singles went to Wimpy Roberts, Willard Hass, Alex Leslie Charlie Marshall and Kenny Schinkel.

Jack Armstrong slammed home two for the Generals while Ted Lazoy, Bud Hillman and Monty Montemurro notched singletons.

The Marlboros Saturday night romped out a 3-3 win over Kitchener — Waterloo Greenshirts in Kitchener after the Shirts fought gamely in the the scoop. Marlie sharpshooter Eric Nesterenko supt two and Bill Harris one. Graham Joyce and Orv Tessier fired for the Greenshirts.

Bills Bow Low

Guelph Biltmores, 1951-52 Memorial Cup Champions, were jockeyed out of position. Battling in a 3-3 draw Friday with the Greenshirts, they went down to a 4-1 defeat at the hands of the Galt Black Hawks Saturday night.

The Hawks' win was credited to goals by Bob Wilson, Eddie Switzer, Neil McDonald and John Mucker. The Biltmores' single was fired by Harry Howell.

'Little Giants' Edge 'Gents' In Peewee Game

Ted Schwab's Little Giants and Bryson Reid's "Gents" peewee baseballers wound up the season yesterday afternoon in a blaze of diamond activity.

The kids battled in an outstanding game to a six-all tie to the end of the sixth inning. Then Frank Chick proved the "Mickey Mantle" of the game for Schwab's when he blasted out a home run to give the Little Giants a 7-6 edge.

Jackie Elliott went all the way on the mound for the Giants as did Jimmy Ellis for the "Gents."

The Giants scored three runs in the first innings, two in the second, one in the third and Chick's game-winning homer in the seventh. The "Gents" scored two in the first and four in the fifth.

Casey Stengel Signs Contract With Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel yesterday signed a new two-year contract to manage New York Yankees and, with a sly wink, hinted that his salary will hit $100,000 a year.

This would make him the highest paid pilot in the history of baseball. Neither the Yankees nor Stengel announced how much money the veinkled diamond genius would make in seeking to extend his string of four straight world championships, but Casey let the cat out of the bag at a press conference.

"If you guess $75,000, you're low," the 61-year-old pilot said under questioning.

"Will it be $100,000, counting bonuses and any other arrangements?" a reporter asked.

"Well," said Casey, "it shouldn't miss."

Sedgman Rated Top Player

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—How does Australia's Frank Sedgman compare with the old tennis masters?

Two of Australia's great stars of yesteryear, Sir Norman Brookes and Gerald Patterson, rate the 24-year-old world amateur champion as one of the two top players of all time. The other, they say, is Bill Tilden.

The discussion came up as a result of Gardnar Mulloy's ranking of Sedgman as the seventh best player the world has produced. The veteran American star recently placed Don Budge, Tilden, Jack Kramer, F. X. Perry, Ellsworth Vines and Bobby Riggs ahead of the wiry Aussie ace.

"Frank loses too many matches to be considered a world beater," Mulloy said.

Brookes and Patterson believe Sedgman and rates belong in a class by themselves. Behind the two they group Budge, Kramer, little Bill Johnston, Tilden's Davis Cup partner of the 30s, and France's Henri Cochet.

Tigers Claw Argonauts to Take Three-Point Lead in Big Four; Peg Bombers Clinch Top Spot

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The "Whizkeez-wee-wah ea t'em-raw" battle cry of Hamilton Tiger-Cat fans thundered across the Big Four football circuit today, bellowing defiance that this 1952 edition of the Battling Bengals is one helluva ball clubs. Ask Toronto Argonauts.

Tigers ate up big Double Blue leads in their Thanksgiving week-end home-and-home series to claw out 37-18 and 25-24 victories that sent them winging to a three-point league lead. It conceivably could keep them at the top when the schedule comes to a halt.

And Argonauts? They slithered from a first-place tie into third position, four points off the pace and one behind / the Dominion Champion Ottawa Rough Riders who dumped the feeble Montreal Alouettes 25-12 and 23-6.

The Hamilton hoisting isn't reserved for Tiger-Cats. Winnipeg fans can give it right back to them because Blue Bombers fattened their Western Canada Conference title chances with twin triumphs— 26-7 and 37-3—over the hapless Saskatchewan Roughriders to clinch No. 1 spot and a bye into the Western finals.

Anybody's Game

Edmonton Eskimos split with Calgary Stampeders, coming from behind for a 16-10 Thanksgiving verdict after dropping a hard-fought 32-30 setback Saturday. Eskimos have clinched second-place and they now have the choice of grounds in the opener of the two-game total-points series with Lee Lear's ever-dangerous clubs.

The Western Conference results and Montreal's seventh and eighth losses were more or less expected, but it was anybody's guess in the Toronto-Hamilton series. Fans of both teams probably would have settled for a split after Hamilton's victories pointed up one thing to coach Frank Clair's Argonauts:

You've got to play 60-minute football to survive in this dog-eat-dog business. Argos haven't had it, and they can't kick.

Tigers spotted Toronto a 12-0 first-half lead Saturday and then steamrollered to four converted touchdowns and as many singles to stifle a hollering 25,974 Toronto crowd.

It was much the same story Monday, but this time Argonauts were within two minutes of victory when the Bengals chewed up the Argos at the Hamilton Civic Stadium, striking for two lightning-fast touchdowns in the last 90 seconds. The 17,200 screaming fans, largest crowd to watch a game in the city's colorful football history, poured out of the stands to hug the dead-tired Tiger-Cats who practically perpetrated larceny in tabling the decision.

Tigers charged from behind a 16-1 third-quarter deficit to score 24 points on four touchdowns, three converts and a single behind the sensational running of Ray John Dillon and fancy-dangling Hal Wagner. They struck with all the fury of men possessed, capped by Dillon's 42-yard touchdown scamper as the gun was fired to end the thriller.

The Verne First

In the Ontario Rugby Football Union, the league-leading Sarnia Imperials, practically a shoo-in from the season's opener, defeated the Redskins 15-6 at Brantford Saturday but suffered their first defeat of the season at Toronto Thanksgiving Day when Balmy Beach pulled a 22-6 upset.

The victory, combined with Bears' 41-1 walloping over the winless Windsor Royals Saturday, assured them of a post-season date with the Imps to decide which team will meet the Big Four champion in the eastern final.

Hamilton still has one game, a tight 17-12 decision over the Royals at Windsor Monday. It was Redskins' second victory of the season but it came too late to be of help in their play-off bid.

Peterborough C.I. Downs Belleville By 37-6 Score

Peterborough — Peterborough Collegiate emerged triumphant over Belleville C.I. Friday night at Riverside Park, 37-6, in a dashing and exciting, though one-sided, senior football struggle under the arcs.

Working off a split T formation, Wayne Garnat and Grey displayed a fast breaking line, a shifty and tough backfield starring veterans Bob Craw, Spin Hope, Don Scriver, Murray Grafstein and Barry Hollingsworth, while the front wall led by Dan Griffin, Larry Parker and Bill supported by Hughie Outram, Bruce Walker, Ed Sanders, Jack King, Gord McGrath, et c', left nothing to be desired.

Quarterbacks Langhorne and Corbett handled the signal work efficiently and completed all but one pass in 10 attempts with such receivers as Griffin, Craw, John Eastwood, Scriver and Eddie Sanders piloting them off in big-league style.

Jim MacDonald proved the shining light of the Belleville crew-followed by George Farmer and centre Dick Morden-while "Salty" Moore hoofed a fair chore on the ballons as he essayed to match punts with bashing "Spin" Hope. MacDonald scored the Visitors' only major after a belated drive in the final frame led by him, Morden, Rowan and Farmer.

P.C.V.S. scored first in the first quarter, when Dave Langhorne carried around right end for a

Pro Football No Longer Sport; Rugged Business

NEW YORK (AP)—The cost of running a professional football club has gone up 400 to 500 per cent in the last 10 years and only four of the 12 National Football League teams are making ends meet, Commissioner Bert Bell said yesterday.

"This is no longer a sport. It's a rugged business," he told the New York football writers. "A man doesn't get in this for the fun of it any more. It's sweat and tears."

"If you get into this business and don't work at it, you can lose $150 000 or $300,000 a year, not just $25,000."

Bell declined to name the four teams which he referred to as "in the black."

A good guess is that the four are among New York Giants, Chicago Bears, Washington Redskins, Green Bay Packers and Cleveland Browns.

35-yard run; but the convert failed. Passes began to click for the Goulding squad and with these and plunging, Hollingsworth crept close; at the 10-minute mark Scriver carried over on a nice play. A Langhorne to Griffin pass, hit a yard-marker early in the second with no convert, and the locals, outplayed their game but spotty rivals who completed but one pass in three and whose attack and defence wobbled at times.

A Great Run

Bob Craw soared a long punt at the deadline and made a phenomenal run through the entire team for a touchdown in the third, but the play was ruled a single, the kick being slightly over, and Craw's great effort was nullified. P.C.V.S. added four more majors however, in the final half, as Scriver on a buck, Corbett on a run in the third, Craw on a Corbett pass and Hollingsworth on a run in the fourth, all hit the score sheet while their mates played sound football to give the necessary protection for scoring plays. It was a clean game.

Gaels, Intercollegiate 'Dark Horse', Whip Redmen for First Win in Nine

By CRAIG SWAYZE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Queen's Golden Gaels, the dark horse team of the 1952 Senior Intercollegiate Football Union, are still an unknown quantity after two week-ends of play in this year's 24-game school schedule.

But a complete reversal of form from the previous week-end when they burst 33-3 before Western Mustangs, the Tricolor from Kingston galloped home 20-7 Saturday over McGill Redmen in Montreal. The victory was Queen's first in nine attempts.

While the Gaels were sending Vic Cheeck, Redmen to their second straight defeat of the season, a University of Toronto Blues four-game single salvaged a 7-7 tie against Western at London. For the 15th year Varsity failed to break the no-victory jinx that has been their lot in Little Stadium.

McGill's only bid came in the second quarter when Red Porter blocked and recovered Tinmath' quick kick attempt on the Queen's 35-yard line. Cam Kenney took the ball over on two straight plunges through centre and Geoff Crain converted. Crain also booted McGill's first-quarter single.

Black Gain Tie

Bill Bewley provided Toronto Blues with their late-game point for the 7-7 tie at London when his placement attempt went wide. However, it was the same Bewley who fumbled on his own 13 in the second quarter where Syl O'Hara scooped up the ball and raced across for Western's only touchdown of the game.

Al Haig booted three first-quarter singles for the Blues, but O'Hara's major and a single put Gino Fracas' kick-off provided the Mustangs with a 6-3 half-time lead. Bewley scored his 13 in the game through the third quarter with a placement and Jim Carroll booted a long kick from his own 25 early in the third period to put Western back into a brief 7-6 lead before Bewley's effort for the 7-7 final.

Yankees, Phils Dominate Press All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP)—New York's World Champion Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics dominated the 1952 Associated Press Major League All-Star team, capturing half of the 10 positions.

Seven of the 16 big league clubs, four in the American, were named to the AP's seventh annual All-Star squad, selected by 72 members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. The American League had six players to four for the National.

The Yankees and Athletics were the only clubs with more than one representative. The National League champion Brooklyn Dodgers and American League runner-up Cleveland Indians had only one member each on the team. The second place New York Giants in the National had none. Other clubs that had single members include St. Louis Cardinals, Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phillies.

The All-Star Team:

First base—Ferris Fain, Athletics (.327)

Second base—Jackie Robinson, Dodgers (.308)

Third base—Al Rosen, Indians (.302)

Shortstop—Phil Rizzuto, Yankees (.273)

Right field—Stan Musial, Cardinals (.336)

Centre field—Mickey Mantle, Yankees (.311)

Catcher—Larry (Yogi) Berra, Yankees (.273)

Right-handed pitcher—Robin Roberts, Phillies (28-7)

Lefthanded pitcher — Bobby Shantz, Athletics (24-7)

Four players are holdovers from the 1951 team. They are Fain, Robinson, Rizzuto and Musial. Musial made the team for the sixth time, making only once since the poll was inaugurated in 1946.

Shantz, 27-year-old southpaw ace of the Athletics, received the most votes, getting all but two of the 74 cast. Musial was right behind with 68, but he received seven votes for first base. He was the only player to receive votes for more than one position.

Cocky Chicago Black Hawks With 3-0 Record Invade Detroit Tonight

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Yorkl Bay — (Sajurday night) — The Yankees can have their Mickey Mantle and the Dodgers their Soldiers, but to a wildly whooping crazy acting bunch of Belleville youngsters here this afternoon there was only one Gene Hurn in the sports world that ruled a hero's homage. When Ted DeGray scooped up Jack McManus' rolling grounder and touched first base for the final out in the second game between the Glen Marr and the North Bay Alexandras, they suddenly became transformed from serious young softball players to shouting maniacs and made a "Yankee" charge for Bob Hunter, their ace flinger.

They banged him, kissed him, hugged him and pounded his back. They dragged him to the Algonquin dugout where the gallant young Northern Ontario champions, splendid in defeat, added their handshaking congratulations. It was a wild scene for a minute or two. Still shouting and cheering they made their way to the St. Regis Hotel where they snake-danced through the lobby and ---shim---beverage room while amused guests and patrons looked on.

Bobby Hunter deserved all the kudos and coarsetail fanfare showered on him. He came through with a brilliant one-hitter to defeat the Algonquins in the first game, and tied Claude Carr's been a split second with his 12 hands first of Don Clement's best Bobby would have had a no-hitter.

And he came back with another sensational performance in the second game when Bobby Gren developed a streak of wildness due in no small part to a bruised arm. Hunter went in three rung downs and stifled, stymied and bottled the Algonquin bats, allowing but two scratch hosts over the rest of the run. Meanwhile his mates pounded Don Clement for seven safeties good for eight runs to help Bobby win his second game of the day.

The game was played in Memorial Gardens, an oboing field brunching off the North Bay Arena. The weather was warm with a brilliant sun shining for the first game. The second which got under way at four o'clock saw mullen storm clouds looming up in the west. It grew colder and near the end of the game a few snowflakes fluttered down. The previous night was very cold and the Belleville cars had frost-covered windows on arrival.

The Algonquins, champions of their city junior league and conquerors of Northern Lake, their only playdown opposition, were small in stature compared to the big Glens. They are a smart little club especially their infield, but in this observer's opinion they were not quite the calibre of the Glens in size or Windsor teams. And that is not detracting from the fine all-round performance given by the Glens. The McNevinors were better than a Boyd game or the loose and they came up with a brilliant supporting performance behind equally brilliant, Bob Hunter. The only lapse they had was in the first inning of the second game when they bobbled twice to help the fourmen score three runs. But Hunter's return to the mound seemed to steady them and they got back "into the groove".

NOW ABOUT THIS!

And just in case you don't know, the Glen Roys brought the first all-Ontario championship to Belleville in the sports history of this city, or so we are informed. True Ontario baseball and softball championships have been won by Belleville teams but we are given to understand the Glens are the first to play off with Northern Ontario champions for the all-provincial title.

So surely that should rate some sort of civic recognition.

The gallant Glens have carried the banner of Belleville to all parts of the province and have been grand sportsmen both off and on the diamond. Their exploit in winning their playdown round deserves the amazing these victories with the all-Ontario title today is worthy of some tangible appreciation on the part of the city. How about that?

The prospect man in this "gateway to the north" tonight is Alderman Don McNevin. He got into the celebration with his "Boys" and whooped it up with them. Even as this is being written in a room in the Bi. Regis, the boys are parading up and down the street with all sorts of dress and undress. Bob Hunter is a smiling youngster taking the plaudits of his pals and the rest of the Belleville party with typical modesty.

The decided error in scoring early in the seventh innings of the second game and matters looked grim for the Glens. He sat on the mound head bowed for a few minutes while players and fans swarmed around. He told of a few minutes ago that he had suffered a "dizzy, spell". He was all right in a few minutes and he went on to win handily. Sir, His pitching was not affected by his indispedition.

An interested spectator at the games was Don Hogan, former Belleville junior "B" hockey star. Don's home is here and at the moment he is dickering with the Glens for the services of a hockey job. And during the conversation Don whispered confidentially that there is a possibility, just a possibility he might wear a Glen Roy senior "B" jersey this year. See if he doesn't. Also present was big Susie Turner, one of softball's greatest pitchers.

Officials in the press box here this afternoon deplored the fact that only a handful of people turned out to see an all-Ontario junior "A" softball championship. The weather was warm but roughly some sixty seats was the attendance. "Seems a shame" one remarked, "to have you fellows come all this distance to play before practically empty stands."

Although the Belleville intermediate "A" and senior northern champions were playing off with the Walkerton squad for the all-Ontario title. Walkerton, it seems ousted the Toronto Avenue conquerors of the Belleville CNE Diocels.

Wings-Leafs Cast-Offs Shine Against Former Club Mates; Al Rollins Gets 1st Shutout

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Those upstart Chicago Black Hawks are due for a fancy pasting and the present Detroit Red Wings are cheesed off enough to rap their farmhands at Chicago tonight. Maybe the Champs are justified, considering what has been happening in the young National Hockey League season.

You could almost accuse Sid Abel's club—a mixture of Red Wing and Toronto Maple Leaf castoffs—of masquerading as the champion Wings. They've won three straight and are in rocky at all get-out at the top of the standing.

Two of the three clubs they've clipped in their overnight reversal of form are former years have turned on the Wings and given them a rough ride. For instance, consider last week-end.

The Wings at Cleveland Saturday and Canadiens knock them over 3-1. And didn't Hawks spoil Canadiens' 1953-54 season debut at home Thursday by dumping them 3-2?

Spurt From Behind

And while Detroit was taking its beating, the Hawks were sending 13,821 Toronto Maple Leaf fans home talking to themselves after the hot-shot Chicagoans had piled home opener 6-2.

The schedule called for a Leaf-Red Wing clash at Detroit Sunday night. What happened?

Both clubs were spoiling for a fight, an all-time N.H.L. records for penalties in one game—was set and Leafs spurted from behind to score two final-period goals and leave Detroit Olympia with the short end of a 3-3 tie.

The Hawks, still playing like champions, went home to an appreciative welcoming party. Chicago and bounced New York Rangers 2-0. Canadiens completed the weekend schedule with a 1-1 stay-off at Boston Thanksgiving eve.

Even the fans are getting into the act in this so-far screwy season. At Detroit Saturday the game was held up 10 minutes while policemen and arena officials tried to untangle a fan at the wicket window.

The Rollins haven't been accustomed to such patronage and their ticket sellers were a bit stale. When the Leafs start 11,194 fans were in their seats for the home-opener. Chicago's at the Boston Garden is 12,500 and a crowd figure which gets beyond 10,000 is foreign to the Bruins the last few seasons.

The happiest players around the league probably are the Hawks' goalkeeper Al Rollins, defenceman Cou Morton and centre Cal Gardner. Stan Mikita, Toronto to Chicago in the four-for-one trade that sent goalkeeper Harry Lumley to the Leafs, they've been hitting on all cylinders.

Rollins in Lead

Rollins has the best goalkeeping record in the league to date and Gardner has figured in the scoring for every Chicago goal. Rookie Jack Evans has been a bulwark.

In the Toronto game, Gardner scored once and got two assists and Morison also received an assist. At Detroit, Gardner assisted in Bill Mosienko's third-period insurance goal and Pete Babando netted one in the second session.

Elmer Lach and Eddie Reay were the Montreal marksmen Canadiens' Saturday night victory over the Wings. Reay's freezle scored for Detroit. Johnny Peirson of the Boston Bruins and Montreal Canadiens matched goals Sunday.

The season's scoring honors, Ardent Scott, Detroit and Ted Kennedy who bagged three at Toronto Sunday, including the tying goal with only 45 seconds remaining. Ron Stewart, Montreal Canadiens matched goals Sunday.

AHL Rescinds No-Recall Rule; Allows Exchange

BUFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The American Hockey League Board of Governors last night rescinded the no-recall rule and allowed a limited exchange of players with other leagues.

The governors unanimously approved a rule allowing any club to exchange up to two players with a team in another league between now and Feb. 15, 1953.

From Feb. 15 until the league playoffs, the old rule will be in effect.

A source close to the governors said the new rule "split the difference" between the no-recall rule and a four-player exchange contract between Pittsburgh Hornets of the A.H.L. and Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League.

In effect, the new rule will allow N.H.L. clubs to farm two players a season to A.H.L. clubs with which they have arrangements or working agreements, with the assurance they can be recalled if needed. The parent club, Indianapolis dropped out of the A.H.L. last week, saying the Caps would not operate under the prevailing A.H.L.-N.H.L. disagreement over the recall rule.

A 64-game schedule was tentatively agreed on, with each club playing seven times each opponent five times, and two extra games. The league will operate as a single division. The season will open next week-end.

Albert College Scores 12-5 Win Over OSD Squad

The junior rugby team from O.S.D. held the strong Albert College juniors to a 12 to 5 advantage in their second exhibition game played on their own field. The home team showed a great reversal of form from their first game when they lost by some six touchdowns.

Albert again had weight and experience in their favor, but played in a disorganized fashion for most of the game, while the O.S.D. kids blocked, tackled and ran the ball in an inspired manner. Peter Klym got away for some good runs around end, and did most of the kicking. Dave Elliott at quarterback was again the star of the game with his broken field running and line plunging. Bob Hillman, Dave Vaughan and Don De Roe also tackled and blocked in a manner that had the Albert runners stopped cold.

Albert marched down the field from the kick-off and were scoff within striking distance. Bruce Vaughan, Albert's hefty quarterback took the ball and crashed across for a touchdown, which was not converted. On receiving the ball O.S.D. put on a drive of their own, when Elliott was carrying the ball through the line, and Bob Miller and Bruce McAlister skirting the ends for long gains. Tommy McAlister getting across for the major score which Vaughan converted. Final score Albert 11, O.S.D. 5.

The second half was tight all the way, neither team being able to punch the ball across for a scoring position. Albert did manage to pick up one more point in the fourth quarter, when Elliott was caught behind his own line by Albert's safe at De Death.

Final score Albert College 12, O.S.D. 5.

Cal Gardner Leads National Scoring Race

MONTREAL (CP) — Chicago Black Hawks, cellar-dwellers in the National Hockey League for the last six seasons, have given notice that things will be different in the 1952-53 season.

The Hawks, reinforced in an offseason deal with Toronto Maple Leafs, are perched atop the league today, undefeated in their first three starts.

The six points to the credit of the Hawks give them a three-point margin over Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens, tied for second place with one victory, one defeat and one tie in their three-games played.

Boston Bruins and Toronto come next, tied with one point apiece and New York Rangers bring up the rear, having lost the two games they have played. The Bruins have only played one game while Toronto has played two.

Gardner on Top

In the early individual scoring race, Cal Gardner of Chicago tops the list with six points—three goals and three assists—one more than posted by Ted Kennedy of Toronto who has a 3-2 mark. Sid Smith of the Leafs is in third place points and is followed by four players with three points.

The only shutout of the season is held by Al Rollins of the Hawks who blanked New York 2-0 Sunday, but the best goals-against average is held by Jim Henry of Boston who allowed only one goal in the one game played by the Bruins. Individual bad-man honors go to Ted Lindsay of the Wings who has spent 30 minutes in the penalty box.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN
by Elmer Ferguson
At first glance, you get the idea it would have been a great thing for sport in America, a fine thing in ancient international friendships, if Emil Zatopek, the champion runner of the Olympic Games, had accepted an invitation from officials of the government of the United States, endorsed by President Truman, to visit this continent and show the citizens of democracy the unmatched speed and stamina that swept him to three Olympic crowns.
Now we're glad Zatopek didn't accept. For, as it turned out, he is a mere tool of the Soviet's efforts to seize even upon the Olympics as a medium for propaganda.
For the Olympic flame that burned so brightly above Piccadilla was barely flickering when Zatopek went from the stadium making propaganda for the Russians — who had used their ruthless strength to crush the Hungarians, driven Tito to the death through a high window and to convert John Masaryk's — and Zatopek's — once proud and free Czechoslovakia into a virtual slave state.
In commenting on the Games that had so gigantically honored him — Games to foster international co-operation and global sportsmanship, Zatopek asserted: "It is too bad the American interventionist generals in Korea would not even stop fighting for the Olympic Games."
And when he refused to accept the invitation to visit the United States, he sneeringly stated he wouldn't be a party to "a circus."
So we can get along very well, without Zatopek. He has automatically barred himself. By his regrettable hatred Russia should not be represented at her political purposes.
It is doubly shameful that it obtained the help of Emil Zatopek, native of a country that once held the head high among the free nations of the world. And quite as shameful that Zatopek consented to accede to such a shameful role.
In winning the 5000-meter, 10,000-meter and marathon races at the Olympics, Zatopek, the gifted Czech army officer proved himself beyond doubt one of the most magnificent athletes in history.
This remarkable man is the P. T. Barnum of track and field. He puts on a show that would be the envy of a John Barrymore. Head thrown back, mouth open, his left shoulder, his face wrapped in agony, his fists clenched, elbows out in a fighting position. His tongue lolling out of his mouth and he appears to be gasping desperately for air.
But all this while his muscular legs are pounding off a splendid pace. His carriage and strides from the waist up, but he is poetry in motion from the hips down.
A great athlete. But a very poor citizen of his own and fortunate country.

GLEN ROYS WIN ALL-ONTARIO JUNIOR TITLE

Bob Hunter, 2-Game Winner With Sensational Hurling; Tosses One-Hitter in First

By GEO. H. CARTER
(Sports Editor)

NORTH BAY, Ont. — Behind the sensational hurling of Bob Hunter, the Belleville Glen Roys won the OASA all-Ontario Junior "A" softball championship here on Saturday, defeating North Bay Algonquins, Northern champions, in two straight games. The scores were 7-1 and 8-4.

While the southern champions backed up their ace righthander with timely hitting and sparkling work afield, the honor and glory goes to Hunter who sewed up an "iron-man" role and came through with flying colors.

He won the first game, with a sensational one-hit performance, the only North Bay clout being a trickling bunt that the runner beat out. He went to the second game with only one day's second inning and held the Algonquins to two hits and one run, that unearned.

In his overall performance Hunter pitched sixteen and two thirds innings, struck out eighteen batters and allowed but three hits, all of them bunts. In addition he blasted out three hits and drove in three runs.

One Reached Third

In his 7-1 victory, Hunter did not allow a ball batted out of the infield. Only one Algonquin reached third base and that in the ninth when Hunter control slightly waned three, coupled with two errors to fill the bases. Bob here dug in and forced the third batter to ground out after whiffing the first two.

Bobby Green started the second game, but it was not his day. He had a bruised arm sustained during a batting practice and could not find the plate. He walked three in the first inning, doubled with the bat, and this, with two errors and a wild pitch, enabled three Algonquins to cross the plate. He walked the first two batters to face him in the second and third banged out a single but sterling infield work nipped the runner at the plate. Green walked the next batter, and that was that.

Hunter went in and retired the side and handcuffed the northern champions over the rest of the route. He had a "dizzy" spell in the seventh but quickly recovered after a brief rest and went on to fashion his brilliant hurling display.

Not reflecting on the ability of the Algonquin youngsters, the northern kids were perhaps the weakest team the Glens met in their fourth trek down the championship trail. The Algonquins looked like pygmies alongside the big Glens but they were a smart team especially afield. They could do nothing with Hunter's slants and their heaviest punch to be two "other pitchers" against the hit-hungry Glens.

Small Crowd

Only a handful of spectators, some sixty, all told, were on hand to see the games. The fact that the North Bay boosters were busy in Walkerton playing for the All-Ontario title may have had something to do with the slim attendance at the junior tilts.

Hunter sent down twelve Algonquins via the whiff route in the first game. He allowed five bases on balls, but the fact that only two northerners were left on base in eight innings tells the story. He struck out five of the six batters to face him in the sixth and seventh innings.

The lone hit garnered off the Belleville ace came in the second inning. Laderoute, Algonquin third baseman drew a walk and Clement, a lightfielder, laid down a bunt. While Carr hesitated a second or so before throwing to Ted Degray at first but Clement beat the throw by a gnat's whisker. That was the only semblance of a hit Hunter allowed. Laderoute was later forced out and Hunter easily retired the next two batters.

The Algonquins threatened in the ninth when they scored their lone run. McMannus walked, and Clement drew a walk. Morgan attempted to sacrifice and was trapped. Bad choice dropped the ball for an error and McManus scored on the play. Watters drew another walk filling the bases but Hunter came down and forced Davidson to ground out.

The Glens got to Gordie Davidson, the Algonquin ace pitcher for three runs while seven of them extra-base clouts. Barclay led a triple with DeGray, O'Brien and Claude Carr blasting out doubles. Every man on the Glen lineup hit safely with Carr, O'Brien, Peter Green, Hunter and Carr good for two each.

They scored a single in the first, added two off Barclay's triple, Carr's double and Pete Green's single in the third, added another in the fourth when Hunter scored from third on a passed ball, two more in the fifth off Ted DeGray's automatic fouling double, Hunter's second hit of the game and a brace of walks.

Davidson wild-pitched Doug Hull home in the eighth for the Glen's last run after an error by Laderoute's single had put him on third.

Threw a Scare

The Algonquins tossed a scare into the Glens with their first innings three-run splurge off Bobby Green in the second game. However, they cut the score to three-two in the second when Lyle Wannamaker, who blasted a towering triple to deep right centre and DeGray who walked, galloped home on Bob Hunter's ringing single "through the middle."

The Glens went one up in the third and were never headed. Barclay who walked, was forced by Doug Hull and Batchelor drove a hit through second base. Both runners scored when McManus, Algonquin shortstop "threw the ball away." The Glens increased their lead by two in the fifth when Hull doubled and the rightfielder muffed Pete Green's bid for extra bases.

Lyle Wannamaker cam through with a clutch-single scoring both runners.

Algonquin errors paved the way for the Glens single runs in the seventh and eighth.

The Als got their fourth run in the sixth innings when Dan Clement, who hurled for the boosters in the second tilt, got one of the two hits off Hunter, banging safely. Batchelor juggled Watter's bid for a hit with Clement going to third on the play. A double steal worked for the Als here with Pete Green throwing to second in an attempt to nip Watters, but the relay to the plate was too late, Clement scoring. Clement, who got all three bunts off Hunter bunted safely in the eighth. But a mal-mannisted double play by Doug Hull nipped the threat in the bud.

Clement's two bunts off Hunter and Laloude and Laderoute's singles off Bobby Green tells the boosters story.

Lyle Wannamaker's triple and single paced the Glens attack with Claude Carr adding two singles, Hull, Batchelor and Bob Hunter contributed the remaining three of the seven hits garnered off Dan Clement.

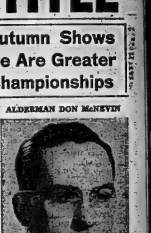
Algonquin in Autumn Shows Glen Roys There Are Greater Things Than Championships

NORTH BAY—Rolling through the bewildering beauty that is Algonquin Park at this time of year is an experience every resident of the "banana belt" should experience. The marvelous golds, scarlets splashed generously on timbered slopes be-ribboned by the silver of the tortuous highway is one of the finest works of the Master Painter.

The silver spires of the birches are etched against the ruddy gold and reds of the maples. Topping the rise near Killarney Lodge, the mirror-like surface of Lake Two Rivers seemed like a silver jewel gleaming in a nest of brilliant scarlet and gold salina.



We have seen this masterpiece of God's art on not a few occasions. Yet its flaming colors holds the same breath-taking thrill each successive time. This weekend travelling through the park with the Glen Roy juniors we experienced the same breathtaking thrill as did the most of the youngsters who were seeing it for the first time.

Even greater was the thrill near Highland Park when "Big Buck" the daddy of the deer herd wandered on the highway with three young bucks and a half dozen does. The boys stared in amazement when the pronged velvet-sheathed horns of the monster nuzzle at the car window, looking for tidbits.

The majestic grandeur of the wooded slopes afire with autumn glory, the peaceful solitude broken only by man-made machines rearing it seemed, in trespass over this magnificent natural canvas, gives, or should give every Canadian further pride in the grand country he calls his own. —G.H.C.

PLACE-KICKING THE FOOTBALL

2 On catch, ball is immediately placed in vertical position under fingers of left hand; right hand turns laces of ball to centre front if possible. Left fingers are not removed until ball is kicked from under them. For kick, kicker lines up with kicking toe on imaginary line through ball and centre of posts.

3 Eyes never leave ball. Foot swings forward with increased momentum. Knee is bent; thus ankle and knee lock at moment of impact; leg follows through for control after punching ball in the middle of its width and slightly below the centre of its length. Ball is held straight up for long kick; slightly tilted back for close-in kick.

Yes, it's control that counts, in football as in every sport—control which belongs the extraordinary quality that sets one performer above the other, in the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

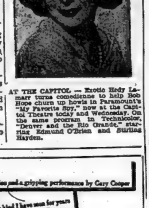
AT THE BELLE

Esther Williams, Joan Evans in M.G.M.'s Gay Nautical Musical "Skirts Ahoy"!

As breezy salty and refreshing as its title, "Skirts Ahoy!" launches a boatload of stars, songs, dances, love and laughs on the Belle Theatre screen in one of the year's gayest and brightest technical musicals.

Esther Williams, in a role attorm-fitting as her Wave uniform, leads the big parade of talent garnered for the rollicking musical tale of three girls who join the navy cluster to get or forget a man, with Joan Evans and Vivian Blaine as her torch-bearing buddies and Barry Sullivan, Keefe Brasselle and Dean Miller as the males responsible for it all. Also involved in the whirl of entertainment are the five De Marco sisters and the popular star Billy Eckstine.



Sidney Lanfield's direction takes every opportunity of the humorous and romantic aspects of the "Skirts Ahoy!" story, and Joe Pasternack has given his picture the colorful and eye-filling production details always associated with his technicolor musical offerings. "Skirts Ahoy!" is right out of the top drawer.

A new and funny Tom and Jerry cartoon "Duck Doctor" and an interesting Newsreel subject precede the feature attraction.

The entire program will be repeated today, Wednesday and Thursday.

AT THE CAPITOL — Bob Hope plays the dual role of a happy-go-lucky barnstorm comic and the suave tycoon spy whom he resembles in Paramount's "My Favorite Spy," the uproarious comedy at the Capitol theatre today and Wednesday. The picture co-stars Hope and the Rio Grande," in Technicolor, starring Raymond Orlando and Stirling Hayden.

AT THE CAPITOL — Exotic Hedy Lamarr turns comedienne to help Bob Hope clown up howls in Paramount's "My Favorite Spy," now at the Capitol Theatre today and Wednesday. The picture is in Technicolor. Co-starring with Hope in "Rio Grande," starring Raymond Orlando and Stirling Hayden.

AT THE McCARTHY — While Gary Cooper is killing off a fourth member of this outlaw gang, three others wait in ambush for him in this taut scene from Stanley Kramer's "High Noon," now at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre through United Artists release.

FRANKFORD

Bowling League

For the first time since the opening of the Frankford Bowling League, division 'A' this season, Lloyd Hanna's Robbers are not in first place. Ross Hoffman's Racketeers climbed into the top slot Thursday night, by blanking Preston Chase's Jets, while the Robbers were dropping five points to Jack Farley's Jack's Jokers. Gib Gillmour's Gib's Gang jumped into fourth place position by tallying seven from Karl Augin's Curley's Crew. Curley's Crew were breaking in their new recruit who promises great things for the team, "Wildcat" Wickson. The Hopefulsie led by Bob Arbuckle tried hard, but could only manage one game, and two points from Hugh Simmons' Outlaws.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Servicemen in the Second World War may have gone for the gaunter girl pin-up, but today they prefer the homespun girl.

That's the contention of Rebel Randall, favorite disk jockey of United States soldiers and sailors all over the world. Her show is carried over Armed Forces Radio Service to wherever American men are serving. Naturally, she gets a flood of letters from lonesome boys.

"Of course, they have their pin-ups," said Rebel, who is plenty all right in the cheesecake department herself. "But they seem more concerned with the girls they left back home. The letters I get are a perfect example."

Rebel admitted that some of her letters get pretty serious. She has had many offers of marriage.

How does she handle them? By a very simple method. She changes the subject. But she always continues writing. For two years, she

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR WEDNESDAY, OCT. 15, 1952:

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Direct your energies into proper channels. Retain ambitious plans within legitimate bounds. Spur-of-the moment decisions should be tempered with sound philosophy.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Fine aspects lend support to your earnest efforts. Sustain your drive forward and by all honorable means. Avoid problems that might confuse issues.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—If you start something carry it through to a successful conclusion. Don't give up halfway if the going is rough.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Your innate capability should be prodigiously displayed. Keep in tune with benefic rays. Maneuver "breaks" so they work better to your advantage.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Fair day for you determined, persistent Leoites. Don't go to extreme of straining or forcing. Avoid overstrain in desire to attain. Home, business affairs, highly sponsored.

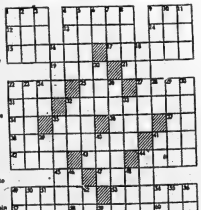
August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Schedule actions to get most out of day's good influences. Analyze needs and emphasize relative importance. Then strike out with full vigor for best results.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Your mental processes should encourage added effort. Add a little window dressing to your activities, make them more potent. News of unusual nature likely soon.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Don't waste your acquisitive talents on wrong goals. Essentials demand first attention. Personal, social, civic affairs more favored by p.m. rays.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Be not anxious to take over others' chores or "do it better yourself." There is plenty you must do anyway to have a full, productive day.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—The proceeds of honest, worthy labor are distributed in more and farther directions for good than we realize. How wrong it is to waste time or effort!



January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—If finishing something, finish it with as much care and enthusiasm as you began it. Needs ambition, give yourself that pep talk we all need occasionally.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Some days we just don't "feel" up to par; then we must either urge ourselves more, always strive for consistency, or relax for a build-up, if we have been stretching. Do all sanely.

YOU BORN TODAY: Have much for which to be thankful, though it doesn't always have pleased as you would have liked. Think about your fine mind and ability to get along with various people. Dwell upon the daily "minor" blessings whose very existence makes them forgetable.

Robber Beats Three Children, Man to Death

CHESTER, Chile (AP)—Police today studied many leads, but admitted their best clue to a robber who beat a man and three children to death Friday may be locked in the memory of a fourth child, left for dead by the killer.

The child, 3½-year-old Sondra Young, is recovering in hospital from head wounds similar to those which killed her father, grocer Guard Young, 43, two sisters, Judy, 6, and Jean, 7, and a neighbor boy, Michael Salle, 4.

The five were found Saturday in the trunk of Young's car. The killer or killers apparently was told Young ended his little jaunt to town as he returned with $1,126 from his regular Friday trip to a bank at Westwood, 14 miles away.

Police hope to question Sondra today.

Foreign Office Denies Report From Cairo

LONDON (AP)—The Foreign Office yesterday denied a Cairo press report that former King Farouk had asked Britain to save his throne and crush Maj.-Gen. Mohamed Naguib's military coup last July.

A spokesman told a press conference "no request of any sort was received directly or indirectly from Farouk" for British military help at the time of the coup.

In Cairo the Arabic newspaper Al Akhbar said Naguib's government had gathered enough evidence to try Farouk for high treason and destroy the death penalty. The paper published a detailed account of Farouk's alleged actions just before he was driven off the throne and out of Egypt by Gen. Naguib's coup.

DRIVER HANDICAPPED

Shifts in U.S. Population Church Problem

SEATTLE (AP)—A great population shift to the west and south has created the major problem confronting the Lutheran Church in the United States, clerics and laymen of America's largest Lutheran group reported today.

They were in virtually complete agreement on this in a sampling made of delegates to the 18th biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America.

The eight-day convention comes to an end tomorrow.

The reason the church has been confronted with a serious situation by the mass migration of the American people was described as mainly a matter of speed.

"We're finding it hard to keep up with them," said Rev. Charles G. Tusing, Pulaski, Va. "unless the church gets into an area at it bess etmiine the people do, those who were active in their home congregations do not normally take their place in the religious life of the new community into which they move."

Harry Meldrum Moore

During those years the village had been growing. Business places opened. The automobile age had come. Paths through the bush from outside had become roads, and the car owners had found them. Americans came to Lac Petit to fish or to hunt, and went away talking about the place. With an eye on the north shore, they had come back to build summer cottages, but Colly McKee had refused them any foothold there. They had turned to Farmer Lafrance and the south shore property and had made a deal. They had still been putting up cottages when Colly's wife had died, when daughter Sandra had decided that her only place in the world any more was with her father as his housekeeper and companion at the fine modern home at the sanctuary.

Much was the place in which the lost man was received by ex-nurse Sandra McKee that early afternoon—June 18, 1946, to be exact. Colly stripped the young man, gave him a wash, clothed him in a suit of pyjamas, had tucked him under the sheets when Sandy came in from the kitchen to take over. And presently soon there was a mixed smell of rubbing alcohol and iodine and Scotch whiskey, and the patient was resting easier.

Colly remained at the patient's bedside while Sandy absented herself in her room. When she returned, she was wearing her snow white uniform, her cap her mother's gold necklace with the blue turquoise pendant, the wrist watch her father had given to her on her last birthday. In her hand was her thermometer.

Colly McKee smiled proudly. Sandy in her spotless hospital uniform looked so professional but so sweet too. There was the calm assurance in her sparkling blue eyes that she knew what she was about. Colly watched her as she slipped the thermometer in the mouth of the young man, and stood patiently waiting to learn the extent of his fever.

"You know, Sandy," he said, "I do believe you like nursing." She raised her eyes and smiled.

"Yes, dad," she said proudly. "I love it—I like helping others."

And he knew as he watched her that she was indeed right.

"This is one patient who must consider some day how mighty lucky he was to fall into your hands," Colly ventured.

"I hope so, dad. It won't be my fault if he doesn't get better."

"If you think we should call in the doctor, Sandy," Colly offered, "I'll run over, to the village and try to get him."

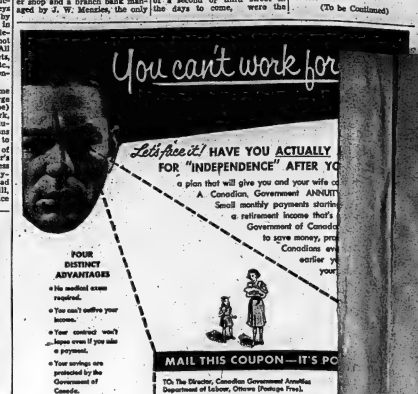
"Oh, I don't think we need the doctor, Dad," Sandy said. "At least not yet. Just let me handle him in my own way for a day or two. It's just a simple matter of waiting until he comes out of his coma, then to feed him carefully until he regains his strength. If he doesn't respond to that, if any complications set in—"

"Just as you say, just as you say," Colly agreed. "I leave it all in your hands"—he stopped and turned to the door, "I better run out and relieve old Ezebel of her last, bell her and turn her out again. I'll bet she'll never go back to that creek again."

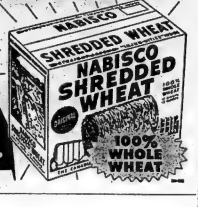
Her father gone, Sandy came close to the bed and bent over her patient, curiously. She took her handkerchief and wiped his puffed lips. He wasn't a bad looking chap even in the present condition. A hand moved. She caught it gently and examined it. It was a small soft hand with long fingers of the pianist; it was not the large hand of a laboring man. A clerk in a store or bank or an office of some kind, or possibly a student—a student working his way through college by doing light work—or a pay clerk in a lumber camp who had missed the road back to camp. Or, and she continued to surmise, perhaps someone on a fishing trip, a holiday, for who but someone fishing or holidaying, then losing his way, would be in the Laurentian Mountains in the fly season? She dropped the hand carefully, drew the window shade and with another look at the face on the pillow she went to the kitchen to prepare some liquid food that she must give him when he showed signs of being able to take it.

Her father came in to report that the cow had been milked but he had dumped the milk since he didn't like the color of it. The cow had been bellied and when he'd last seen her she was heading for the lake.

"And now," he said, "I'll be running over to the village." From the time the ice broke up in early spring until it formed on the lake in late fall that was something he was to do by boat without fail every day. On Sundays he and Sandy crossed the lake to attend service in the mission. "If there's anything you need," he said, "now's the time to tell me. One thing I must get is a new battery for that radio. I think you'll be safe enough here until I get back."



"Why, of course, dad," she laughed. "If he gets out of bed I'll just put him back again." She handed him a list of things she needed.



"Now Sandy," her father cautioned her, "Don't go throwing your weight around when he wakes up." The very thought of it made him laugh for Sandy appeared to be so small, so defenceless.

Colly ran his boat ashore just above the dam and below the village. A few steps up the bank and he was on the end of the main street, a narrow street that ran due east and west, the beginning of the rain road which ran east to the highway some 30 miles away. Lac Petit was a small place. There were no street lights, no sidewalks. The business places strung along facing each other across the narrow thoroughfare were of frame construction, not one over two storeys high, and owned exclusively by French-Canadians who were in the main bi-lingual to some degree with results that were not only colorful but amusing. All the signs for tobacco, cigarets, beer and soft drinks, soups etc., were in French—the mother tongue.

On the left where Colly came up the path, there was the large general store of Gabriel (Gabe) Mernier. Gabe was a tall, dark, young McGill University graduate who must change his plans and come back to Lac Petit to run the store after the death of his father. Next to Mernier's store was Laderoute's harness and cobbling shop, Vince. Payette's sawmill office with a road running down back to the mill. Paul Bernier's garage, service station and taxi business and the large frame hotel of Jules Bourette. Across the street, looking west—Fleury's bakery, Larue's Grocery, Rondeau's barber shop, the post office, Desmeurs's butcher shop and a branch bank managed by J. W. Menzies, the only non-speaking French business man, but in whose employ was a staff that made up for what he lacked. On a broad flat, back of the main street south and built without any regard to the needs of a second or third street in the days to come, were the homes of the business man, the sawmill workers, the churches, school, cemeteries. A road came up from the south through the residential area to join the main street at the bake shop on the corner.

Mossadegh Breaks Off Relations With U.K. Gov't.

Says British Prevented Agreement on Oil Issue

Iran's Decision Causes Little Surprise in U.K.

LONDON (AP) — Iran's decision to break off diplomatic relations when Britain was received with little surprise today. British officials at the Foreign Office expressed belief it had brought the bitter oil dispute to its most critical phase.

Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden were advised. Senior officials went into conference and planned to consult later with U.S. diplomats, who have joined with Britain in an effort to resolve the dispute.

The Foreign Office statement of yesterday giving Premier Mohammed Mossadegh a diplomatic spanking and the rejection Tuesday of Iran's latest offer in the 18-month dispute were seen as virtually daring Mossadegh to break off relations. So far Iran's chief has threatened to do so on previous occasions.

Britain's stiffened attitude toward Mossadegh was said by some informants to be based on information that his regime is facing an internal crisis. Mossadegh's cracked down this week on some generals and alleged accomplices charged with plotting to overthrow him.

There was no guarantee, however, that any successor to Mossadegh would take a more lenient view toward Britain on the nationalization issue.

Claim Chained, Caged Workers Used in Africa

GENEVA (Reuters) — South Africa was accused today of hiring Negro slave gangs out to farms at the equivalent of 25 cents a day.

The U.N. committee on forced labor was told the chain-gangs were taken to and from work in steel cages.

The evidence was included in a report from the British Anti-Slavery and Aborigines Protection Society that South Africa had contravened the 1930 international convention on forced labor.

C.W.W. Greenidge, secretary of the society, said South African farmers and mine owners had established state prisons near their farms so they could have a supply of cheap labor.

Africans arrested for petty crimes, he said, were often given the choice of working on the farms or going to jail.

FOUR ESKIMOS LOST

HALIFAX (CP)—Search for a party of four Eskimos reported missing in the remote waters of North Labrador has been called off and the Eskimos given up for dead, R.C.A.F. officials said last night. The four left the settlement of Frobisher Oct. 7 for the 40-mile boat trip to Koksoak in the far rugged southeastern extremity of Baffin Island.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synopsis: The Canadian prairies and Northern Ontario also had a blanket of snow this morning. Minimum temperatures ranged from 18 to 25 degrees in central Manitoba and Saskatchewan to 29 to 36 degrees in Northern Alberta. This area was the source of the cool air now flowing from the northwest across Ontario north and central regions today will be mostly cloudy and cold with snowflurries. In southern counties there will be a mixture of cloud and sunshine, but afternoon temperatures will remain in the low forties.

Friday will see more sunshine in most regions, but temperatures will remain on the cool side.

By MARC PURDUE

TEHRAN (AP) —Iran broke off diplomatic relations with Britain today. It was a grave development in the bitter, 18-month dispute over nationalization of holdings in Iran of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company and seemed to rule out any chance for a settlement.

Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, the frail but stubborn architect of nationalization, made the announcement in a broadcast. He had dispatched the message for the Majlis — lower house of Parliament — last night but not convene because it lacked a quorum.

By breaking off relations he made good a threat voiced several weeks ago. It was also his reply to a British note which Iranian officials said was "unreasonable and unacceptable" in a note delivered Tuesday. The British government and company it was standing pat on the "joint proposals" presented to Iran last July by Prime Minister Churchill and President Truman.

Iran's new premier spent six hours in consultations last night, first with the parliamentary joint oil board and then with the cabinet. He also had a long conference early today with Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi.

The new British note insisted the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company must be restored as the parliamentary joint properties nationalized by Iran 18 months ago.

It accused Mossadegh of forgetting British aid to Iran after the Second World War and of committing acts overstepping the limits of international courtesy.

Five Inches of Snow, Mercury Drops To 12 Degrees at Graham, Kenora

Three inches of snow fell at Sioux Lookout, at the Lakehead and Kapuskasing, at Sault Ste. Marie, and Kapuskasing hovered around freezing.

Scattered flurries are expected throughout the north tonight with temperatures like last night. Southern Ontario temperatures are expected to be about on inch of snow as far south as Sudbury. At North Bay rain fell in temperatures hovered freezing and some turned to snow.

POLIO DEATHS CONTINUE DESPITE COLDER WEATHER

2,604 Cases, 162 Deaths In '52 Western Epidemic

REGINA (CP)—Health authorities are wondering if the poliomyelitis epidemic has changed. Case and death totals continue to mount in Western Canada's worst epidemic despite frost and rain on weather in many areas. Previous years have seen outbreaks stop when cold weather arrived.

The west's totals climbed to 2,604 cases and 162 deaths yesterday, nearly 500 more cases than the previous record years of each province.

37 New Cases

Saskatchewan, with 37 new cases and four deaths in the last week, is the hardest hit, recording 1,002 cases and 62 deaths this year, compared with 315 cases and 22 deaths in its record year of 1947.

Alberta, with 607 cases and 54 deaths, is well above its 1948 record year when 380 cases and 28 deaths occurred, and British Columbia reported 96 cases and 26 deaths to top its 1947 record of 228 cases and 11 deaths.

The 20 deaths in Manitoba are equal in number to those of 1941 and 1951. The total of 162 is far below the record of 1,011 of 11 years ago.

Gunman Robs Co-managers Of Lauro Salas

CHICAGO (AP) — The co-managers of Lauro Salas, who has lightweight boxing championship to defend next last night, were held up and robbed in a parking lot of $467.50 as they left the Chicago Stadium.

The robber, a shabbily-dressed Negro, also took $300 from a companion of Salas' co-manager, Jimmy Fitten and Roger Leighton. Fitten reported to police the gunman took $427.50 from him and $40 from Leighton. The boxer received $6,425 as a share of the gate receipts and nearly $10,000 from television receipts.

Fitten told police the holdup man returned "the obscene expressing Sal a' share.

Wife Comes on Scene Where Husband Killed

SARNIA (CP)—Robert Bennett, 29, was killed early today when his automobile struck a telephone pole and a hydro pole and smashed through a brick pillar. He was an employee of Imperial Oil.

His wife, returning home along the highway, came upon the fatal scene of the accident as his body was taken away in an ambulance.

NO MORE JAIL 'FISHING'

TORONTO (CP) — Controller Allan Brand said yesterday there is suspicion that prisoners at the Don Jail are "fishing" articles up from the parking lot into cells. He said it is possible that prisoners in certain cells can extend a line from their windows to a second party in the parking lot. Board of Control received $8,455 for additional security measures at the jail.

Deputy Production Minister Criticizes Delays in Filling Defence Contracts for Govt.

QUEBEC (CP)—Canada's arms year machine is losing momentum, principally because a segment of industry is slow-moving and indifference in fulfilling defence contracts, R.M. Bryden, Canada's deputy Production Minister, said today.

He appealed to industry to maintain its responsibilities and said complacency has become so widespread that "we are facing situations which have to get drastic action to take on certain types of defence contracts."

In other cases, firms were "slowing down" on work in production and swinging priority to commercial instead of defence projects, Mr. Bryden added in a speech before the annual conference of the Canadian Industrial Preparedness Association.

The "indifference" towards defence was "absolutely inexcusable," not apply to industry as a whole, but it is "serious in certain fields."

Mr. Bryden, prominent electronics industrialist, said he realized the fault was not all with industry. The government had experienced difficulty in getting production plans from the United States and getting sufficient information the tools and this had an impact on the defence program.

Defence Work

But industry had a stake in Canada's defence. The acceptance of defence contracts, even if not as lucrative as commercial business, was not "too high a price to pay for the maintenance of political and economic freedom."

Mr. Bryden said Canada's "economic" sake up of arms and other defence manufacturing, was unwary about government defence spending after the current three-

$5,000,000,000 program ends in 1954.

Defence spending will continue, he assured the association. "There will be no abrupt cessation of activity."

Defence spending would be required to support a "certain level of defence preparedness," maintain military establishments in Canada, fulfil commitments to the United Nations and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and replace outdated equipment.

It's sometimes good to me these days that there isn't even time to take a good deep, breath before some piece of military equipment becomes obsolete," he said.

He made these other points:

1. Industry need not worry too much about the future. Besides government defence spending, industry plans to invest some $5,000,000,000 during the period, the 1952-56 period, making the business outlook "encouraging."

2. The government may, in "a future year," direct investment in defence plants and replace it with greater ...e of a high rate of depreciation allowance. If it proposes, thus avoiding "many of the problems associated with government ownership."

Skilled Men Needed

The Government, he said, has not, although low 'gation of the production delays and found a main problem was the need of training skilled help.

Technical staff was scarce throughout Canadian industry. But if Canada hasn't enough qualified help to carry out its defence programme, "what would we be up against in the event that we were called upon for an all-out effort?"

U.S. Machine-Gunners Mow Down Waves of Chinese Reds Trying to Storm Triangle Hill

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—American machine-gunners today mowed down wave after wave of Reds storming Triangle Hill on the central Korean front.

Savage fighting also swirled across nearby Sobok Ridge. There the Reds attempted to the top and wrested control in close-quarter fighting from a South Korean force reoccupied the height.

Allied planes lay off in trip-hammer blows against the Reds. U.N. artillery blasted Chinese approach trenches and raked Communist Pupsa-san Mountain, the Chinese jumpoff point for the Triangle Hill assault.

The Americans consolidated their positions this afternoon when they won the last Red-held knob on Triangle after a day-long battle. An AP correspondent Milo Farnell at the front said the Americans "took the knob from three directions and forced the Reds to run.

From their reservoir of reserves on Pupsa-san Mountain, the Reds also hurled savage attacks at the South Korean 2nd division on Sniper Ridge.

The assault started at dark with one platoon. Gradually the Chinese committed more and more men until a full battalion hit South Korean.

An Allied officer said the South Koreans "are tough" and held their positions at noon and were digging in against further expected Chinese onslaughts.

The only other heavy fighting today was a Communist probing attack on outpost hill northeast of Chorwon. The Communists hit it with screaming and blowing flutes, knocked a South Korean unit off the hill early this morning. The South Koreans recaptured the hill.

Dentists Must Be 'Painless' The Law Says

LONDON (Reuters)—Britons are entitled to "painless" dentistry under the national health program, the Middlesex county health executive chief today.

A dentist who charged a patient for an anaesthetic to ease the pain was fined $50.

"The health scheme covers all reasonable treatment," the executive said. "If an anaesthetic is considered necessary, it is certainly included."

Strange Reason Given by Accused In Traffic Death

KITCHENER (CP) — Ira Bettger of Guelph, Ont., said in court here yesterday the reason he was involved in a fatal traffic accident near New Hamburg July 22 was that he was talking with a five-year-old youngster in his car.

Bettner is charged with manslaughter in the death of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kalbfleisch after a crash at the intersection of highways 7 and 8 about 10 miles west of here.

Bettner said his passenger was Terry Yeates, 5, of Waterloo. "I was talking to him and not much attention to him," he said. As a result he had not seen the Oldsmobile coming.

Two witnesses said the driver of the Oldsmobile seemed as he neared the intersection. They estimated he was travelling 45 to 60 miles an hour.

DOLLAR RATE

MONTREAL (CP) —The American dollar was at a discount of 3 17-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Montreal announced this noon today, EST. Wednesday's noon rate was 3 19-32. The pound sterling was $2.69 7-16, against $2.69 7-8 Wednesday.

LEWIS TOSSES STRIKE THREAT AT OPERATORS

Some Miners Off Job To Back Up Demands

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Reports of growing restlessness came from the country's coal fields today in the wake of a strike threat tossed at the industry by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers.

everal thousand miners are off the job to back up demands for a pay hike being held up pending approval of the Wage Stabilization Board.

While there is no indication that the walkouts will spread quickly both coal operators and miners are keeping a close watch on Washington for developments.

The pit men's anxiety over whether the W. S. B. will approve the pay increase negotiated for them by Lewis was heightened yesterday when the mine boss told his members to refuse to work after Nov. 18 unless mine operators have won approval of increased royalty payments to the U.M.W. welfare fund by that date.

$1.90 a Day Increase

The increase, now up before the W.S.B., called for an increase in the royalty payments of from 90 to 40 cents a ton in the soft coal-fields. The contract also provides a wage boost of $1.90 a day. Miners have been earning $16.35 daily.

In winding up the U.M.W. convention in Cincinnati, Lewis told delegates the contract specifies that each operator certify by Nov. 18, and the 10th of each month thereafter, that he has paid the royalty covering production for the previous month. Lewis added:

"If he fails to agree to go to work on the 18th (Nov. 18) unless it is found that the welfare is paid. There are no ifs, and buts about it. On the morning of the 18th is the deadline."

Shortly after Lewis spoke five southern Illinois mines were employing some 2,100 men were closed by a walkout. Closest source to the U. M. W. said the men apparently left work because swelling the W.S.B.'s approval of the $1.90 pay boost.

Approximately 3,155 Kentucky miners were reported on strike. Another 1,200 were off the job at four mines of Republic Steel Corp. in western Pennsylvania.

The Bituminous Coal Operators Association reports the W.S.B. is expected to reach a ruling by the end of the week on the legality of the $1.90 increase. The pay rise appears to be nearly twice as high as automatic cost of living regulations allow.

Payroll Sales Of New Bonds Almost Doubled

OTTAWA (CP) —Payroll sales of the new series of Canada savings bonds almost doubled last year, ing the first two days of the current campaign, the Bank of Canada reported today.

The total came to $7,330,000, compared with $4,-635,000 purchased in the same period last year.

Canada's armed forces subscribed to $1,551,000, more than eight times greater than the $186,000 worth of sales a year ago.

French Farmer Held in Deaths Of Noted Britisher and Family

LURS, France (AP) — Police today jailed Gustave Ricard, 56-year-old farmer, in connection with the triple slaying last summer of British-diet expert, Sir Jack Drummond, his wife and daughter.

Thieves Return For Accessories To Fit Tanks

What earthly use is a stainless steel oxygen tank if you haven't got the right accessories to go with them?

Just this could be the thought of persons responsible for the disappearance Wednesday night of welding torch, oxygen and acetylene gauges and 200 feet of rutter hose which were stolen from the bridge and building department at the C.N.R. Trenton station.

Several weeks ago the oxygen and the acetelene tanks were taken from the building and last night cutting torch and other accessories disappeared. Railroad police said the missing gauges and torch would fit the tanks taken previously.

Engineers Told Better Public Relations Needed

Dr. John B. Stirling M.E.I.C. president of the Engineering Institute of Canada made his presidential visit to the Belleville branch of the Institute on Tuesday.

The meeting was held at the Quinte Country Hotel in Trenton where the president addressed the branch on the subject "Research, the Engineering Profession." Dr. Stirling pointed out that the number of engineers in the country had increased greatly, but that recognition of the profession had lagged. He urged that the engineers themselves stimulate a greater consciousness of their profession.

Dr. Stirling pointed out that through the Engineering Institute of Canada, Canadian engineers were recognized in the international and national levels. The Institute is a member of the Engineering Council for International Development, of which various countries are the members. This year Lt.-Col. L. F. Grant, an engineer of Hamilton, is chairman of this organization. Canadian engineers are also represented in the Institute on Commonwealth and Inter-American Relations.

At the national level, the citizens of the country recognize the ability of our engineers through their war exploits. Several engineers have occupied prominent positions with the Federal government. Dr. Stirling explored however, the lack of recognition of the civil engineers who are responsible for public life for more power, steel and aluminum.

At the civic level, there is very little appreciation of the profession. Dr. Stirling urged urged that the engineers participate in the affairs of the service clubs and civic organizations. The speaker felt that engineers had a duty and public recognition was to render unpaid public service to the engineer's own community.

In closing, Dr. Stirling stated that public relations or knowledge, will not raise the status of the profession but that the engineer himself through public service can achieve a true recognition of the profession.

The speaker was introduced by S. S. Stilling and thanked by C. R. Punchard. G. A. Bradford was chairman. Other head table guests included Col. and Mrs. H. G. Thompson, from Montreal and Mr. R. L. Dobbin and Mr. A. R. Killsly from Peterborough.

The Belleville Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada was formed in 1948 and at present time there are approximately 80 professional engineers in the branch who are employed in various engineering capacities in Belleville and the surrounding district which includes Picton, Trenton, Deloro and Campbellford.

The Engineering Institute of Canada is the largest technical professional body in the country. It was formed in 1887 and today has nearly 13,000 members and 43 branches which extend from Newfoundland to British Columbia.

Many Recovered Stolen Bicycles Await Ownership

Bicycle owners are either very careless with their property or else have no more use for their bicycles once they are stolen.

This is the startling taken by city police as the number of recovered bicycles continues to mount with many of them never being claimed by their owners. At the present time there are close to 25 bicycles and tricycles awaiting owners and the police station. All were found abandoned in the city, presumably after being stolen.

The majority of the bikes were recovered in the north end, but there are at least ten recovered from the east and never claimed by owners.

Heavy Sale of Hunting Licences Reported for City and District

If Black, Mallard and Teal, Ltd., or whatever organization it is operates the wild duck tourist influx each season, reach the story, we're only kidding.

A little mental arithmetic after studying round figures reveals that approximately one-fifteenth of the population of this city and immediate district is composed of duck hunters.

Taking the population of the city and its immediate environs as being 23,000 souls, including the hunters, and noting that at least some 1,600 duck hunting licences will be sold, well, you figure it out.

According to licence issuer, Don Thomas, well over 1,300 small game licences have been sold to date, and this figure will reach approximately 1,500 before the books are closed for the season. The 1,300 official documents sold is well in advance of the number sold a year ago this time of the season, Mr. Thomas said.

It could be the high price of fish steaks and chops, or perhaps the way.

Mrs. Pearl Rombough of Napanee and Mrs. Bertha Rombough of Minaki were married at Napanee, are 19 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

Interment was in Deseronto cemetery.

Fire Red Police As 'Unreliable'

VIENNA (AP) — The Wiener Kurier reported today that the Russians have fired 500 of their Austrian police and replaced them with eastern Austria, as "unreliable." The paper said the jobs were quickly filled by Austrian workers eager to get more money.

The Kurier says police, some 11 to 45 years old, are the nearest thing in the Russian zone of Austria to East Germany's People's Police. Totaling 8,000 to 10,000 men, they are stationed in the 300 plants and oil refineries under Russian control.

Victoria Park Receiving Bit Of Face Lifting

Victoria Park which in recent years has taken a beating from high water conditions is receiving a bit of face lifting under the direction of a special committee appointed by council to rejuvenate the park.

Timbers along the harbor side of the park are being raised about two feet and the dock is being extended about 150 feet further north and rock fill is being dumped in to raise the level. The work is under the direction of Alderman Arthur Keegan and Harry Saith with other members of the special committee being Lt. Col. F. H. Wills, Freeman Burrows and Mel Matthews.

Timbers from the old grandstand by the local fair grounds are being used to raise the dock level, while rock from the city quarry on Dundas street is being used for fill. A bulldozer has been hired to level the fill as it is drawn.

The work is part of a program aimed at rejuvenating Victoria Park and providing a slip for anchorage of pleasure craft on the water craft. Council has designated $2,500 to be spent on the park this year.

Commencement Exercises Held For St. Michael's H.S. Graduates

Commencement exercises for graduates of St. Michael's High School were held Friday afternoon in the school auditorium when Very Reverend L. B. Garvin presented diplomas to the successful students. Special scholarships to top students were presented by the presidents of the various organizations making the awards.

Joseph Hawkings, Grade XI student, welcomed the graduates after they took their places on the stage; their parents and friends, noting commencement exercises had been an annual event in the auditorium for the past 13 years. The welcome each year, however, contained the warmth that comes only when ties of friendship had been tried and true.

He noted that two of the graduates were soloists. Miss Virginia Amodeo was now a postulant in Providence Novitiate, Heathfield, while Bernard O'Neill was a seminarian at St. Augustine's in Toronto.

St. Michael's High School choir sang two numbers during the program, the first "Christ the King" at the opening of the commencement, and the second "Prayer Perfect" following the awarding of scholarships.

Valedictorian Thomas Lally expressed the sentiments of the 24 graduating class noting they were experiencing mingled feelings. They had feelings of gladness because the goal had been reached and of regret because happy days and pleasant associations at St. Michael's High School were now at an end.

On behalf of his class members he expressed gratitude to the parents, and to the pastor and teachers, who he said had not only been teachers, but friends.

Very Reverend L. B. Garvin then expressed his great pleasure in offering congratulations to the graduates, commenting on the outstanding success of the Upper School students on the June examinations. He expressed his pleasure in the knowledge that they were continuing their studies, and urged participation in athletics as well as in the academic fields. Special mention was made of two graduates, Miss Virginia Amodeo and Bernard O'Neill, who have chosen the religious life.

B.C.I. Driver-Training Course Badly in Need of Motor Car

"For the want of a shoe the horse was lost--" and so goes the popular rhyme which once appeared in public school readers.

The moral of the rhyme has been proven time and again and there are fears it may have its parallel at the Belleville Collegiate where a car is badly needed for the driver-training class.

Slightly more than a year ago the driver-training course was organized at the Collegiate by Ardell Wilson, motor mechanics instructor. A new car was made available by a local auto dealer and the course went big guns.

Last spring 14 members of the course completed their driver-training course and received certificates from the Ontario Motor League and about 15 others were nearly ready to complete the course when the term fell in. The auto dealer loaning the car closed out his business in the city and the car was recalled.

And during the class has been getting along without a car with theory instruction only being given and working time. Mr. Wilson admits that interest on the part of the students is falling off.

Driver-training courses have gone over big in the United States and a number of secondary schools in Ontario have organized courses. It is felt the courses fill a big need in teaching teen-agers the proper and safe way to drive a car.

Driving Experience Needed

"We are continuing to give driving theory to the 22 students enrolled this year, but actual driving experience is needed if the full worth of the course is to be realized," Mr. Wilson pointed out.

In addition to driver-training students enrolled in the course receive instruction on the proper maintenance of their car. And the students actually learn by doing and under the supervision of their instructor are required to keep their car properly washed and greased. Students enrolling in the course must be 16 years or over.

Instruction is definitely extra-curricular as far as Mr. Wilson is concerned with all driving and other lessons in theory being given after the regular school classes close at four o'clock.

So if any local auto dealer feels he would like to assist local teenagers in receiving proper instruction in car driving and at the same time get some advertising for his product he will find some ready listeners at the local collegiate.

MR. ABBOTT'S EMBARRASSMENT

Whether Finance Minister Abbott has consciously budgeted his bulging surpluses these last few years is something we never expect to be told; but it is our guess that before the next federal election is over he will regret that he had not pursued a fiscal policy trimmed a good deal closer to the weather.

He must already be apprehensive about the portents of rough political weather ahead and there isn't much doubt that it can be traced to high-tax defence centres. The cry of "high taxes" is abroad and the demands for relief from them are only exceeded by the calls upon the Government for extension of the welfare state.

Canada's C.C.F. Leader M. J. Coldwell has revived his party's demands — which are made from time to time — for the introduction by Ottawa of a comprehensive National Health Insurance Plan. "Canada," he says, "has never been in a more favorable position" to do so than it is right now.

Naturally Mr. Coldwell had in mind — and was aware that many of his listeners would have in mind — that embarrassing figure of $334,000,000 in current budgetary surplus. Of course, Mr. Coldwell very well knows that the sort of health plan he regards as "comprehensive" enough would more than wipe out that surplus figure in the course of a year.

Mr. Coldwell's party, let us remember, is happy to describe itself as the "political arm of labor" and some of the things the two great labor congresses in the country are currently demanding must haunt the Minister of Finance if he has stopped to contemplate their proportions.

After all, it is not very difficult to persuade quite a few electors that surpluses in the hundreds of millions could finance Utopia Unlimited. Indeed, if we can believe what we read, the delegates to the labor congresses in convention a few days ago do not object to the monetary and we can be sure that the last persons who would attempt to reveal the fallacy of the idea would be their political advisers, Mr. Coldwell and company.

For the latest party resolution — described its health plan as one "which will provide adequate medical, surgical, optical, psychopathic and dental treatment, with appropriate hospital and nursing care, for all who need such services" — Mr. Coldwell has asked Ottawa to increase old-age pensions to $65 a month at 65 without means test. This item alone would cost about $850,000,000 a year.

A few other "demands" included an attractive scale of increased income tax exemptions, increased Unemployment Insurance benefits, deduction from income tax of the cost of workers' tools, exemption of unemployment receipts from taxation, and of course "any other income tax reductions for low income groups that are found feasible."

But these things were all in the domestic field of Government. The congresses are also on record as urging that the Canadian treasury should increase its aid to under-developed countries.

We hope Mr. Abbott can trust the good sense of the electorate at large to recognize the utter absurdity of such socialistic nonsense but we know that every possible doubt will be raised by Mr. Coldwell in the minds of a great many people. We can see offer Mr. Abbott the choice that the Progressive-Conservatives, the Social Creditors or the Communists will do much to relieve the embarrassment his budgets have brought him and his government colleagues.

MORE THAN A POLITE BOW

Belleville citizens owe something more than a polite bow in the direction of Alderman Don McNevin and his champion Glen Roys. In bringing the Ontario Junior "A" Sorting title home last Friday week-end they made local sport history. They have had to travel the length and breadth of the province in the last few weeks to earn the championship.

Playdowns took them to Oshawa, Toronto and Windsor before they journeyed north for the finals. Many a provincial title has gone by default when clubs have been faced with playoff schedules a good deal less exacting. It is to the credit of Belleville that he gave the boys every chance to go the limit. It is to their credit that they measured up in the true measure of champions. The performances of the Glens' spectacular young trailer, Bob Hunter — and his mates — in the two final games were of championship calibre by standards in any league.

The good and welfare of sport in the community is in good hands when citizens of the type of Don McNevin are prepared to give the time, and underwrite the cost, that is entailed in developing such a club as the Glen Boys. The suggestion that the distinction which they have won for themselves — and for Belleville — deserves some tangible civic recognition is one which, we feel sure, has the approval of citizens generally.

JUST FOLKS

FIRST HEARTACHE

There were tears in her eyes
as she wandered away,
As they were in her mother's on just such a day.
For all mothers to weep seems world-over rule
When the baby grows up and starts to school.

That turning her back for the first timid appears An excusable reason for heartache and tears.

This first touch of grief every mother has known!
Time to take them to school and to come back alone.

It was so long ago when her schooling began,
And so it will be when he's grown to a man.
When his mother watches another morning must rise
To take him to school, there'll be tears in her eyes.

Destroyed Many Times

(National Geographic News)

Joshua brought the walls of Jericho tumbling down with sound of horns, and the ruins of his followers, but he was neither the first nor the last to level the outer ramparts of that ancient city of the Holy Land.

Nature and such conquerors as Joshua took turns in visiting destruction on Jericho, now a village in the Kingdom of Jordan. The present village, says the National Geographic Society, is only a short distance from some of the oldest of the world's most ancient settlements.

Recent research by archaeologists at the Jericho site has unearthed what may be the oldest known city or town wall, buried beneath the hills of the Dead Sea desert.

Jericho's earliest wall probably was built by prehistoric people of the Neolithic Age, the epoch of the Stone Age who had learned to polish their stone implements but had not yet discovered the art of making pottery.

The Neolithic period in Palestine stretched over the centuries some 6,000 years before the year 4,000 B.C. The first Jericho wall may be as old as that, or older, but Garstang discovered at Jarmo in Iraq, believed to be even older than Jericho, traces of village life in the world.

Signs of even earlier community life are thought to be found in the Neolithic Jericho findings, but their nature has not been established. Traces predating the walls of Jericho are found in the Mousterian culture of an agricultural village.

In the rubble and earthfill above the Neolithic wall were found remains of five other distinct city levels, the last of which probably was probably destroyed by an earthquake in the Middle Bronze or Bronze Age. The fate of the others is not determined, but some may have been destroyed by earthquake.

Perhaps one of the later walls was destroyed by Joshua's invading attack, although archeological evidence has failed to establish that the walls can be dated in his time, estimated to be about 1200 B.C.

Later rulers have been more thoroughly destructive. Herod the Great built a city here shortly before the time of Christ. Hadrian, Archalaus, also constructed many buildings in the Roman style. Some of the ruins, which of the Roman rulers uncovered, are believed responsible for the destruction.

Predating the Roman structures by some five years are the ruins of an Hellenistic tower built either by the Persians or their Greek-Syrian enemies. After the Romans left, the Arabs took the site of Jericho for further construction, all of which is now buried rubble.

The latest layers of outside civilization date back only about 35 years, when Turkish rule was in force.

Grocery Politics

(Montreal Gazette)

This fence-mending before the election is a bit quite interesting to watch. From this feverish scene it is not difficult to tell about the government team most in need of a bit of fence mending. The effort now is being made to suggest that the government has been trying all along the line to get together on this business of feeding people while the economy all round.

The most conspicuous piety is perhaps rather late. It hardly fits in with what the government has been doing for years.

It recalls the story that P. T. Barnum used to tell about his grocer who was a deacon. The deacon-grocer would tell about his breakfast to his clerk: "John, have you watered the milk?" "Yes, sir." "And added the sugar?" "Yes, sir." "And dusted the pepper?" "Yes, sir." "And chlorofed the coffee?" "Yes, sir." "Then come up to prayers."

UNKINDEST CUT

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

Well, it's a long time between drinks but at least all of us when a lad tries his first chew of tobacco.

Letter to the Editor

Says Flowers Best Way To Express Sympathy

Editor, Ontario Intelligencer.

I have read your editorial "There are Other Ways" in Tuesday's paper.

You claim that sending flowers to the funeral of a friend is indeed a waste of money. You also claim that you could it would hurt florist business if no flowers were sent to the funerals.

Let us consider it in running a newspaper. Could you publish the Ontario Intelligencer at a profit, if all the merchants in the city and district omitted their advertisements and donated this money to the policemyeilis fund or some other worthy cause? It would be a wonderful boost to these funds, because they would gain far more than they would from the paper's advertising and would probably get much more advertising out of it.

Funeral flowers are the backbone of the florist industry. Have you any alternative for employing the thousands of people now employed in the florists industry throughout the country, if everybody was to take your advice and stopped sending flowers?

The vicar's original dispute was on the Heathish way of being unable to buy her deceased husband a sympathy wreath for Christmas or his high church office could have contacted Harrods, who kindly sent flowers, and we are very sure had they been asked for a contribution they would have willingly donated further to buy a separate gift.

Again, does it make much difference how much money is collected, it is doing so you take the money from the pockets of people all over the world, who are employed in the florist and nursery industries which depend on this business.

Why take it from the florist industry? Why not the liquor, dance or beer industries. Of course, if you have no mind sense suitable replacement, please tell us how. Perhaps you have some paper, as that is what the world has been needing for years.

Mr. Editor, in fairness to everybody, what is more important, flowers or the living?

When you write editorials such as these you should read the editorial as stories not based on facts are very injurious to business.

You accept our advertising why take verbal cracks at your own? I'm sure you are sure that this is very poor business ethics on your part.

In closing, I would like to state that there are many more effective ways of expressing your sympathy, besides the many beautiful floral tributes you see at a funeral. A bare casket would look terrible. I feel sorry for my friends in the world.

Yours for the survival of the florist industry.

—Wm. G. Rowland

CROWS ARE SILENT

(Sirens, Man.-Gazette)

For the last week or two a strange silence has come over the rural scene. For a full fortnight previous to that, however, the skies were filled with noisy, raucous crows.

Flocks of the black things in thousands created a stir—the din of which carried for a mile on the still autumn air—could not be observed.

Observers state that when the crows head together, there will be plenty of winter weather in the months to come.

Personal Health Talks

Signed Letters, Not More than One Page, or 100 Words Long, Pertaining to Personal Health and Hygiene, Not to Disease, Diagnosis or Treatment, Will be Answered by Dr. Brady if a Stamped, Self-Addressed Envelope is Enclosed, Etc.

WILL YOUR CHILD BE A NEUROTIC?

"Hitch your wagon to a star," our parents counseled us. "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again," they chanted the old refrain. It was not difficult to indoctrinate us with the poison of "Success." After all, if we weren't a Success, what else could we be but a Failure! We are still busily breeding neurotics with the American Success Story.

The truth appears to be that only a small sampling of the children so compelling for first place can ever achieve it. There is room for only one first in each spot. All children are not by nature equipped to achieve this first spot. No matter how have they may work and plan. Their capacities are simply not great enough. We are adding and adding to the ranks of the neurotics, the frustrated, by pushing them toward a hightmare. They are aiming at unreal, unattainable goals. They are destroying themselves in the process.

Help your children to set goals that you feel they can reasonably attain. When these are reached, set further, attainable goals. Let them have the taste of success all along the line. Let them learn the satisfactions that come to the tasks done for their own sake, not for applause, not for profit, not personal aggrandizement. So, not "what a fine boy you are," Say, "what a fine job you have done," you've done."

Teach your child competes, let it be with his own record. "Your pitching is better this month than it was last month." Never mind how much better Jimmie's pitching is. Your child cannot do much it differs from the quality of pitching you wish he were doing. Let him enjoy the playing of the game. You don't have to win. Don't be afraid to lose. He'll want to win soon enough. Don't push him. Let him develop love and affection from you the night he brings home a report card full of C's and D's as he gets when he brings those winning A's. Why not praise him for less? Or is your success story not pounding you? Watch yourself unless you want another neurotic in your home.

Don't let my effort in teaching your child how to study and to enjoy doing it help him until you see he has the feeling of satisfaction from his own work.

Spend yourself in teaching him to play the game with the best possible skill and spirit and the noblest sportsmanship. He'll take care of the rest of the job. Try to remember that there are infinite gradations between winning and losing, between success and failure. Sometimes the middle places are the happiest. That's where you find healthy, strong citizens living full, productive, useful lives. What more do you want for your children?

It's less than a month since I received the C V D booklet. My ankles had swelled slightly for two or three years past. Now, to my behold at night I find two shoes slipping, because little or no swelling. Am I feeling better than I have for a long while ....(Mrs. E. W. M.)

Answer—Thank you, Ma'am. Any reader who sends 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope may have a copy of the booklet. (About heart and artery disease).

Sugar

Would like to know how long it takes sugar to leave the system. (E. C. W.)

Answer—It would depend on physical activity and on the amount of sugar taken. Exercise burns the sugar (fuel) faster.

BALM FOR EARS

(Windsor Star)

Mr. J. C. Phillips, chief of the industrial hygiene section, medical department, Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, warns of the effects of excessive noise on the ears. It can endanger hearing, decrease efficiency and affect health.

Too little attention has been given to this in the past. When industrial noises are loud, it is applied to save it from damage. Excessive noise especially if it is of a worker long subjected to it is grim.

APOLOGIZE—OR ELSE

(Chicago Daily News)

A man on a fishing trip with his wife explained that the small-mouthed bass were the males and the large mouth were the females. A remark like that is an invitation to get hit over the head with an oar.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ON HARBORING HATE

The harboring of hate has caused most of our wars, if not all of them, and most of those which have been won because of the injustice of those who hated owe their inception to this one unholy thing of hate. This week-end, while those nations of the free world, all despise even the thought of war.

No nation of this free world wishes a war with Russia. Why then this continual propaganda of hate that Russia keeps alive. No one wants war with the Russian people in a war, and I am sure the Russian people themselves have no desire for war. The whipping out of all hate would make of this world the paradise God meant it to be.

One of the cornerstones of the Christian religion is this admonition: "Love thy neighbor as thyself." If this became universal all armaments would speedily be dispensed: The simplest solutions, however, to great problems seem to be ones that are resorted to last: To hate is the curse of all ills. To hate is to deny justice and everything that disclosure the dignity of man and his right to inherent freedom.

Harboring hate within one's heart is a destroyer of the finest elements in a human being. It has its evil effect upon the physical, mental, and spiritual values that control one's whole healthy and aspiring person. It is the enemy of all happiness and lasting joy.

In the life of Colonel Hutchinson, by his wife, I came across this line: "He was forgetful of the faults of others." If we are forgetful of hate we easily remember to love and to forgive the faults of others as we would like them to forget our own. In other words the Golden Rule hasn't gone out of fashion, nor will it ever go out! There is nothing glorious about war. Hate keeps it alive. The shortest but the most comprehensive of Moses was: "Thou shalt not kill."

Harboring hate is to defeat the very purpose of life which is to live and let live. To love is the greatest of all privileges—to love God, nature, and one's fellow man.

WASTED WORKERS

(New York Times)

A vital point too often overlooked by employer is that hiring physically handicapped persons is not a charitable act but rather a sound business venture. Such workers usually are capable and devoted employees, the fact they have had to wage against their adversity often results in strengthened character and steadfastness of purpose.

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

"THINK ON THESE THINGS"

We often hear the statement that the Church is full of hypocrites. Is this true?

If by this statement we mean that the Church is full of people who fail to live up to the highest they believe, then every church member living today and every church member that ever has lived has been a hypocrite. This would include the apostles. But such a definition of hypocrisy is absurb. Only Jesus himself has been a perfect Christian. All of us have failed on short of our highest ideals; but because of this we are not hypocrites.

A hypocrite is a person who is playing a part. The hypocrite tries to hide an evil life under a pious exterior. Let no one tell you that the Church is full of people of this sort, for that is not true. In a ministry of preaching and pastoral cares, I encountered just one city, smoaking hypocrite, I have never known a Christian who lived up to the best he believed, but we are not all hypocrites because we fail to meet our highest aspirations. A hypocrite is a rare individual indeed and such people, thank God, are scarce in the Church and scarce in the business world at large.

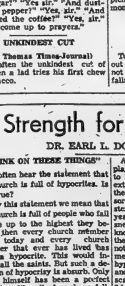
"If there be any virtue or if there be any praise, think on these things."

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

For the first time since her marriage at the end of the war eight years ago, a piece of mail arrived from her husband who has gone to Sweden for the international postgraduate surgical study. The worst feature of the situation is the letters her husband writes to her are so far away.

"There isn't one sentence," she says, "in the letters he used to write me, eight years ago, that I would read aloud to anyone else. Now I can read the whole letter without a blush of embarrassment. They are full of news of his work, but he has also found time to compose about scenery in Sweden. He takes a whole page to tell me about the countryside. And curious social and governmental features of the country. I am right down to the last line before he happens to mention how he is, just before he signs off, that he loves me."



I asked my niece what sort of letters she writes to him.

"Oh, well, of course," she admits, "I have to give him news of the children. He will be delighted to hear the latest instance of the Packsack's growing independence. Besides, I have all sorts of little items about the home and shopping without which my letters would be mere humbug."

"That's not a very nice way to put it, niece.

"But the truth must be faced that the chemistry of love supplies to the young lover, whether man or woman, with a gift of expression, it is purely chemical. Once a young man and woman have married, and have some children, a new sort of chemistry comes into effect. It is not so lyrical in its literary manifestation. It leans more towards the factual, the descriptive and the narrative.

"Frankly, it is awfully hard to write a love letter on one of those flimsy airmail letter forms. The way of thinking, they are too perishable to withstand a really hot pen.

WEDDINGS

COUGHLAN—HEAGLE

Wellman's United Church, Wellman's, was the setting on Saturday, October 4, at 2:00 p.m., for the marriage of Mary Agnes Heagle, of Wellman's, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Heagle, to William Alexander Coughlan, of Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Coughlan. The Rev. R. B. Bonsteel officiated before a background of gladioli and ferns.

Mrs. Lorne Watson was pianist for the occasion and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Frederick Beckett, of Wellman's, who sang before the ceremony, "O Perfect Love", and "The Lord's Prayer", and during the signing of the register, "Because".

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in her bridal gown of imported French Chantilly lace and nylon net over taffeta. The bodice, accented with fitted bodice featuring a sweetheart neckline, appliqued, pearl-centred flowers. The bouffant skirt fell in graceful folds from the fingertip veil of tulle illusion was caught in a petal cap encrusted with pearls and sequins. She also carried American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Charles Barker, of Trenton, sister of the bride, was matron of honour. She wore a floor length sheath of yellow net over mauve taffeta. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Raymond Hedger, of Belleville; Mrs. George Bedard, of Frankford, and Miss Ruth Glasser, of Wellman's, were gowned alike in green taffeta with yellow net overskirts, and wore matching mitts and Dutch hats. The matron of honour carried pink and lilac Talisman roses, and the bridesmaids, nosegays of baby mums, carnations and roses.

Little Janet Heagle, of Wellman's, was flower girl, and wore her long frock of yellow net over taffeta, and carrying a basket of mixed mums and roses.

Mr. Kenneth Allan of Belleville, attended the bridegroom, and Messrs. Edward Coughlan, brother of the bridegroom, and Arthur Doyle, both of Belleville, were ushers.

The hall were decorated with silver candles and bouquets of roses.

WALSH—McENTYRE

A lovely wedding was solemnized on Saturday, September 27, at 10 a.m., in the Church of St. Michael the Archangel, Belleville, when the Rev. R. J. Walsh, of Kingston, brother of the bridegroom, united in marriage, Mary Joan Catherine McIntyre, of Belleville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Patrick McIntyre, to Terrance Peter Walsh, of Read, Ontario, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Walsh. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with pink and white gladioli and asters.

Miss Mary Fleury provided the wedding music, and the soloist, Mr. Gerald Shannon, of Rochester, N.Y., sang "Ave Maria" during the offertory, "Panis Angelicus", during the communion, and "On This Day", while the register was being signed.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in white French Alencon lace over slipper satin, fashioned with floor-length full skirt and fitted jacket with small collar and long sleeves ending in lily-points over the wrists. Veil of matching lace was caught to a Juliette cap with tiara-band of satin pearls. She carried a semi-cascade bouquet of white Shasta chrysanthemums and yellow Sweetheart roses.

Mrs. J. McCabe, of Belleville, was matron of honor, wearing a gown in rayonseed color with matching velvet jacket having three-quarter length sleeves and portrait neckline.

The bridesmaids, Miss Mary Jean Hutton, Miss Catherine Fortin and Miss Carol Norton, all of Belleville, were gowned alike in Victorian dresses of Dresden blue nylon net and silk velvet. The bouffant skirts were outlined with bands of blue velvet matching the velvet jackets which were made on lines similar to that of the matron of honor. All carried bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums, bittersweet and tiny sprays of wheat, outlined with emerald leaves.

St. Margaret's Guild Sponsors Attractive Autumn Bazaar, Tea

Golden-yellow pumpkins, scarlet maple and russet oak leaves mingled with autumn flowers, wine-red barberries and sprays of evergreens made an attractive setting for the bazaar and tea yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of St. Margaret's-on-the-Hill, under the auspices of St. Margaret's Guild.

Around the three sides of the auditorium, the various booths were arranged, and on the fourth side, stood the long, damask-covered tea table with its lovely centrepiece of bittersweet, red and golden gladioli, yellow mapdragons, bronze mums, crimson dahlias and barberry clusters, backed by golden-yellow candles in tri-branched silver candelabra, and flanked by silver services. The rectangle thus formed was given over to the little guest tables, each with its snow-white cloth centred by a crystal holder with fragrant roses, or bronze and golden gallardia.

Those Receiving

Those, who received at the door were, Mrs. A. E. Page and Mrs. Arthur Watson, while those who presided at the tea table included: Mrs. H. Putnam, Mrs. S. Fitzgerald; Mrs. A. Evans and Mrs. W. Messer. The tea room hostesses was Mrs. J. K. Robinson and those who conducted the tea included Mrs. R. Davis, assisted by Mrs. D. Brown, Mrs. R. Breitingham, Mrs. F. St. Clarke, Mrs. R. Bailey, Mrs. K. Bulford, Mrs. McCuaig, Mrs. Angus, Mrs. D. Allen, Mrs. Partridge and Mrs. W. Sipley.

Across the entire west side was the immaculate, white linen-covered table of home-baking made in the shape of a low three-tiered pyramid, each tier holding a wealth of delicious tatty tarts; lemon, apple and pumpkin pies; chocolate eclairs, coconut cakes, gems, jam-jams, cookies, some topped with whole walnut meats; others with a single raisin; tea buns, homemade candies, Chinese chews, and chocolate cakes, all delightfully fragrant and mouth-watering. In charge of this delectable display were Mrs. J. Ritchie, and her assistants, Mrs. Kenneth and Mrs. L. Seymour.

Tempting Favourites

Adjacent to this was that of the candy table, convened by Mrs. J. McGregor. This was a "mecca" for the possessors of the proverbial 'sweet tooth' with its tempting sweeties packaged in round, cellophane-faced green boxes; in long, green boxes with dark maple leaves adorning the covers, and in various other containers, showing a assortment of sponge taffy, chocolate dates, peanut brittle, butterscotch, and fudge.

The children's corner had a fish pond supervised by a black and white Panda bear who was also fishing, and judging by the rapt expression, was getting many a fish from the tempting, seen swimming around. These included gold fish, sunfish, and some turtles and as well—Jonah—but sometimes seen in dreams.

Dolls' Clothes

Another part of the children's corner contained a table of dolls' clothes, dresses, knit sets of jacques and hats, pyjamas suits, wool sweaters and skirts, all in pretty colors. A blue felt pony with yellow mane and red tail was seen galloping among the little apparel. Perched on the wall directly behind, was a shelf containing cuddly boys, teddy bears, a yellow Peter Rabbit, a cat that looked as if it had just swallowed the canary, and a lovely doll in pink with golden curls. This corner was convened by Mrs. F. Moore and Mrs. B. Dowsman.

The fancy work or handicraft table, convened by Mrs J. Godwin, aided by Mrs. D. Leeming, was also a busy spot.

Arts-Crafts Club Plans November Exhibit

The Arts and Craft Club of Belleville met Friday at the Public Library for its October meeting.

Plans for an exhibit and sale are under way for November.

In the library lobby, a variety of ceramic pieces are on display. They were kindly loaned by Arts and Craft club members.

Three well chosen films were enjoyed after the business meeting: "Third Dimension", a film on sculpturing; "The Blue Makers", showing the intricate making of blown glass and cut glass; "Fred Wind", showing the life of Tom Thompson, and the unusual Northern Canadian scenery where he had sketched.

Mrs. W. Means and Mrs. Harry Grills, were faced with lovely articles of hand embroidery, cross-stitched pillow slips, fancy wash cloths with crocheted borders and appliqued flowers, fingertip towels, doilies, dolls' bonnets in many pastel shades, fancy hangers, tray cloths, knitted ear muffs, socks, mitts, and aprons of every known variety, both frilled and plain.

Farm Scene

At one corner of the table was a farm yard scene, a barn filled by red maple trees, stooks of grain, and in the yard, cows, horses, chickens and pigs feeding at the trough in short, everything for that elusive Christmas gift, sometimes so hard to find.

The novelty table was also a drawing card with its many items of interest. Among these is an ocarina plain a pink glass cake plate, silver-filigree candle holders, jewellery of all kinds, beads, earrings, bracelets and a goodly number of books, including "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush" by Ian Maclaren, and Alice Munro well known. This was convened by Mrs. S. Sillitoe, assisted by Mrs. James and Mrs. R. Wood.

The treasurers for the afternoon were Mrs. W. Allen and Mrs. D. Kaye.

A delightful tea and most attractive bazaar, pleasingly conveyed.

P. I. Timmins Talks To Uniondale W. I.

The October meeting for Uniondale Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Vernon Bush, 4th concession of Sidney, with 21 members present and a few visitors.

Mr. P. I. Timmins, the field man for the Institute of the Island, was the guest speaker. Mr. Timmins gave an outline of his work for two days several blind people to be visited; new ones to contact; distance of cities to cover; schools to address, and Women's Institutes to visit, all this was his work for one trip, making one feel that her time could be made of much more importance if more profitably used.

Braille watches, magazines and packs of cards are made for the blind to have for past-time and education.

Record players, radios are a great benefit to the blind. White canes are also a guide for the blind and these are provided by the funds obtained through canvass and donations.

A new building is being erected in Kingston for the Institute for the Blind.

Mr. Timmins thanked the W.I. for inviting him.

Mrs. Lorney then presented him with a cheque for $25 along with a cash donation from non-members of the vicinity.

The business meeting was opened in the usual manner, with cards of thanks read from Mrs. Harry Blecker and Mr. Harold Morrow, who have been patients in the hospital. It was decided that the sewing instructor's old age be paid.

The Area Convention will be held October 16-17 at Bellville with Mrs. G. Herrington and Mrs. R. Defoe as delegates for Uniondale.

Mrs. Edna Paul gave an interesting talk on the visit of Miss Collins from the department to Walthridge last week, with her topic "Cultural Activities".

Pine Grove will be having their department speaker on October 29th, and a box lunch will be their noon meal.

The November meeting will be at Mrs. Edmo Sine's as she traded months with Mrs. Vernon Bush. Roll call, "A recent item of world interest".

Refreshments were served by the committee.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

At today's afternoon weddings women guests dress more casually than formerly

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My husband and I are invited to a church wedding at 3 o'clock with the reception immediately following the ceremony (as the invitation reads) at the bride's home, quite nearby. What is correct attire for both of us? It's so long since we've been to a formal wedding at that hour, with formal reception following.—Marie-S.

First to remember: a wedding guest's dress should be appropriate to the hour of the ceremony — not to the hour of the reception which follows after the ceremony. That is, you and your husband dress for the 3 o'clock ceremony, and that means that you wear your best-looking daytime clothes. You, for example, (and of course according to the weather), wear a street-length dress and matching jacket or a short fur jacket or other "top" wrap; or a suit and coat, possibly a dressmaker type suit. A small, harmonizing hat; small, afternoon purse; light-colored gloves. Your husband, his "best" business suit, dark-blue preferably, or dark-gray.

Important note: Don't worry too much about what you and your husband are to wear at an afternoon wedding. Even at very important weddings you will see that women guests today are dressed much, much more casually than formerly. The single, smart, dark-colored basic dress is a safe choice, with a good-looking small hat, an appropriate wrap or coat, and interestingly chosen accessories.

Unusual but necessary circumstance: wedding supper at groom's parents' home

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My daughter is to be married soon, and since her fiance's mother and father are both able to travel, the ceremony is to be held either in their home or in a church nearby. And the plan is to have supper served after the ceremony in the home of the groom's parents. We are to be at the wedding, of course, but further is to give the bride in marriage, and she is to have a maid of honor. Will the bride's parents) be expected to provide for the supper which will be at the groom's parents' home?—A.F.

In this unconventional and apparently necessary circumstance, my advice is that you and your husband and your daughter should take over as many of the expenses as possible, and as many of the other responsibilities as possible. It is most important, I should say, that you and your husband have a straightforward talk with the groom's parents, and graciously make your point of view clear — that although you wish to do everything possible to make it convenient for them, it is therefore to have the supper (possibly the ceremony, too) in their home, will they please consider the financial responsibilities yours. This definite talk is extremely important, since each side may be waiting for the other to make the situation clear.

I judge that the wedding is to be a very small and informal one, and so the invitations could properly be telephoned or verbal or extended by notes. . . by you or in your name, your daughter perhaps telephoning or writing to her intimate friends. In this way you would be able to explain more easily the unusual circumstances of the wedding and supper, and also receive at once the reply to your invitations.

Food For Thought

Groceries, Et Cetera, For Four, On Twenty Dollars Per Week

By MARY MOORE

(First of three instalments.) 10 lbs. lots of flour and feed store. When I first read the letter, but emailed bread at 13 or 14 part of which you will read below in a column, I said "It can't be done." After a few moments of realizing it was being done I said "Come, come Mary. Where's your never say die attitude?"

Just read this. . . my husband and I have two children, a boy 8 and a girl 4, and I wonder if you could help me plan menus so I could stay within my budget which is $20 a week. This includes everything—meat, milk, bread, papers, groceries, and a few other things such as cosmetics, drugs and so on. If you could help me in any way I would be so very grateful.—Mrs. C. J.

What's the point in saying "it can't be done" when this gal is doing it? All she is asking for is a little help.

Well, last night she got it. Another dietitian and I went for an hour's walk and all during our walk we talked over ways of serving nutritious and attractive meals to those four people and stay within that narrow budget.

That second to last sentence has me a little edgy though. . . and a few other things such as cosmetics, or drugs or so on." Drugs! Good grief! the druggist charged me $4.75 for a dozen pen-cillin tablets a few weeks ago.

This family just can't afford to be sick. Every item you will see in this column has been chosen with careful attention to nutrition. Today I have given Mrs. C. J. P. one week's breakfasts. Next week look for lunches and suppers and the following week for dinners.

(1) 5-oz. glass tomato juice; hot rolled oats cereal with 1-2 cup wheat germ added (buy fresh wheat germ at flour and feed store for 10 cents per lb.), dark brown sugar, whole milk; whole wheat toast and margarine, jam; milk for children, tea for adults.

(2) Concord grapes; poached egg on whole wheat toast; whole wheat toast and margarine and marmalade; milk for children, tea for adults.

(3) Fresh large ripe pear; whole grain mixed cereal (whole wheat, ground, whole rye ground, wheat germ, and cornmeal), whole milk (or extra thick milk made from skim, milk powder), dark brown sugar; hot chocolate made from skim milk powder for children and adults (see below).

(4) Applesauce; French toast with jam or corn syrup; whole wheat toast; milk for children; tea for adults. (Make the French toast with beaten eggs and 1-4 cups milk made from skim milk powder extra rich).

(5) Scrambled eggs; sliced tomatoes; whole wheat toast; jam or jelly; hot chocolate made from skim milk powder for children and adults.

(6) Canned grapefruit juice; cornmeal porridge with dark brown sugar and whole milk; milk for children, tea for adults.

(7) (Sunday) One sliced orange each; 2 slices each back bacon; 1 boiled egg each; whole wheat toast and honey; milk for children; coffee for adults.

Notes: These menus will require 1 1-2 dozen eggs per week for the dinner menus I am going to suggest using eggs for dinner one night per week.

HOT CHOCOLATE FROM HEIM MILK POWDER

These amounts will provide 2 cups each for 4 people.

Into a cup skim milk powder add 2 1-3 tablespoons cocoa and same of sugar and mix and until blended. Add 2 cups cold water and beat with rotary beater to mix to a smooth paste, then add 2 1-3 cups hot water and stir over heat until scalding hot. Keep hot in top of double boiler. Add a dash of salt if desired. Give a good final beating with rotary beater just before serving to make it frothy.

See column next week for lunches and supper on $20 per week.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Can her father be happy with a wife his daughter's age?

Dear Miss Fairfax:

My father is going with a young lady very near my own age, and is thinking of marrying her. Do you think 20 or 30 years difference in their ages is too much for a happy marriage?

I love my father very much and am concerned about his happiness.—E. S.

Dear E.S.:

Your question is one that I am asked very frequently, and there is only one way it can be answered. That is, that if two people are close together in their ways of thinking, in the things they like to do, in their standards and their philosophy of life, it does not matter much how far apart they may be in their actual ages. There have been many successful marriages where there has been a wide discrepancy between the ages of the man and the woman, but it must be admitted, at the same time, that there is always a big element of risk about such marriages. Where the man is much older than the woman he marries, he may get tired of trying to keep up with her interests and activities, and she may weary of trying to be interested in his. There is also the added factor that later on when the wife is in the prime of life, she usually finds herself tied down to taking care of an old man. You can figure this out for yourself by simple arithmetic.

You seem to be such a devoted and understanding daughter that you can probably be a great help to your father, whether he marries this young woman or not. You may not be able to influence him in making up his mind, but if he does marry her, you can give him the kind of co-operation and understanding that may have a lot to do with whether or not the marriage is ruled by love and success; and, if he decides against marrying her, your loyal companionship will go far toward lessening the loneliness he probably has and which, no doubt, is one big reason why he has this possible marriage in mind.

Serve her coffee made with in-consent talk of clothes

Dear Miss Fairfax:

There are about 20 girls in our office, and our problem concerns one girl who consistently and frequently presents short-selling but clothes, clothes and more clothes to the exclusion of almost the entire salary on clothes.

This has become very boring to all the rest of us, and we are at a loss to know how to cure her of talking exclusively about her own personal belongings. We feel that she doesn't realize how much the girls in the office resent it, and it's specially hard on some of the girls who can't afford new clothes very often.

At the same time, everybody feels sorry for her because she has no boy friend as yet, and it might be this frustration that accounts for her passionate interest in clothes. The men in the office never seem to go out, and we don't know why, but we suspect they may feel they couldn't afford dates that would be in keeping with her clothes.

We would like to know how we can handle this problem with tact.—T. G.

Dear T.G.:

I should think your best bet would be to pick out some one girl to act as spokesman for you all, and have her speak frankly to the one who seems to be unsetting everybody so much. To come right out and tell the girl that she is doing herself harm in the office, and scaring off possible boy friends by boring people to death with her preoccupation about clothes, would be the kindest and, I should think, the most effective way to handle the matter.

I realize, of course, that it would not be a pleasant job for anyone to take on, but, if it is done in a frank and friendly way, the result should be good. Maybe you'd better draw lots for it; then pool your ideas on exactly what to say, remembering that if it is done in a spirit of friendliness and good will, the girl will probably take it without too much resentment.

I've thrown his pants away—were beyond repair," Sandy explained. "His shirt is now the wash and it can be mended. There's an old pair of your in the closet. The legs will be long for him, but I can them up at the bottom. And course we mustn't forget to w him his money." Colly had a flat" wallet containing to bills in the hip pocket of pants when Colly had undressed him. This money had en turned over to Sandy for keeping.

few seconds later they were the sick room and Colly was king a feeble band.

"Lo, stranger," he said afthey nurse tells me that 're beginning to feel yourself in. You had a close call, lad." "Yes," the young man said, "but you can say that again. If hadn't found me when you and there wasn't such a kind nurse to look after me

The best in Quebec," Colly sted and Sandy blushed. ase, did, please, you must say such things."

But, it's the truth lass," Colly sisted, then turning to the anger.

understand that you'd like know where you are, who we are. Well, I'll tell you."

And Colly did till him, and he is preparing to do some asking his own account when the anger beat him to it.

"Did you see anything of a ite animal the morning you ind me?"

Yes," Colly agreed, "I did—h Sandy and I did—but just glimpse of something white flashing through the brush. Couldn't make out what it was."

"Then, it was with me to the very end," the young man said, "and—and it's probably here yet."

"No doubt about that," Colly said, knowing that it wouldn't make much difference whether it was or not, for this young man would be going to jail in a few days and he'd be no place to keep a wild animal.

"If it could be arranged, I'd like to stay with you long enough to catch it," the sick man explained. And knowing what they did, Colly and Sandy exchanged knowing glances. "You know, Mr. McKee, I feel greatly indebted to that animal, even though I lived in mortal fear that it would suddenly pounce on me and maybe kill me. But that dreadful night, after the big storm, when I was weak and down on me—" he broke off, "oh, I know you'll laugh at me, Mr. McKee, and say that wolves do not attack anyone, but I don't know. I only know that I believe that that wilderness beast could hear the thoughts of pack that night, and turned them back. But enough of that. You want to know who I am, and how come. Well, my name is Paul Gates and I'll be twenty-four in October."

Paul Gate's story sounded none too plausible to say that were already prepared for possible deception, in brief it was the story of a young man who had taken French leave of city parents who had planned a college education for him against his wishes, and who had found work with a lumber company in the Laurentian Mountains where he was employed under an assumed name, after giving a phony city address. Not adapted to the hard work in the bush he had been assigned to help the cook—"cookee" is what they called him. He had been getting along swimmingly, and drawn his first pay when a law officer of some kind had visited the camp one afternoon and had taken the cook aside. From their conversation, the glances in his direction, he had known they had been talking about him. The officer had gone away, but before going, had said he would be back again in a few days. After he had gone the cook had told him that the officer was going back to the city to check up on him, that he was not the man he claimed he was. Fearing that he was about to be arrested for going under an assumed name that he would be eventually identified and returned home, he had decided to leave the camp right away—that night. He had packed some food in a haversack, hidden it outside and when the camp was fast asleep, he had made his get-away.

"It was a bright moonlight night, I was not the least bit afraid, roads were running in all directions and I didn't think it mattered very greatly which road I took; but that's where I was mistaken. I spent some hours running down roads to their ends—ends where logs were piled. Finally I gave up, decided to strike through the bush, follow the moon which would take me west, in the hope that I would come to some other lumber camp, the home of a settler, or to a road that would lead me to one. It was all the truth, I was already hopelessly lost without being aware of that fact. And yet I was smug about it. I had never been lost before, this was a new experience, and if I lived through it, I might have something to tell my grandchildren, some day."

Paul Gates stopped to get his breath. Colly and Sandy were giving him a good hearing, even though they were aware that the story he was telling might be far from the truth. They were unaware that he was looking so far ahead, to be building up something for his grandchildren to hear about.

"I travelled without rest all night and when morning came I was beside a wide, narrow stream, I waded, ate lunch, curled up to sleep. There was a high overhanging peak nearby so when I awoke, I climbed to the top. But all I could see was more hills and valleys, and lake and river and bush—bush everywhere. I decided then that I was in the land that God forgot, for I could see no sign of civilization, village or hamlet—even one lone human habitation. So I curled up again, and continued to press on. In the late afternoon the sky darkened suddenly, there was thunder and lightning and wind and after a short spell—rain. I found a path and followed it to what had been a lumber camp. Two roofs of the buildings caved in. I found protection under a section of overhanging roof.

"My clothes were wet, so I put on a fire and dried them without taking them off. The rain continued into the night, the lightning was sharp, the thunder at times was almost deafening, but after a while the storm passed, so I ate. I discovered that I would have to ration the food I had to make it last, I put more wood on my fire, curled up for a sleep. It must have been after midnight now. Suddenly I was awake—wolves! And they were bearing down on the camp from the direction I had come. I saw something that I had not seen before. It stood sideways, near an old log building. And it was looking at me, I put the fire behind me by crawling around it, and watched. It was an animal of some sort, greyish white, about three feet high and probably six feet long. I couldn't make it out very well, couldn't see what kind of animal it was. The howling of the wolves grew louder. It turned its head in their direction and it limped slightly towards them. After a while I heard what sounded like a fight, a few loud yelps, and then everything was quiet, remained quiet. And then I remembered no more.

"Well, the next day I continued my struggle to find my way out of the mess I was in. I became panic-stricken. That mysterious white animal was shadowing me but always at a distance. It was ahead or me or on either side of me. Never once did I see enough of it to tell what it was, but it grew on my mind. What if I should fall helpless? I feared to think about it. Days passed. I don't know how many, for I'd lost count, my food gave out and I ate berries and leaves and I got sick. The fly dope I had rubbed on me before leaving camp lost its effectiveness and the flies were driving me crazy. I crossed more creeks, waded through rivers, and I noticed that all the water was running one way, to my left—

"If you had—" Colly started to say, but checked himself.

"Well, that's about all I can tell you. After that, well, I began to stagger, to fall easily and to find it hard to get up again. I was growing weaker all the time and then, well, I guess I just went out of my head, for I know I tried to run, only to fall, to hurt myself. And that's about all, for I cannot remember any more. Luckily you found me when you did. I guess I looked a mess."

"Mess is right," Colly said, between the files and that bush, you weren't a very pretty sight."

"But you're all right now, Mr. Gates," Sandy assured him. "You may rest assured that you will be properly looked after. And now, dad," she turned to her father, "it's time better leave him to sleep—" she went over to the window to draw the blinds again. "If you need me, that give me a call," she told him as she followed Colly into the kitchen. After they were seated, Colly turned to Sandy.

"Well, what do you think of that, Sandy?" he asked.

"Sounded plausible," Sandy said.

"Yes," Colly agreed, "much of what he said could have happened, but he's lieing. He's not from Ottawa."

"How could you know that, dad?"

"Well, let's look at it this way. He says he's from Ottawa, that he was schooled there, that his folks live there. He says that the water was running one way, to run to his left—the one direction. Can you imagine any river in Ottawa, or schooled in Ottawa who does not know that every river from these Laurentian Mountains runs the same way—into the Ottawa. That anyone set up here would find his way to safety by merely following one of these streams? No, Sandy, Paul Gates is lieing, and if he would tell one lie, he would tell many lies. He may not indeed be Paul Gates. That might be an assumed name, but he's already told us that he worked under an assumed name, at the lumber camp. No, Sandy, Paul Gates is covering up. He may well be the very man the police are looking for—"

"It still can't bother it," Sandy said stubbornly, "to me, at least, he looks everything but a criminal—"

"Perhaps not a criminal—yet," Colly said, "he doesn't look hard enough or old enough for that. But he could be a first offender—a smart alec who got in with one more experienced in crime than he and decided to hook up with him. And what a pity, too, if know, if he was the right sort of person, I could very well make use of him here—after the sanctuary is fenced, of course. Then, someone will be required to patrol it, particularly in the summer months when the cottagers are here, and to fall when the deer hunting season opens. Then, of course a watch will have to be kept in the trapping season to keep trappers from coming in from the north, or winter fishermen looking for places to ice-fish for trout. Oh, there's plenty for a man to do around here. And all this even though a certain Dr. McNair of New York City has some other ideas.

"Dr. McNair—New York City?" Sandy questioned, "Never heard of him before."

"Neither did I until I got a letter from him the other day. Says he heads a syndicate that wishes to buy our property, but would let us live here. He would cover our beach with cottages, build a whole village, community hall, and everything—says I can name my own price, but suggests twenty thousand is about all it's worth."

"But, dad," Sandy protested, "you can never sell the sanctuary?"

"Twenty thousand dollars doesn't interest me in the least, lass, even if I did want to sell it, which I don't and never will. And besides, well, I guess we could show the good doctor that we already have twenty times and dollars, don't you think?"

And, Sandy, who knew as much about her father's business matters as he did, laughed and said: "Yes, dad — our nickel stocks alone are worth much more than that according to the latest market quotations."

During that week of his convalescence, Paul Gates was living under a cloud of mistrust and suspicion, without realizing that he was. He did not suspect that at night Sandy was sleeping behind a locked door, that Colly McKee's trips to the village and back were being made in record time, or that Sandy would not be left unprotected for any great length of time. For even though Colly and Sandy treated him kindly and considerately, the fact remained that Paul Gates was, to them, at least, a dangerous young man to have around the house.

The worship theme for the year is, "The Means of Grace", based on a book written by A. G. Reynolds. In the Old and in the New Testaments God's grace has been likened to streams or springs of water which bring to men everywhere, new and abundant life.

There will be a quilting next week at the home of Mrs. Will Potts.

A letter was read by Mrs. Frank Jeffs from the missionary for prayer, Miss Eleanor Graham of the Coe Indian Reserve in Saskatchewan.

The president gave a few thoughts on part four of the study book dealing with problems, possibilities and prospects. This told of the shortage of ministers and trained workers, and pointed out the necessity of sustaining the missionary ideal. Statistics are not definite but there are still at least a million and a half Protestant people in Canada who are not related to the church. All sang "Almighty God" and prayer for our "Heritage" was offered.

Mrs. Ira David gathered the offering and Mrs. Ray Mathewson took the dedication.

Miss Cunningham gave a reading, "The Guardian of the Place". Following this another roll call of things for which we should be thankful, was held. There was a guitar duet by Miss Joyce Curtis and Miss Margaret Sandercock. Mrs. Holmes gave a reading, "Five Different Ways Not to Save". Mrs. John Reid gave a reading called "Th Canal", after which came a duet, "Bless This House" by Mrs. Clayton Curtis and Miss Cunningham.

A contest "Different Stores in Belleville" was also held.

After the meeting closed refreshments were served.

The next meeting is to be held at Mrs. Clarence Holmes', R.R. 3, Bellevills.

MARMORA W.I.

The October meeting of Marmora Women's Institute was held on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. M. Kouri with the president, Mrs. H. F. Nayler, in the chair.

Although the attendance was smaller than usual, an interesting program ensued, "Grandmothers' Night", was observed, the monthly motto being "Grow old with me; the best is yet to be," and the roll call being answered by a quotation or recilling of an old-fashioned song.

Letters of Thanks

Various letters were read. One was from the Marmora Library Board thanking the Institute for their annual donation. Another was received from P. E. Timmins, field secretary for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, thanking the members for the fine amount received through the recent canvass and the sending flag. The Marmora District Chamber of Commerce replied to the letter sent them by the branch with respect to its willingness to co-operate with the Chamber and Village Council in the needed letering of streets.

The Chamber replied to the effect that action would have to be initiated by the Council thereby securing a grant. They would stand by the Institute in giving assistance should the Council later decide to proceed with the project.

The Unitarian Service Committee in another letter read, thanked the Institute for their support of the "Bread for Greece" campaign last year and intimated that a further appeal along the same lines will be launched now with a further service in which clothing and medical supplies will be sent to Korea. Five dollars was voted to each of the two appeal.

Four thank-you cards were read by Mrs. C. E. Neal, who was deputizing for the regular secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. Brady, that evening. Due to continued illness of Mrs. Georgg Kerr, the latter will be in November. Mrs. Neal also gave a reading of significance, "How to Bury a Women's Institute". Mrs. I. B. Nichol read two humorous poems.

Mrs. Nayler conducted a "Grandmothers" contest.

After the meeting closed the committee of the month served refreshments.

Ten Million in Gold Bullion Is Treasure Sought in Salvage Quest for Sloop Sunk in 1798

LEWES, Del. (AP) — Salvagers are ready to battle a tremendous ocean current and bad weather witch in an effort to locate the British sloop-of-war Debrask which sank in 1798 with a treasure reported worth $10,000,000.

Leading the search for the ship believed to have gone down off Cape Henlopen at the mouth of the Delaware Bay about 10 miles southwest of Wilmington, Del., are two young Lewes dairymen, Archie and Weldon Hirtlingham.

The pair has dotted four previous efforts to unloose the sea's secret. A Baltimore salvage firm gave up in the summer of 1951.

In the years from 1934 to 1936 the Colonial Corporation of Providence, R.I., made three vain attempts to reach the sunken ship.

First Solid Clue

The first attempt brought up perhaps the only solid clue obtained to date. The Baltimore firm salvaged a piece of wood it said came from the Debrask's teakwood superstructure. The expedition was abandoned that fall after numerous mishaps to its salvaging equipment.

When folks around this area talk about the Debrask and the find which seems to stalk all salvage attempts, the logical reasons offered for failure are tricky currents which swirl around the break water at Cape Henlopen and the foul weather which persistently dogs such expeditions.

The Debrask was captured by a sudden squall, the record books say, and its captain, James Drew, was lost with 32 officers, crew members and Spanish prisoners.

The old records say the ship had just returned from a sortie in which it captured a Spanish vessel headed from South America to Spain.

The first newspaper accounts of the sinking of the Debrask mentioned only a cargo of 200 tons of copper and a quantity of cocoa, but one of the Spanish prisoners rescued from the ship is quoted as telling a Lewes resident there's all the way from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 worth of treasure, mostly in gold bullion in her hold.

The sloop, constructed of teakwood, was 125 feet long with a 30-foot beam and a 15-foot depth. British Admiralty records say it went down in a spot where the water now is 52 feet deep.

Three Killed

Three Toronto residents were killed and 25 other persons injured, six severely, when a Toronto-bound bus smashed into a stalled 15-ton dump truck loaded with sand on the new four-lane Barrie highway just north of the city's outskirts. Bus driver Leslie Bodsel, holding blankets and clothes, stares into the spring interior of the bus. He was uninjured while three passengers seated a yard from him were crushed to death. — (CP Photo.)

Irrigation Makes Arid Lands Of South Alberta Ten Times Richer in Produce, Population

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Irrigation is just another word connected with the agriculture industry as far as most persons are concerned. But to many residents of southern Alberta it is the magic which has turned arid sections of land into fertile acres.

Farming under irrigation supports 10 times as many people as does dry-land farming on a comparable area.

A general program of expansion follows the irrigation ditches. The rural population is increased about four-fold, requiring schools, churches, community centres, roads and other services. Thriving towns have developed in the irrigated districts because they become centres of distribution for prosperous rural areas.

An Alberta government publication says that without irrigation the city of Lethbridge would be a small town. But today it has a population of about 23,000 and its retail trade last year was $1,730 per capita, higher than the cities of Edmonton and Calgary and the Dominion and Provincial averages.

Dry-land pasture in southern Alberta required 40 acres to support one cow. With irrigation, one acre dured in the Dominion Parks of improved mixed pasture will carry up to two cows an acre.

Biggest feature of irrigation in southern Alberta is the St. Mary-Milk River development scheme, which will ultimately supply water to 450,000 acres of thirsty dry land. Focal point of the development is the 203-foot St. Mary Dam, largest earthen dam ever built in Canada.

All told, Alberta's 13 existing irrigation districts have created an irrigable area of 818,000 acres.

Out of irrigation has grown southern Alberta's sugar beet industry. This year workers harvested 460,000 tons of beets whose sugar extraction amounted to about 130,000,000 pounds. Biggest sugar beet crop ever harvested by a Canadian province, it will return to growers an estimated $7,000,000.

Another industry which has become big business because of irrigation is vegetable canning. Plants canning such products as peas, corn, pumpkin, carrots, beets, spinach, spinach and cauliflower are located at four southern Alberta centres.

Sixty per cent of all frozen vegetables produced in Canada are processed at Lethbridge along with 95 per cent of all frozen peas produced in the Dominion.

National Excitement Reaching Fever Pitch as Election Nears

WASHINGTON (AP) — Governor Adlai Stevenson's biggest and noisiest, reception—in San Francisco—and humdrumon receptions given Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in the south indicated today national excitement is reaching fever pitch as election day nears.

Stevenson's campaign showed signs of catching fire as he lashed out with fresh vigor at his Republican presidential opponent's "crusade." He accused the general last night of taking different positions indifferent states.

Eisenhower struck back with charges that the opposition's "big guns and little guns" were telling "plain lies" when they said his election threatened another depression and an end to social gains and public power development.

President Truman took off on another whistle-stop tour, this time into New England. In a speech prepared for delivery at Hartford, Conn., he told voters their "bread and butter" and hopes for peace are tied up in the election.

Stevenson was reported flushed with enthusiasm after San Francisco's reception last night.

Cheer Stevenson

The thoroughly partisan audience at the Cow Palace cheered lustily as he accused Eisenhower of attempting to ride two political horses in California, and sarcastically referred to Senator Richard Nixon's campaign fund disclosures.

Stevenson's audience was estimated at 22,000 persons, compared with 21,000 which greeted Eisenhower in the same hall last week.

The Democratic candidate heaped ridicule on what he said was the "team of isolationists and cut-throat reactionaries."

He echoed the Republican "time for a change" slogan, but his version was: "It is time for a change —time for the independents and understanding Republicans . . . to recognize the real nature of the general's candidacy."

Attacks Anger Ike

It appeared that the Democratic barbs were getting under Eisenhower's skin — for he has begun angrily to deny accusations as falsehoods and lies.

In two stops in Tennessee yesterday, he emphasized that his election would not "impair the effective working out" of the Tennessee Valley Authority program.

In Oregon last week, he spoke out in opposition to federal authorities as the means of developing river basin resources. He proposed instead a local, state and federally-operated development.

His final bold bid for support in the solid south by attempting to stir political rebellion in Texas, Louisiana and Tennessee aroused hopes in his camp that he might win some electoral votes in that area.

Reason for Losses

President Truman moved through Connecticut, New Hampshire and Massachusetts today—the first lap of a three-day tour.

He, like Stevenson, took up the Republican "time for a change" theme in his Hartford speech, saying that that mere fact the Democrats have been in power 20 years isn't sufficient reason for a change.

The Republicans have lost elections, he said, "for good reason".

"They lost because they've been against world co-operation, against a healthy foreign trade, against aid to other peoples. They lost because they've been against minorities of all kinds."

He said Eisenhower has comprised so much that "he doesn't have much left to compromise."

Tried to Put Over Betting Coup With Time Bomb

LONDON (AP) — A story of a time bomb in a mail bag that almost put over a £14,000 betting coup was told yesterday in Old Bailey police court.

Keith L. Young, 36, inventor of the new way to beat the horses, pleaded guilty to a charge of trying to get his bookmaker and was sentenced to 18 months in jail.

Clown Prosecutor James Burge said Young's "highly ingenious" scheme went like this:

Young wrote his own address on three paper flags which he pasted lightly to the front of three envelopes. He posted the envelopes, which were shortly delivered back to him bearing a cancellation date a day previous to his planned big gamble.

At his home, Young removed the address flaps from the envelopes and readdressed them to his bookie in Glasgow.

He waited until the day's racing results were in and wrote down a five-horse parlay which called for winnings of £14,000 for a £20 bet.

Young then put the letters and a specially-rigged alarm clock in a parcel addressed to Glasgow. The clock set for 10 p.m., went off on schedule. A razor blade attached to the alarm winder whirled, cutting the rubber bands which held the parcel together. It flew apart, strewing the letters among the other mail.

The letters reached the bookmaker who called the police. Explained Burge:

"Obviously this accumulator bet of five successful long shots would arouse the suspicion of any bookmaker, and it did."

A police investigation followed and Young confessed.

Start Indefinite Strike

TOKYO (Reuters) — Almost 250,000 Japanese miners from 16 coal mines will start an indefinite strike tomorrow for wage increases.

After a breakdown in negotiations, the men took part in a 48-hour strike starting Monday. Mine owners replied by threatening to cut wages four per cent.

The miners want increases of up to 100 per cent. It is estimated that the strike will cut Japanese coal output by 100,000 tons a day.

India to Oppose Any U.N. Move To Blame Reds

New Delhi (AP) — India will oppose any United Nations move seeking to blame Red China for the deadlocked Korean truce negotiations, sources close to the government said today.

"Our criterion in the event the United States or any other nation introduces a resolution in the current United Nations session will be 'does it improve the situation of the truce talks, or will it make matters worse,'" one official commented.

Nehru is believed to have decided already that the reported U.S. plan to seek a vote of confidence on its handling of the Korean hostilities and peace negotiations would not receive Indian backing.

His attitude is viewed as consistent with the previous Korean policy of his government designed to steer clear of offending either the United States or the Peiping regime, in the hope that India might be able to play a peace-making mediator's role at the opportune moment.

Needed Evidence To Get Relief; She Stole Baby

NEW YORK (AP) — A stolen week-old girl was found yesterday with a woman whose own newborn baby lies sick in hospital.

The baby, Gloria Hernandez, was taken from Bellevue hospital Sunday by a woman who asked for it by name. The attendant, presuming she was its mother, Mrs. Rafael Hernandez, gave it to her.

The alleged abduction was discovered 24 hours later when Gloria's real mother asked for her baby.

A police check of all new mothers recently in Bellevue led to the apartment of Mrs. Carmen Rodriguez, 32. There, police said, they found Gloria, — apparently unharmed.

Booked on a kidnapping charge, Mrs. Rodriguez told police she had applied for home relief and was informed she lacked certain papers and evidence that she had a baby to support.

The woman claimed investigators told her she must take her baby to their office to get relief consideration.

Amnesty Granted 1,000 Persons By Gen. Naguib

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — The government of Maj.-Gen. Mohammed Naguib announced a general amnesty last night for an estimated 1,000 persons convicted or accused of political crimes between 1936 and the army coup last Aug. 23 which forced King Farouk to abdicate.

The limitation of the amnesty exempted from its application the 60 or more prominent politicians rounded up by Naguib's government after he took the premiership to further his announced purge of corrupt figures in politics.

JAILED FOR SABOTAGE

REGENSBURG, Germany — (Reuters)—A U.S. court yesterday sentenced Hermann Kohlbeck, 18, to four years' imprisonment for attempted sabotage. The court found him guilty of having tried to fill with cement an anti-invasion demolition chamber built by the U.S. army in a bridge here. The chamber was designed to hold an explosive charge in case of war.

Nothing Can Be Done Against Ban On British Cars

LONDON (Reuters) — The government was asked today if it intended doing anything about a ban placed on British cars at important motor shows in Toronto and Montreal.

Henry Strauss, parliamentary secretary to the Board of Trade, said the government was aware of the ban, but could do nothing, as the shows were private exhibitions.

Capt. R.E.D. Ryder, a Conservative member, urged that the Board of Trade suggest to "those who can use their influence that we are making a considerable effort to build up two-way trade with Canada and any facilities and help we can get will be much appreciated."

Said Strauss: "I think that is widely recognized in this country and in Canada."

Liberals, P.C.s Will Not Contest B.C. By-Election

KEREMEOS, B.C. (CP) — District Liberals and Progressive Conservatives announced last night after separate meetings that they will not contest the Nov. 24 provincial by-election in Similkameen.

Only C.C.F. standard-bearer H.S. Kenyon will oppose Finance Minister Einar Gunderson in his bid to win a seat as a member of Premier W.A.C. Bennett's Social Credit cabinet.

Premier Bennett had requested that Mr. Gunderson and Attorney-General Robert Bonner, who also lacks a seat in the Legislature, be given acclamations in Similkameen and Columbia constituencies, respectively.

But the Liberals nominated George Keenleyside of Golden to contest Columbia against Mr. Bonner.

Similkameen and Columbia were captured by Social Credit in the provincial election but thrown open in a gamble to seat the two non-member cabinet ministers.

Social Credit formed a government with 19 members and had to look outside the Legislature for two cabinet ministers because none of their elected members had the necessary qualifications.

The C.C.F. has 18 members, the Liberals six, Progressive Conservatives four and Labor one.

Police Nip Plot To Assassinate U.S. Official

PARIS (Reuters) — Viet Namese police have foiled a plot to assassinate Donald Heath, the United States ambassador to Indo China, it was reported today from Saigon.

A Vietminh rebel political commissar and one of his aides were shot when they tried to escape from Viet Namese police raiding three underground hideouts in a suburb of Saigon.

Plans for the assassination were said to be among documents found in this raid.

Heath has several times received threatening letters and other plots to assassinate him have been foiled by police in the last 18 months the agency added.

DESERONTO

Lennox-Addington Women's Auxiliary Holds Deanery Meeting

DESERONTO — The Deanery meeting took place in Deseronto last Friday with sessions beginning at 10.30 a.m. when the service of Holy communion was celebrated in St. Mark's Church.

The special speaker at the service was Rev. A. C. McCallum, who delivered an important message to the many delegates in the church.

At the close of the service the delegates retired to the Parish Hall where dinner was served. The hall was nicely decorated with flowers and beautiful colored leaves of the autumn season. Registration

Registration showed about 100 officers and delegates present.

The ladies met in the afternoon in the hall with Mrs. W. G. Ham of Bath in the chair. Mrs. C. L. Boyd, the diocesan president and Mrs. E. Saunders, diocesan treasurer as well as several other members from the diocesan board were present.

Rev. W. B. Willition of Amherst Island opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. Newton Thomas, president of St. Mark's W.A., gave the address of welcome, which was replied to by Mrs. J. Morgan of Hawley Morven.

Mrs. Boyd introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Miss Hirobin, a missionary from Japan, who gave a most interesting address. She stated that Japan is opened for missionaries and in need of help, both spiritually and financially.

Reports from the delegates followed and were most encouraging. Several branches included the Jr. WA, the Girls Auxiliary and the Little Helpers.

Mrs. C. L. Boyd told of the Dominion annual convention in London which she attended this past summer.

Convention Highlights

Miss Saunders, the diocesan treasurer, also attended and passed on to the WA some of the highlights of the convention.

A collection was taken and later the money was voted on and divided among the Bishop's Messengers, Miss Hirobin, Dorcas work, General Purpose and the Girls Auxiliary.

Mrs. Babcock tendered a vote of thanks to the rector of St. Mark's Church; to the organist, Mrs. Walker from Bath; to Rev. A. C. McCallum, who was the special speaker at the service; to the Guild of St. Mark's Church for the lovely dinner; the speaker, Miss Hirobin for her splendid address and to the diocesan president and deanery president.

It was unanimous that Mrs. Ham be re-elected president for 1952-53.

A nominating committee was formed of the presidents of three branches, Mrs. Newton Thomas, Deseronto; Mrs. M. F. Oldham, of Camden East and Mrs. J. Jackson of Hawley Morven.

The ladies from Tamworth invited the Deanery to meet there next year. Mrs. Ham closed the meeting after which the ladies of the Guild served afternoon tea.

Land, Sea, Air

Canada's defence forces on land, sea and air are gradually being brought to the peak desired by Canadian leaders. More than $5,000,000,000 is being spent on rearmament between 1951-1954. Key factors are: the CF-100 Canuck jet fighter (upper left) the British Centurion tank coming into general army use (upper right), and the 18,000-ton kingpin of the navy's anti-submarine preparations, the aircraft carrier Magnificent. The Maggie will remain in service until a new carrier is ready in 1955. —(CP from National Defence.)

Five Billion Rearmament Program Launched in 1951 Passes Half-Way Mark

What is the story of Canadian defence? More than 18 months ago the country started a $5,000,000,000 rearmament drive. Is it on schedule? Were the cost estimates accurate? To find out, The Canadian Press assigned Desmond Bow, military specialist on its Ottawa staff, to a series of stories on the defence effort. Here is his first article, a survey of the broad picture as Canada prepares to meet her international commitments in the world's world's race to overcome the threat posed by world communism.

BY DOUGLAS BOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Partial mobilization for Canada has proved a tougher business than its architects originally thought.

The $5,000,000,000 three-year rearmament program launched in 1951 has passed its half-way mark. Politicial and military leaders now know it will cost more than was intended and that parts of it will not be carried out on time.

The figure Ottawa now talks about privately or unofficially is $6,000,000,000. The plan may not be completed until late 1955.

Reasons given for these revisions are rising costs, enlarged commitments and faulty estimating in the first place.

Changes and Delays

Official heads have rolled. The management of one of the country's two big aircraft factories has been shaken up. Delays have occurred on one production line after another, including those making such key equipment as the CF-100 jet fighter and the navy's anti-submarine vessels. There has been a shortage of skilled men to run the vast technical apparatus of modern war.

Delays in delivery of United States components; over-optimism; official failure to realize how difficult the production of modern arms can be; the forces' desire to make just one more change—all these things have affected the assembly lines.

But Canada has made major strides in rearmament. Senior defence officials say that it is better prepared now than through much of wartime 1940.

All three forces have combat units overseas, either fighting or ready to fight. The services have nearly 100,000 men in uniform, or more than 80 per cent of the 1954 goal of 120,000. The foundation has been laid for wartime mobilization. Crest in 1953

Plans, as to ships, radar and other equipment are moving toward a production crest in 1953. Stocks of clothing and other kit needed for general use have been established to meet the needs of the first months of a major war.

Still it will be at least a year before the picture looks the way officials want it to look.

The three-year program announced Feb. 5, 1951, set 1954—presumably March 31, the end of their fiscal years—as the time when Canada should be adequately protected and have substantial forces in readiness in Europe as part of joint western preparedness.

The original objectives were a 40-squadron air force equipped with 3,000 new planes; a 100-ship navy and a total of 115,000 in uniform in all three services. Aid to Europe was to include an army brigade, an 11-squadron air division, air training and army shipments. Change since have raised the total manpower goal to 180,000, the air target to 41 squadrons including 12 for Europe.

Expect Controversy

There will be controversy in 1954 over whether targets, have been met. The air force, for instance, has formed squadrons fairly well below maximum strength, on the theory that it is better to get them going and strengthen them later. The navy may have 100 ships in 1954 but not the most important of all, the seven anti-submarine vessels.

The main aim of the expansion—defence spending this year is five times what it was the fiscal year before hostilities began in Korea—is not an enlarged home defence but the fulfilment of international commitments in line with the thinking that Canada can best defend herself abroad.

The forces now planned for the direct defence of Canada consequently are not markedly bigger than those contemplated in 1945.

The prevailing official concept of the dangers faced by this country has not altered significantly. These are catalogued as air raids, diversionary airborne landings on a small scale, and attacks on coastal harbors and shipping by submarines. The enemy's main aim, it is held, would be to panic the people and keep in North America forces which should be elsewhere.

Strong Forces

To meet these dangers, Canada has or is building an air force network of radar stations, fighter squadrons, anti-aircraft units, volunteer ground observers and communications, an army mobile striking force of airborne units and a navy geared to protect both coasts and tackle submarines in the northwest Atlantic.

The key factor, the air force chain, should be in fair shape by late 1953, officials say. It has been delayed for various reasons.

Behind these regular forces are the reserve or part-time units. They are probably the weakest segment in the defence chain, particularly the reserve army. The R.C.A.F. is counting on its reserve fighter squadrons to reinforce regular units quickly in emergency and its senior officers say they will be able to do it.

By and large, Canada has been doing better in meeting her foreign than in home defence. She has a brigade in Germany. Itsif the air division is abroad and three-quarters of it should be there by next June. The air training scheme for absorbing its quota at roughly 3,000 Canadian and European fliers a year. Arms shipments continue.

At the same time, Canada is keeping a brigade in the line in Korea, three destroyers off Korea, and an air transport squadron in the airborne service on an airlift across the Pacific.

Tomorrow: Character of the forces.

Mock Invasion Staged by U.S. Armed Forces

OFF NORTHEAST KOREA — (CP)—A mock invasion of northeast Korea yesterday drew thousands of Red troops out into the open where they were strafed and bombed by Allied planes.

The United States Army, navy and air force combined to stage the mock invasion.

Almost 100 ships, including a battleship, six aircraft carriers and four cruisers — the greatest concentration of United Nations naval strength since the Inchon landing in 1950 — participated with America troops.

The troops took only a short ride. They clambered down cargo nets in full view of the Reds ashore. The troops dropped on to landing craft which took them around to the other sides of the mother ships where they climbed back aboard.

The landing ships, with only operating crews aboard, then dashed toward shore—but pulled up about 4,000 yards from the beach and returned to the fleet.

The mock forces gathered off Kojo, south of the Red port of Wonsan and 33 miles north of the battle line on the east coast.

Word of the "impending invasion" had supposedly been given to leak out, and the Reds fell for the trap by moving troops to Kojo where they sadly got shelled as gets when the fleet hove in sight.

The mock invasion, called "Operation Trojan Horse" was the culmination of months of planning and training. It was completely realistic in every other way.

No Foul Play

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Provincial Police said yesterday that an autopsy on 47-year-old Mrs. Mary Ryan of Detroit failed to disclose anything to indicate she died "as the result of foul play."

Inspector Denis Whitely of Toronto, sent here to investigate the death of the woman who had been missing since May 22, will probably be recalled, a spokesman said.

Mrs. Ryan's body was found Monday in an advanced state of decomposition in a field near Colchester, 18 miles southeast of here.

TWICE AS MANY

LONDON (CP)—A report to the National Safety Congress said 30,000 boys have been killed in highway accidents since 1939, compared with 8,000 girls. The report said this ratio remains constant.

Band Import

Sgt. W. D. Paxton, former trumpet-major with Britain's 4th Hussars, is the first British bandsman to come to Canada under the army's new plan to bring skilled musicians from the United Kingdom to help round out Canada's service bands. Sgt. Paxton will join the Royal Canadian Regiment Central Command band now stationed at Petawawa, Ont. — (CP from National Defence.)

Magistrate Not Satisfied With Evidence Given

STRATFORD (CP) — Magistrate A.F. Cook indicated yesterday that he was not satisfied with the testimony of two witnesses in an assault case, but said he had to dismiss the case because there was no other offsetting evidence.

Melville J. Buckner of Stratford was acquitted of assault occasioning actual bodily harm, a charge laid after his wife was run over by a car on highway No. 7 south of Stratford last July 27.

Mrs. Buckner, victim of the car accident, is in Stratford hospital with a fractured spine and broken ribs. She gave evidence from her hospital bed Sept. 3 and said she jumped from her husband's car and that "there was no assault to it."

The magistrate yesterday said evidence of other witnesses, who testified they heard Mrs. Buckner screaming for help as she rode out of the city in a car driven by her husband, indicated that the woman actually was seeking help at the time and that her story told under oath in hospital later was probably not as accurate.

LEADING ROLE

LONDON (CP)—Alexander Knox, well-known Canadian actor from London, Ont., has replaced Michael Redgrave in the leading male role in "Winter Journey," one of the current hits of the London stage.

Husband Says Accused Treated 'Like a Brother'

CORNWALL (CP)—Alan Algire, 39, yesterday testified that he knew of no illicit relationship between his attractive 28-year-old wife Dolly and Elias Meek, 21, his hired farmhand, who is charged with her murder Sept. 26, 1951.

Algire was the second of eight witnesses heard yesterday at the retrial of Meek, convicted March 10 of the nearby Harrison's Corners slaying and sentenced to be hanged. He won a new trial on an appeal that the first jury was misdirected.

Dr. J. M. Pollock, Avonmore coroner, described the knife wounds he found when he examined Mrs. Algaire's body. He said she had been discowelled. Near the body lay two knives and a hammer.

Dr. Pollock said he had treated a sister of the accused and had sent her to the Ontario Hospital at Brockville three times between 1938 and 1950. She is still in the institution.

Algaire said he had treated Meek "like a brother" while he employed him. On the morning of the slaying, he went to help a neighbor fill a silo, leaving his wife, his three-year-old twins and Meek on the farm. When he got back several hours later, he saw his wife's body in a narrow passageway adjoining the house.

Archbishop of York Criticizes Sensational Claims of Healing Through Religious Treatment

YORK, England (Reuters)—Dr. Cyril Garbett, Archbishop of York and second highest prelate in the Church of England, today expressed disapproval of "sensational" claims for healing through religious rather than medical treatment.

"The Christian should claim that all that is best in the art of healing comes from God, not as if one type of healing comes from man and the other from God," he told the convocation of York, which is the ecclesiastical legislating assembly for north England.

Parallels for spiritual healing, he said, can be found in non-Christian religions but without proper preparation and approach such kinds of healing might come dangerously near magic.

Lack of Proportion

"It shows a dangerous lack of proportion when a comparatively small number of cases due to spiritual healing are lauded and publicized as works of God, while it is forgotten that there are tens of thousands walking today, in our streets and living usefully and happy who long ago would have been helpless invalids if God had not used the skill and knowledge of doctors, surgeons and nurses to restore them to health," he said.

Dr. Garbett emphasized that his remarks were not directed at small missions for healing confined to a well-instructed congregation or to those who had been prepared by their parish priest.

Sensational Missions

"I am speaking of the sensational and much advertised missions held sometimes by American evangelists but occasionally in our own church," he said. "I believe these do great harm, by their hysterical and emotional atmosphere and by making unjustifiable claims of cures."

The archbishop recalled that he once was chairman of committee of doctors and clergymen who investigated claims of cures by spiritual healing.

"After most careful inquiries we found no evidence to support these claims or to lead us to believe that there had been as the result of a miracle by a well-known lay healer now dead, any cures of organic disease or any lasting cures of functional disorders," he said.

"There is nothing specifically Christian in the methods used in spiritual healing — suggestion, prayer, laying on of hands and anointing," he said.

Possess Strange Gift

"Parallels both for methods and cures can be found in non-Christian religions and there are healers who apparently possess some strange gift of healing who are not Christians.

"Without prayer and preparation the laying of hands and anointing may come dangerously near magic.

"If careful preparation of the individual sick person is necessary for healing, it follows that this is a grave objection to public missions of healing, where preparation of individuals is impossible and where hands are laid indiscriminately upon all who come to them."

Ambulance Plane Attacked by Russ

Three members of the crew are shown standing in front of the C-47 ambulance plane that was attacked by Russian MIGs 70 miles outside of Berlin. This picture was made after the craft made it safe landing at Tempelhof airport. Air Force officials refused to comment until a full investigation is made. No one aboard the mercy plane was hurt. In the group (l. to r.) are: Co-pilot Major George Beers, of San Antonio, Texas; Flight Nurse Margaret A. McGuinness, and Pilot Capt. James Peterson, of Madison, Wisconsin. — Central Press Canadian.

Duchess Meets Malayan Children

In their oriental Sunday-best outfits, four Chinese school children form a reception committee to greet Her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Kent, on her visit to the Asian school for children of dockworkers in Singapore naval yards. The Duchess, touring in the Far East with her son, the 16-year-old Duke of Kent, narrowly missed an ambush by guerrilla rebels when their slit trench by the road on which she was to travel was revealed by native Malayans.—Central Press Canadian.

Ralph Campney, Native of Picton Solicitor General

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent says he is not unduly concerned about Liberal party reverses in the provincial field.

"I don't think we should show any special concern about what people do in the provincial arena, anything that happened in the provincial field.

Resident British Columbia, the Liberals have suffered reverses in other provinces. The Liberal government of New Brunswick was defeated after 17 years in office; the party lost ground in Ontario, Alberta and Saskatchewan elections; in Quebec, the party increased membership but saw its leader Georges Lapalme, defeated.

Regardless of how provinces voted, said Mr. St. Laurent, "we should arrange to have them represented as well as possible in the federal arena."

From that point, he went on to say that federal cabinet members "as ministers" should not attempt to influence a provincial election.

"Should Take Interest"

That did not mean, he said, that federal cabinet ministers should not participate in provincial election campaigns. As electors of a province, it was right that they should take an interest in provincial politics.

Mr. St. Laurent said that in the Quebec election last July he had voted as a resident of Quebec. He had made it clear how he planned to vote, but he also made it clear that no matter which party formed a government, it would be recognized as the choice of the Quebec people.

Mr. St. Laurent said yesterday.

He made the statement after announcing that British Columbia's representation in the Cabinet is being increased to two from one. James Sinclair, 44, member for Coast-Capilano and Parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott, was appointed Minister of Fisheries to succeed Hon. Robert Mayhew, 72, who goes to Japan as Canadian ambassador. Mr. Mayhew represented Victoria in the Commons.

Ralph Campney, 58, Parliamentary assistant to Defence Minister Claxton and member for Vancouver Centre, was appointed Solicitor General, a portfolio now handled by Justice Minister Garson. He is a native of Picton, Ont.

Says No Connection

Asked if there was any connection between the decision to increase British Columbia's representation and the defeat of the Liberal government of that province last June, Mr. St. Laurent said there was not.

There was no connection, he said, between the new appointments and

Logan Looking For Liquor, Girls Says Witness

PEMBROKE (CP) — Telephone Latour, 19, testified yesterday that Delbert Logan, 23, was looking for "liquor and women" at Deux Rivieres the night Logan was fatally shot.

Latour was a witness on the opening day of the trial of 37-year-old Herman Paquin on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the shooting at his home in the early hours of Aug. 18 last.

Latour said that he, Logan and his brother, Paul Latour, were drinking beer the night of Aug. 16 celebrating his brother's return from Korea.

He said they drove to a house near Deux Rivieres, about 30 miles northwest of here, and banged on the door, asking for liquor and women. He said they were refused.

Latour said Logan then began smashing a window with a chair. He heard glass breaking and then six or eight shot. The three got into their car and drove to Deux Rivieres, where Logan died in the courtyard of a hotel.

A grand jury earlier turned down an indictment charging Paquin with murder, but returned a true bill on the manslaughter charge. The trial is continuing.

Given Two Years In Reformatory

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — William Rudyk, 19, of Oshawa, yesterday was sentenced to two years less a day after pleading guilty to charges of breaking and entering with intent and being in possession of dangerous explosives.

Rudyk, with two other Oshawa youths, John Maher, 20, and Joseph Rzazy, 19, twice tried unsuccessfully to blow a safe containing $600. Maher and Rzazy were earlier found guilty of breaking and entering and sentenced to two years less a day.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

By WINIFRED E. WILSON

DIVING FOR DINNER

Certain birds, not alike in any other respect, have a taste for salmon — they procure their food by diving. Naturally, then, quite different methods are used. Most, but not all of them, catch the prey in their bills. Some live from water level, some from great depths and some that barely breaks the surface, others pierce the water to almost unbelievable depths.

The great majority are found under the heading "water birds", but the kingfisher is classed as a land bird. It nests in a bank, and perches on a branch overhanging water, which it enters only when catching dinner. On sighting a fish it plunges, head first, and traps the prey in its capacious bill.

While swimming gently along, every now and then the American merganser bobs its head under water. If an unsuspecting fish comes near the top, under goes the merganser; then, in an instant, up pops the bird with the slippery prey held fast in a bill that is hooked and serrated for this very purpose.

But the golden-eye duck, though a first cousin, uses completely different tactics. Diving to the bottom, in water usually less than 10 feet deep, it propels itself with its feet, hunting for crayfish, crustacea, or crabs by overturning loose stones.

Our common loon dives from the surface to great depths. Many have been caught in fishing nets that were 150 to 300 feet deep. The loon spears a fish with its bill.

The bird that dives from the surface and swims under water in search of fish is the cormorant. Although not usually going farther than 35 feet, it has been known to penetrate 100 feet deep. But a gannet's diagonal dive, bill first, is most spectacular. Starting at a height of 100, and occasionally even 400 feet above the water, it plunges often 50 feet or more below the surface to get its fish. What eyesight! The impact causes spray to splash up 8 or 12 feet.

Particularly interesting and odd is the dive of an osprey. Like the gannet, this bird can spot a fish from a height of 100 feet. But there the similarity ends, because the osprey hits the water feet first, and its body barely goes under, though it actually disappears for a few seconds in spray. Then up it goes, carrying the prey securely in its strong, rough talons, the fish always held so that the head points forward.

I was eating and thinking at breakfist, and ma said, Benny, eat your breakfist, you look like a slow motion picture of a dawdler.

Well heck, ma, I'm trying to remember something, I said.

I had a wonderful idea last nite, but I was half asleep and hardly awake, and now I cant think of it any more, I said, and pop said, Many grate thoughts are born and perish in the still hours of the nite. The best writers make a habit of keeping pencil and paper at the bedside in case they get struck by divine lightning during the nite. Pluribus Sax, the famous Roman filosopher woke up out of a sound sleep and jotted down one of his most immortal lines. It was Aqua Fluvius Nimus, which is Latin for It Never Rains bit It Pures, pop said.

What was yodr grate idea sbobt, for land sakes? ma said; and I said, It was a wonderful invention, but I cant remember what.

It couldn't of been some miraculus way to get you home in time for meals, ma said. That would take mor than just an invention, it would take a whole miracle, she said, and pop said, perhaps, it was some scientific way to master the element of time, so you can listen to the answer to one question before you ask the next one.

G, now I remember, I said, it was some way to get a perfect report card without actually having to do my home work, but I still dont remember just how I said, and pop said, Yes gods.

Sutch a boy, now finish your milk and get started for school, ma said.

Which I did seeling agenst it.

Since the first Canada Savings Bond was sold —interest payments totalling about ninety three and a half million dollars have been paid out to about one million owners. This represents an average return of approximately $100. Some owners have earned more interest than this — some less — but all would agree that they have had a handsome return for an investment that is cashable at full face value at an instant's notice. It is the easiest, most carefree way to earn money that one can imagine. And now the new Seventh Series of Canada Savings Bonds offer a better return than ever! They pay an average of 3.44% per year if held for their full term of 10 years and 9 months. The Seventh Series bonds — like earlier issues — are cashable at full face value plus interest at any time at any bank in Canada.

Canada Savings Bonds—Seventh Series—mature in 10 years and 9 months. They pay an average of 3.44% per year if held for this full term. The bonds are cashable at full face value plus interest at any time at any bank in Canada. Each bond bears ten 3½% coupons—the first of these being payable on August 1st, 1954 (1 year and 9 months from date of issue). Subsequent coupons become payable August 1st yearly thereafter until maturity. If the bond is cashed before the first coupon becomes payable simple interest is paid at 2.14% per year calculated monthly. The average return per year gradually improves the longer the bond is held until it reaches 3.44% at maturity. The Seventh Series is available in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1000 and $5000 and the limit for holdings in any one name is $5000. The bonds are registered in the owner's name. They are non-assignable and non-transferable. They may be purchased from investment dealers, banks and other savings institutions or through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Strong Quake Shakes Eastern Canada and U.S.

OTTAWA (CP) — An earthquake which shook Quebec City, northern Maine and various points along the St. Lawrence River late yesterday affected seismographs here but not strongly the instruments did not make a proper recording.

Officials at the Dominion observatory said they had no way of assessing the size or location of the quake immediately, but indicated it may be the strongest earth shock in Eastern Canada since the Cornwall, Ont., quake of 1944.

They said they will distribute a questionnaire in the quake area in an attempt to determine damage and peculiarities of the tremor and study reports from eastern United States stations to pin down the epicentre."

Normally the seismograph station here is able to determine accurately the size and distance of tremors all over the world. In this case only the time of the quake was fixed at 5:05 p.m. EST. Hits Wide Area

Reports from Quebec said chairs shook in Quebec City and lights swung back and forth from the ceiling in a police station in Quebec's lower-town district. The quake also was felt at Ste. Anne de Beaupre, 20 miles northeast of Quebec City, at Riviere du Loup, 115 miles down the St. Lawrence River south shore from Quebec, in Three Rivers and in Montreal.

A Portland, Me., report said the earthquake rattled a wide area of northern Maine, but caused no damage. It was felt in Augusta, Auburn, the Fort Kent section, and in parts of Aroostook county, as well as in Tinker, N.B., just above the Maine border.

It was recorded at 5:06 p.m. EST by both the Boston College and Columbia University seismograph stations. Boston College placed the quake at 231 miles north of Boston and said it was "quite strong for a local earthquake."

Illustrated—Buick Custom 4-Door Riviera Sedan

You'll be amazed at the LOW price of BUICK

TODAY'S market conditions are the kind in which Buick really shines. Do you know why?

Buick prices start down within easy reach of the folks who, in the past, have been in the habit of buying lower-priced cars.

Fact is—a big chunk of Buick sales now comes from the folks who trade in one of these lower-priced cars.

For very few extra dollars, they're getting a lot more automobile.

They're getting more power—and the thrill that goes with it.

They're getting "big-car" comfort. They're getting a ride that cost a million dollars and more to develop.

They like the room, the fabrics, the extra appointments they find in the smart-stepping beauty pictured here. And they like Dynaflow Drive.*

They like the way it handles. They like the way it's engineered. They like the satisfaction they get out of touching off the power of its Fireball 8 Engine—and they like the miles they get from a gallon of fuel.

So Buick sales are booming. Not just the CUSTOM—but also the SUPER and ROADMASTER. Folks find that each one is the buy in its field.

When we tell you that business is great, we can back up that statement with figures. More people are buying Buicks than any other car at their price or above.

Why don't you come in and see for yourself what's behind this popularity? If you can afford a new car, you can be the proud owner of a Buick.

*Optional at extra cost on other series. Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Dynaflow Drive and Wheel Cranks standard on the Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other series.

Jimmy Carter Regains World Lightweight Crown From Lauro Salas

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

WEATHER MEDAL!

This from the Peterborough scribe:—

"A lot of comment among puck officials and fans have followed the announcement of Alfie Moore's appointment as coach of Belleville Glens, in our O.H.A. senior "B" group. The former N.H.L. goalie ought to know his stuff, but then, so should Red Doran, the Quinte playing coach last year. Doran will play for the Glens and will coach the junior "B" team in that town. He has probably named out of the senior coaching job because of the indifferent showing Belleville made in the late stages of last hockey season."

Come, come, Cec, don't even if you did pick the Cardinals and Giants to win, you needn't try to make a right out of two wrongs.

For the benefit of the Peterborough "puck officials and fans" who took time out from the recent lacrosse smash, that seized the Kawartha village in the throes of a fever, that Alfie Moore has been named coach of the Glens, we hasten to inform all and sundry that when Mr. Moore was appointed, the position was vacant. The Belleville Hockey Association which held the senior "B" franchise last year turned it over to Alderman Dou McNevin, owner of the Glen Bay Creamery here, who will sponsor the club this season.

The BIHA which has the junior "B" Hawks under its wing and which brought "Red" Doran here evidently to coach the youngsters, felt, as did "Red" that the dual coaching job would be too much this year, especially in view of the fact that last spring "Red" was appointed coaching publicity director of this city. His duties this winter would not warrant the coaching of the senior club. Hence the acquisition of Mr. Moore. That should be a large sign of relief from the wearied Peterborough "puck officials and fans".

HACK AGAIN!

And speaking of hockey we note where the OHA has cancelled the two-year suspension of Eddie Plumb, former Kingston junior player who was given a two-year suspension a year ago following the Peterborough-Kingston "throw-it-game" fracas. Eddie's suspension ends on December 1st. He with Bob Aitken received the two-year suspension while the rest of the club got a year's holiday.

BOPPED THE COP

It seems down Valleyfield way, you can't lay a haymaker, or a reasonable facsimile on the jaw of a limb of the law. It "just ain't being done," brother, not even by big hockey stars like "Boom Boom" Geoffrion. It seems the "Rocket" poked a gendarme during a fracas among last during a Canadiens-Valleyfield Braves exhibition game, and has been fined $100 and costs. He was charged at first with "serious assault" meaning that the cop bbp was no love tap, but it since has been reduced to "simple assault". The "Rocket" will face the charge next Tuesday.

MINOR BASEBALL NIGHT

Frank Grandame, chairman of the Belleville Minor Baseball Association reminds the youngsters that the big party is "on" tomorrow night at the YMCA starting at seven o'clock. There will be movies, pitchers', games, candy, ice cream, soft drinks and whatnot. Better be on time, fellas.

GRID FARE!

One of the biggest teams to wear the gold and black of Ola Dalhousie — pardon — Albert College trotted out on the college gridiron yesterday afternoon and pushed, barged and plunged their way to a 12-0 victory, over a plucky but much lighter Trenton High School squad. Most of the footballl was played in the second half the first being a fumble-penalty job that had a lot of the sidelins "experts" at sea.

Albert's big line got in its work in the second half as it ripped through the Trenton line for big gains. Mike Gasela, former Copper Cliff N. S. star and Blake Harris, ex-Michigan — State star, cut the spotlight glare shone squinty on Bob Lemon a product of Brighton. The tall Albany youngster has plenty of speed and his tackling was a standout.

The college crew looks like the best Coach "Pete" Beach has gathered in some time. He has lots of outstanding material and the big team should "go places" this year.

The Gold and Black meets the plucky St. Michael's team on the college gridiron on Friday afternoon starting at 2.30 and the "Beachers" should wrap this one up handily. Jack Dunn has a crew of youngsters that by intestinal fortitude, if a little short on experience, but they're a game, hard-fighting gang that is in there battling regardless of the score. Actually a junior team in the process of rebuilding, Dunn found 'em in the higher company to get the experience. They'll be heard from in the future.

Another gridiron tidbit is on tap on Saturday at the King George School field where "Red" Townsend's BCI seniors take the Cobourg C.I. team. This should be a hard fought struggle as the teams are old rivals and each are win-hungry. Game gets under way at 2.30.

Uses a Terrific Left Hook To Batter Game Little Foe And Earn Unanimous Verdict

CHICAGO (AP) — Gritty Lauro Salas, who left a job as signalman on the Mexican National Railway to take up boxing, left a switch open last night and Jimmy Carter expressed through to regain the world's lightweight championship.

The 24-year-old youth from Monterrey and Los Angeles showed an instinctive gameness in standing up to Carter's sharp shots. But that was about all.

The peppery little New York Negro, displaying a terrific left hook as his main weapon, made it look easy.

After 15 rounds blood flowed from gashes on both of Salas' eyes brows, a split lower lip and a battered nose.

Short Reign Ends

His five-month reign as his country's only undisputed champion in ring history ended at 11:32 p.m. as it began last May when he lifted Carter's crown in Los Angeles.

The ten-round match was broadcast scrap at Chicago Stadium attracted only 3,283 fans to a ringside, one of the smallest championship crowds on record. Carter and Salas each received $6,423 as a share in a net gate of $21,429. But each also picked up nearly $10,000 from television receipts.

Carter's decision was overwhelming as he became the first lightweight to recapture the title since Leo Ambers did it against Henry Armstrong in 1939.

The official point-scoring showed referee Frank Gilmer favoring Carter 81-69, Judge James McManus 82-68 and Judge Frank Medanlas, Jr., 84-66.

They awarded Salas the 11th and 12th rounds when the little Mexican rallied desperately to force Carter into the ropes several times.

Carter Never Hurt

But Carter was never hurt and not even severely jolted.

Salas' manager, James Fitten, said Salas "just let us himself out of the lightweight championship and $100,000."

"He insisted on eating heartily and he weighed in at 132 pounds," said Fitten. "He didn't care about his weight, only about being at full strength. He gained him to carry about 129 or 130 pounds at the most at bet he wouldn't listen and I didn't want to upset him—arguing about it. So he just had his fun. Maybe he's learned his lesson now."

Albert Seniors Blank Trenton In Grid Tilt

Albert College shut out Trenton High School Wednesday afternoon in a COSSA senior football game played on the Albert campus. The final score was 12-0.

Larry Burke kicked off for Albert, Trenton fumbled the ball on the 22 yard line and Archie Brown recovered for Albert's first down. Burke booted the ball over the Trenton posts on the first down for the only point of the first quarter; to put Albert in the lead 1-0.

Highlight of the first quarter was a spectacular 62 yard run by Trenton's Jack Wilson. The play was a faked end run around the left which completely fooled the College team when Wilson took the ball from the quarter back and went around the right end.

Trenton worked their way to within 11 yards of the Albert goal and on their fourth down Wilson failed to see the ball hit the goal post and rebound back for no gain on the play.

One penalty was meted out in the first quarter. The wpeg to Trenton's Jack Wilson.

In the second quarter, the home team ran within five yards of the Trenton goal but burnt themselves up trying to find the line. Trenton, showing more power in the second quarter, Austin Scott, left end for Trenton, opened the quarter went for 45 yards before he pulled counter.

Penalties in the second quarter were two for Albert and one for Trenton, 15 yards penalty to Trenton for crawling.

The third quarter was perhaps the best played of the whole game, Albert was in possession of the ball through almost the whole quarter. Trenton kicked off and Bert Faulkner received. He went for 15 yards, Dave Scott went for 10 yards and the next down as the home team gradually worked their way down the field. Trenton goal, Blake Harris ran 15 yards for Albert and the first down. Then Larry Burke and Blake Slack kicked the convert to make it 7-0 for Albert.

Bob Lemon for Albert pulled an end run on Albert's second down and went between the posts for the final touchdown. Larry Burke kicked the point for Trenton, 15 yards for rough play, Albert 15 yards for high tackle.

In the last quarter, Trenton recieved the kick but fumbled in time for Dave Scott of Albert to pounce on the ball and give the home team first down. Albert then came right back and intercepted Albert's pass, Ken Beal closing the honors. No further scoring was done in the last quarter. Penalties, Trenton for offside on the kick, five yards, Albert, 15 yards for rough play. Albert 15 yards interference and Albert 15 yards for rough play.

Lineups

Albert — Wallace, Beattie, Brown, Burk, Carter, Faulkner, Gardner, Gasela, Gurin, Hasvaldarud, Harris, Hummel, Joy, Lemon, MacKay, Reid, Scott, Slack, Shaw, Slitt, Yeates Hill and Springer.

Hawks' Aim Fourth Place Playoff Berth

DETROIT (CP)—Sid Abel, new coach of Detroit Red Wings, said last night the Hawks aim at grabbing fourth place in the National Hockey League standings "since that would mean a playoff berth at last."

He said of the Black Hawks, members of the N.H.L. after four straight games: "We're really not that good."

Abel checked in at a Detroit hotel a day ahead of the Hawks who play Detroit Red Wings tonight.

Chicago has finished out of N.H.L. playoffs during five of the last six years. Detroit, a long-time Detroit star, is the team's fifth mentor in eight years.

Jersey Joe Is Marciano's Next Opponent

BALTIMORE (AP)—Rocky Marciano's manager says it will be well into next year before the new world's heavyweight boxing champion defends his title and then it will be against Jersey Joe Walcott.

Al Weill, the champion's manager, said in an interview:

"Talk of a fight between Marciano and any other heavyweight at this time is bunk. Marciano will positively fight Walcott the next time he steps into the ring."

Barrie Flyers Vault Into Top Slot With 5-4 Victory Over Guelph Bilts

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Single-goal margins were the rule in the Ontario-Quebec Junior A hockey series last night. Barrie Flyers clamped a Guelph Bilts three third-period rally to win 5-4, and Three Rivers Reds scored one in overtime to defeat Montreal Canadiens 4-3.

The Barrie win vaulted them into first place in the Ontario Hockey Association junior series with a two-point edge over St. Michaels and Galt Black Hawks.

In handing the Canadiens their first loss the Reds pulled into a first-place tie with Drummondville in the Quebec junior race. Quebec Aces hold the second slot by two points with Montreal Royals in the cellar.

Barrie spotted the Bilts the first goal of the game as Chuck Hendrickson scored. Ken Laycock came back to take a 2-1 lead at the end of the period on goals by Bob White and Don McKenny.

The Flyers added two fast ones the second by Larry Thibeault and Skip Teal. The Bilts came back strong in the third led by Andy Battigalia. Harry Howell scored the second Guelph goal of the game in the third then Gerry Ehman scored within 13 seconds.

One minute later Johnny Martan scored on a pass from Shorty McGuire to clinch the Flyers' victory. Fourteen penalties were handed out, eight of them to Guelph.

Ontario Junior A teams are idle until tomorrow night when Toronto Marlboros tangle with the Stratford Kroehlers. Oshawa travels to Barrie and Windsor take on the Greenshirts in Kitchener. Montreal Royals meet Quebec Citadelles in Quebec tonight for the only game in the Quebec league.

FIND PHOENICIAN THRONE

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The ivory throne of the Phoenician kings of Ugarit, more than 3,500 years old, has been discovered by a French expedition, Prof. Claude Schaeffer said here yesterday. Ugarit, capital of the old Phoenician Empire, is on the Mediterranean coast just north of Latakia.

Cardinals' Musial, Cleveland's Doby Are Major Leagues Batting Champs

NEW YORK —(AP)— Stan Musial of St. Louis Cards and Cleveland's Larry Doby are the 1952 major league slugging champions.

Final figures calculated by The Associated Press show that Musial accumulated 311 total bases in 578 at bats to pace the National League with a mark of .538 average. Doby, with 281 total bases in 519 trips to the plate topped the American League with a .541 slugging percentage.

Musial's collection of 194 hits included 43 doubles, six triples and 43 home runs. He batted .336 and for 26 doubles, eight triples and 32 homers among his total of 146 safeties.

Right to Wins

Both leaders finished second in last season's slugging derby. Musial posted a .514 mark in 1951 and trailed Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner, who hit at a .537 clip. Doby, flailing away at a .312 pace was runner-up to Ted Williams of Boston last 5oz. Williams, who was recalled to active duty in the Marines in early summer, recorded a .556 slugging figure.

For Musial, who owns the highest lifetime slugging percentage in National League history, .570, this was his fifth slugging championship. The slender outfielder-first baseman compiled the title in 1943, 1946, 1948 and 1950.

The 31-year-old swinger also won his sixth batting crown with a .336 average and led in total bases for the fourth time in his career.

Hank Sauer of Chicago Cubs finished right behind Musial with a mark of .328. The husky outfielder, who set the pace for most of the season, amassed total bases in 507 at bats.

Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati ranked third in the slugging parade with .510, followed by Kiner and Gil Hodges of the Dodgers, both tied for fourth at .500.

Mantle Second

Mickey Mantle of New York Yankees gained runner-up honors in the American League slugging standings with a .328 percentage, achieved on 290 bases in 549 trips.

Al Rosen of the Indians was third with .327, trailed by teammate Luke Easter in fourth at .318. Vic Wertz, who saw service with both Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Browns, rounded out the first five with .306.

Casey Stengel Manager of Year For Second Time

NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel, 61-year-old pilot of the world champion Yankees, yesterday was named Manager of the Year for the second time by baseball writers in an Associated Press poll.

While it was not exactly a landslide, Stengel had a much easier time of it in the voting than his Yankee club had in getting their fourth consecutive World Series under its direction.

He was named on 37 ballots of the 72 voting members of the Baseball Writers Association of America. He netted more votes than the combined total of the 15 other managers.

Stengel first won the poll in 1949.

Eddie Stanky, a success in his freshman year as manager of St. Louis Cardinals, was second with 10 votes, giving scrappy Eddie the title of National League Manager of the Year. His total doubled that of Leo Durocher of the Giants, who did a commendable job in bringing the patched-up Giants into second place after a much earlier start under Stanky.

TORONTO (CP) — Castleton, the English-bred horse recently purchased by E.P. Taylor, will not be a starter in the $50,000 Washington International at Laurel Saturday, it was announced here yesterday. The three-year-old hooked leg when being worked over the Laurel track Tuesday. Trainer Jimmy Shaw withdrew the horse on Taylor's instructions.

Frank Sedgman Heads Aussie Davis Cup Team

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Frank Sedgman, Wimbledon and United States titleholder, and Australian champion Ken McGregor head a squad of eight named today for the defence of the Davis Cup at Adelaide late in December.

In addition to Sedgman and McGregor the squad consists of Mervyn Rose, Ken Rosewall, Lewis Hoad, Ian Ayre, Don Candy and Mex Hartwig.

Sir Norman Brooks, president of the Australian Lawn Tennis Association, said the association has the power to add any other player and also to remove any selected.

Board to Raise Nurses' Salaries In St. Thomas

ST. THOMAS (CP) — Hospital officials here last night recommended an increase in pay rates for graduate registered nurses of $25 a month for those boarding out and $14 for those living in. The increases would bring wages of the two groups to $185 and $160 a month respectively.

The recommendations were made in a report of a survey presented to the Memorial Hospital Trust of the city.

The survey said 123 hospital staff employees other than nurses are negotiating for substantial wage boosts through a union. This action made a revision of current wages necessary.

The wage increases were recommended to encourage more qualified nurses to become permanent staff members.

Mine Operators Must Pay Royalty Or No Work-Lewis

CINCINNATI (AP) — John L. Lewis yesterday told members of the United Mine Workers to refuse to go to work Monday unless mine operators have made their increased royalty payments to the union welfare fund by that date.

A recent contract between the union and U.S. operators calls for an increase in the royalty payments to 40 cents from 30 cents a ton. The contract, also calling for a wage increase of $1.20 a day, now is before the Wage Stabilization Board.

The union's 41st convention ended in an apparent determination to stage a coal industry strike unless the government approves the wage boost already agreed upon by the industry.

The Wage Board is debating whether the new pay increase as negotiated with mine owners — a boost amounting to 34 cents an hour—can be approved under wage stabilization policies. Employers have said they can't pay the added wages until they have the government's approval.

Soothsayer Says Eisenhower Will Win on Nov. 4th

TOKIO (AP) — A Japanese soothsayer who predicted President Truman's election in 1948 picks Dwight D. Eisenhower to win this year's U.S. presidential race by a small margin.

Prof. Donaho Kodama, a journeyman soothsayer for 38 years, said yesterday he based his prediction on an ancient book of oracles. He said he saw Eisenhower and Governor Adlai Stevenson as "two horses galloping neck to neck. As the thoroughbreds approach the goal, the Eisenhower horse will run over seconds and but his rival will encourage gravel rough going."

POLICE NAB RUNAWAYS

PETERBOROUGH (CP) —Three would-be Huckleberry Finns left Chatham for a two-day adventure. The boys — the oldest only 13 — tried to put up at a Peterborough hotel, but a policeman spotted them. Their story about being in town for a fishing trip didn't convince him and after a few more questions he confirmed that they were runaways. They were soon packed off home with a stern parent in charge.

Lacrosse Champs

Bob Shaw, import with the Calgary Stampeders, is running away with Western Interprovincial Football Conference scoring honors. The 26-year-old end and placement kicker, who came to the Stampeders last year after playing with three United States professional football teams, now has an unofficial total of 107 in 15 games. He has scored nine touchdowns, 35 converts, three singles and eight field goals, in the first 12 games this season, the same number as the entire schedule last year. Shaw scored a record 103 points, bettering his own previous record of 61, set in 1951 while winning the conference scoring title. — (CP Photo.)

U.S. Displays Supersize Gun For Atomic Shells

ABERDEEN, Md. (AP)—The United States army displayed yesterday the supersize gun which it claims will shoot atomic artillery shells, but let it be known it wants an even better weapon.

At the same time, it indicated it is getting ready to make the first true test of the 280-mm. gun—an actual shot with a shell having a nuclear fission charge.

For visiting military officials, the army put the world's first "atomic artillery battery" through demonstrations of manoeuvrability, speed in getting into position and firing, sleekness and in two-gun salvo.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, said the big gun is "neither an interim nor an ultimate weapon. We're not through in development in the field of artillery or in the field of guided missiles."

Army Secretary Frank Pace said an actual atomic shell has not been fired, "but you will be advised when it's ready to be fired."

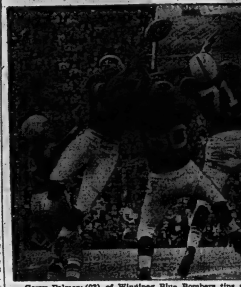
Presumably, when the army is ready for the "live ammunition" test it will be conducted at the Nevada proving ground of the Atomic Energy Commission.

In the shooting yesterday, the range was kept down to an easy 12 miles. Officers say the gun can shoot 20 miles with pin-point accuracy.

TO MEET IN CANADA

SEATTLE (AP) — The United Lutheran Church in America voted yesterday to hold its 1954 convention at Toronto. Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry told the 18th biennial convention that church leaders had been eager to hold the convention in Canada for the first time "because it demonstrates we are a two-nation church."

Say Anti-Freeze Drinking Caused Prisoner's Death



SUDBURY (CP) — One Burwash Industrial farm inmate is dead and another is receiving treatment in hospital here as a result of drinking anti-freeze stolen from a drill compressor at the farm's quarry.

Burwash Superintendent Charles Sanderson today said names of the men were being withheld pending notification of next of kin.

One of the men, he said, was employed assisting the quarry foreman in repairing the drill compressor. When the radiator on the machine was drained he managed to get some of the anti-freeze and he and another inmate went on a spree.

They were first treated at the farm hospital and yesterday were rushed by ambulance to the Sudbury General Hospital, where one man died last night. The second is thought to be out of danger today.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Those who quote me often quote something that I never wrote. Should I shed a flock of tears at the misforming dears? Those enough for me to hear when they quote me not at all. Think of my obscurity if they never spoke of me.

South started with an opening bid of two clubs, a forcing-to-game signal. West stuck in a defensive bid of two spades. North came in with a free bid of three diamonds with this hand:

♠9 6 3
♥K 4 2
♦J 7 6 5 4 3
♣None

That's how it with no intervening bid, the north bid would have been two no-trump by rule to say he has no sure trick in his hand. Because two no-trump is the signal for giving such information.

But when west makes an intervening bid the bidding is kept open for one. This relieves north of the obligation to make a bid. If he has no sure trick he shows it by saying pass.

To justify his three diamond bid, north decided I said that a count of three tricks compelled him to make a re-ending bid; that three tricks were enough for a bid by responder.

And I did say such a thing, in part. But not in answer to an opening bid of two in a suit. What I said was in part when partner answers to an opening bid of only one.

In answer to an opening big of one, partner responds with more than two tricks. But even then he does not do so unless he also has two high cards. That's what Sam Gordon said.

Partner helps keep an opening two bid alive like this: With no intervening bid he responds with two no-trump if he has no sure trick. Therefore he follows T-4-N; takeout, assist, no-trump.

With an intervening bid he passes if he has no sure trick and follows T-A-N therefore. With a sure trick he follows T-A-N in all cases. None of which it pays to gamble.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Are you a perfect wife?

Chances are, you tense closer to being a perfect mate than your husband. A psychologist says that the man is more often at fault in unhappy marriages.

The expert is Dr. Mason Rose who is advising on a film with the hopeful title of "Dream Wife." He remarked that dream wives are more common than dream husbands.

"The trouble with many marriages, Dr. Rose said, is that the men maintain an 18th century attitude in the status of women.

"Most men don't want their wives to 'work,'" he said. "They feel that their children can't be properly reared by a working mother. But a high-peppy type of woman can't be limited to being a housewife."

The perfect mates, he commented, are those who view marriage as "a fellowship of wills." "Husband and wife must have equal rights and help each other," he said.

Marriage Qui

Dr. Rose offered a test to determine whether you are a perfect wife. Here are the questions:

1. Are you troubled because your husband differs from you in beliefs and standards?

2. Do you feel there are serious disadvantages to being married?

3. Do you have a better time with someone other than your husband?

4. Do you discuss intimate personal matters with your parents, relatives or friends?

5. Do you feel your husband does not consult you regarding important decisions?

6. Do you feel rebellious against or bored with your household duties?

7. Are you critical of your husband's small faults?

8. Are you easily upset when things go wrong?

9. Is your household budget usually in the red?

10. Do you know other wives who are better treated than you?

11. If a family quarrel occurs, do you use past disagreements as a weapon against your husband?

12. Do you feel that your husband is less attractive and successful than the husbands of your friends?

13. Would you like to be younger than you are?

14. Do you find it difficult to be a good mixer at parties?

15. Do you feel your marital responsibilities keep you tied down too much?

Board Ruling Stalls Housing

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Municipal Board ruled yesterday that further house-building in suburban Toronto township would be inadvisable until the township improves its financial position.

The township had appealed to the board to enforce demands requiring a building firm to pay $750 a building lot to the township as a donation toward school construction.

However, the board ruled that the firm need not pay the amount.

Pending payment by the company, the township had up plans for the contractors to build 125 houses.

B.C. Fishermen Come to Terms

VANCOUVER (CP) — Company representatives and fishermen's union negotiators reached agreement last night on prices to be paid for fall chum salmon in British Columbia.

The 4,000 salmon fishermen, on strike 38 days because of the dispute, are expected to approve the price proposal when it is put before them Friday, with a policy committee recommendation for acceptance.

The fishermen are represented by the United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union (T.L.C.)

AT THE CAPITOL — Star Rod Cameron in one of the many exciting scenes which pack Republic's big new outdoor production in Trucolor, "Woman of the North Country" currently opening Friday at the Capitol Theatre for its first city showing. Ruth Hussey, John Agar and Gale Storm are also starred. On the comedy romance "Corporal Dolan Goes A.W.O.L." screen, the star and her associates dive into a pool and execute a number of elaborate arm and leg exercises. They even lie flat on the pool's bottom while engaging in leg-taking calisthenics.

Also featured in "Skirts Ahoy!" are Barry Sullivan, Keefe Brasselle, Billy Eckstein, the De Marco Sisters and Dean Miller.

Esther Williams Seen in Three Novel Water Routines

Three Esther Williams swimming numbers, devised to fit logically into the plot, are featured in M.G.M.'s new technicolor musical, "Skirts Ahoy", showing tonight for the last times at the Belle Theatre, with Miss Williams, Joan Evans and Vivian Blaine topping a stellar cast.

First of the routines call for Miss Williams, cast as a United States Navy Wave, to remove her uniform and take a midnight dip clad in a lace-trimmed lingerie outfit, with a toy admiral as her escort.

In the second routine, she appears with the famous Tongay aquatots (Russell five, and Kathy, four) who made international headlines when the British government refused to allow them to attempt an English channel swim. In this unique number, Miss Williams and the youngsters play bop scotch and other games under water.

Third of the routines has Miss Williams and a group of twenty-four water belles performing calisthenics in and under water. In this number, one of the most novel ever devised for the

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY, OCT. 17, 1952.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Meet day's problems with a firm, steady hand. Expend the necessary energy to surmount them completely. It is well within your ability.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Your planet Venus indicates that progress will be measured in direct ratio to your effort. Attend to irksome details. Avoid shady propositions.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Ingenuity may turn the trick today. Separate the essential from the unproductive. Health, financial, civic matters demand special notice.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—A day for cautious advancement. May be faced with some difficult decisions. Snap judgment tabu.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Determined action keynoted. A well-planned program hastens achievement. Remember to keep your objective in view lest you stray away from your prime purpose.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Feeling blue? Don't let it affect your performance. Tackle duties in a speedy, confident manner, the results will be positive.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Your natural ability to evaluate properly gives you the jump on many rivals. Keep your momentum at a high level. Home affairs favored.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—A so-so day. Don't fall in line with ill. Be your virile self. Your enthusiasm can be your trump card.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius) — Pack up your troubles and put them out of mind. A day for extra output. Family, professional, social affairs sponsored.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Don't permit the absence of auspicious indications to retard progress. Show them you have the, "know-how." Full steam ahead!

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Capricorn fits here today. You may be subject to confusing deals. Be not nervous. Courage is needed.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Inclined to day. Pick out important items and follow through. Establish your goal, then set your course for a win. Round out day with relaxation.

YOU BORN TODAY weigh well before decisions, speak through justice, value order and honor. You are talented in things that make for happy home life; outstanding citizenship. Mind that you do not dissipate health, wear nerves thin. Libra is often short in stature, but sturdily built with fine stamina. Birthdate of: Robt. Lansing, statesman; Jean Arthur, Rita Hayworth, actresses.

Career Soldier Accused in Court Of 71 Murders

BERLIN (Reuters) — Heinrich Schwindt, 43, a career soldier in the Hitler regime, was accused before a German court today of 71 murders, three attempted murders and one rape during the wartime occupation of Poland.

The short, stocky German denied all charges.

Schwindt served on the German staff of a ghetto prison at Lodz, Poland. The prosecution charged he ordered Jewish children be buried on out of ghetto floor windows to their death. He was accused of a series of other killings through beatings, shootings and hangings.

Schwindt fled to the west as a political refugee from East Germany two years ago. Later, a former ghetto inmate recognized him and had him arrested.

Why We Say—
WISDOM TEETH

... We wonder why people think the four teeth that appear between the ages of 17 and 25 are called wisdom teeth. Generally, the theory is that they appear when a person is old enough to be wise. However, the theory doesn't always work out. Many people get all of their wisdom teeth before they are 17 and others don't get any at all.

The News, supporting Eisenhower, plans to poll 500,000 persons by secret straw votes. In 1948 it forecast the Truman vote within 1.3 per cent of the actual count.

"Always Feel I Can Rely On Syntona" Says This Woman

MRS. MINNIE WHITLOW

"It Has Been My Favorite Medicine Ever Since Relieving Stomach Trouble and Rundown Condition Several Years Ago."

Every year since the origin of Syntona 15 years ago we and others have written in to tell of the good results they got by using this Pure Herbal Medicine. Many people formerly suffering from disorders of stomach, kidneys, liver and nerves, with constipation, sleeplessness and general rundown condition say there is nothing like Syntona. Others say they have taken Syntona for years and keep right on enjoying good health because that is how they never failed to help them.

An Actual Experience

Mrs. Minnie Whitlow, Bowmanville, Ont., sent in the letter just a few days ago:

"I feel I must write Syntona an expression I was having very bad sleep spells, nervous headaches and dizzy condition. I began taking Syntona and the result is that I am very much improved in a short time I was completely free of the dizzy spells, my nerves and health are fine.

"Now, however, I am having rheumatic pains in my back and legs and am using Syntona again. Already there is an improvement and I am looking forward to relief from these pains. I always have everyone's experiences. I always feel that I can rely on Syntona."

Where to Get It

Drug Stores alone have sold hundreds of thousands of bottles of Syntona. One druggist said just the other day, "a medicine that has the demand that Syntona has, had for 20 many years must have merit." Why not let this Pure Herbal Medicine help you as it has so many others?

Syntona is sold and recommended in Belleville at DOLAR THE DRUGGIST.

Doctor Says TV Spreader of TB

LONDON (AP)—A suburban London doctor attacked television today as a "potent spreader of tuberculosis."

In his annual district health report, West Bromwich doctor Clifford Cole said bad effects of TV might outweigh the advantage gained from drugs in the fight against pulmonary TB.

The trouble, Cole explained, is that people staying at home from work because of illness may get up to watch TV in the evening.

With people sitting in a confined space the risk of tubercular infection is great," he said.

Cole also objected to television on the ground that it encourages physical idleness and takes young people out of the fresh air where they should properly be after a day's work in factory or office.

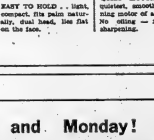
Waives Alimony, She Just Wants Their TV Set

CHICAGO (CP) — Mrs. Alice Vojik, a 23-year-old secretary who sued for divorce, doesn't want any alimony. She just wants her husband George, 26, to return their television set.

Yesterday in court Vojik's lawyer said Mrs. Vojik had fallen in love with a television receiver.

When she came home from work, he added, she parked in front of the set. This left Vojik to cook his own dinner. So he left March 3, and took the TV with him.

"Now she wants the TV set," the lawyer said. "My client will give it to her. It broke up his home and he never wants to see a TV set again."



Judge Julius Miner, told there was no chance of a reconciliation continued the divorce proceedings and said:

"What consolation is a TV set on a cold, lonely night? Waive alimony, and she will get the TV."

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian government poured $93,000,000 worth of defence contracts into Canadian industry in the last two weeks of September, the Defence Production Department announced yesterday.

Joe Louis Will Vote Stevenson

WASHINGTON (AP) —Joe Louis, former heavyweight boxing champion, called on Democratic national chairman Stephen A. Mitchell yesterday and told him he is going to vote for Governor Adlai E. Stevenson for president.

Louis, a Negro, said "I've been a Republican all my life" but gave two reasons to reporters why he could not support Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican candidate.

First, he said, "I worked under Gen. Eisenhower in Europe in 1945 when he was in the Army and for the American Negro soldier over there, it wasn't so good."

Secondly, Louis accused the Republican presidential nominee of putting on a "doubletalk" campaign, emphasizing one thing in the south and another in the north.

Asked to report what he meant in regard to his first point about conditions for Negro soldiers in Europe during the Second World War, Louis said he had found Negroes frequently were given inferior treatment there.

Major Battle Shaping Up In Indo-China

HANOI, Indo-China (AP) — A major battle appeared to be shaping up today between French Union forces and Communist-led Vietminh troops around the town of Nghia Lo, 100 miles northwest of Hanoi.

By plane and overland, the French rushed reinforcements to meet what they called a major Communist push at Nghia Lo, their defence anchor just outside the rim of the vital Red River delta and the gateway to the best position they hold on the Chinese border, to the northwest in the mountainous country of the autonomous Thai tribes.

The French also were holding 10,000 or more troops ready in Thai territory in the event of a Vietminh assault against Nghia Lo itself.

French headquarters admitted six small outposts in the Nghia Lo region had been lost to the rebels—two stormed and captured and four overrun after defending forces pulled out.

But the headquarters said no major clashes had developed since the Reds launched their offensive at dawn yesterday. The outposts usually are manned by 25 to 40 soldiers, most of them Thai tribesmen with a sprinkling of French.

Indonesian Capital Tense Following Riots

By JACK MACBETH

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Thousands of Indonesians rioted in Indonesia's capital today in the wake of a parliamentary vote censoring Defence Minister Hamengku Buwono Ix, the popular Sultan of Jogjakarta.

Order was restored after President Soekarno assured the rioters that their demands for parliament's dissolution would be considered. But the capital remained tense as rumors spread that the government might fall and the military high command imposed a dusk-to-dawn curfew.

Several thousand persons mobbed the residence of The Netherlands high commissioner, tore down the Dutch flag flying there and ripped it to shreds. Many carried placards demanding the recall of the Dutch military mission.

Tanks, Artillery

Government tanks and artillery rolled into the heart of Jakarta as some 150,000 demonstrators congregated around the parliament building at dawn and demanded the Legislature be dissolved. Troops and tanks took up positions around the building and around Soekarno's palace.

A five-hour blackout was imposed on all outgoing cables. Military spokesmen announced traffic through the city and business came to a virtual standstill. Telephone service was suspended and was still out this afternoon.

All cable and radio communications between Jakarta and Amsterdam and London were cut for almost three hours today and the government-operated telephone exchange service remained dead after cable service was restored.

The seething anger of many of the rioters and some of the banners they carried indicated the Communists had a part in the disturbance. Police said most of the mob had been "brought in from outside the city."

Delay Judgment In Soldier's Case

TORONTO (CP)—Judgment was reserved yesterday in an appeal by Jean Victor Allard, former Army staff sergeant against a conviction in the court martial trial on thefts at the army camp at Petawawa.

W. N. Phelan, Crown counsel, said Young had been promised by two Provincial police officers that his case would not reach civilian courts if he made a confession to them. Young then made a confession, he said.

Mr. Phelan said Young, an experienced N.C.O., "should have known better," and that he could have been in the army two or three weeks less to rely on the promise of an officer.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synoptic: Freezing temperatures were reported over a large area of Ontario last night in the cold wave that now extends from Manitoba to Manitoba. At Armstrong in northwestern Ontario the mercury dropped to 24 degrees breaking 6 below zero.

Freezing weather covers the areas near the Great Lakes today and a few snowflurries still persist over the northeastern part of the province.

Skies are expected to clear tonight as the cold air becomes more firmly established over Southern Ontario. Mainly sunny but cool today and cold in the weather prospect for southern regions on Saturday.

FOREIGN TRADE BALANCE CLIMBS TO SIX-YEAR HIGH

$243,000,000 Total In First Eight Months

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's favorable balance of foreign trade climbed a six-year high of $243,100,000 for the first eight months of 1952 as exchanges rated to the United Kingdom helped overcome a growing unfavorable balance in United States trade.

Volume of trade was at an all-time high, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday. But its report of falling prices indicated that Canada may have a tough time trying to boost the dollar value of exports this year to the $8,000,000,000 peak reached last year.

The figure for the eight months this year total trade amounted to $3,-431,900,000, up slightly from $3,235,200,000 in the similar period a year ago. Prices began to drop during the summer months.

The favorable balance, biggest since the $268,000,000 favorable balance reached in the first eight months of 1948, was made up of the $335,800,000 eight-month deficit for 1951.

It was the result of an expansion in exports to $2,839,500,000 from $2,503,300,000 in the eight months of 1951 and a drop in imports to $2,596,400,000 from $2,830,-500,000.

U.S. Buys More

Higher United Kingdom purchases of Canadian products helped the biggest rise in building the surplus, which reached $337,100,000 from $295,100,000. Imports of U.K. goods dropped to $227,900,000 from $242,800,000.

This gave Canada a favorable balance of $209,200,000 for the eight months of Anglo-Canadian trade, almost four times greater than the $58,000,000 surplus last year and double the higher than the $372,200,000 favorable balance for the first eight months of 1947.

However, Canada faced a major problem south of her border. Imports of U.S. goods during the first eight months soared to $1,917,200,000 from $1,833,300,000. Exports to the United States fell to $1,577,600,000 from $1,527,600,000.

The gain—traditional in U.S. trade—increased to $413,500,000, the biggest deficit with that unfavorable balance of $644,500,000.

New $11,000,000 Plant of G.M. Officially Opened

TORONTO (CP)—Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors Corporation, yesterday officially opened a new $11,000,000 plant of the Frigidaire Company of Canada Ltd. here in Toronto.

The plant, covering 111 acres, will employ 1,000 persons at full capacity and produce 1,000 appliances in the Frigidaire and Delco lines.

Present for the opening were Premier Frost, Provincial Minister Howe and Reeve O.E. Crockford of Scarborough township.

Mr. Howe said the new plant released Frigidaire's other factory at Leaside for conversion to the making of jet engine parts. Premier Frost congratulated the plant typical of Ontario's development in the last two or three years.

Successful Mechanical Heart Gives Organ Rest While Open to Surgery

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

DETROIT (AP)—A successful mechanical heart for humans, giving your heart a holiday, was announced today.

For 50 minutes, the amazing little machine pumped the blood through his body.

Rumbling like a quiet washing machine, it operated while the left side of his heart. It deloured the blood coming from the lungs and pushed it back into his arties.

Except for that, with no work to do, the still-beating heart was opened to repair a faulty valve, Dr. Richard New said.

The man, 41, is alive and well today, three months after the operation July 3.

Only his one human success was announced—but with a hint it has worked on other persons since.

It marks a new step in medicine. With mechanical hearts, the doctor's work is high. It is a delicate, encased electric motor, with rubber valves. Eventually, perhaps, with less steel valves, all working on principles of the human heart.

repair valves or dangerously bulging weak spots in heart walls, take out tumors, plug holes in the heart wall, dividing walls. The spare hearts may some day help save thousands whose own hearts stop.

The human success was announced at a meeting of the American Medical Association by Dr. Robert A. Gerlach of Harper Hospital here.

The surgeons said their patient is definitely improved, but it is too early to say how much he will be benefited from his operation.

Simply but ingeniously brought into play gradually to take over the heart's work. Just as gradually, the heart whose own heart is allowed to work.

In full operation, the spare heart pumps 4½ quarts of blood a minute, 270 beats to the minute does. It maintains even pressure.

It is only 10 inches long, 12 inches wide, 7 high. It is a metal encased electric motor, with rubber valves. Eventually, perhaps, with less steel valves, all working on principles of the human heart.

U.N. Awaits Vishinsky's Reply to Acheson on Korea, Fireworks Are Expected

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Russia's Andrei Vishinsky kept the United Nations waiting today for the fireworks he is expected to touch off in replying to U.S. State Secretary Dean Acheson's plea for a concerted U.N. effort to end the Korean war.

The Soviet Foreign Minister was not scheduled to speak today, and he told reporters he did not know when he would address the general assembly.

"Maybe never," he added with a sly grin.

Poland was the first from Curtain country listed for the assembly's general debate today, drawing fourth place in tentative line-up of five countries to speak. But Foreign Minister Stanislaw Skrzeszewski of Poland was not expected to start things off with a thunder by replying to the major American foreign policy speech Acheson made to the assembly yesterday.

Before these speeches, the assembly was to take up the proposal to include on its agenda the Asian-Arab item charging racial discrimination in South Africa.

Acheson yesterday urged every member of the United Nations "to support the common action in Korea, and indeed to call for its finish against aggression.

He said "we will go on as long as is necessary to stop the aggression and to restore peace and security to Korea." He said the U.N. aim is to stop fighting when an armistice on just terms has been achieved. And we shall not allow faint-hearted-ness or recklessness to defeat this cause, which is to defend peace."

The secretary asked for more help — more fighting men, more materiel and money — for the U.N. battle area.

"We must convince the aggressor," he declared, "that continued fighting in Korea will cost him more than he can gain."

He is a place where to hold the free world together against threatened Communist victory split the non-Communist countries, Acheson urged solidarity in the face of cold, effective security, emphasizing:

"The alternative to this solidarity is the disintegration of the United Nations and the triumph of lawlessness in the world."

"It is in Korea," he said, "that our whole structure of collective security is encountering its supreme test. It will stand or fall upon what we do here."

Following Acheson's speech the assembly agreed to take up every item on its proposed 72-subject agenda except the South African question, France did not challenge inclusion of the freedom demands of nationalists in her Tunisian and Moroccan protectorates, though she already has said she will boycott this debate.

Vishinsky listened attentively and took extensive notes yesterday while Acheson spoke.

Will Vishinsky have the last over, Vishinsky said:

"My English is not too good. I will have to read the speech."

Elsewhere through the packed new assembly hall, the general reaction to Acheson's address was good. Britain's Selwyn Lloyd said it was a speech of "great wisdom and understanding." Henri Hoppenot of France praised as "courageous" the moderation of the speech, while Australia declared here had feared might be too extreme.

There had been widespread reports that Acheson had watered down his speech at the request of American allies who feared too strong an appeal would only provoke a violent and negative response from the Soviets.

But Charles Allen, the American delegation press officer, said that Acheson had at no time intended to do more than try to create an atmosphere of solidarity in the U.N. and to talk about a quick cease-fire in Korea.

There was still a possibility, however, that Vishinsky might ask the Americans and their allies fighting in Korea to ask the assembly to make a strong appeal to South Korea and North Korea to accept an armistice on U.N. terms.

College Students' Federation Discards Plan for Reciprocal Three-Week Tours in Russia

By BERNARD DUFRESNE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

QUEBEC (CP)—The National Federation of Canadian University Students has discarded proposals for reciprocal Soviet-Canadian students' tours by approving a resolution that student tours, in general, should not cause disruption within the universities.

Faced with a threat of secession by 10 of the strong Quebec French University and Ottawa University —should the proposal be approved, the federation voted against it by 8 to 6 that:

Delegates conference approves the principle of student tours on a reciprocal basis but disapproves of all tours any constituent members of the federation to revive its relationship with N.F.C.U.S."

No Choice Left

The resolution, in effect, gave the executive no choice except to strike from the report of the International Relations Committee all resolutions dealing with details of the proposal.

The solution arose following a telegram to the convention from Russia's Academy of Sciences and Soviet Youth saying that the Quebec Union had withdrawn.

Voting went as follows:

In favor (11)—Dalhousie University, Acadia University, University of Alberta, Mount Allison University, Queen's University, University of Saskatchewan, University of New Brunswick, Laval University, Acadia University, University of British Columbia, University of Manitoba, Bishop's University.

Against (8)—University of Western Ontario, McGill University, Montreal Student Journal, Sir George Williams College, University of Montreal, Ottawa University, Carleton College, University of Saskatchewan.

Abstain (6)—The 30 universities represented at the convention had been split by the vote. Victoria College, Charlottetown, was represented but had no voting power.

The wording of the resolution resulted from an amendment moved by Laval and Columbia and seconded by Manitoba to the original proposal drawn up by the I.A.C.

What his conference approves the principle of a Soviet-Canadian student tour on a reciprocity basis.

Debate Lengthy

Voting followed 3½ hours of debate on the proposal which became known to the 60 delegates representing the 30 student unions as "the Russian question."

Paul-Emile Patry of Laval said the resolution could not vote on a "principle" and a practical case at the same time, and moved that — in the same resolution.

The British Columbia-Manitoba amendment to the resolution was prompted by what was termed a "Laval threat."

Frank Muldoon, Manitoba delegate, said: "Any delegation of Laval on N.F.C.U.S. is worth more than all the Russian tours in the world for one or two days on a campus."

Raymond Boulet of Laval said the Canadian student delegation travelling to Russia would return "disillusioned" and that Soviet students coming to Canada would be "carefully selected and drilled" to pick subjects on the Canadian scene for Communist propaganda.

Gerald Fauteux of Montreal said that the proposed three-week visits would not be long enough for a change of ideas and knowledge of the way of life in Russia and Canada.

Robert Sutherland of Toronto said: "We have a choice of a choice between Laval and Russia, and we have a choice between power" to a small group opposing the will of the majority.

He said that a threat to accede by a minority group could lead to the breaking up of the union if the minority on any question.

Mr. Sutherland moved, and Macfie Jobs seconded, that a poll be taken to determine how each union would change its relationship with N.F.C.U.S. in the event of a withdrawal from the U.S.S.R. exchange.

Dalhousie, Ottawa and Laval were the only ones to answer affirmatively.

This followed voting on the main resolution.

Queen's, Columbia moved, seconded by Montreal, that the resolution be amended with details of the resolution be dropped. The convention carried the motion.

SOVIET PRESENTS DEADLY THREAT TO FREE WORLD

—Eisenhower

Non-Political Address Given at N.Y. Dinner

NEW YORK (CP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said last night the Soviet Union has presented a "deadly challenge" to the free world, a challenge that must be answered "if we are to survive in freedom."

At the same time he expressed the certainty that the free world has the strength to meet it.

The Republican candidate for president delivered the principal speech at the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation dinner attended by more than 2,000 prominent persons of both the Democratic and Republican parties. The address was non-political.

Eisenhower presented a detailed analysis of the recent 10-day meeting in Moscow of the 19th Communist party congress. From it he drew the conclusion that Joseph Stalin proposed the destruction of democracy in general and the United States in particular."

Appeals for Unity

Eisenhower said the formula for meeting the Soviet challenge is the greater unity within the United States, and between the allies and with the three countries — Germany, Italy and Japan — which fought against the U.S.

Eisenhower suggested that the U.S. should appeal to the Soviet Russia of Japan and Germany.

"Their counsel now has just been concentrating on the islands near Sorel, about 30 miles west of here.

Travelling part of the way by power boat, they crept up on his tent soon after daybreak and pounced on him before he could make a move.

Lt. Legendre's squad was led to the hideout by reports from boat-owners that their gasoline supplies were being stolen. Elsewhere there were reports a man had been seen on the island.

Two Arrested After Wild Chase Near Brantford

BRANTFORD (CP) — Arrested after a 90-mile speed-and-weave chase, Albert Wheler, 27, of Wilkesport, Ont., and William Peters, 27, of Guelph, yesterday appeared in court and were remanded pending further investigation.

Wheler pleaded guilty to a charge of having a concealed weapon, a large hunting knife. Peters pleaded guilty to dangerous driving.

Police said the car the men were driving was stolen in Vancouver on Sunday, B.C. Peters said they borrowed the car to drive to Toronto to find his girl friend.

Officers also said the men told them they were in possession of a quantity of women's clothing, including a fur coat and a mink coat, out of the car at Ancaster. Asked why they did so, police reported they gave no explanation.

"I couldn't find my girl, so I had no use for the clothes."

BROCKVILLE (CP)—Mayor W. Fred Reynolds, 64, announced at a council meeting last night that he will not seek re-election here in December. His decision marks the end of a career that began as an Anglican priest, including six consecutive terms as mayor.

He has served on the Board of Education for almost 15 years.

Police Capture Polish Immigrant Sought For Slaying

Captive Holed Up On Lonely Island On St. Lawrence

THREE RIVERS, Que. (CP)—Heavily-armed police today surrounded a tent on a lonely St. Lawrence River island and captured one of two Polish immigrants sought in connection with the shotgun holdup slaying of a service station operator three weeks ago.

They identified their captive as Maksymilian Cisela, 21, and said he surrendered without resistance, though armed with two rifles and a stock of ammunition found in his tent.

He will be taken to Provincial Police headquarters in Montreal later today.

There was no immediate indication of the whereabouts of the second man sought with Cisela in an intensive search of the area's carpeted, island-dotted reaches of the St. Lawrence since Aurelien Houle was slain in an attempted holdup of his combination grocery-service station at Yamaska East Sept. 25.

The man was captured on an island near Maskinonge, St. Lawrence River, about 30 miles west of here on the route between Three Rivers and Montreal.

Provincial Police squad under Lieut. Ubald Legault set out from Montreal yesterday for the Maskinonge area. They were joined by Three Rivers detectives who had been concentrating on the islands near Sorel, about 30 miles west of here.

Armed with sub-machine guns and tear gas weapons, Nazis made their way along a six-mile route that led through marshy fields and across riverside flood-walls to Cleves's island hideout. Travelling part of the way by power boat, they crept up on his tent soon after daybreak and pounced on him before he could make a move.

Lt. Legendre's squad was led to the hideout by reports from boat-owners that their gasoline supplies were being stolen. Elsewhere there were reports a man had been seen on the island.

Can Humans Become Angels? Church Assembly Avoids Issue

LONDON (AP) — The top panel of the Church of England — the Convocation of Canterbury — today sidestepped a chance to rule on whether humans can become angels when they die.

The controversy has run through the Church hierarchy from humble village vicars to Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury himself.

It started when Ernest Reese, a bricklayer in the sleepy Sussex village of Hartfield, wanted to put a marble angel over the grave of his nine-year-old daughter.

The Rev. Charles Poole, vicar of Hurst Green, banned the statue, and Reese appealed to the church court of the diocese of Chichester, which, prohibited the statue. "The one thing you do not become when you die is an angel."

The Chichester court's decision board stepped into the picture. It told reporters that a belief in angels is not an essential part of the Christian faith — and said the Church takes the view that angels are symbolic, not a representation of the after life, was perhaps "rather unfortunate and misleading."

That statement roused Rev. J.A. Burley, a delegate from Oxford, to ask for a debate in the House of the Convocation of Canterbury.

Burley said the statement which would put the lower house on record as disbelieving in angels "is a step in the wrong direction."

But the lower house in the matter stand without taking a vote.

Society Proposes Sweeping Changes In Regulations

TORONTO (CP)—The Law Society of Upper Canada yesterday proposed sweeping changes in the regulations governing transfer of lawyers from one province to another.

At the same time the society announced that graduates of law schools anywhere in Canada will be called to the bar Ontario after completing the third and fourth years of the Osgoode Hall law school course.

This move was taken at the request of Dean Horace Read of Dalhousie Law School at Halifax, who suggested graduates of the Halifax school receive these privileges, which are the same as those given graduates of the University of Toronto law school.

The Ontario body urged the law societies of other Canadian provinces to move immediately to approve these proposals.

1. Abolition of the special call to practice as a barrister and as the bar of one province wishes to transfer to another province. Only fee is as high as $1,500 in some provinces.

2. That a lawyer wishing to plead a case in another province may do so without paying a fee.

In this connection D. Park Jamieson, Q.C., of Sarnia, chairman of the Law Society's committee on uniform standards of admission to the bar, cited the case yesterday of John Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative Member of Parliament, who was required to pay a call fee of $1,500 in British Columbia to plead a case there.

CHAMBER TO KEEP REGISTER OF EVENTS

Now the fall of the year has arrived, social get togethers and events have become a thing of the present. As a public service, the Chamber of Commerce has brought out the register of coming events. The ledger is divided up into days of the month and again into hours of the day. The public is welcome to visit the office and mark in the book their coming event.

Object of the register is to provide the public with a list of the coming events, the day and the hour they fall upon. Also it is possible to ascertain which day would be convenient to hold an anticipated event so as to avoid conflict with some other planned occurrence.

Secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, James T. Davis said, "The book is open to anyone who wishes to look at it or place their event in it. There is no charge for this service."

Rush Hour Route on Bridge St., Pinnacle to Dundas Proposed By Council Traffic Committee

Establishment of a rush hour route on which no parking would be permitted from 4 until 6 o'clock in the afternoon as a means of speeding traffic through the city has been recommended by members of the local traffic committee, the recommendation, along with several others concerning traffic problems will come up for ratification at the next meeting of city council.

The rush hour route as suggested by the committee would be along Bridge street, east, from the lower bridge to Pinnacle street and south on Pinnacle street to Dundas street east.

In another move to speed traffic through the main downtown artery, the committee recommended that the parking meters be removed from the east side of Pinnacle street from the Canadian National Express office north to Bridge street. This would permit a free flow of traffic to flow north to the Bridge street intersection and no parking signs would be erected in the area.

Want By-law Rescinded

Acting on the complaint that coal truck moving in and out of the weigh scales impedes the movement of traffic, committee members recommended that the present by-law requiring coal to be weighed on the city scales before delivery be rescinded and a new by-law be drawn giving police authority to have loads of coal weighed, when it was considered necessary.

Traffic lights were recommended installed at the corner of North Front street and Moira street. These to be synchronized with lights at the corner of Front and Station streets.

A further recommendation called for parking meters to be placed on the south side of Foundry street from Pinnacle street east.

Police Inspector J. C. Hayes advised the committee that he had had the number of overparties with respect to traffic surveys made in cities of a comparable size to Belleville. These companies will provide the final recommendations in a copy of traffic surveys made, and also an estimate of the cost to have a survey made in Belleville.

Boyd and Two Gang Members Pass Through City on Way To Penitentiary at Kingston

Edwin Alonzo Boyd, sentenced to life imprisonment for bank robberies, one of his gang, passed through Belleville at midmorning today en route to Kingston penitentiary.

The three convicted bank robbers, Boyd, William Jackson and Harold Gibson, with a fourth prisoner, were taken through in a City of Toronto "Black Maria" and stopped briefly at the provincial police office on Pinnacle St., where they had coffee.

Accompanying the prisoners were two motorcycle escorts, two Toronto detectives riding in the van with the prisoners and Inspector John Nimmo of the Toronto city police force.

The police escort carrying the four prisoners to Kingston drove into the city shortly after nine thirty and left again in about 10 minutes.

All four of the prisoners were ushered through as they got out of the van and entered the police station, in turn they had wrists chained to them by Toronto detectives, who were accompanying them.

The prisoners were reported in top form happy a meal and sleep though they chatted among themselves while having coffee there was little other conversation in which they participated.

Boyd was the only one to make a general observation. Glancing around the police headquarters and seeing a number of officers he commented "I guess there won't be any trouble from the highway—they seem to be all here."

But cigaret butts littering the floor of the "Black Maria" indicated the prisoners were ill at ease during the trip.

One of the police escort noted that the departure of Boyd and two of his henchmen from Toronto for Kingston to start prison terms was made on the quiet. The trio left Toronto at 4a.m. with few outside of police circles knowing.

But during their brief stay in the city there they got out of the van and began stretching their cramped muscles. When the prisoners were led out of the police station to enter the van, there was quite a gallery of curious on hand to see them.

Two Men Killed, When Car Hits Pile of Rocks

ROLPHTON (CP) — Two men were killed and two others injured last night when their automobile left the highway west of here.

Killed were Robert Hault, employed by a lumber company near Rolphton, and Willie Valade, 49, also employed in that area and a native of St. Agathe des Monts, Que.

Two others were taken to hospital at Deep River; Robert Brisebois of Rapides des Joachims, Que. with head injuries, and Aurele Lefebvre of Richmond Hault, with bruises.

Police said the car apparently hit a pile of rocks beside the road, leaped the rock pile and landed upside down in a 12-foot ditch.

A passer-by, Donald Cochrane, of Moore Lake, found the wreck when he heard a car horn blowing steadily.

Rolphton is 45 miles west of Pembroke.

A "LIFE SENTENCE" MEANS JUST THAT

If some of our readers were a bit confused yesterday in attempting to sort out the multiplicity of prison terms imposed on the members of the Boyd gang, we can assure them that they were not without company. Around the office we were just as uncertain of the proper interpretation of Judge Forsyth's pronouncements as anyone else was likely to be.

How long is a life sentence? That was the major argument. Which terms were to be served concurrently, and which consecutively? This was anything but clear.

We felt entitled to be annoyed because the Canadian Press dispatches had not been more specific. Later we learned that even officials of the Attorney General's office in Toronto could not state definitely how long Alonzo Boyd and William Jackson are likely to be in the penitentiary.

Technically, "a life sentence" means just that — that the convicted person is liable to spend the rest of life in prison. However, it is seldom that the full penalty is exacted. Even women who take the uncharitable view of manslaughter or, after a death sentence has been commuted to life imprisonment, for murder.

Boyd was convicted on eight charges of armed robbery and sentenced to life on his charge but the sentences will be served concurrently. In addition he was sentenced to a total of 24 years on one charge of attempted robbery, two charges of jail breaking and two charges of escaping from jail. These sentences will also be served concurrently with his life terms.

There is the possibility, then, that Boyd will end his days in Kingston penitentiary. However, the Crown may be pleased to extend the Royal Mercy to any offender convicted of an indictable offence punishable with death or otherwise, and grant to such offender either a free or a conditional pardon."

Contrary to widely-held belief such a pardon or a "ticket of leave" is not always given even after many years in prison. The case of Red Ryan was a notorious one many will recall. He was released after serving 13 years of a life sentence. He was shot to death in an attempted liquor store robbery not long afterwards.

It is the opinion of officials of the Attorney-General's office that Alonzo Boyd might gain his freedom in about 20 years if his record of behavior in prison is good.

William Jackson's position, for all that he did not receive a life sentence, is quite as bad as Boyd's — if not worse. He was sentenced to serve 20 years concurrently on each of two charges of armed robbery and also four years for escaping jail while serving an 8-year sentence for assault and robbery. These terms, totalling 32 years, are to be served consecutively. Even with good behavior he might be longer in prison than Boyd.

The two other leading partners in the gang, Suchan and Ivan Wilson Jackson, have already been sentenced to hang December 16 for murder. Lesser figures in the Boyd mob of eight men and two women received uncomplicated sentences ranging from ten years to six months.

Before the curtain has been rung down on the sensational Boyd episode in Canadian annals of crime these sentences may be revised. Some of those convicted have already appealed; others may follow suit. One or more may even gain new trials and win, perhaps, acquittals, or reduced sentences.

But whatever finals is written to this story of daring criminal exploits the tag-line is old, familiar and conclusive — crime does not pay!

BAD NEWS FOR BEST FRIENDS

To coin a phrase; there was bound to be a stink about this.

Ottawa has had protests from the manufacturers of external body deodorizers, which while they are subject to a 15-per-cent sales tax, producers of internal deodorizers, using chlorophyll put up in the form of tablets and lozenges, are not.

Nothing was said, apparently, about chewing gum, tooth paste and dog food but any Revenue Department official with his ear to the ground, his eye to the future, and his olefactory faculties aquiver, shouldn't need too many hints to see what's coming.

Meanwhile the Department has conceded that the situation was offensive to the sense of justice if not the sense of smell, and decided that starting January 1 the chlorophyll tablets and lozenges will be placed in the cosmetic and toilet category, making them subject to tax.

The consumer will have to decide whether the inevitable boost in price is worth it, or should he let his best friends again endure in silence that state of embarrassment which was theirs for so long before chlorophyll.

JUST FOLKS

CAMPAIGN TIME

The candidates are at it, tooth and nail,
And they're sending cards and pamphlets by the mail.
Every night they disagree
On the radio and TV,
And they're kissing babies all along the trail.

Nation wide they both are making whistle-stops,
Telling folks about what they'll do about their crops.
Both have sore and husky throats
Due to shouting pleas for votes
But of all the rights of freedom,
this is hope.

This is something they can't do in tyrant lands,
Where the people must obey
one man's commands.
Such campaigns can only be
In a country that is free,
Where the polling booth for all wide open stands.

So I hail the difference now dividing men,
For I'm glad that it can happen
now and then,
Since I'm silenced is the din,
After all the votes
are in.
We shall be a land united once again.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

QUOTATIONS

You who have read these brief talks from day to day, note that I continually quote from people who have said wise or inspiring things. I do it for at least two reasons. One is that it helps to add to the flavor of the talk, like raising did in mother's pies, pudding and cakes. They call it "gem" a thought.

The other reason for my many quotations is that I hope to acquaint my readers with authors who have been a joy and inspiration to me in my reading, and I hope to pass what has pleased me to others. I have, again and again, been so intrigued by a wise saying that I have sought out the author that I might learn more about Him, or her.

Many of these quotations I long ago committed to memory and so have them handy for use when I think they help fit into a thought. I look upon striking thoughts as footprints that great minds leave behind them. People who never read a line from the poet Pope are familiar with his famous statement that "the proper study of mankind is man."

Shakespeare and the Bible are probably quoted more than any other books. They are books that every school boy or girl, sooner or later, quotes from. Thoreau was not popular in his day, when he bought his first book, but after he died, interest in his great book "Walden" soon attracted the attention of the intellectual world and edition after edition has been published, and they are highly quotable thoughts.

The late President Roosevelt made famous the line "nothing is so much to be feared as fear itself." This was originated by Thoreau and can be found in his journal under the date of September 7th, 1851. The phrase "Forgotten Man" was also popularized by Roosevelt, but its source William Graham Sumner, of Yale University, gave a most stimulating lecture under this title before the Brooklyn Historical Society Jan. 20th, 1883 —but the "forgotten man" was the "white collar" gentleman!

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

POWER, HEAT AND LIGHT

If you lookout of the train window as you ride between Boston and New York on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, you may see a large sign containing these three words: "Power, Heat, Light."

The utility company officials who put up the sign know the importance of these elements. So, when the current goes off, those of us who live in electrified homes fold up and wait for the repair man. The house grows cold, for the oil burner, the kitchen stove and the portable heater all need electricity before they can give heat. The refrigerator, the radio, the vacuum cleaner cease to function—no power. Alfred when night comes, we find it most of all as the darkness closes in and we are left without our main source of light.

"Power, Heat, Light." The sign might serve as a reminder to every Christian. For the same elements that the company supplies to our home on a limited physical scale, God supplies the believer in His measureable abundance, both physically and spiritually.

God's power created us and all around us. The heat He supplies from the sun preserves life on the earth; the spiritual warmth of His love quickens our highest relationships. And white existence as we know it would not be possible without the light of the sun, most important of all is His spiritual light the knowledge of God through Jesus Christ.

FALSE IMITATION

Gold In The Ocean

(Hamilton Spectator)

There's 8,000,000,000 tons of gold in the world's oceans. It's free for the taking, but the taking is prohibitively expensive. That's the catch, but despite past failures to "mine" some of that gold in the last century there still are hopefuls—in fact for several years three U.S. patents have been filed on some methods of extraction.

Early in this century, an eminent British chemist went seeming and spent $5,000 to extract $8 worth of the precious metal.

The most notable undertaking —and failure—was that of a German Nobel-winning chemist, Dr. Fritz Haber. Germany was bankrupt after the Great War, unable to pay reparations. Those could be paid and a nice surplus piled up by extracting gold from the sea, he reasoned.

He reviewed the history of previous unsuccessful attempts, and estimated that on the basis of the millionth part of a gram of sea water it would be necessary to process 250 tons of water to obtain $1 worth of gold. Dr. Haber concluded that there would be a neat margin of profit.

However, some years and 5,000 analyses of Atlantic ocean water later, Dr. Haber had to admit defeat. He had obtained conclusive evidences that there was gold in the proportion-half a billionth of a ton in a ton of water. To recover a dollar's worth of gold he would have to process 200,000 tons of water. Hardly a paying proposition that.

And so there the gold remains, all 8,000,000,000 tons of it. Who's got an idea?

Move Over, Somebody

(New York Herald Tribune)

The urban agglomerations are getting out of hand. New York-Newark-Jersey, and living in caves have been for years, without knowing it, is more than twice as many twelve of the things in the entire nation, and almost everybody seems determined to get into one. This, at least, seems to be a reasonable conclusion from a report just made by the Census Bureau of population trends.

An urban agglomeration is defined as a metropolitan area with a population of a million or more. The former type agglomeration is, of course, the most aggressive of all. It is composed of no less than 13,000,000 individuals—agglom might be a good word for them—who live in New York and Northeastern New Jersey. Chicago comes next with just under 5,000,000 aggloms, not counting those swimming in Lake Michigan, and the list gradually descends to Manhattan, which makes the grade with a bare 1,100,000—the normal load of a rupp-hour subway car in New York.

As a result of the agglom tendency to stick together, or agglutinate, the Census Bureau is finding it, according to the census trends, that more and more of the nation's "urban" population is going into the urban agglomerations.

Perhaps it is the agglom which attracts them, but the fact remains that the urban agglomerations are expanding in size over the years. Pretty soon there won't be room for any more of them. And when that happens, the Census Bureau will have to come up with some really fancy words to describe the situation. Plenty of time to worry about that later, though. Move over, somebody.

TOUGH ON POTATO BUGS

There is, perhaps, some compensation for potato pests. When the probable price is low farmers are apt to neglect expensive precautions and bring production down to more reasonable proportions. On the contrary, the prospect of good prices results in every lisbee that science can save, being brought to maturity.

Letter to the Editor

Explains Operation Of Farm Forums

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer,

Sir,

Your issue of Saturday, October 4th, announced the Educational Farm Radio Forum will be held, as it will continue weekly until March 23rd.

This letter is written for the purpose of briefly explaining to the farm readers, what the Forums are and how farm people may easily become a part of it.

Here is how it works. A group of neighbors meet each week to hear the broadcast. Incidentally this group of over 33,000 members, is the largest educational group that ais in discussion at one time anywhere in the world.

This group listens to the broadcast, then they study and discuss the problem. They decide how best their mutual problems may be solved. The groups decisions are mailed to the secretary's office in Toronto, the findings are tabulated, make known to the government and the Federation of Agriculture, the views on important questions.

If there are readers interested in forming a forum for coming winter nights, they may obtain complete information from Clifford Waite, 409 Huron Street Toronto.

May I state, that forming such forums provides a get-together weekly with your neighbors and a social hour which inevitably follows the broadcast.

Scottish Determination

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

In two years the 500 people of the Scottish village, Kyle of Lochalsh, in Ross and Cromarty, has shifted by hand 11,000 tons of stone from the top of a cliff and 200 yards long and 100 yards back. They did the work every summer evening until last Sunday when they held a community playing field for the village. Not until 1954 will the people there be able to enjoy the fruits of their labor.

This story of determination goes back to 1930 when the war memorial committee decided to level off the playing field committee again, there was no money available. Then there was the retirement grant of $2,500. The men marked for demolition ran the beach at Plaidaig Bay—the only beach sufficiently flat. But to raise it above the level of the sea set ties involved dumping 11,000 tons of rock. Estimates of the job themselves. They organized a gang of 12 men and set to work. Each man took shape and is 12 inches at the sea end, and 6 inches at the back. Each of three feet between rows. Each row had to be moved before the village can start laying the soil and turf. Each man's pitch, he greens, tennis courts, and bowling green are now completed and men and women of Kyle.

Significant Changes Come Over Canadian Armed Forces Since End of Second World War

Canada's armed forces have also at home and abroad. That double role is making them less British, more American—and distinctively Canadian. What is happening in their character is told in this story, one of a series of articles in defence by Douglas How of the Canadian Press staff in Ottawa.

By DOUGLAS HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Significant changes have come over the Canadian armed forces since the end of the Second World War.

The navy, army and air force fought two wars largely with British arms. Now their arms come mainly from this continent and in large measure from factories in Canada:

The services' British background, structure, traditions and uniform types remain, but their character is becoming more Canadian. Long-range plans look to the retention of Canadian identity by all three services in any future war—on the same scale as that achieved by the First Canadian army in the last.

None intends to submerge much of its effort under the banner of another country.

U.S.-Canada Link

At the same time, they are working more closely with United States forces as the two countries prepare to defend North America together if necessary.

Even the navy, most British of the services, has felt the trend. Engineering and flying training are among the few remaining links with the Royal Navy which used to school Canadian officers.

At least two other significant trends run parallel specialization and integration.

All three forces and the military science arm show pronounced specialist tendencies. The basic reasons are the costs and complexities of modern war, and the growth of international teamwork which allows individual countries to develop certain fields.

Bit Tasks

Thus the navy is concentrating on anti-submarine warfare, the air force on a fighter force and the army on artillery and infantry troops. The Defence Research Board is concerned mainly with Arctic, gas and germ warfare as well as certain weapons.

Heavy bombers, big fighting ships, large tank forces and the atomic bomb are left to Canada's allies.

Unification or integration was the central theme of the Defence Department from 1947 until 1949. It now has become part of the foundation of all three forces. It produced, among other things, common pay scales, common codes, discipline and punishment, similar food and quality of clothing, joint officer training at three services colleges and arrangements for joint use of hospitals.

The old national concept of balanced military forces is emerging in a new international form. Only the big powers can any longer afford full military might. The Atlantic Pact Powers are seeking a balanced over-all strength. This is one key to Canadian specialization. This Canadian trend started before the Pact was drafted but the Pact confirmed and strengthened it.

Big Contribution

One result is that Canada is spending as much money on the air force alone as on the army and navy together. The R.C.A.F. fighter arm is Canada's main contribution to this international concept.

There are two main reasons behind Canada's switch to North American arms. One is that it is easier for Canada to produce U.S. weapons because the engineering designs and patterns of the two countries are more similar than those of Canada and Britain. The other is that if North America were ever under siege, Canada should be able to rely on immediate sources of supply, not sources which might be in enemy hands.

The result is that the lion's share of the $5,200,000,000 Canada expects to spend on arms and equipment in the next three-year program, ending in 1955, will be spent in North America. She has switched from this pattern to order Centurion tanks, an aircraft carrier and some other equipment from Britain, but these purchases are exceptions arising from price differences and the fact that tanks were not available in the United States.

The army has found it possible to graft U.S. arms on existing organization and keep things largely as they were—that is, primarily British in origin. This British background is something none of the services want to lose regardless of where arms originate. However, there is an urge to refashion Canadian identity and it shows itself in various ways.

Wartime Lessons

The navy and air force learned their lesson in the Second World War. They had large commands of their own but thousands of their men served as individuals or small units in the British forces. One in every four R.A.F. fliers, for example, was a Canadian.

The air force now is setting up a substantial force in Europe, under over-all U.S. command but large enough to be a distinct Canadian unit. It is a Canadian bridgehead which would be expanded if war came.

The army's brigades in Germany and Korea were distinctively Canadian and have orders to stay that way even though they accept operational orders from higher command. One reason the army is not being turned into a mechanized force—the main one is the cost—is because mechanized units would be more likely than infantry to be broken up and scattered to support various foreign formations.

The navy already knows where it would do most of its fighting in another war. Now warrant Atlantic would be Canada's sea, defended largely by Canada's Navy.

Soldiers in the Arctic must prepare to face a double enemy: frigid weather as well as opposing troops. The cold-weather clothing these paratroopers are wearing may hamper their operations a bit but serves to earn at least a draw with Old Man Winter. Three Royal Canadian Regiment veterans are shown in Exercise Sun Dog Three in the Ungava Bay region of northern Quebec. Left to right: Pte. T. R. Jamieson, Lachine, Que.; Pte. W. A. Delaney, New Carlisle, Que., and Pte. W. E. Hubbard, Toronto. — (CP from National Defence.)

Specially-Trained Guides Organized For Coronation

LONDON (CP)—A panel of specially-trained guides is being organized by the British Travel and Holiday Association to conduct visitors on $1 a head sightseeing tours around London during Coronation Year.

The successful candidates will be given a series of lectures dealing with the historical background of London and its environs, as well as a refresher course on the city's famous buildings, local government, transport system and other attractions of interest to visitors.

While in training, candidates will be required to read extensively on art and architecture and keep abreast of developments in the entertainment world.

"Our aim is to provide guides who will create a good impression on visitors," said an official of the association. "We want people to go home and talk so enthusiastically about their visit to London that many others will come over to see the sights of our great city."

GREAT YELDHAM, England (CP)—Council of this Essex community plans to celebrate the coronation next year in a big way. Events will include a feast on the village green, with a roasted bullock as the main dish.

Following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. George, left for Sherwood Manor, Bancroft, Ontario, the bride travelling in an oxford grey tailored suit with matching hat, red fox neck bag. Upon their return, they will make their home in Toronto.

Out-of-town guests were present from Shannonville and Belleville.

RUSHNELL—McCOMB

Before an altar banked with gladioli and ferns, in St. Mark's Anglican Church, Bonarlaw, on Saturday, October 4th, at 2.00 p.m., the marriage of Doris Isabel McComb, of Bonarlaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McComb, to Donald Clinton Rushnell, of Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rushnell, was solemnized by the Rev. Canon J. M. Brownlie, rector of the church.

Mrs. George Williams, church organist, rendered the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Miss Doyle, of Belleville, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bridal gown of Chantilly lace over satin with sweetheart bodice worn with nylon yoke having a V-shaped neckline, long sleeves with lace cuffs, the floor-length skirt ending in petticoat fullness. Her full-length veil of tulle illusion was caught to a headdress embroidered with pearls and rhinestones, and she carried a shower bouquet of Better-Day roses with peach lace ribbon.

Miss Donna McComb, of Bonarlaw, sister of the bride, was the only attendant wearing fall green velvet taffeta, combined with brocaded taffeta. Her headdress was a velvet forget-me-not in matching shades. She carried a semi-cascade of lemon yellow gladioli.

Mr. Douglas Rushnell, of Toronto, attended the bridegroom, while Mr. Harold Rushnell and Mr. John McComb acted as ushers.

At the reception, which was held at the bride's home, the guests were received by the bride's mother, wearing a royal blue crepe and lace gown with corsage of pink roselle roses. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother, who was gowned in navy crepe with matching accessories and corsage of pink roselle roses.

Following a honeymoon trip to, Branford, Simcoe and other western points, the bride wore a navy suit with matching accessories. They will reside in Belleville.

Guests from out-of-town were present from Belleville, Bloomfield, Toronto, St. Catharines, Campbellford, Niagara Falls, Trenton, Codrington and Shannonville.

HUDSON—WEIR

A quiet, but pretty wedding took place at the United Church parsonage, Madoc, on Wednesday, October 8th, when Rev. F. F. Lane, pastor of the church, united in marriage Esther Joyce Weir, of Bancroft, Ontario, to Edward Allen Cecil Hudson, of Madoc, Ontario.

The bride was attended by Miss Elizabeth Weir, sister of the bride, Arthur's Mills, Ontario, and the bridegroom by Mr. James Dillabough, also of McArthur's Mills.

Order Eastern Star, Chapter, 55, Holds Colorful Autumn Bazaar

Wednesday afternoon, the large auditorium of the Masonic Temple was filled with the sound of many voices, like the cadence of many, far-off waters, as the friends and patrons surged from booth to booth at the annual bazaar of Chapter 55 of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Everywhere the eye turned, emblems of the autumn were seen, from the lovely arrangement of sheaves of oats, huge pumpkins, and golden ears of corn which formed a focal point of interest at one end of the tea room, to the white baskets of purple asters along the south wall. Then on to the several booths with their heaps of bronze and green ropes, coming to rest at last at the long tea table, with its white cloth, and exquisite centrepiece of blue and mulberry-colored grapes. In a golden boat-like dish from which rose long spikes of tiny colored rushes like mauve, pink, blue, green, gold and bronze mild sprays of orange bittersweet. On either side were the bittersweet tapered candelabra, and at either end, the gleaming silver services. Little guest tables, white covered and centred, surrounded the tea table.

A Gracious Welcome

At the door was the gracious receptionist, Mrs. Everett Smith, whose warm handclasp and cheery smile added a kindly welcome, and just inside, the three treasurers, Mrs. Hillis Cornish, Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor and Mrs. Ila Clapp, faithful tax collectors at the seat of custom.

Turning to the right, the first booth to be seen was the pantry shelf, conveyed by D. Lager and her co-conveyor, D. Stewart, and their assistants, Mrs. Denike, L. Adams, B. Hollinger, G. White, T. Laing and M. Stratton. Here were jars of amber-colored honey; huge, red peppers, yellow squash, bottles of olives, jellies, pickles, relishes, soups, canned beans and peas, golden peaches in jars, Damson plums, fresh eggs, turnips, and a luscious looking joint of beef, this last to be the possession of the holder of the lucky ticket.

Next came the white elephant table with its array of "what-have-yous", from tiny cacti, cups and saucers, bunches of pansies with soft purple velvety petals; cigarette holders, burlap rug designs, ornamental retriever dogs, flower vases, and bath powder, and other items too numerous to mention. These were conveyed by B. Clarke and V. Bishop, aided by the assistants, R. Catharine, Bellfory, V. Johson, P. Westover, M. Mills and C. Brians.

Many Varieties

On the candy table were all manner of goodies, some in lovely crocheted baskets in white and brown; others in little carts in yellow and orange, and of various varieties, chocolates, candy bears, Turkish delight, creams, fudge, and stuffed dates. The conveners of this was A. Thompson; co-conveners, G. Bishop, assisted by F. McDonald, S. Morgan, M. Helson, A. Fisher, M. Black, O. Whitehead, B. Lough, N. Reid, L. F. Laycock, I. Reesman, F. Honse, Thompkins, R. Tompkins and V. Harkins.

Like a veritable flower garden was the apron table, with its array of lovely aprons in hair and full designs in all kinds of materials, from the white organdies with frills and lace edged, suitable for afternoon teas, and dainty little breakfast ones to start the day off with a cheery greeting, and then those good old stand-bys for that Monday morning wash. Each one nicely made, and just right for some home-lover at Christmas. In charge of these were, S. Pidgeon, as convener, and A. McGee, co-convener, aided by E. Adams, M. Elliott, C. Buck, B. Lundy, E. Dewsett, M. Barlow, N. Barr and M. Halton.

Delicious Homecooking

As always the homecooking table was almost hidden from view by the eager purchasers of the delicious cakes and pies, and little cakes, which included Christmas cakes, tiny cookies, black cakes with icing, one with a rich yellow icing and yellow filling, white cakes covered in shredded cocoanut, date loaves, lemon, cherry, pumpkin and apple pies, jars of jellies and be-ribboned biscuits. All of which were soon disposed of by the many purchasers, who kept the various clerks on the double-quick, changs and wrapping packages. These were, convener, H. Desjarlais; co-convener, L. Herman, with the assistants, G. Grey, L. Hall, D. MacFarlane, D. Westover, E. Stevens, J. Weasels, B. Day, E. Dutfin, C. Elliott, A. Munroe, E. Buck, M. Mayes, and Wonnacott.

The last booth was that of the novelties, conveyed by Lager and her co-convener, D. Stewart, and their assistants, Mrs. Denike, L. Adams, B. Hollinger, G. White, T. Laing and M. Stratton. Here were jars of amber-colored honey; huge, red peppers, yellow squash, bottles of olives, jellies, pickles, relishes, soups, canned beans and peas, golden peaches in jars, Damson plums, fresh eggs, turnips, and a luscious looking joint of beef, this last to be the possession of the holder of the lucky ticket.

Guest Speaker

Mrs. W. S. May then introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Elliott, of Tweed, vice-president of the Belleville Presbyterial. Mrs. Elliott spoke on her impressions of the School for Leaders held recently in Whitby.

The inspiration imparted by the various speakers at the school had impressed on the listeners the scope of the work and the opportunities for missionary-minded church members.

Mrs. Elliott drew a parallel between the missionary work of the church and the program of the United Nations, and stressed the greater need for vital interest in the workings of U.N., by missionary society members.

Mrs. Archibald conveyed to the speaker the appreciation of the audience and closed the meeting.

Tea was served and a social hour was enjoyed by all present.

B. Bush, I. Miller, F. Moon, M. Bush, F. Smith, M. Elliott, P. Barlow, B. Reed, D. Elvidge, P. Johnston, J. Clapp, S. Orne, G. Baker, and L. Wilkins.

As solo, by Mrs. A. W. Danical "Trust in Thy Faithfulness", was greatly appreciated.

Mrs. G. Dobbs introduced Mrs. W. Elliott, of Stirling, as guest speaker. Mrs. Elliott was recently a commissioner at the Council of the United Church of Canada, held in Hamilton. She brought to the meeting many highlights of the ten-day council. She spoke of the new secretary, Dr. Scott, of India, who being chosen as moderator did honor to the whole missionary enterprise.

Mrs. Elliott served on the committee for Overseas Missions under the chairmanship of Dr. Gallagher, who write the Canadian African study for the W.M.S.

Mrs. Elliott's message emphasized the mission work of the United Church. She said that Council was asking that supply work be trebled for the next year, the needs were so great.

She spoke also of the new mission being opened in Northern Rhodesia. This new work group served tea.

Community Presents Purse of Money To Departing Friends

A farewell presentation was held on Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McAvoy, of Lonsdale, when about 100 community friends gathered to wish them much happiness in their new home in Oshawa, for which they will be leaving in the near future.

The evening was spent in cards and in a social get-together, after which Mr. Joe Roach read the address, expressing the regret of the community as a whole, at the loss from their midst of such fine neighbors.

Following the address, the presentation of a purse of money was made, accompanied by a card signed by Mrs. Pat Roach and Mrs. Joe Brennan, on behalf of the neighbors and friends.

Bounteous refreshments were served, followed by dancing which brought the evening to a close.

The C.W.L. will again conduct the Register campaign in Kingston diocese as the League is the most highly organized agency of the diocese and therefore most able to carry out the extensive work this entails. Very Rev. L. G. Garvin, asks that all try to obtain 1,000 new subscribers in this parish. Mrs. F. Domenico, who is convening the Euchre parties held every first and third Tuesday at 8, of C. asks that each councillor be responsible for one table each night. These parties have been most enjoyable and it is hoped that more ladies will be able to turn out to them. Mrs. J. Mrs. J. Lynch reported on work covered by VON, 807 visits made to 250 patients. Mrs. L. Miss S. Langford Napanee, Wins Club Bursary

For the past six years the University Women's Club of the city, has awarded a bursary resulting from a dance or more, to the girl student of either high school or collegiate of Belleville, obtaining the highest aggregate number of marks in the eight prescribed subjects.

This year for the first time the bursary has been extended to take in high schools and collegiates within a radius of 25 miles. Thirteen applications were sent out: three to Bellaville, which included Belleville Collegiate Institute and Vocational School, St. Michael's Academy and Albert College, and the remaining ten to the outlying districts. Ten applications were received, with the bursary being won by Miss Sylvia Langford, of Napanee Collegiate, who is at present attending Queens University, Kingston, taking a course in nursing science.

This year the scholarship fund was received through the medium of a picture donated by the artist, Manly Macdonald, for which tickets were sold. Each spring this is done and the amount required to keep up the fund is obtained through some worthwhile project.

If, by October 10th the winner of the bursary has already received $500 in scholarships, she is announced as winner, but the cash award of $100 or more, is given to the girl having the next highest aggregate of marks.

Food For Thought
Readers' Friday Column

By Mary Moore

QUESTION:

... let me say I enjoy your column very much—the friendly talks as well as the recipes. Our church group is holding a social at a gathering of 125. . . for luncheon. . . I would appreciate it if you would suggest a suitable menu for this occasion. We will have to transport our food and prepare it in a strange kitchen so there will be some difficulties also, we would like something a little different, but not so difficult that we can't make it. . . Thanks for any help. . . it will be fun hearing from you anyway.—Helen H.

ANSWER:

I wish I did not have to be so everlasting buttonsilke on these Question-and-Answer days, for I would love to write you a letter that would be his to receive. It would be too for we could swap yarns. My mother was born in a small village about 10 miles from your town. I know the area very well. My brother and I when we were 10 and 6 "borrowed" a watermelon from a neighboring farm after dark one night. We almost got away with it too. My mother was an angel, but an alert one.

CHURCH LUNCHEON FOR 125

Chicken (or turkey) a la King or Rice
Baked Squash Squares
Savoy Cabbage Slaw with Tomato Wedges French Dressing
Deep Apple Pie Old Cheddar Tea

Note: Each item I have chosen with an eye to cutting down work; and costs of handling.

CHICKEN A LA KING (for 125)

If you make this with turkey it will not cost any more—for both of these meats stretch so far when prepared this way.

One and a half cups of butter or margarine, 1 1-4 lbs. chicken fat, 2 3-4 lbs. flour, 3 1-2 ounces salt, 1-3 teaspoon pepper, 18 quarts whole milk, 1 gallon (6 quarts) rich chicken stock, 10 or 12 lbs. lean cooked chicken cubed (or turkey). Using the first 7 ingredients make a white sauce. Melt butter and chicken fat, stir in flour and seasonings then stir in the milk. The sauce, which should be hot to speed up thickening. Stir until thick.) Add cubed chicken. Other additions are canned sliced mushrooms, and chopped green pepper and canned pimento. Serve on bed of fluffy boiled rice (or patty shells or toast points).

The squash requires little handling. Use pepper squashes cut in quarters and seeded. Bake in hot oven. Twenty minutes before serving time sprinkle with brown sugar, dot with butter and sprinkle with salt and paprika. Bake the squash at 375 deg. Fahr. for 60 to 75 minutes.

Deep Apple Pie is easier to make than regular pie for it may be made in large square institution pans. Fill buttered pans to a depth of 2 inches with sliced apples, sprinkle generously with brown sugar and cinnamon and dot with butter. Cover with thick rich pastry with plenty of slashing. Glaze top by spreading with mixture of sugar and milk. Bake in oven of 450 for 15 minutes then reduce heat to 375 for 35 or 40 minutes. Each serving should be a 3 1-2 or 4-inch square.

Put a layer of each in crock or kettle and sprinkle with salt, using about 4 tablespoons. Let stand 2 hours, Drain dry. Put into kettle and add 1-2 tablespoon pepper, 1 tablespoon each mustard, turmeric and flour mixed together, 3 cups white sugar. Stir and add 1 cup white wine vinegar. Boil slowly one hour, then put in sterile jars. Makes 3 quarts.

Thanks girls, for both of these—that will wind up the cucumber season—unless somebody has a bright idea and is determined to keep on making pickles all winter.

BETHEL - ZION

'Pie-Jay Pals' Name Chosen for Girls Club

BETHEL-ZION — Once again club work has begun. Last Saturday the girls of Bethel-Zion met with their leader, Mrs. Percy Ray and assistant leader, Mrs. C. Ray, at the Maple Leaf School to hold the first meeting of the unit and discuss "Sleeping Garments."

The slate of officers is as follows: president, Dorothy Sills; secretary, Eileen Ray; treasurer, Helen Jenkins; press reporter, Irene Sine; social committee, Donna Ray, Anna Mae Dickey and Galla Cranston.

After a lively discussion the following was chosen as a club name, "The Pie-Jay Pals."

A hearty welcome goes to Sheila Causey, a new junior, and to Betty Ray, one of the original members, who is again taking club work.

Work Required

"In this unit, each member is required to make a nightie or pajamas. Therefore, during discussion, suitable materials for different styles of garments were discussed and samples were passed around.

For tailored garments, a material with body is needed, such as broadcloth, gingham, percale or pajama cloth. Different types of rayon are discussed; rayon crepe is softer than acetate rayon. To test, secure burns readily, leaving a feathery ash, while acetate burns leaving hard, black ashes.

Stylings

Patterns of different stylings were compared, noticing simplicity of line and suitability to the person.

Eileen demonstrated how to straighten material. For practice, Helen Jenkins took Sheila Causey's measurements, and Irene took Connie's.

The meeting closed with November eighth a suggested date for the next meeting, at which time the practical work will begin.

Sunday School Lesson

Window Display Religion

By ROY L. SMITH

There is the story of an eccentric old shop keeper who kept his entire stock in his show window. If any customer came in to buy he found the shelves empty, the show cases vacant, and all the goods in the display.

Something of this appeared in many of the European countries immediately following the war, when they filled the show windows along the streets with goods and then inserted small cards, inconspicuously displayed, reading "Not available at this time."

Some Real Bolsheviks

It sometimes happened in the ancient East that a man who was setting out on some benevolent venture would hire trumpeters to go ahead of him as he made his way to the temple, blasting their instruments to let the people know that the man who followed was about to do charitable work.

It was a common thing to see the rich pharisees, in their luxurious gowns, parading the pomp of piety and the role of the penitent, for the sake of impressing the multitudes. They got a very great deal of satisfaction out of the drama in which they strove to appear humble. They took their stand at prominent corners to pray for the purpose of impressing the passersby. Whether they impressed God or not, this was extremely distasteful to Jesus.

Good Religion Never Dismal

The new Revised Standard Version Bible has furnished us with an extremely dramatic translation of one text in this lesson. The King James Version says: "When ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance." The new translation says, "When you fast do not look dismal."

The practice of abstaining from food for the purpose of cultivating the spiritual life is an old one, but not widely practised in this generation. To Jesus it was a very sacred matter and it hurt Him to see the Jews of His day pretending a great sanctity they did not feel. To Him the life of godliness was a joyous affair, and in His mind hilarity and piety seemed to belong together. He therefore said, "Don't look dismal when you are trying to be religious!" And it is good advice to this day.

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for October 19: "Jesus Demands Sincerity." Matthew 6.

A very wise old preacher once said, "If we had more singing Christians we would have more seeking sinners." It has been extremely unfortunate that youth, in particular, has associated the devout man with the killjoy. They really do not belong together.

The Focused Life

Rather oddly, the religionists and the psychologists, are both insistent upon the same thing but they have confused the people because they have used different vocabularies.

The preacher has talked about the dedicated life and the psychologist has talked about the integrated personality. Both have meant the same thing, but in many instances we have not understood either one.

Jesus' words are perfectly plain. You cannot pursue two contradictory objectives at the same time, you cannot live on both sides of the fence, you cannot have two masters, you cannot be religious and irreligious, you cannot live like a Christian and a pagan at the same time. The old proverb talks about the man who tries to carry water on both shoulders and spills from both buckets.

No Substitute for Sincerity

There is no substitute for sincerity in any of life's enterprises. The principle holds true in the scientist's laboratory, in friendship, in politics, economics, world affairs and in personal religion

Justice Admits Statement Given By Accused Man

CORNWALL (CP)—A statement signed by Elias Mook describing attempts at choking, stabbing and hitting Mrs. Mook with a hammer was admitted as evidence yesterday at Mook's trial on a charge of murdering his employer's wife.

Mr. Justice J.C. McRuer ruled that the statement, taken by police less than 24 hours after the mutilated body of Mrs. Lillian Gale was found Sept. 28, 1951, could be used by the Crown in its prosecution.

The statement said Mook, 21, hit Mrs. Algaire over the head with a iron, "tried to choke her and stabbed her twice with a butcher knife.

"There isn't much to tell; I don't know why I did it," the statement said.

Mook was arrested the day after Mrs. Algaire's body was found at her farm home near Harrison Corners, 11 miles northwest of here. His employer, Alan Algaire, was away at the time.

Princess Enjoys New Movie Film By Charlie Chaplin

LONDON (Reuters) —Princess Margaret laughed and wept alternately last night as she watched Charlie Chaplin's new tragic-comic film "Limelight" in its world premiere.

Afterwards in the foyer of the theatre she told the actor-director-producer-writer: "It was a lovely film. I do congratulate you most heartily."

Chaplin took her hand in a warm grip and said: "I only wish we have hooored me greatly with your most gracious presence here tonight."

The movie ended in a storm of applause that swept corners of the crowded house. Chaplin, who had been sitting a few yards from Princess Margaret, walked to the stage, thanked the audience and introduced his leading lady, Claire Bloom.

As they left the stage, Chaplin won a final round of applause and laughter by breaking into a dance shuffle and sidekick for which he was famous in his earlier films.

The general opinion among the brilliant gathering at the premiere was that "Charlin's latest picture is not as funny as they had expected, had touched great heights of drama and artistry.

British film magnate J. Arthur Rank said he considered the film a masterpiece.

TO HEAD HOBBY SHOW

TORONTO (CP)—Kate Aitken, well-known broadcaster, journalist and lecturer, has been appointed director of women's activities for the newly-formed Canadian International Hobby and Homecraft Show, it was announced yesterday. First of the annual shows will be held in Toronto Feb. 6-14.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A protest strike of 150,000 miners crept through the U.S. coal fields and produced a crisis today as the price increases today as the Wage Stabilization Board scheduled another attempt to settle the lengthy nine-day record soft-coal pay boost.

Price officials said the Office of Price Stabilization was awaiting W. S. B. action before considering officially the many requests for a retreat from producers for a ceiling-price increase.

Labor members of the W.S.B., who angrily rejected a "suggestion" from Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam that the W.S.B. postpone its study of the case for several days, were ready to give their approval to the $1.90-a-day wage boost.

Needs W.S.B. Okay

The increase, negotiated by John L. Lewis last month, cannot be paid until the W.S.B. gives its approval because it is nearly twice as high as that automatically approvable under cost-of-living regulations.

But labor members of the W.S.B. which is composed of labor, industry and public members, have argued that the other wage rules justify the increase. They say it is neither inflationary nor unstabilizing.

Industry members, however, firmly reject that thesis. They say they have seen no evidence to indicate the pay raise is within existing ceilings.

Mood's Call Strike

The coal miners' strike was not called by Lewis — was not, in fact, called for. The union president had only to look at their latest pact with operators, signed only two weeks of October, to see that they had won a victory. The pact was walked off the job on grounds that their contract was in effect broken.

The pay increase was not to be taken effect Oct. 1, and, if it is approved, will be retroactive to that date.

Should the W.S.B. fail to approve the contract within the next few days the number of idle miners is certain to swell and may shut off up to 80 per cent of the country's soft coal production.

Express Passed Caution and Two Danger Signals

Col. G. R. S. Wilson, chief inspector of railways for the British railways, who is conducting the inquiry, said the driver now said he was giving his opinion before evidence had been sifted and before the public concern over the wreck. He offered no reason why the signals were disregarded.

Truman Hurls Challenge at Ike In New England

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—President Truman declared yesterday that if Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower really knows a quick way to end the Korean war it is his duty to reveal it now.

Truman hurled this challenge on the first day of a New England tour in which he came close to calling the General a political horse thief.

The president rang in a little of everything—he even played the piano for a crowd at New Britain, Conn.—in the opening round of a three-day northeastern tour on behalf of Governor Adlai Stevenson and the Democratic ticket in the Nov. 4 election.

At Hartford, momentarily casting aside the speech he had meant to deliver, Truman said Eisenhower "has stated that he knows a panacea that will cure the Korean situation."

"He and one of his smollygoster advisers have given out the advice that he knows how to do that job. He (Eisenhower) has been my military adviser ever since I appointed him Chief of Staff of the army. And I will say right now that if he knows a remedy and is withholding it from the U.S. it is his duty to come and tell me what it is. He has never told me yet."

Truman didn't identify the "smollygoster" he had in mind but he has used the term "smollygoster" before in his campaign to mean a man who dodges the truth by win political advantage.

Truman Declares Ike Suffers 'Attack of Moral Blindness'; General Blasts at Corruption

Orator-Lawyer

Leonard William Brockington, brother and lawyer, new chairman of the board of governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, succeeds Dr. Augustin Frigon. He was born in Guelph, Ont., former prime minister of Canada. He was Calgary city solicitor 1922-23. An authority on drama and music, he also gained a wide reputation as a story-teller and raconteur. During the Second World War he was for a time a special adviser to Prime Ministers Mackenzie King and after the war he served for a time as arbitrator in a number of labor disputes. — (CP Photo.)

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said today Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower "has had an attack of moral blindness" and is willing to accept Nazi practices although he had a leading role in freeing Europe from Nazi domination.

The accusation, one of the bitterest the President has ever directed against the Republican presidential candidate, was made in a speech prepared for reading before the National Jewish Welfare Board in Washington.

Truman himself is whistle-stopping through New England, where he said in an address prepared for a Lawrence, Mass., audience that Eisenhower "appears to be willing to undermine our safety if that will get him elected president."

The reference to Nazi practices came as the President described the McCarran immigration bill, passed by Congress over his veto. He said the bill adds up to "the philosophy of racial superiority developed by the Nazis."

Truman then went on to mention Republican senators who helped push the measure through Congress, adding that Eisenhower can escape responsibility because he is now endorsing these senators.

One of the senators Truman mentioned was Richard Nixon, Eisenhower's running mate.

Eisenhower, virtually ignoring his Democratic opponent, Governor Adlai Stevenson, continued to campaign on the Truman administration's record of spending, Korea, Communism in California, prescribed the Republican policy to ward Korea as one of "scuttle and run" and said in a speech prepared for delivery at San Diego that the "best chance for a just and peaceful world" hinges on a Democratic victory in the November election.

Eisenhower pulled no punches as he addressed a Veterans Day rally in New Jersey and New York.

"The record of the past 19 months last night there could be no perfect peace as long as the godless doctrine of Communism" remains strong, but he said Americans have a right to demand "Why not a peace not a better peace than we have?" Can't Make Stevenson Fight

The general said "America is still marked with indelible infamy" for its Communism's final and greatest victim-to-be but he added that under proper leadership the U.S. need not fear: "The strength of the enemy. . . cannot match our own at its best."

Stevenson, winding up in San Diego a crucial campaign for California's vital 32 electoral votes, flies to Texas today.

Attlee May Force Showdown For Party Control

LONDON (Reuters) — Clement Attlee and his supporters decided at a meeting last night to force a showdown with Aneurin Bevan for control of Britain's Labor party.

Bevan, fiery Welsh leader of a group of about 2 left-wing Labor members of parliament, has been at odds for more than a year with the moderate wing of the party represented by most of Labre's 296 members in the Commons.

The Attlee supporters decided to submit an ultimatum to a caucus of Labor members of the Commons demanding that Bevan disband what Attlee has called a "party within a party."

Attlee is understood to be drawing up the ultimatum resolution which will demand that:

1. The Bevan group, which has been holding meetings in privats, be disbanded immediately.

2. The Bevan supporters cease attacking Labor's policies, if the party demands it.

A bitter fight is certain at next week's caucus. A compromise will be suggested by a middle-of-the-road group now trying to keep the Labor party together. Bevan's party's leadership now has committed itself to stand or fall on the ultimatum it will place before the meeting.

Supports Seaway

Truman said at Manchester that he advocated a northeastern power pool made up of hydro-electric development of New England rivers, plus the St. Lawrence seaway. That would be similar to those set up in the Pacific northwest and the Tennessee Valley.

He said a majority of the Republicans have joined in the fight fghatgw linsthtcrsyn.ISLaswexerg against the St. Lawrence seaway and power projects "which would bring cheap power and new industry to New England."

"What I've been trying to get for this country is a northeastern power pool, made up of your river basins and the St. Lawrence seaway, this is done, then you wouldn't be at a disadvantage," he said.

Stalin Remains Absolute Boss As Young Party Leaders Added To Presidium in New Setup

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party named its new high command today and left Joseph Stalin firmly in all the top jobs.

The party's new central committee announced election of a presidium of 25 members and 11 alternates to replace the old politburo and a 10-man secretariat to supervise party administration.

Stalin was named head of both key groups. Also elected was a new chairman of the party control committee, which has charge of party discipline.

The presidium is more than twice the size of the old politburo of 11 members and one alternate. Highranking politburo men will direct the work of the central committees between the party's quadrennial congresses and will also take over the duties of the old orgburo — the organization bureau — which dealt with party organization.

The secretariat also was enlarged. It formerly had only five members.

Stalin Heads Group

Although the presidium and secretariat membership were so greatly increased, there was no doubt that Stalin remains the supreme authority in the Communist party as well as the Soviet government.

His top rank in the party was emphasized by the placing of his name out of alphabetical order at the head of the announced lilting of both the presidium and secretariat. All other names were given in their Russian alphabetical order.

In addition, Stalin is head of the party central committee and, in the Soviet government, chairman of the council of ministers — formerly premier of the Soviet Union.

A number of young party leaders were added to both the presidium and the secretariat. Most of these are under 50. Some are barely past 40.

The presidium also includes several regional party leaders, as well as some of the Soviet Union's top economic specialists.

Vishinsky Promoted

One significant point was the promotion of Andrei Vishinsky, Minister of Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky, Minister of Foreign Affairs, to the presidium, in which he was re-elected, but he never was elected secretary of the party.

Two members of the old politburo were not made full members of the presidium. Anastas Mikoyan, Soviet trade minister, and A.A. Kozgin was listed as one of the 11 alternates.

The full membership of the presidium who formerly served on the politburo are Stalin, L.P. Beria, N.S. Khrushchev, G.M. Malenkov, M.A. Suslov, V.M. Molotov, A.I. Mikoyan, N.S. Khrushchev and N.M. Shvernik, president of the Soviet Union and the only alternate member of the politburo.

From a Silvery Yesterday o Golden Tomorrow' Theme Of Women's Institute Meeting

From a silvery yesterday to a golden tomorrow was the theme for the 77th annual convention of the Women's Institutes from 10 combined districts of Hastings, Prince Edward and Northumberland, which met on Thursday morning at the Masonic Temple and continued for two days.

With Mrs. C. W. Clancy of Harthing presiding the opening exercises took place. The platform was decorated with flags, banners and baskets of autumn flowers, asters and golden rod. The chairman addressed the audience briefly stating that the secret of progress lies in looking over the past and aiming for the future. The great and worthwhile things are brought about by vision, planning and toil. Institutes have high standards of citizenship, better education and health have been achieved and in every meeting-and become better citizens and better able to promote world for peace. Many women and their homes were widened. The chairman expressed thanks to all who had contributed to the convention.

Roll Call Held

The roll call of districts was replied to by the district delegates, with the minute speeches limited to one minute each. Each district has added in citizenship during the past twenty years. For Prince Edward Mrs. E. Arthur Wannamaker of Wellington, said that women are thinking and studying problems. They were attending briefs and were ready to reaching out to newcomers, and practising in their every day life, loyalty and charity. They were stretching out a hand of friendship to new Canadians.

Mrs. E. McGlashin for North-umberland West said that institute members meant good citizenship. They had learned to know about other countries and people in other lands. They had taken given a helping hand and they had met that challenge. The whole world has drawn closer together and the community depends on an effective neighborly spirit.

Junior Youth Program

Speaking for Northumberland East, Mrs. A. Smith, of Baltimore, said that they had completed the youth programs with prizes for girls in rural competitions. The influence of this work goes on to the next generation, and makes better homemakers.

Hastings North was represented by Mrs. J. Hutchburn, Eldorado, who pointed out that great progress had been made in rural and small institutes with new roads, and students were brought by school buses. They had been denied the privilege of a High School course for many years ago. They have also had the benefits of hospital care, dental clinics and medical aid. Better highways have increased the prosperity of the north, and all these things have made people happier, healthier and better informed.

Five Hastings West, Mrs. Morley

Sine of Frankford, reported that the greatest advance in the district has been in the realization of education and information in the Women's Institutes. They were friendly and more tolerant towards any member of the world family and how full they were citizens of the world. Growth has improved and has influenced members all over the world.

Speaking for Hastings East, Mrs. D. Atkins said they had tried to encourage student citizenship and public speaking contests for years. Many scholarship services had been supported, and contributions had been made to many worthy causes. They had tried to extend friendly contacts with Dutch families. The district had advanced from six to 16 branches.

Elsewhere from Australia

Mrs. E. Irwin, Board director brought greetings from the district annual which showed many splendid projects in some districts and a keen interest in girls' work. All districts sent delegates to Guelph. Two quilts had been entered in the Saleh Tea contest. Picnics and social evenings were popular and a good means of getting acquainted. Cemeteries had been cared for, seats improved at ball fields, and one branch undertook the raising and lowering of the flag daily. Two dramas festival was conducted in Northumberland West, one has gained through social activities. Health has improved through the public health doctors. Many branches were welcoming new Canadians, and one branch had Dutch children sing their national anthem at the meeting. Mrs. Irwin found that the Institutes were under splendid leadership and to appeal to hands and urged the support of women who go to the field of public service because women's voice is needed to assist in the government of the country.

Financial Report Given

The financial report and the minutes were read by Mrs. Harold Phillips showing a balance of $145.85.

Community singing was enjoyed with Mrs. Chas. Fair at the piano and Mrs. John Rowcliffe pool as song leader.

Greetings were brought from the Indian Homemaking Clubs which are organized in four local groups and follow the same pattern as the Institute.

The report on Historical Research and Current Events which was read by Mrs. Bernard Brooks of Cherry Valley, showed that the Institute members are delving into the past with intelligence and are linking the information to the ideals of the people of today.

Some of the mottoes used were: God gave us memories that we might have roses in December; a wise woman is like a pin, her head keeps her from going too far; lighting from candle to Hydro.

Roll calls included historical landmarks or sites in the community; Grandmother's hobby; Grandmothers' cures; a record of first council meeting; requirements of the government before issuing a land deed to settlers; a law of Ontario.

Topics Used

Topics were used to describe interesting articles of pioneer-life contrasted with present conditions; pioneer and present-day transportation; the pioneer home; impression of life today; stores of pioneer days; pioneer and today (A comparison of prices today with those of seventy-five years ago in Hastings); a card of hard maple wood, Tec; eggs 8 to 8 cents a dozen (now 50c); butter 8c a dozen (now 50c).

Special entertainment featured an amusing pilgrimage to Hay Bay church; display and study of old township maps of Hastings, villages, school halls, post offices and churches. A list of mills to television sets in the community was made. Several parades of oldtime costumes and crafts were held; Wellington Institute featured a float complete with quilting party and square dancers in the Santa Claus parade.

There are 55 Federation of Agriculture publications compiled. Much interest was shown in current events with clippings being filed promptly. Not only is historical research a cultural pursuit but it is the national duty as citizens of Canada to prepare for the tasks which lie ahead.

Resolutions to be considered at the convention were presented by Mrs. A. Simmons, Halloway, Lend Legislation concerning the need of a supervised rest room in Belleville for rural women; and a request to the Prince Edward County Council and Chamber of Commerce to work with the Women's Institutes to select a symbolic crest for the old county, as it would be of great value in advertising their tourist attractions, this to include a map of the county. The provincial resolutions concerning the need for typing and testing blood for R.H. Factor, which should be compulsory to any couple before receiving a marriage license; that glorification of guns in juvenile entertainment such as comic books, movies, radio and television be curtailed; that a bulletin be prepared by the Department of Agriculture in Ontario on the preservation of wild flowers in Canada before they become extinct; that the galvanize in hot water tanks be made of better material, and if necessary an inspector be placed in the place of manufacture and that the company guarantee the tanks for a reasonable length of time; resolution; that we request the Post Office Department to supply to rural post offices permanent signs designating the name of the local post office.

Want Title Restored

This would be of great assistance in the tourist districts; that the control of the name "Dominion" from the title Dominion Bank of Canada be completely taken as it is Biblical in origin, traditional and honorable in usage and does not denote sub-servience to any other government, such title is dignified and worthy of a growing country such as ours. Citizens of the Dominion of Canada should have been given an opportunity to express their opinion on this matter before the omission was made, and finally that the title "Dominion of Canada" be restored in its entirety.

Afternoon Session

Assembly singing opened the afternoon session of the Belleville Area convention of Women's Institutes, with Mrs. G. McCubbin of Warkworth presiding. The address of welcome was given by Mrs. R. Badgley who congratulated the members for their progressive program, which had respect to the past and eyes to the future. The members should recognize that by meeting together they grow in strength for the Institute is country-wide in operation.

Mrs. George Burkitt, Frankford, replied by saying that Institute work had reached out through the years to touch most parts of the universe, and the work was a common effort for the good of all. It was more necessary than ever in our present war-torn world, and in helping others they had helped themselves.

Mrs. Ross Bush, Consecon, gave a humorous reading on a trip to Toronto, and later in the program another reading was given by Mrs. Gordon McGregor of Colborne on a Scotsman's description of an Hiawatha social.

Provincial Given Report

Mrs. R. G. Purcell, Provincial President, addressed the convention on the highlights of the Provincial work and mentioned the retail Board meeting which the following match at Carp near Ottawa and took them to many of the extension courses. They also served tea to all women. One of the means of publicity will be a booth at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto where demonstrations are to be given in home crafts, hooked rugs, braided rugs, ceramics and other crafts. The strength of the Institute lies in the fact of their uniformity they are non-political, non-sectarian and include all races.

Two scholarships have been used to put girls in Normal School. These scholarships may be used in any way which will further her education, in any way that will enable her to contribute some useful work to the community, such as nursing, poultry raising, or other occupation. Five girls received scholarships of $100 which is paid with interest from the Institute fund. Mrs. Purcell urged all members to see that girls who graduated from High School have the chance to go to MacDonald Institute and take Home Economics courses.

The Salada Tea quilt contest was a marvellous example of the skill of Institute women in making quilts. Some of the ideas had been copied from others.

Tractor Given Greece

One project which has been completed is the tractor and equipment collection for Greece. The tractor will serve 178 families. A committee has been formed to look after the equipment. When the tractor arrived there were speeches and a blessing by the priest. The pride of possession on the faces of the recipients was worth all the efforts, and the gratitude of the villagers revere the name of the Women's Institute.

A new project is to be undertaken and all Institutes are asked to co-operate with the Canadian Mental Health Association in contacting rural school children through the children. Little black bags, made by the patients in the hospital are to be distributed to share in the penny roundup. Each child will be asked to fill the bag with 52 pennies, one for each week in the year, and they will be collected at Easter holidays. Literature will be sent with information about mental health which will help people to understand this illness better and take steps to prevent it.

Important Event

The most important event of next year will be the Associated Countrywomen of the World conference in Toronto on August 15 to 23. As hostess to that organization the members will have a great responsibility. From eight hundred to a thousand delegates are expected from many countries. The opening day will be Canada Day with a pageant depicting Canadian history from the Indian occupation. A Canadian Folk's French settlers, to the present Canadian citizen who is a composite of many nationalities will be presented. This will be a thrilling day for all visitors and will be open to everyone.

The Governor-General is to be invited. There will be a four-day tour to Ottawa and other interests will have to be made for 800 women to travel by buses. Entertainment for all who are to be presented to the guests. Sleeping rooms to be sent to the branches for members to wear. The theme for this convention is "How can I as an individual and as a member of society take a more active part in the work?"

The first responsibility is to our homes, then the community, nation, and finally international. Mrs. Purcell concluded Edward Hale, "I am only one, I cannot do everything, but I can do something." Every one can do is to increase our understanding of our fellowmen through radio, television and the telephone makes a new environment for our children. We are raising a good brand of children, but they think differently than we do, and we must learn to understand how they think. Community clubs, farm forums and women's institutes are doing a great work in making us acquainted with our neighbors. We should get to know new Canadians and learn to respect their opinions. We need to reach out to the community, and in doing that we broaden our own minds.

Prize Interesting Meeting Aim

"We should plan, interesting meetings" the speaker concluded" and invite new members of the community, especially new Canadians. We need to learn about the United Nations, learn about the Food and Agriculture organization. Sixty percent of the people today in the world are hungry. The world health organization, and UNESCO should be studied." The speaker ended with the verse "There is a destiny that makes us brothers, None goes his way alone, All that we send into the lives of others, Comes back into our own."

Mrs. Holmes of Campbellford, president of the women's division of fall fairs, spoke on the judging of quilts in the Institute competition, explaining the point system, and describing many of the original designs, pointing out that many fine designs failed to get prizes because of faults in the quilting.

Miss Donna McColl of Wooler, a winner of the Northumberland sound festival sang two solos, "Villa" and "Into the Mist."

Mrs. S. M. Nicholson gave the report on Agriculture and Canadian Industries which stated that the greatest privilege of a woman in agriculture is to be the centre of that wonderful unit, the farm home. One report said that agriculture was our most important industry employing one-fourth of our population throughout the year. Reference was made to the manufacture of cheese and it was suggested that Canadians should use home products. Also because food is a mighty weapon for peace, every effort should be made to bring about its satisfactory distribution. It was suggested that cheese be served more often and given as Christmas gifts.

Papers were given on the storage minerals and vegetables where a new chemical is sprayed on tubers to prevent sprouting. When tubers are dug they refuse to sprout and retain remarkable freshness. Many interesting facts were given on seeds and honey and help make a wonderful report that a greater amount of seed can be obtained from a given area of field sown with legumes to ensure better pollination. Reading and study are convictions, our standards of life, our morals, our ideals, our democracy we should be old-fashioned, but is our method up to date, and in up to date, and in our ideals, our plans and dreams for the future lies the secret of "building years and generations ahead."

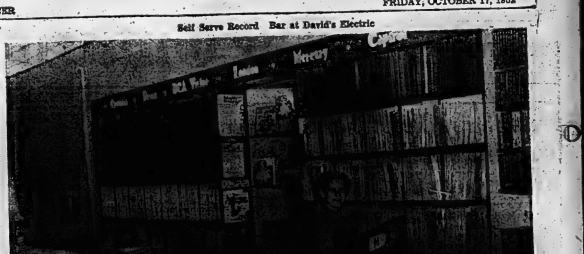
Never Knock Rural Life

One report said, Let us have pride in our rural life and never knock it to the world. Never knock our rural life for the city opportunities but proudly present the advantages of rural life in Ontario. Ontario is famous for its products, the origin and story of Scotch tape and a description of two industries in Kingston.

Motions included that the heart of a bulb is the promise of spring; the farmer is God's partner in the fields; the produce of must have; today is the harvest of yesterday's toil; the seed of tomorrow.

Community activities and public relations report was given by Mrs. R. E. Propp of Harwood and showed splendid work being made possible by initiative, co-operation and a will to serve. Conventions were given on how to hook rugs from old wool and how to make a rug. Other activities included aid to fire victims, a record collection for the school, flags purchased for town parks, and Remembrance Day and a local church in memory of a departed member. Many donations were given to worthy causes.

Bus Trips Taken



Bus trips were taken to Peterborough where members visited manufacturing plants, to the Ice Capades, to Toronto and to Ottawa. There is a growing pageant of the joy of doing good for others. All success in life is based on love, live, live, learn to build security and the abundant life, from the cradle to the grave. Kindness can shake it.

Mrs. Clifford Clancy gave the report on Citizenship and Education for the area. Roll calls included naming a Canadian author and his initial; a way to help new citizens; what I like to live in Canada; what I have gained through the Institute; and my favorite song. A report on the Associated Nations and what it means to me, and others on how could we make our country people and geography of Newfoundland more interesting were described as qualities of a citizen such as loyalty, obedience to law of industry, charity and a sincere faith. Good citizens are bad subjects of dictators.

Suggestions were included in one report that citizens be allotted to religious training in schools; that by anyone who has failed to present to high school students the havoc liquor will bring if they allow it to get a hold on them; that good supplementary books be issued at cost as text books are, so that the price would not prohibit parents from buying such literature before their children, and thus counteract the addiction to cheap, useless literature. Mighty weapons are at our disposal, prayer and Christian teaching could select carefully those they put in power, send Christian men and women and vision are placed in Parliament.

ROUGH ON BEARS

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Alta. (CP)—Dr. Morris West shot a big brown bear he found in his trap here, but it wasn't the first. Since July, 1951, he has trapped and shot seven bears, including two grizzlies.

Demonstrations, Reports Given At Evening Convention Session

At the evening session of the Belleville Area convention on Thursday, Mrs. McCubbin called the meeting to order. Chairman Mrs. K. Paul, who congratulated the officers on their splendid reports, and the platform were displayed the two quilts which were entered in the Salada contest, each demonstrating the milk bar, showing the waitresses, the skirt and its companion blouses and sweaters.

The girls' clubs took over the first part of the meeting with reports given by Miss Mary Condlin in the absence of the Home economist Miss Eileen Ness. The reports showed that six members had achieved Provincial honors, 18 girls had achieved county honors, and many awards were won at various fairs. Some units had studied working in wool during the year, which included the study of fibre and manufacture; others had learned attractive ways to add milk into the diet; studies had been made in fashion and design in garments; meat cookery; good table service; each had learned the value of responsibility. It was a year of much activity with achievement of excellence and a crafts; making money by sponsoring dances; entertaining clubs; trips to various places; a week-end at Roblin Mills, and entertaining junior farmer clubs.

Demonstration Given

New life for an old skirt was demonstrated by three girls who showed how to brush the skirt with liquid ammonia and water to remove grease, to the ice cubes to remove stains, mend moth holes, press and hang. The proper way to hang the skirt in a clothes closet with three inches between each hanger.

The milk bar poster was explained and the benefits of milk as a body building beverage were discussed. Milk should be obtained by using buttermilk, chocolate milk, and ice cream.

The girls showed a simple given of planting and caring for shrubs and evergreens and the cultivation that must be done for best growth.

Three girls discussed the poster working with wool, and discussed the benefits of the various processories.

The girls of the Plainfield Club demonstrated how to use milk in the diet in relief by preparing egg nogs, cream soup and junket.

Fashion Show Planned

A fashion show was planned by the club girls to demonstrate the work-in-progress with Lena McColl as commentator. Style, color, types and economy were all considered. Mrs. Phillips, district member wardrobe which was modelled by the girls, four blouses and four bruzettes.

Shirley Mosier, who was commentator for the Prince Edward and Hastings girls who demonstrated the milk bar for every occasion.

A skit on "Hats off to the Past", was presented by several members of the area. This was intended to show the changes that have occurred in the past twenty-five years and was based on the first area convention held at the city hall in Belleville, in 1926. Mrs. Ray Bush was the commentator, and the play was done in costume with a mixture of humor, reminiscence, and nostalgia. Mrs. R. Badgley, who was one of that first convention described the steps leading up to that event. Mrs. Roy Badgley read lists of the past officers.

Holmes minute of the provincial board and Miss Ethel Chapman compared the early days of the Institute with the present remarking that at each stage the problems of that particular time were met and the solutions sought.

Two Vocalists Heard

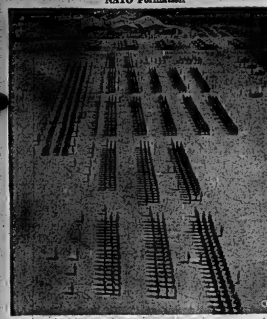
Two vocalists were heard in song, Miss Margaret Hillis who sang "Lonesome and Blue" and "In Through", and Miss Joan Churchill of Foxboro, who sang "When Love is Kind" and "Some day my Prince Will Come", accompanied at the piano by Miss Marilyn Spencer, of Frankford.

On Friday morning, the session was opened with assembly singing. Miss Audra Brickman, of Carrying Place, Reading. A report on Home Economics and Health was presented by Mrs. Arthur Menelley of Warkworth.

Roll calls were used to describe: what I serve unexpected guests; hint on refreshing a room; an accident I have had and how it could have been avoided; new methods in medicine; what makes a house a home. Mottoes used were—Scatter gladness, joy and mirth all along the ways of earth; preserve your health rather than your wealth; learn to live and live to learn those serves and how I can control them.

Papers Given

Papers and talks were given on communicable diseases; health units; the Victorian Order of Nurses; trying to help the mentally deficient overcome their problems; a summary of the talk on mental health given by Dr. Parkes at the area convention; ten strong and important facts on the raising of healthy children.



Papers on Home Economics included: good food for the expectant mother; foods and a balanced diet; home grown foods for health; pasteurizing milk bow to

Miss M. Green Speaks to H-S. Assoc. On 'Opportunity Class'

MARMORA — The October meeting of Marmora House and School Association took place in Marmora Public School on Wednesday evening. Mrs. D. P. Marett, vice president, was in the chair and there was a good attendance.

A welcome was extended to parents.

The treasurer's report, presented by Mrs. M. Short, showed finances to be in good standing. In the absence of Principal K. C. Prentice, the attendances of parents and grandparents was taken by J. Trombley of the school staff with honors going to Miss M. Tutt's room.

Guest Speaker

Mrs. E. Manchester gave a sketch of the proposed Christmas concert for the school to be held shortly before the Christmas vacation in the town hall. She next introduced the guest speaker, Miss Margaret Green, visiting teacher of Peterborough city schools.

In an informal yet thought provoking address, Miss Green touched upon the "Opportunity Class" that is conducted by her for those whose education has been retarded through various causes. She pointed out the great value to the child's schooling, when parents consent to be familiarized with the particular problem their child presents, and co-operates with the teacher in the home to create an atmosphere for the child in which it can become more subject to the teaching it should receive.

She also explained group tests as given to grades 4, 5 and 6 and showed the necessity of acceleration of top pupils, so that when they finish their lessons ahead of their classmates, they do not idle away the time at their disposal.

Miss Green closed her address by stressing the importance of good training of the child in preschool years.

A humorous reading "The Tale of Two Turkeys" to which the audience had to give various sound effects was given by Mrs. James Marsh of the school staff.

The National Anthem brought the program to a close. A social hour followed with parents of the pupils of grade 2 serving refreshments.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

MINOR BASEBALL PARTY

Tonight the minor division of the Belleville Baseball Association winds up its official season with a grand party for the youngsters at the YMCA. Chairman Frank Grandaise, Alderman Art Keegan, and the rest of the hard-working committee have done a splendid job and it is hoped somebody gives them the credit due them.

Tonight they have arranged a get-together for their young diamond protegee who completed a highly successful season despite a few difficulties that arose enroute. Evidence of the hard work, effort and time put in by these men, as well as the different managers and coacher, not to mention those "unfortunates" the umpires, is seen in the vastly improved calibre of the game played this year over that of the past few years.

Young stars are in the making. We can mention a half-dozen who are definitely of "star" calibre but will refrain from mentioning their names for obvious reasons. The battery work of the teams in all classifications was greatly improved. Many pitchers and catchers showed a great improvement and don't be surprised to see these present day luminaries of the young fry become the talented stars of the intermediate and senior ranks of the future.

True, the minor division of the BBA did not produce a provincial champion this year. That was to be expected. One must crawl before walking, and the advances made in the "crawling" year were more than encouraging. There were thrilling series played in the playoffs in all categories, especially in the peewee division between Paul Hargie' "Mets" and the Canadian Legion "Whizz Kids". The Glads took over the gallant little Motel squad and went on to give an outstanding performance in the OBA playdowns before being forced to retire from competition.

All-in-all the season was an unqualified success, one that augurs well for the future. It had its disappointments and barriers to hurdle but these were negotiated successfully and not a few lessons were learned by those in charge. They will begin next year's activities much the wiser.

But all these things could not have happened without the unselfish service and sacrifice of those in charge of organization. Chairman Frank Grandaise and his assistants worked with the boys, and as not a few remarked, got real kicks "seeing in the spears". But they tightened their belts, "took a fresh hail" and came through with flying colors. He who smiled has the last laugh. "Willing hands do all the work", knew whereof he spoke or wrote.

But the worries and troubles of the 1952 season are now over and the minor division's organization, managers and coachers and others who assisted in any way are well repaid by the fact they achieved something and not only brought a season's recreation to hundreds of boys but assisted in no small way in developing players, some of wigen, we firmly believe, will shine in the spotlight of stardom in the not too distant future.

Tonight the kids will attend their "going out" party at the YMCA. The fun starts at seven o'clock and all baseball youngsters are invited. There will be movie pictures, games, "eats", soft drinks, candy and almost everything the young athlete desires.

The column doffs its hat to a group of men, who like their colleagues in minor softball, hockey and soccer are doing a grand job in providing healthful, wholesome recreation for the younger boys of the city.

A FINE GESTURE!

The Ontario Minor Hockey Association's plan to provide insurance coverage for Ontario minor hockey players is now a reality. It was announced by Secretary R. L. Chrisdale today. This plan, open to all minor hockey players in the province, will provide protection against injury expenses to the extent of $250 for medical or graduate nurses' care, or hospitalization; to $25 for dental care and will cover all injuries incurred in OMHA supervised games, practices, and during transportation to or from OMHA games or practices within under the supervision of an OMHA official. (massage, coach).

One of the surprising things about this new advance, is the low cost. One dollar per player provides membership in the insurance plan, premiums will be paid to the association, and claims entered through the association.

Provision of such protection for all players on member clubs, or teams in affiliated city or town leagues, is considered one of the most progressive steps ever taken by a province-wide sports organization. It is expected that this new plan will receive wide endorsation from parents, school authorities and club management. It certainly fills a long-felt need.

The OMHA Annual Convention will be held at the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, on Saturday, November 22nd, with the executive meeting the night before, as usual.

NO PHONEY ABOUT THIS!

Somebody "shoulda told the guy". Wladek Kowalski, dubbed the "Everlasting Pole" by sportswriters, proved the other night that he's no pantywaist. He likes his meat raw, and is not averse to helping himself when he's ring-hungry. Fortunate Wednesday night in Montreal in a bout with "friend" Yukon Eric, he broke the Alaskan Thunderbelt's jaw and literally tore off an ear. That's right. "Alas, poor Eric" will henceforth be like a bird with one wing. Unfortunately there's no spare parts for the human chassis, and Maria Frank Tunney says Eric's ear cannot be sewn back on. Kowalski tore off the ear when he handed Eric a "knee drop" in the second fall of the main bout.

Deflected Shot Gives Flyers Tie

EDMONTON (CP)—A third-period goal gave Edmonton Flyers a 3-3 tie with Seattle Bombers in a start Western Hockey League game last night before some 3,000 fans.

A high shot from the blue line by defenceman Bill Folk was deflected into the Seattle net off Ching Johnson's stick to hand the count after Bombers had led 3-2 in the second.

Jim Uniak and Gerry Ehman got the other Edmonton goals. Seattle scoring was done by George Parker, Gerry Foley and Rudy Filion.

Birds First Loss in 5 Games; Bruins Bounce Winless Leafs As Habs Hassle Rangers 3-1

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Chicago bubble has burst.

The league-leading Hawks, who have been playing out of character since they got a new coach, new owner and a bunch of new players this National Hockey League season, were mercenized 7 0 2 by 1 7 dumped 7-0 by the Red Wings at Detroit last night. It was the Hawks' first loss in five games and, incidentally, the worst defeat for any N.H.L. club to date.

But it still left them atop the loop with seven points, one ahead of the second-place Wings. The shutout was a rough return to his old home town for Sid Abel, who left Detroit to coach the Hawks, last year's Lacrosse finishers.

In other games, Boston Bruins trounced the winless Toronto Maple Leafs 3-1 in a penalty-studded contest and Montreal Canadiens whacked out a 3-1 victory over the league cellar dwellers, New York Rangers.

Abel watched his former team mates thud into the attack that last year gave Detroit the N.H.L. championship. Sparked by Ted Lindsay, who fired two goals, the Wings started to click in the middle period. Chicago's new goalie, Al Rollins, held them out almost single-handedly in the initial frame making 28 saves.

Speed Pays Off

Detroit speed then began to blast through the ineffective Chicago defence, rattling Bumb, singleton from the sticks of Gordie Howe, Marcel Pronovost, Metro Prystai, Glen Skov and Johnny Wilson.

Coun Smyth's revamped Leafs who have managed only a tie in three games, lost out in a high-sticking contest with the Bruins in which 16 penalties were called. Boston goals, which came while Leafs were short-handed, were by Real Chevrefils and Dave Creighton.

Two match penalties were handed out—to Leo Lahiza and Ted Sloan in the first period when they became involved in a fist-and-sticks melee. Sloan took a five-stitch cut on the top of the head and Lahiza a huge bump on his.

Lahiza's stand-in, Pentti Lund, aided in Boston's first goal, passing to Jerry Toppazzini who re-layed to Chevrefils at the Toronto goal mouth. Chevrefils counted on his second try at 37 seconds of the second period.

Rangers Lose Reiso

Ted Kennedy tied it a little later and in the finale, Creighton dribbled the puck through Harry Watson's skates before batelng it into the nets.

Canadiens' victory came on two goals by Elmer Lach and a successful penalty shot by Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion. A crowd of 13,862 saw the penalty score, first of the season. Canadiens were a man short at the time.

Lach fired in his two goals in less than a minute of the third period while Ed Kullman of New York was in the penalty box. Tom Olmstead assisted on the first and the second was a solo effort. The Rangers' lone goal was scored by Herb Dickenson.

Rangers' last defenseman Leo Reise, carried from the ice in the third period after pilling against a goalpost. He was reported to have suffered a possible injury about the neck and left shoulder.

Remember When

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Greyhound, the great trotting horse, retired from racing at Indianapolis 12 years ago today. The nine-year-old gelding, undefeated in competition since starting as a two-year-old, still holds the world record for one mile of 1:55¼, set at Lexington, Ky., in 1938.

English Nags Ready For Matched Race

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — "I hope the old boy is in a good mood," says trainer William Payne in weighing the probable showing of Zucchero in tomorrow's $50,000 International horse race.

The trainer of the English thoroughbred, rated by most handicappers the best of four foreign horses in the race, reveals that while Zucchero means sugar in Italian the horse is anything but sweet.

"He's something of a movie actor," Payne says. "If he gets in a little bit of bad racing luck he says to himself 'guess this isn't my day' and he won't run."

Because of the horse's mischievous temperament, Payne has been granted an unusual request. He'll be allowed to walk Zucchero to the post, although under Maryland racing rules no one except the starter and his assistants shall participate in starting a race.

Has Bad Reputation

Zucchero had a reputation as a bad actor in England. Payne said he was bought by George Rolls, London bookmaker, after English racing authorities had considered ruling him out of racing for misbehavior.

But Zucchero can run when he makes up his mind, Trainer Payne insists he's the best four-year-old in England. Zucchero won two races this year and four last year.

His jockey will be Charlie Smirke. The English jockey is unusually heavy for a rider, weighing 121 pounds.

The International will bring together two horses English fans had hoped to see in a showdown. The other, Wilwyn won 10 straight races after losing its first 1952 start, but never has hooked up with Zucchero.

The three-year-old Wilwyn is owned by Desert Boucher, an English farmer. He is being trained by El-ryal-old John Waugh.

Waugh doesn't think the foreign horses, all of which are used to English racing, will be bothered by the strange conditions of an American track.

Argos-Riders Grid Battle Is Weekend Football Tidbit; Cats Meet Larks in Hamilton

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The kids who have been warming Western Canada conference benches eagerly seeking the "hey, you" signal from their coaches probably will get plenty of action this weekend in end-of-schedule don't-matter games. The situation is vastly different in the east.

The Big Four, with four games remaining in its 12-game schedule, is a wide-open battle with three clubs jockeying for the two playoff berths. The inside track belongs to Hamilton Tiger-Cats with a three-point lead over second-place Toronto Argonauts.

The choice game of the week-end is billed between the Riders and the in-and-out Toronto Argonauts who dropped from a first-place tie to third position following their home - and - home Thanksgiving week-end double loss to Tiger-Cats.

The Argonauts, who have blown big half-time and three-quarter leads in their last two appearances, regarding that football is a 60-minute game, play at Ottawa's Lansdowne Park. They are only one point behind Riders and if Coach Frank Clair can't stir up Doubles Biffin "up" for this one, Riders may expect a grim fight.

Easy For Hamilton

Tiger-Cats have a comparatively soft touch at Hamilton against the winless Montreal Alouettes and a victory here would likely send them a berth in the post-season playoffs.

Everything is cut and dried in the West. Winnipeg Blue Bombers, who have clinched first place and a bye into the best-of-three finals, meet the Stampeders at Calgary and Edmonton Eskimos finish the regular season at Regina against the last-place Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Eskimos and Stampeders open next home-and-home total-points semi-finals at Calgary on Saturday and it's a cinch both clubs will rest their regulars over the week-end in preparation for the big games. Blue Bombers are idle after Saturday until the finals start Nov. 1 and they'll depend on youngsters to carry the load Saturday.

McGill Needs Win

The still-young Senior Intercollegiate season continues on two fronts—Queen's Golden Gaels at Toronto Varsity and McGill Redmen at Western. The Redmen and Alouettes with Windsor Royals of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, are the only senior clubs in the country without an entry in the win column.

Saturday-Sunday games are scheduled in the O.R.F.U. The third-place Brantford Redskins meet the league-leading Imperials at Sarnia Saturday and Royals will do after their first league win since 1950 at Toronto Rabbey Beach Sunday.

Bomber Halfback Will Miss Finals

WINNIPEG (CP)—Gerry James, 21-year-old halfback with Winnipeg Blue Bombers, probably will miss the western Interprovincial football finals, which start Nov. 1.

James said yesterday he will leave Winnipeg Oct. 20 to join Toronto Marlboro junior hockey team. Last winter, he played most of the season with Marlboro junior B team, but moved up to A company near the end of the schedule.

The brilliant youngster, who made the big jump from high school football to senior ranks this season, said there is a possibility he will get a week off to trail the football if Bombers win a berth in the Grey Cup final at Toronto Nov. 29.

James scored his first points in W.I.F.U. competition last Monday when he scored two touchdowns against Saskatchewan Roughriders. Prior to that game, he had been used mostly on kick returns.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It has been to our ears from several sources lately that Jack Kramer, the tennis player-promoter from California, has leased Madison Square Garden for a night in February to open a professional tour against Frank Sedgman of Australia, now the world's greatest amateur player, so-called.

Then the word of Ned Irish, executive vice president in charge of running the famous showplace, the report simply is not true.

No Letters Sent

"Sure, there has been an exchange of letters between us," Irish conceded, "but that's all it has amounted to. Jack has asked me what dates are open in February and I told him. It's gone no further than that, and I'm not sure that it will."

He said a similar situation occurred last year, when H. was hoped Sedgman would turn pro after Davis Cup matches.

But, we interposed respectfully, would it not be possible for Kramer to get a date, gamble and go ahead and lease the Garden for a night in February? If Sedgman should fall to show up again, the pro champ could always play somebody else.

"No," Irish said, coldly. "It would be unfair to Sedgman. We wouldn't want Kramer playing this other fellow from out on the coast —what's his name, Pancho Gonzales? We wouldn't want that."

From which it may be judged that the Garden is pretty particular about its tenants. Kramer will have to put it down in black and white that Sedgman is in the bag before his money is any good with Irish.

Sedgman Is Tops

Last time we saw Jack he said he still was trying, but that the Aussie ace had not told him yes or no. Since then he has had ample opportunity to give Sedgman additional sales talk on the west coast and it is possible that it took. In fact, a sports writer recently in our midst from out there said he was morally certain Sedgman had given his promise yes. All we say is that Kramer hasn't hired himself a hall, yet.

If any doubt remained of Sedgman's status after his victories at Wimbledon and Forest Hills the past summer, he is named the world's No. 1 amateur for 1952 in the annual ranking prepared for the "Tennis Record" magazine by Edward C. Potter.

Minor Soccer Venue Changed

The peewee and tankers soccer games between Albion and Villa and Arsenal and North End originally scheduled for Prince Charles School grounds tomorrow morning will be played at the Fair Grounds instead, league president Les Digby announced today. The peewee game will start at 10.30 with the bantams playing an hour earlier.

Physician-Athlete Claims Boxing Needs Proper Medical Supervision

CHICAGO (AP)— A physician, formerly an athletic official, said today that boxing needs official medical supervision "to remove the stigma of legalized murder."

He said that many boxing deaths are not accidental, as listed, but due to failure of equipment or of regulations to protect the boxer sufficiently.

Dr. Frank Ferliano, former chairman of the medical advisory board to the New York State Athletic Commission, urged a national or international medical code for the sport.

Dr. Ferliano outlined his views in an article in the current issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

He pointed out that physicians attending boxers, at New York bouts are paid now by the promoters.

This "placing of the physician on the payrol" of the promoters "is not across owners," Dr. Ferliano said, "is the weakest part in the whole boxing laws."

It has resulted, he said, in lack of general knowledge about ring injuries. "Our reason for this is that physicians have little desire to publish their observations because of their relationship with their employers."

NIAGARA FALLS (CP) — St. Catharines TeePees of the Ontario Hockey Association junior A league came from behind with a third period rally last night to win an exhibition game from Niagara Falls Kerrios, senior B team, 10-7.

MONTREAL (CP)—New York Rangers announced last night that centre Edgar Laprade will not join the club for business and personal reasons. He has a business in Fort Arthur.

Enos Slaughter 'Comeback' Hero Of 1952 Season

NEW YORK (AP) — Enos Country Slaughter, veteran outfield star of St. Louis Cardinals, today was selected as the player who made the greatest comeback of the 1952 baseball season.

Slaughter won The Associated Press comeback-of-the-year award handily, receiving 26 of the 61 votes cast by members of the Baseball Writer's Association of America.

Thirteen other candidates were nominated but none proved a serious threat. Lobe Easter of Cleveland was second with 11 votes.

Slaughter was considered all washed up last April, after hitting .301 in 1951. But he astounded critics in 1952 by not only participating in 140 contests but hitting at a .300 clip.

Barons Manager Changes Tactics

CLEVELAND (AP) —Coach Bun Cook of Cleveland Barons, known throughout the American Hockey League for his policy of fatherly friendship toward his players, is going to change his tactics

"I can't help thinking we could have saved a lot of games last year if I had cracked down on some of the boys," the former hockey great said yesterday.

He said he sometimes let a player go two or three games before calling him for doing something wrong, but "there will be no more of that. I expect to crack down immediately."

In 15 years of A.H.L. coaching, Cook has had five title winners, gone to the finals three times and won nine division championships.

Cook has picked Jackie Gordon, centre of the first line, to be captain of the Barons this season. Gordon succeeds Fred Thurier, who resigned from the team.

Sox, Browns Swap Players

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago White Sox today traded infielder Willie Miranda and outfielder Hank Edwards to St. Louis Browns for pitcher Tommy Byrne and infielder Joe Demaestri.

The Sox tabbed Byrne, a 7-16 performer for the Browns last season, as the "bargain" of the straight swap.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

The Kibitzer

In time you learn to make out a double for a takeout. After a partner jumps down your throat a few times you make an attempt to understand when a double forces you to take out.

A double for takeout orders partner to bid something if there is no intervening bid by an opponent. When no such bid butts in, the partner shows his four card unbid major first, if he has it.

When is a double for takeout? If partner has not yet bid and the opponent bid is not more than three in a suit. It continues to be for takeout no matter how many times the player doubles.

South held the hand shown here:

♥9 5 7 3
♦K 6 4
♣7 7 5 4

The bids went like this:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 C	Dbl	1 S
Pass	Pass	Dbl	2 C
Pass	Pass	Dbl	2 S
Pass	Dbl	Pass	Pass
3 H

All four doubles by north were for takeout. Partner had not yet bid. The opponent bid was not yet more than three in a suit. But the three intervening bids by east relieved south of bidding.

After four doubles, east passed. With no intervening bid, south is now obligated to bid something. Having at least four cards in the unbid major suit of hearts, he says so with his bid.

The first time a player doubles for takeout he shows as good as an opening one bid; five tricks. Each subsequent takeout double by the same player shows some additional value in his hand.

Consequently, north was prepared for almost any bid south made. He promised tricks enough. No trick to it.

Reds, Bisons Tie in Opener

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For one day at least Providence Reds and Buffalo Bisons can boast of leading the other five clubs in the American Hockey League.

The Reds and Bisons battled to a 1-1 overtime deadlock in the season's opener in Providence last night. Barry Sullivan, converting Ray Powell's rebound, put the home six ahead at the seven-minute mark of the third period. But 10 minutes later, Buffalo's Vern Kaiser, on passes from Gordie Fashoh and Lorne "Doc" Davis, put the equalizer past the Reds' goalie, Harvey Bennett.

Cleveland Barons and Pittsburgh Hornets open their season tonight at Pittsburgh.

Groom Dead Horses Missing In Track Blaze

CHESTER, W.Va. (AP) — A negro groom trying to lead horses to safety from flame-filled barns died and at least five horses are missing as the result of a blaze which swept through a section of the Waterford race track stables.

The flames broke out during the running of the seventh race yesterday. Nearly 4,000 spectators were asked to stay in their seats a half-mile away at grooms and other track employees rushed to release frightened horses.

Firemen found the body of William Toppacott, 45, near one of the eight leveled stables.

Jockey Tim O'Harrington, 25, suffered rib injuries when he was knocked down by a fleeing horse, and George McIntosh, 30, one of the firemen, was burned about the eyes.

Carlyle Johnson, a track official, said 732 horses were quartered in the 17 barns. The terrified animals dashed about wildly after being freed.

There were 359 horses stabled in the barns which were destroyed. Many of the horses were owned by out-of-province and some are still being rounded up.

Johnson said an accurate estimate of the loss could not be made but said "it will be well over $100,000."

Mohawks Sign Negro Player

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Mohawks of the International Hockey League yesterday signed defenceman Ray Leacock who will be one of the few Negroes ever to appear in organized hockey in the United States.

Leacock was one of eight players signed yesterday as the Mohawks brought their roster to the full strength of 17 players.

The 21-year-old Leacock was a 1951 Montreal Golden Gloves heavyweight boxing champion. He weighs 182 pounds.

Cincinnati will be appearing in the International League this year for the first time. It dropped out of the American League after three seasons.

Leacock formerly played with Montreal Royals of the Quebec Junior Hockey League.

PEMBROKE (CP) — Pembroke Lumber Kings of the Eastern Canada Hockey League took a 4-1 decision last night from Owen Sound Mercurys, Allan Cup winners two seasons ago, in an exhibition game.

Harry Meldrum Moore

That morning after his first real meal, Sandy had him up and around. He limped a bit, for his legs were stiff and sore—he had injured them by the many falls he had had in the bush, no doubt. But no matter what he ate, he still complained of being hungry. But Sandy was a good cause. She was careful not to feed him anything that would retard his recovery, that would put him back to bed again, that would in any way prolong his stay, now that she knew what he was. For her father had warned her not to let his appearance of good breeding and good manners blind her to the fact that according to the daily newspapers it was these young men of apparent good families, good breeding, who were giving police officials everywhere their greatest concern. Apparently these youngsters were too daring, too reckless in the pursuit of doubtful pleasures. Their cars were killing or maiming more pedestrians than any other motorists of any other age.

With all this on her mind, Sandy was on her guard, but she never showed any sign of fear. After Paul used her father's razor, had run a comb through his wavy brown hair, he was not hard to look at. And he was most fastidious about himself, particularly about his hands, his finger nails. Wearing a pair of her father's discarded pants, pants which had been made to fit him, and with his own shirt which had been washed, mended and ironed, he was told to keep on his feet as much as possible. So he moved about the house from door to door, window to window, as he did, he was firing questions about this modern building, the sanitary, the fireplace, the oil paintings on the wall—paintings of wild life in the sanctuary that had been done by Sandy's mother, the village of Lac Petit, the summer cottages and their owners across the lake, the weather to be expected in summer, fall and winter, the kind of fish that could be taken from the lake—there was nothing that he missed. He talked like a man who was about to buy something but before he did, he wanted to know everything about the object of his purchase to the last detail before he came to a decision. But he wasn't always asking questions. He was appreciative, grateful to the McKees for what they had done for him. "God knows we're all right," he would say, "but I can ever repay you." He appeared to be sincere about it, too. His voice choked, and he wiped his eyes. But to those listening to him, it might be an act, an effort to cover up.

When Sandy had handed his money to him he at once expressed a desire to spend it—he wanted light summer khaki clothes like Colly wore. So Colly decided to trap him.

"But you'll have to come to the village with me to get your clothes," Colly said. The answer he got did not surprise him.

"Couldn't I just give you the money and the size I want?"

"That would hardly do," Colly said knowingly, "Do you better come along, and then you'll get just what you want, and there'll be no doubt about it."

That did it. Paul didn't say he wouldn't go to the village. As a matter of fact, he didn't say anything, and then, and Colly was satisfied. In a few days Paul would be provided with an assortment clothes for free, so why invest good money in them at this stage of the game.

Having seen everything there was to see inside the house and out, having had every question he asked answered to his satisfaction, Paul Gates was a more contented young man. A young man who liked to sit at the front window near the radio, to watch the Americans at work or at play on the shore across the lake. Fortunately for Sandy McKee, no one had come to her home since Paul Gates was carried in from the sanctuary, and so she didn't have to explain why she was in the house or who was the young man who was staying there, what he was doing or where he had come from. But that's the way it was at the sanctuary. For days there would be no visitors, then they would come in numbers, and more often than not they were women and girls who had their eyes on the nice flowers in Sandy's garden; the choice early vegetables in her father's garden. And they never went away empty-handed, not before they had been invited in to have a cup of tea and a piece of cake.

With Paul Gate's rapid recovery the uppermost thought in her mind, and aware that entertainment played an important part now in making him well again, Sandy often came into the living room to play the piano to sing for him in a rich soprano voice. She never had to fear that someone would drop in unexpectedly and catch her with her patient, since her father was always on the watch outside.

That afternoon Sandy was running through a number of songs on her piano, when she thought of some of her mother's old favorites. There was one that had nostalgic memories for her, and started to sing. She had sung the first verse when Paul came over and stood beside her.

"My!" he said, "That's a beautiful song. Never heard it before. "What's it called?"

"'My All Falls'," Sandy said, turning to him, "it's an old Scottish song, a favorite of mother's. She came from Scotland, you know."

"Please sing it again, nurse," Paul pleaded, "maybe I can help you."

She sang the song a second time and then,

"All right, Nurse McKee," he smiled, "Let's go! I'll sing the tenor."

And as they sang their voices blended into one; it sounded as though they had been singing together for a long time. Colly McKee sighed in from his kitchen, where he had been getting a drink, up the hall and with hat in hand stood and listened to them. As they sang, he plucked a red handkerchief from his hip pocket and wiped his eyes, then slipped out again. What a pity, he was thinking, that such a good voice as his own connected wasn't something that could be passed over to someone else to use while he was serving a term in jail.

Meanwhile, the singing ended. Sandy turned on her stool and

"Do you always stand to attention when the American National Anthem is played or sung?" he asked curiously.

"Why—why—" Paul stammered, face reddening. "Don't you?"

"No, I don't," Colly said truthfully, "why should I?" Then he grinned. "But, then I suppose there's no telling what you guys from Ottawa are apt to do."

It was Paul Gate's turn to grin. "Oh I guess that's our modern education or—something."

"Yes," Colly agreed, "your modern education—or something, is right!"

"COOL CONTROL"

TABLE TENNIS

1 The Forehand Grip: Control of every shot is vital, and comes only from the properly-held bat. Grip the bat firmly and naturally. The handle should be held by the whole hand. Handle is held between thumb and forefinger, thumb on one side, forefinger on other.

2 Backs are but the simply to hand with the Penhold Grip. Handle with relaxed, controlled grip. Hold in this manner the bat becomes an extension of the arm and hand.

3 The Backhand Grip: For a backhand shot the bat is turned slightly to the hand when changing from the forehand position. The thumb steadies the backhand shots the first finger steadies the forehand shot.

Yes, it's control that counts, in table tennis as in every sport and control which brings the extraordinary quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things exactly, to time every move and movement. Set the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) — A $150,000 fire early today destroyed three business buildings on downtown Queen street, this Northern Ontario steel city's main thoroughfare.

Firemen said the blaze apparently broke out in what is known as the old express building, a structure put up in 1901 to house a weekly newspaper. It spread to two adjoining buildings, also more than 50 years old.

The firefighters saved six other buildings in the block.

Fire department officials launched an investigation of the cause.

Coastal Steamer Freed After Nosing on Beach

VANCOUVER, (CP)—The 5,700-ton coastal steamship Princess George, nosed onto the beach at upper Active Pass early today during dense fog.

However, four hours after the grounding the R.C.A.F. reported the Canadian National Steamships vessel was "floating free in the channel" and waiting for tugboats dispatched from Vancouver.

The Prince George, which carried a crew of 130 and an undetermined number of passengers, hit the beach at 0:30 a.m., E.S.T., approximately 130 miles north of Vancouver.

Capt. T. A. MacMillan of Canadian National Steamships told The Canadian Press he had been in touch with the Prince George by radio-telephone and was assured there was no danger to the passengers or crew.

Capt. C. R. Caldwell of Vancouver, informed Mr. MacMillan that the vessel was intact and the passengers were remaining aboard.

Canadian Secretary Expected to Take Stand in Grammer Murder Trial

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 28-year-old Canadian secretary, for whose love the state contends George Edward Grammer cause his wife's death, was expected to face him from the witness stand today.

She is Isabelle Mulkerrin, an employee at United Nations headquarters in New York where for two months last November. Her family lives in Hamilton, Ont.

Prosecutors say that Grammer beat his wife to death the night of Aug. 18 so that he could marry Miss Mulkerrin.

Defense attorney Anselm Sodaro told the court Tuesday Miss Mulkerrin would testify that she and Grammer lived as man and wife here for 10 days last July and that she had gone to Canada to get parental permission to marry him despite religious differences.

In a signed statement, admitted as evidence yesterday, Grammer said he struck his wife with a hammer, Dorothy May, on the head with three blows of a pipe in a whiskey-fired rage when she commented he thought more of his work than of his wife.

IROQUOIS LEADS ASSAULT BY SEA AGAINST ENEMY

200 of Enemy Killed, Defences Broken Down

QUOIS (CP)—Censorship has just permitted disclosure that the Iroquois directed a four-country assault on Communist-held Songjin in September which killed or wounded 200 enemy troops and knocked a hole in the defences along the western shores of Korea.

The action came in a 24-day coastal patrol which preceded the Iroquois' return to Canada. She experienced Canada's first naval casualties from enemy action in the Korean war.

In the early evening the Iroquois proceeded to an island off the southwestern end of Hwang-Hae province. At the same time the companies of South Korean troops set sail in junks to a rendezvous off the island.

A third company moved off to strike at the eastward beach with the British cruiser Belfast to provide covering fire for their divisionary attack.

Shelling Begins

About 2 a.m. the naval softening-up bombardment began. For two hours the Iroquois's six-inch guns and the Belfast's four-inchers pounded the coast road from installations as the assault junks worked their way in to the beach.

Control for the whole operation was maintained on the bridge of the Iroquois, while a running plot of every movement, each target and, later, casualties and each aircraft was kept in the operations room.

At 4 a.m. the South Koreans swarmed ashore and set off inland to the road which joined island to last roads leading to the peninsula and head off reinforcements.

The landing force pushed home a big attack on the south. Resistance had been disorganized by the naval shelling. The attack lasted for two hours and the South Koreans accounted for a third of the enemy casualties. The 2 raiding troops themselves suffered only a handful of wounded and no fatalities.

Aircraft from the United States carrier Sicily, directed from the Iroquois, swept on all last attempts at harassing fire on the withdrawing South Koreans. For good measure, they knocked out 25 bridges and destroyed several bunkers with bombs and rocket fire.

ST. CATHARINES (CP) — Richard Monette, 29, yesterday was convicted of manslaughter in the fatal beating last November 17 of Harold Harris.

Harris, Grantham township farmer. He will be sentenced Thursday.

Monette was convicted last January of murdering the elderly bachelor and sentenced to be hanged. He appealed, however, on appeal on the grounds that Mr. Justice F. A. Aylen erred in his explanation to the jury of the "reasonable doubt" which would won him a retrial.

Vishinsky Expected to Use Old and Familiar Terms In Addressing Assembly

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)— Acid-tongued Andrei Vishinsky is expected to outline today how the Kremlin thinks the world's hot and cold wars can be solved.

The Soviet Foreign Minister is scheduled to speak in the United Nations Assembly after the usual world body hears from Ecuador.

Western diplomats hoped that he would come up with something more acceptable than the warmed-over proposals hauled in the U.N. yesterday by Poland's Foreign Minister Jozef Winiewicz, who repeated already-rejected Communist terms for a Korean armistice, with disarmament following germ warfare and a big-five peace pact with Red China sitting in.

When the Polish delegate finished his nearly two-hour speech, the general reaction from western and neutral countries was that it contained nothing new. If this was all the Reds had to offer, western diplomats said, then there was little chance for a breakthrough in the assembly. They said it would be well be able to help unstuck the deadlocked Korean armistice negotiations.

Canada had planned to urge the Assembly to ask Russia and Communists to accept a truce in Korea but decided not to do so after Prime Minister Canadian delegation sources said they felt it would be pointless to make such an appeal at this time.

Canada Minister Paul Martin, in a prepared speech, was ready to ask the U.N. to make a "solemn" appeal to the Chinese Communists and North Koreans to accept the truce.

But after the Polish delegate reiterated Communist terms for an armistice, Martin did not include the paragraph referring to the appeal when he delivered the 3,000-word address before the Assembly yesterday. The deleted paragraph read:

"Let us again make a solemn appeal and with it let us hope that by consent there will in the interim be a minimum of fighting and a minimum of restraint in the propaganda war across the battleline, so that no incident or insult will hinder the present consideration we expect our appeal for peace will be given."

Martin told the Assembly that Canada will take it was a humble, mental promise that present hostilities must be limited to the Korean peninsula and that the search for an early settlement of those hostilities by negotiation in the Communist must be continued."

Apparently yielding to the pressure of public opinion, Martin said only one issue is holding up a Korean armistice. "That is to resolve this sole remaining sticking point in the way to a real decision on both sides to come to an agreement."

"We're next is ready to stop fighting but is opposed to forced repatriation of all prisoners," the Communists insist. The Reds and the U.N. Command have been split for months on this issue and the talks at Panmunjom have been in recess for weeks.

Russia was defeated again yesterday in its attempt to unseat the Nationalist Chinese delegation and replace it with a Communist-ruled Peiping. The Russian demand — now a familiar procedure — was defeated in the U.N. section — came in the credentials committee. The 14-member group will recommend to the General Assembly that it take no action on the Chinese delegation question at this session.

The Assembly overwhelmed south African objections and voted 45 to 5, with 8 abstentions, to put seven African countries that South Africa at the International Court of Justice.

All-Out Coal Strike Hangs In Balance as Wage Board Gets Set to Announce Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — A full resumption of soft coal production on an almost complete basis hung in the balance as the Wage Stabilization Board got set for a vote today on legality of the recent 16-day strike of 400,000 miners.

150,000 Now Out

Public members of the W.S.B., headed by Nathan P. Feinsinger of Cor, hold the balance of power on the tri-partite panel. Labor members are sure to call the wage increase illegal under government stabilization policy and industry members appear certain to oppose it as inflationary.

Persons close to the case cautiously predicted majority approval of the new soft coal contract signed last month.

Failure of the wage increase to show up in the early checkoff covering the first part of October led to a walkout of more than 150,000 soft coal miners. Their protesting action spread through the coal fields all week long, needed no prodding from Lewis. It appeared now as a strike against the —they felt their contract was not being honored.

Actually, the new Lewis contract could not be put into effect without W.S.B. approval. The amount of the increase is nearly twice as much as the 10 per cent cost-of-living pay regulations automatically allow.

But labor members of the 18-man board argued during hearings delivered over the last four days that other pay regulations, coupled with the rise in the cost of living since last winter, justified approval of the contract.

Should the board decide the wage boost is too high and order it rolled back, next would probably bring the first full-scale coal strike since the Truman-Lewis war in the 1949 contract. Since coal stockpiles are reported at record levels, there is no immediate hardship is likely.

NEW AIRCRAFT CARRIER

WASHINGTON — (AP)—The navy's second 60,000-ton supercarrier will be named the "Saratoga," sixth American naval vessel of that name, the navy announced yesterday. The first of the ships will be laid in December at the New York naval shipyard. The first of the fleet's 27 carriers, the Lexington, Forrestal, is under construction at Newport News, Va.

Gastronomic Career Began With Poulticе

LONDON (Reuters) — Lord Courtauld-Thomson says Britons are turning from gourmands into gourmets.

Instead of masses of food, badly prepared, they now have "very high standards of quality, quantity and taste," he said yesterday.

Lord Courtauld - Thomson traces his gastronomic career from 1868, when, during a bout of pneumonia at the age of three, he ate the breed poultice off his chest. It was a soggy mass of bread soaked in hot water.

The 88-year-old peer was guest of honor last night at the annual banquet of universal cookery and food association, held in the Savoy. Britons better cooking.

Gray-Haired Woman Robs California Bank

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A gray-haired woman in her 60s held up a cashier at a branch of the California Bank here today.

She walked sedately up to teller Margaretta Everett's window and said in a soft voice: "Fill up this bag with money."

Cash Miss Everett said.

This time the woman, about 5 feet 3 and 125 pounds, spoke up. "This gun does not work on me," she said, "I can use it."

Miss Everett filled the bag with $2,000 and the woman left.

The woman walked quietly to the door and was gone.

URGES WIDER TAXATION

TORONTO (CP)—All municipal residents should share in the cost of education and social welfare rather than just property owners, the National House Builders Association has urged in a brief to the Ontario Provincial-Municipal Relations Committee. The association also urged that real property be taxed only for such services as benefit it.

VIETMINH THRUST CARRIES REDS CLOSE TO HANOI

6,000 Shock Troops Used for Advance

By LARY ALLEN

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—Communist Vietminh today smashed their way into the strategic town of Ngha Lo, 100 miles southwest of Hanoi, and drove on toward the Red River delta, main French defence bastion in Indo-China.

French Army headquarters said the Reds used more than 6,000 shock troops to beat down the resistance of 600 defenders in Nghia Lo.

There was no indication of how far the Vietminh thrust might go but the Reds ran into a major battle with the French. There are numerous strong French defensive French posts beyond the town to which the Vietminh would have to continue their drive.

Vahe Effort

The French threw in waves of bombers and fighter planes in a vain effort to beat off the Red onslaught. The Reds are reported using the town with artillery and mortar fire since Thursday.

Nghia Lo, a town of 3,000, is the gateway to the mountainous tight plateau country that runs up to the border with Red China. It lies about midway on the main railway centre of Hanoi and the regional capital of Lau Chau.

Vietminh are said to be streaming down from the mountains that ring Nghia Lo, smashed their way into the town despite stiff resistance by French and Thai colonial troops.

There was no immediate estimate of French Union losses, but there are fears that they will be heavy as a result of the head-to-hand fighting attending the fall of the town.

There were some 600 defenders in the town itself who took the brunt of the final Red assault as Nghia Lo, Under the cover of darkness.

The speed, precision and style of the Vietminh attack clearly indicated they had been trained by Chinese Communist military advisers and technicians reported to be with rebel leader Ho Chi Minh's forces.

The drive, too, has shown the Vietminh are getting heavy artillery guns from Red China. The artillery used in the siege of Nghia Lo was the biggest the Vietminh have used in the six-year war.

All Crippled Children Will Enjoy Camp

TORONTO (CP)—Every crippled child in the province will receive treatment, if necessary, to attend summer camp, R. W. Hopper, director of welfare for Ontario Society for Crippled Children, said yesterday.

Plans are being made, he told the board of directors of the province's 61 local societies to help accommodate 900 children next summer. Last year there were 336 such children to camp last year.

Two new camps will be built by the end of 1953, one in Northern Ontario and the other in the Niagara Peninsula.

Movie Men Say 'Lanza Through, 'Kicking Million a Year in Face'

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Is Mario Lanza washed up?

Yes, a check of top industry disclosed today. The movie-makers, who formerly believed the rotund tenor sang past the finish in "The Great Caruso," moved out in fated "Student Prince."

Mario Lanza failed to show up for the picture although other members of the cast including co-stars Ann Blyth and Edmund Purdom stood around for a week until the production was cancelled.

The movie moguls hold that an artist can't be temperamental if he wants a picture starts production. In fact, then it often makes good publicity. But when temperament sets in after production that costs money, it costs Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer $700,000, the studio claims, and in this day of rising television and declining movie box office, that's a sin not easily absolved. Lanza's behavior has been a violation of America, and even some of his friends have refused to make excuses.

Lanza himself is mum to charges that he is super eccentric in his own where eccentricity is the norm of behavior: that he is a fellow kicking $1,000,000 a year in the face; that he desperately is trying to ruin his career.

Lanza is not only on suspension by M-G-M but also the defendant in a studio suit for $3,195,888 damages. That represents M-G-M's loss on the cancelled portion of the picture, plus $4,500,000 in anticipated profits. The latter figure is a conservative one. Lanza's last film, "The Great Caruso," grossed $10,000,000 the first year and some countries haven't been heard from yet.

Curtis Bernhardt, the man who almost directed "The Student Prince," said that Lanza's outbursts about the production itself usually covers up an inferiority complex.

U.S. Troops Break Last Red Foothold On Triangle Hill

Hurl Thunderous Barrages At Communist Positions

By STAN CARTER

SEOUL (AP) — United States troops broke the last Chinese Communist foothold on Triangle Hill today in vicious, see-saw fighting on the central Korean front.

Two miles to the east, South Korean soldiers fought off three Chinese attacks on Sniper Ridge.

All day, Allied artillery hurled thunderous barrages at the bitterly contested Triangle and Sniper. Allied planes roared down on Pansan mountain, dumping high explosives and flaming gasoline on the massive hill which the Reds use as a staging point for their assaults on Triangle and Sniper.

Five days ago the American and South Koreans launched the biggest Allied attack of 1952, with the goal of winning and holding these two hill masses north of Kumhwa.

A.A. Fire Heavy

Eight B-29 Superforts ran into heavy flak and near-see barrages and fought off at least seven Red jet fighters early today in a bombing attack on a Red army headquarters and Troops area in Hamy centre of Hanoi and the regional capital of Lau Chau.

Vietminh are said to be streaming down from the mountains that ring Nghia Lo, smashed their way into the town despite stiff resistance by French and Thai colonial troops.

There was no immediate estimate of French Union losses, but there are fears that they will be heavy as a result of the head-to-hand fighting attending the fall of the town.

There were some 600 defenders in the town itself who took the brunt of the final Red assault as Nghia Lo, Under the cover of darkness.

The speed, precision and style of the Vietminh attack clearly indicated they had been trained by Chinese Communist military advisers and technicians reported to be with rebel leader Ho Chi Minh's forces.

The drive, too, has shown the Vietminh are getting heavy artillery guns from Red China. The artillery used in the siege of Nghia Lo was the biggest the Vietminh have used in the six-year war.

Pike's Peak was the last Red stronghold on Triangle Hill. However, a few Chinese suicide troops held out in scattered caves and dug-out positions.

The bloody central front action included hundreds of Communist artillery and mortar fire across the front that totaled to 23,453 rounds between 6 p.m. Thursday and 6 p.m. Friday to measure the intensity of the previous 24 hours.

Several minor auto accidents were reported by provincial police but none of the persons involved suffered serious injury.

Two in Hospital After Accident On Dundas St.

TRENTON (Special) — An accident involving a transport truck and an automobile which tied up traffic for over half an hour in the early hours of the morning near the Dundas-Front two Belleville men to hospital suffering multiple injuries.

Fred Eagleton, 1239½ Front St., is in Trenton Memorial Hospital with a broken left leg above the ankle, minor injuries and shock. Passenger in the car, Lorne Brinkert, 18th Street, suffered a cut thumb and shock.

The two men were proceeding west on Dundas Street East in their early model car at the time of the accident. Eagleton pulled his car out into the other lane to pass the truck which was just at the corner of Dundas Street and South Street when he collided with it, according to witnesses on Dundas. Residents of the area reported the time of the accident could be heard for blocks. Total damage to the vehicles was estimated at $1,050.

Driver of the car, Bert Eagleton, reported his car went out of control as he attempted to pass. It was just after the time of the accident and the road was covered with a heavy coating of fog.

Truck driver, John S. Justice, of 144 James Street, Toronto, was unhurt.

Police State Accused Admits Shotgun Killing

THREE RIVERS, Que. (CP) — A Polish immigrant's appetite for raw eggs led to his capture early yesterday on a murder charge.

Stephen Ciesla, 29, told police on the islands that dot the St. Lawrence River, provincial police came upon Bourgault Ovoides, Inc., plant, stocked with arms, ammunition and supplies.

He was taken to Montreal where police said he admitted the shotgun killing of Aristide Pierre Bellefeuille.

Ciesla, who operated a combined restaurant and pool room station at Yamaska East, was billed for murder by Provincial Police.

Since then police have systematically searched islands between Sorel and Quebec City.

Lieut. Ubald Legault and three officers came upon Ciesla at last.

Ciesla was awake. Legault jumped on the wiry, 21-year-old Pole and wrestled with him until the other officers snapped handcuffs on Ciesla.

In the tent were four sawed-off shot-guns and 600 cartridges. Along with an estimated $10,000 worth of stolen supplies were tents, outboard motors, food, clothing, watches and money. Three boats were moored near the tent.

Moved Every Night

Police said Ciesla told them he moved every night to a new island, feeding his huge appetite for raw eggs.

When captured he wore a gaudy lumberman's-type shirt and boots that reached to his waist. He was red-shaven but his hair was long.

Until Ciesla's arrest, police said they thought they were looking for two suspects but now believe Ciesla has no other accomplice. Ciesla isolated freely in broken English and explained he was alone.

Ciesla arrived in Canada Nov. 5, 1951, as a displaced person under the International Refugee Organization.

Belleville in The Year 1860

The following information was obtained from the directory of the County of Hastings, first volume, printed in the year 1860 by MacDermid Bowell and deals with the town of Belleville and the County of Hastings. The material was selected and prepared for publication by Mr. J. V. C. Tweiach, former postmaster of this city. This is the fifth of a series of articles dealing with the early history of Belleville.

The drift formation: An accumulation of clay, sand and gravel with rounded stones or boulders, partly of limestone but chiefly of the more northern gneissoid rocks is spread over the greater surface of the county. The same deposit extends, indeed, over the larger part of the province itself and reaches far into the United States. Geologically it is known as the Drift or Drift and Boulder Formation its age is much more recent than that of the underlying rocks.

Between the disposition of the two, an enormous interval of time must have occurred, many intervening formations being absent. It is now universally conceded that after the disposition of the Silurian rocks, this part of Canada was elevated above the seas in which these rocks were deposited, and that it remained dry for many ages.

Whilst the succeeding members of the Palæozoic series with the Secondary and Tertiary rocks were under process of distribution in the seas, lakes and estuaries of the other counties. Then a movement of depression ensued, and our province was again covered by partially covered by the waters of the ocean. It is also inferred by perfectly trustworthy data that this period was one of comparative cold.

Vast glaciers were formed in northern regions from whence immense lodges laden with earth and stones drifted southwards and gradually melting or becoming stranded on shoals and islands, deposited their rocky freights over the sea bottom. By the agency of these floating icebergs also, the limestone ridges were broken down and the calcareous sediments thus formed were mixed with the more northern deposits.

Proof of this is seen in the polished and striated surfaces of our limestone strata in many localities in almost all places, indeed, from which a recent removal of the drift has been affected. The polished rock, when first exposed, is almost as smooth as a mirror and the fine lines which cross it and which are supposed to have been produced by stones and gravel frozen into the frozen sides of the icebergs, have almost a general north and south direction.

The same effect of ice action is seen also in the most exposed gneissoid rocks in the northern part of the country. Finally the ground must have been again slowly elevated above the sea and many of our valleys and other surface irregularities were then produced by the actions of waves and currents on the yielding materials of the drift and underlying strata.

We have already referred to the fact we have access by water and railway to the eastern and western markets. We have excellent facilities for communication by water, not only with all parts of the province, but with the cities of the United States. The navigation of the bay is perfectly convenient and secure and free from all hindrance to which the lakes at times are liable. Steamboats ply regularly between Trenton, Belleville, and Montreal, Belleville and Kingston and Belleville and Oswego, thereby affording a frequent, cheap and comfortable means of conveyance for the purpose of travelling and commerce.

To the tourist we can exhibit a beautiful country with scenery picturesque, grand and majestic. The sportsman can enjoy himself to his heart's content for our bays, rivers and lakes abound with salmon, trout and other choice varieties of fish and our grand old forests with deer and other game. To the emigrant who leaves the fatherland to find a home in the new world, we offer as rich farming lands as are found in Canada, upon the easiest terms imaginable. The miner will find that minerals while will abundantly reward his skill and enterprise, and to the manufacturer we offer facilities for business unsurpassed in the province.

The county is destined to become famous for its manufactures as well as its agricultural products. And to that, its already superior advantages of the commerce of the Belleville and Marmora Railway and with sunshine and rain, heed time and harvest to our hills, and plains, no competition can prevent our presenting a worthy object of admiration and emulation.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

By
WINIFRED E. WILSON

BILLIONS OF BIRDS

Those of us who had no chance to leave town last summer were at least able to see a few birds belonging to the class known as perchers. Almost anybody can point out an English sparrow or a robin, and if pressed for more names could list the bird's call or crow. The tiny yellow bird which said "chwee-chwee-chwee" in the tops of the elm trees throughout June is a yellow warbler. But did you realize that it has 39 first cousins that come to Canada in the summer? Yes, truly, there are 40 species of warblers in our own country.

Counting all the perching birds, we find 223 different kinds occur in eastern North America north and east of the Plains, and adding all the rest, like woodpeckers, hummingbirds, and so on that go under the heading "land birds" the number mounts to 375. But this does not account for the 258 water birds, which bring the figure up to 633. Is it not amazing?

Let us take our capital as an example of a Canadian city. Something like 80 distinct species have been identified within the Ottawa district. Naturally, a good many Eastern states far outdoes many of our cities in the number of birds. The nearer the equator, the more permanent residents. And in only about 50 permanent residents of the south must make room for multitudes of birds that remain there until the northern cold is over. How wonderful it is to gather together many birds born in Canada, and to see the same species that were brought up in the south, and others that are quite unfamiliar to us!

A fair number of birds spend their entire year in Canada, as our English sparrows, many of the starlings, grouse, Canada jays and blue jays, hairy and downy woodpeckers, owls, and so on. Some birds, as we have actually started south in July, while others will be loath to leave us before the end of December. A fact that cannot be denied will begin to think it over is that those which come early are apt to be the very ones that stay late. They are better able to withstand our climate and find their preferred food.

A bird watcher, forever trying to add to his own list, becomes conscious of each little bird sound, notices any peculiarity in appearance. Try to hear and see the birds around you from 12 to 15 billion spend at least some of their time north of Mexico.

NO FOLIO IN FOOLS

LONDON (CP)—Dr. Dennis Geffen told a medical meeting here that there is no truth in a belief that public swimming pools spread poliomyelitis. "The danger, if any, is that chilling fatigue or overexertion may be an enticing cause of paralytic attack," he said.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

WOODFORD, England (CP)—Police had a sort out a line-up of more than 300 automobiles and bicycles outside a garage in this Essex county district. The garage had offered a "safety week" check-up free.

Stories of Famous Hymns

By HORACE B. POWELL

When I Survey The Wondrous Cross

When I survey the wondrous cross
On which the Prince of Glory died,
My richest gain I count but loss
And pour contempt on all my pride.

Forbid it, Lord, that I should boast,
Save in the death of Christ, my God;
All the vain things that charm me most,
I sacrifice them to His blood.

See, from His head, His hands, His feet,
Sorrow and love flow mingled down;
Did e'er such love and sorrow meet,
Or thorns compose so rich a crown?

Were the whole realm of nature mine,
That were a present far too small;
Love so amazing, so divine,
Demands my soul, my life, my all.

Isaac Watts' beautiful hymn of the cross, which has been thrilling Christians of every land for well over 200 years, is still sung oftener than most religious songs.

Matthew Arnold always spoke of this hymn as his favorite. He glorified in it. He sang it frequently. And, when he called it the finest hymn in the English language, that hymn's praises adorned his tribute.

Watts was born in 1674 in Southampton, England. His father, a "dissenter," was severed times imprisoned for his religious beliefs, and Isaac, an infant in arms, often was carried by his mother when she visited her husband in prison. Even as a lad the future poet of the church began to show evidence of his genius as a hymn writer. When he was seven years old he amused his parents with his rhymes and a few years later he began to find fault with the paraphrases of the Psalms which were then in use in Reformed churches in his neighborhood.

"Very well," said his father, one day, when young Watts ventured to criticize the songs being sung in his own parish, "give us some better hymns!" And Isaac set himself to the task. He was still in his teens at the time but before the next Sabbath services arrived he had written his first lyric:

"Behold the glories of the Lamb
Amidst His Father's throne;
Prepare new honors for His Name,
And songs before unknown."

The hymn was well received and, during the next two years, the young poet wrote more than 100 others including his "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross" which he published in his famous collection of "Hymns and Spiritual Songs", in 1707. When he died on November 25, 1748, he was buried at Bunhill Fields, London, near the graves of John Bunyan and Daniel Defoe. His name will always be linked with his hymn of the cross but many others of his lyrics are widely sung. The world would be, poor, indeed without such gems as "Joy to the World, the Lord is Come!", "O God Our Help in Ages Past", and "Jesus Shall Reign Where'er the Sun", a missionary song based on the 72nd Psalm. And for the children whom he loved so well Isaac Watts left this delightful lullaby:

"Hush, my dear, lie still and slumber;
Holy angels guard thy bed;
Heavenly blessings without number
Gently falling on thy head.

Sleep, my babe, thy food and raiment,
House and home, thy friends provide;
All without thy care or payment,
All Thy wants are well supplied.

How much better thou'rt attended
Than the Son of God could be,
When from Heaven He descended,
And became a child like—thee.

Soft and easy is thy cradle,
Coarse and hard thy Saviour lay;
When His birthplace was a stable
And His softest bed the hay".

POLITICS IS DIFFERENT

Politics is a fascinating phenomenon of our democratic existence. Its ways baffle the ordinary citizen and its curious spell works the strangest enchantment of all upon its enslaved addicts who are the politicians themselves.

How often have we seen men of the utmost probity in all things throughout a lifetime acquiesce in politics to the most specious sort of expedients and compromises — things of the sort which they would despise in other men in other things.

It is against this very real paradox that we watch the presidential election campaign in the United States right now. And if we ponder it for a moment it is not so strange to us. We have seen it in Canadian politics, if generally less spectacular, certainly no less obvious.

Why? The politician, in his inexplicable fascination of the game itself, dismisses the unscrupulities as part of the rules. The citizen accepts it as an innocent bystander and spectator.

For the last quarter of a century we have been a witness to all that has been incongruous and weird on the Canadian political scene. In that time we can recall no occasion when someone has presented the most question: Why? as potently as it was presented a few days ago in the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

The Bulletin's editorial, under the caption, "Political Salesmanship", is reprinted below:

Winning votes is primarily a job of salesmanship.

The merchants of this country are past masters of the art of making people want their goods.

They do this by advertising; what is exactly what candidates for office and their spokesmen are now doing. Every political speech is an advertisement.

Now, if you will examine the advertising of the merchants you will at once discover that their methods differ radically from the methods of the vote-getters.

Your merchant does not lambaste his competitors.

He does not say that they are little better than crooks, and that you, the customer, thoughtlessly and evil designs upon their customers.

No; he devotes himself to extolling his own goods. He dwells on their quality, their superiority as a means of satisfying the customer's wants.

Wonder who's wrong. Are the merchants all crazy in neglecting an essential element of salesmanship? Or could the political campaigners possibly be missing an opportunity?

The potential customers abound all over the country. Are they most interested in learning about the rottenness of the goods they have been using, and that of the supplier? Or would they more like better to hear why other goods on the market are of superior merit and durability?

This is something for campaigners to think over.

In Canada we are not too many months away from another federal election. If we may repeat: This is something for campaigners to think over.

CONFUSION ABOUT BONDS

Two days after the new series of Canada Savings Bonds went on sale this week Ottawa announced that the payroll savings plan would be extended to Canada.

This gratifying response has been due, we are inclined to believe, more to the fuller information given to the potential subscribers on large plant payrolls than to the bare which government offices have been able to explain to the individual citizen that there are two distinct kinds of Dominion of Canada bonds in existence.

This week a friend remarked to us that he was definitely not interested in the current bond offerings. He said he knew where he could put a hundred dollars in a savings account and get it back with interest. The last time he had cashed a government bond, he had taken a loss.

This has happened to others. Enough bond buyers have wondered why this could happen that the Ottawa Journal recently took pains to explain how confusion has arisen. The Journal explained that, to meet emergencies during the war, and the Savings Bonds sold since the end of hostilities.

In the case of the Victory Bonds the only guarantee given by the Government was that the bonds would be paid off at their face value on their maturity — that is, a hundred-dollar bond running for ten years sold in 1944, for example, would be worth $100 to the holder when presented for redemption in 1954. In the intervening ten years, however, the holder might find his bond worth in the market more than $100 (as was the case some time ago) or less than $100 as is the situation today.

In other words the Victory Bond is subject to the influences and factors which move the securities markets. The holder who cashes his bonds before the maturity date may win or lose according to the state of the market at that time.

On the other hand the current Savings Bonds, and all issues of them, always are worth their face value. Their value does not fluctuate with the market. A hundred-dollar savings bond is always worth $100 plus its accrued interest. It is never worth $104 or $96. Its value through to maturity is fixed, and for the assurance that it will never be worth less than $100 the holder has to accept the fact that it will never be worth more than $100 — plus accrued interest.

Persons accustomed to dealing in securities understand these distinctions. It happens that the great majority of individual buyers of Victory Bonds during the war, and of Savings Bonds since the war, have had very little experience with any other bonds than those of the Dominion of Canada. The Government might have taken pains to explain the difference, and to assure citizens generally that Savings Bonds present a convenient and profitable way of saving money without any possibility of taking a loss.

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

October 18th, 1932.

The annual meeting of the Bay of Quinte Clerical Union was held this morning in Bridge Hall at Christ Church in this city, and the following officers were elected: President, Rev. Canon Swayze; Vice President, Archdeacon the Ven. J. H. E. Colcleman; Secretary, the Rev. Henry Pringle; Executive Committee, the Very Rev. Dean Craig, the Rev. Canon Ardagh, and the Rev. Canon Dunbrville. A paper entitled "Preaching" was read by the Very Rev. Dean Craig, and the Rev. John Ferguson read a paper entitled "The Challenge of World Conditions to Public Men."

The Men's Club of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church resumed its supper meetings last evening. The chairman of the evening proceedings was the president, Dr. R. E. Wallbridge, and the speaker was His Honor Judge G. E. Deroche.

Mr. James A. Ockerman, manager of the Bell Telephone Company here since Oct. 1st, 1910, when he succeeded Mr. Harry Stock as manager, will retire on Oct. 31st, after 44 years' service with the company.

30 YEARS AGO

October 18th, 1922.

The building of the club house at the Bay of Quinte Country Club is nearing completion. It was a simple thing after all to erect the club house needed building: on the farm, as it was purchased, was a large barn which was built in the shape of the letter L and this building has been utilized. Moved to the location desired the building has been transformed out of all resemblance to a barn, the fence work siding and roof were used and dressed up. The outside is being stuccoed at the present time. Mr. George K. Graham has generously given much of his time in supervising the remodeling of the building. The interior of the club house is most attractive and the clubhouse certainly had a succession of brilliant ideas. The greens are coming along well, but much work still remains to be done on them.

40 YEARS AGO

October 18th, 1912.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Richards of Toronto are guests at the former's father, at his home on Dundas Street.

Mr. S. Hagerman has returned home after an extended visit to Western Canada as far as the Pacific Coast.

The Rev. W. D. Harrison of Picton exchanged pulpits on Sunday with the Rev. W. J. Clarke of the Tabernacle Church here and preached two excellent sermons. He is a fluent speaker and held the close attention of large congregations at both services.

Mr. George Bonisteel is in Trenton today on business.

Mr. Carlos Reid will leave here tomorrow for the Old Country where he will spend the winter.

50 YEARS AGO

October 18th, 1902.

Mr. John Parker Thomas, barrister, is now the Assessment Commissioner for this city; the necessary bylaw was passed at a meeting of the council last night. The salary is $800 per year.

Mr. Fred W. O'Flynn of Madoc was in town today.

The work on the new county building is progressing rapidly factorily.

Mr. W. Pearce, M.P.P., Marmora, was in town today.

Lieut. W. B. Conger is expected home from Halifax, N.S., shortly.

"TRUE MAN OF GOD"

What kind of man do you want for your minister?

Some folks would say, "A jolly good fellow." Someone who can be a young person with the young people." "A good businessman." "A glamour boy," "an eloquent speaker."

All these things may be desirable, but the one essential of a minister is that he be a man of God. His work is to lead people into the presence of God. He is not angry with them but instead that God loves them.

The minister is one who should be consistently lifting the lives of his people to higher levels, so that the whole of their lives is suffused with a heavenly light, and the simple events of everyday living will be given higher distinction. A minister who knows how to organize great campaigns, who can run organizations called God's business and reclaim in admiration, is often much sought after, and he has his place for such points. But the humble man of God who teaches men how to pray, who explains the Bible to them in simple fashion, who comforts the sorrowful, and talks quietly with boys and girls about their problems, is a man after the heart of God whose more salary can never purchase. He may not appear much in the eyes of the sophisticated world, but he stands high according to the Lord's rating.

Thomas Carlyle once wrote, "What every community needs is a true man of God."

MEN'S FURNISHINGS

On shops where males buy needful things
The notice may be read: "Men's Furnishings."
But men don't furnish more stuff than that.
What counts is what's beneath the hat.

The shop can furnish suit and tie
To anyone who comes to buy,
But furnish him it never can
With traits that truly mark the man.

Not all the outward finery
Of manhood is a guarantee.
No haberdasher can provide
What furnishes esteem and pride.

No shop has courage kept for sale
To bolster him if he should fail.
No stock of patience on a shelf,
The man must these supply himself.

The New Man At Earnscliffe

(Ottawa Journal)

Sir Archibald Nye, the new United Kingdom High Commissioner in Canada, in his own upright and immaculate British manner, performed a considerable feat at the Canadian Club at Ottawa. He spoke to a large audience on what he called "some aspects of the Commonwealth" and he did not leave the whole Commonwealth, past present and future, out. He did it without benefit of manuscript.

The Commonwealth is one of the most important speech topics known to Canadian clubs and has been innumerable audiences. By virtue of his office and because it was his debut it could not be expected that Sir Archibald Nye would be able to break any new ground or make any startling statements. What he did however, was infinitely harder to do. He held the rapt attention of his audience throughout, and he did it with a mixture of analysis and neatness of definition.

The Commonwealth is a wonderful amassment of contradictions and incongruities. It is a society which open to anyone who wants to enter and yet which has always been boggle at describing the Commonwealth—all the way from Goldwin Smith's "rope of sand" — but they go on to state that it is here, it is alive and growing and it is a good thing for good in a world that has great need of it.

At the Canadian Club Sir Archibald Nye set his audience to thinking about the incompatibles from the days of Empire on to our present day. He is not a man of republic. He asserted at one time in his career that he was not a diplomat, but any who heard Sir Archibald Nye will dispute that assertion that he is not able as a diplomat with a fine record turned into striped trousers and tail coat service to his sovereign.

The new United Kingdom High Commissioner is clearly a man with a fine mind and a breed out-side-the-British-service way of expression to us, for Britons would not have been impressed by what he said in India at the time of the great changes in that country's constitution. But we have perhaps not heard as much about Nye as we should have during his years in public debut in Ottawa this week, Canadians will learn very quickly that once again a good man has come to Canada. Things look as if they are, this is a great possession for us all, in and out of Commonwealth.

Busy Bees Business

(From France-Amerique)

Supplementing the discovery by Dr. Karl von Frisch of Austria, that bees communicate with each other by dancing, there is also the experiments of a French scientist, Rene Chauvin, regarding their sense of bees.

It has been established, for example, that the bee's sense of smell is located in the antennae and that the sense of sight of the bee can distinguish forty-five different colors, and that their sense of taste is comparable to that of man. They differ-entiate between sweet and salty, bitter and acid. However, strangely enough, they have four substances which chemists recognize as sweet which, to man, taste sweet, for the bee the number is reduced to nine. For example, saccharine is not at all sweet to bees and they reject it.

On the other hand, the eyesight of bees far surpasses that of man, they see the ultraviolet, which is invisible to human eyes. However, the insects cannot distinguish red and rarely are seen on a red flower. An exception is the poppy which reflects ultraviolet light. A certain degree of what we call intelligence has been suggested by the fact that they cannot distinguish orange from green, start with the top button.

Mr. O'Brien Of Nowhere

(Hamilton Spectator)

M. P. O'Brien, of nowhere, isn't between the devil and the deep blue sea but the difference between that and prejudgment and his present one is slight indeed. He's on the deep blue sea between Portuguese Macau and Hong Kong, has been for three weeks now, a non-person and decidedly unwilling passenger on the ferry which makes the 50-mile trip between the two ports.

And like the phantom Flying Dutchman, he seems doomed to sail the seas forever.

For Mr. O'Brien's crimes are these: who claim he is no Irishman but that "O'Brien" is a neat construction of his Hungarian name—hasn't a passport, needs one before Hong Kong or Macau authorities permit him to land. And how, wonders that bewildered Hungro-Irishman, can he get a passport while snuffling between port that might forgive him entry.

It seems that Mr. O'Brien arrived in Macau from Shanghai in September, having been given permission to leave that city by the Chinese Reds. Once there he found his papers were not in order. The Portuguese, however, gave him a week to leave Macau. He stowed away aboard the ferry. Hong Kong authorities and the American consulate officials there refused to issue a visa to an American who had lost his passport, so he wasn't much use to him entry.

Apes from now still a ghastly ferry ride between Portuguese Macau and Hong Kong with its non-passport passenger pacing up at the light of the ports where he cannot land. It's a fantasy out of such stuff as Mr. O'Brien and the passport he doesn't possess are legends made.

Why Feet Are Larger

(Montreal Gazette)

Canadian shoe manufacturers report that Canadian feet are still growing larger. Their analysis is that the fully prosperous participation in sports is the cause of this growth.

This is an acceptable explanation, if an elastic definition of "prosperous" is allowed to permitted.

In British Columbia, for instance, a log is cut by the old method of measuring salmon which is to estimate its weight by hoisting the fish high and using a tape measure, they now fell the largest ones with a chain saw and the weight and pace out their length by walking alongside.

In Manitoba and Saskatchewan large fish are caught by wedging-time. Wheat grows so fast out there, the farmer has to stomp on it to keep the weight of the leaping grain so he can find his way out of the field.

In Alberta, the situation is a bit different. The salesman has to hold his foot over the hole until they can build a derrick around it.

But in Montreal ah, dear Montreal, there is no hunting. Montreal! City of patience and quiet, a city of calm and serene optimism! Here we stand, on our feet, and wait for a streetcar.

Who Buttons Up?

(Windsor Daily Star)

With the autumn breezes starting to blow and the atmosphere becoming crisper, we are starting to getting out their topcoats. This is the time when we find out if the fickle little creature began to thrive immediately; she was always in the best of health and was a delight to the Forbes family circle.

That fall Flag was a pretty handsome ball grown, Jane. And when the deer hunting party arrived in November, Forbes decided a big doe was one of more around his lodge a closed season for all hunting. Flag survived, and when the Forbees arrived in May they discovered the beautiful deer was right on hand to welcome them, and remained on the premises another season.

Year ago, when the Forbess again arrived at their cottage, the doe was there with twin fawns, a male and a female. The male was named Billy. Last fall, Alex declared a buck season and found his lodge as a closed district. This year spring, Flag, her mate and daughter were on hand to greet the Forbes. Twin fawns, spotted and tottery babies joined the menage. I have just had a letter from Alex Forbes, who is busy getting his camp into shape to welcome the deer family again for his friends.

"Flag is fat," he says, "has just swum with her family across from an island to our point. Billy, though only completely weaned this year, is not a mere spike-born, but has already small miniatures of antlers with their first branches. The five of them are now outside my window as I write, in expectation of a handout of grain and pretzels.

"How big an area round and about does must I declare closed to shooting this fall?"

This is what comes to deer hunters who make friends with their game.

LIFE SENTENCE

Mature parental reactions are based on the recognition that no two events are exactly the same, and two children the same. Only one child the same today as he was yesterday. He differs from yesterday's self by reason of twelve hours' worth of stimuli and growth. The situation the parent is treating is different, altered by a variety of occurrences within the parent, within the child and in the world about them.

An immature parent serves Janie carrots. Janie rearranges the carrots in odd patterns, pushes, punches and squashes the carrots, throws them and washes her hair with them. The carrots remain uneaten.

"Janie doesn't like carrots," Mommy proclaims to Daddy, to be heard by Janie. "Janie, you like carrots, either."

The ship off two old blockheads. Janie can hereafter be as unrealistic about carrots as she pleases. This is another case of her list of food prejudices. The larger the list becomes, the more attention she will gain from parents, grandparents, aunts and babysitters. Janie is a genius at waiters, hostesses, doctors, and in the daily psychiatric.

Does the hostess at the childdread dinner party seriously serve the child who just eats his meal? No, over the child who fusses and refuses the hostess, mother, grandmother prepare feverishly her favorite dish. Janie eats rice pudding and likes it! No, for Janie, however, she prepares the special little tid-bits and temptations.

"I've made you this lovely gingerbread with lemon sauce you don't like pudding." (What sort of pudding? Made from what? From what ingredients? Hot or cold? Sweet or sour?) I know you don't like roast pork and carrots so I've fixed you liver and bacon with mashed peas."

Janie would probably learn quickly to eat Grandmother's carrots if Grandmother was expecting her to be "consistent" in her dislikes.

Because the carrots served on Monday when Janie was two did not appeal to the girl as much then, is no reason why carrots prepared differently on Thursday will not seem tasty. Carrots prepared by boiling or frying or in a restaurant or by Mrs. Jones or war-

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE JOY OF READING

There is no joy in life that gives so much satisfaction, and which will stay by you under all conditions of fate, as will the reading of good books. Edward Gibbon, the historian, truthfully said: "I would not change my invincible love of reading for all the treasures of India."

The habit of reading, once formed, will never leave you — and you will rejoice in the fact that it is so. No matter what else we may be and no matter what one may need, there is always a book that will bring hope, comfort, information, or the joy of entertainment. There are books in my library that thrill me just to glance at them, for they recall what joy they have meant to me.

It's the contents of a book that make it great, but I confess to a love of beautiful printing, handmade papers, and exquisite bindings. Many of my favorite books I have in special editions. I like to take them in my hands, for they are friends indeed. They all seem to doubly inspire when royally clothed.

So personal and warming are many books that it is difficult to believe that their authors, in many cases long dead, do not still live. I would like to have them know how their books have given me inspiration, vision, and helped me to help others. I have often thought that a single book to memorialize their lives. Some have left but a single poem — but what an influence it left behind, and how it spreads with the years!

There is no remedy so sure and so delightful for the blues. It is difficult to sleep happily, as the habit of reading briefly. All a great book. It is rare that I do not find some book that interesting and inspiring each night before I retire. Reading is mental and spiritual food, and the joy of reading is established it will never be discontinued.

Many a book in my library has been presented to me by some friend, but I look upon all of them as acquired friends. All great books are friends. Their authors keep living anew in all they have written. Treasure them. Good books nourish the mind, and are as essential as food to the body.

Two Referred Back

Voting on the resolutions took place and the results of the last two local ones were referred back to the branches concerned. Those which carried and will be presented to the Provincial board were concerned with restoring in its entirety the title Dominion of Canada; a petition to the Ontario Department of Agriculture to prepare a bulletin on wild flowers in Ontario; a request to the proper authorities to curtail glorification of sports in favorable entertainment; and a request to have supervision for better girl-varied hot water tanks.

The resolutions defeated were concerned with placing names of rural post offices on the buildings; and compulsory blood tests for couples planning marriage. Mrs. Earle McKay played a selection on the piano.

Dinner Meeting Plans

New business brought a discussion of a meeting place for the area convention and it was decided to leave this to the executive.

Mrs. M. Rutherford presided at the afternoon meeting on Friday and called roll. Mrs. W. A. Goodfellow to introduce the speaker, Miss Ethel Chapman. Mrs. Goodfellow spoke first on a project which Northumberland district was engaged in. They were interested in forming an historical society and possibly a museum to preserve the things of value in this area.

Miss Ethel Chapman was an editor of Farmer's Magazine, and an author. She attended Macdonald Institute and had served in the Home Economics of the Women's Institute branch.

Miss Chapman noted that the character of each convention she attended was different and at this convention she had remarked the sense of humor with which so many of the members were gifted. There are 1481 institutes in the province with a membership of 45,567. Miss Chapman discussed plans to get new members by a visiting committee, by inviting new people and then asking them to join. She advised shortening the business period. Sometimes taking up some interesting work in the community got people interested. She noted that the joiners lived on the front concessions and many, back concessions have not been reached.

78 Districts Take Part

Speaking on the work of the director, Miss Chapman said that the director deals with the extension courses. Seventy-five districts took the course with 4,586 women participating. Courses were given on food and nutrition; canning and frozen foods; food and your figure; your children's food; clothing and textiles; choosing and using new textiles; something to wear; dress making, lingerie and children's clothes; make it right alterations; home care of the sick; health services; home furnishings; dressmaking in your attic; how to improve your kitchen; homecraft; family living to help understand your children and yourself; effective speaking; and care, and loan libraries.

There is a job to do in leading clear the slums sections in the rural areas, work for the church and the Institutes. MOVIE MEN

"I think he was unsure of himself in this picture because the role called for good acting as well as good singing."

By coincidence, Bernhardt's story is the same as that of a close friend of Lanza's and also of conductor Dr. Peter Adler, who worked with Lanza in "The Great Caruso."

The close friend said Lanza feels keenly the lack of formal voice training. He realizes, the friend said, that he came up too fast. Lanza has been largely self-taught.

Dr. Adler was quoted thus:

"Hollywood is Lanza's Frankenstein. The pressure he is under is tremendous, always having to put up a front; and his voice is not settled yet. He knows he has come up too fast and he feels insecure. For this he overcompensates by boasting and showing off."

Lanza has had a problem child for M-G-M. His current picture "Because Your Mine" truthfully advertises that it took one year to make. That was due to the delays occasioned by the spaghetti-loving Lanza allowing his weight to go up to around 200 pounds.

Bernhardt sums up the feeling of most industry people who were checked by this reporter: "I don't think the picture will ever be made. The studio can't afford to take a chance with Lanza now. No other studio or producer would dare to as long as M-G-M's contract is in force."

Weddings

CLARK—SWAN

St. Andrew's United Church, Milford, looked lovely with its autumn flowers and ferns was the setting for a very pretty wedding on Saturday, October 11th, at 2 p.m., when Rev. W. R. Mercer, uncle of the bride, performed the marriage of Wanda Betty, daughter of Mrs. Hilda Swan and Bruce Swan, to Mr. Ivan Coulter Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clark, of Scotch Line.

Mr. Roy Treverton, rendered the wedding music, accompanying the soloist, Mr. Ralph Swan, who sang before the ceremony, "I'll Walk Beside You", and during the signing of the registers "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her full-length gown of white nylon net over taffeta, featuring a three tiered skirt and train with pearl-studded butterfly trimmings. Her floor-length veil of nylon net and lace was held in place with a seed-pearl crown and bandeau. She carried a bouquet of red roses with satin streamers and wore a three strand pearl necklace, the bridegroom's gift to the bride.

Miss Beryl Swan, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, gowned in mauve, nylon lace and net over taffeta with fitted bodice, wearing a matching headdress and carried a nosegay of green and yellow mums.

Miss Dorothy Moran, of Frankford, was senior bridesmaid, gowned in green nylon tulle with headdress to match and carrying a nosegay of flowers.

Miss Muriel Swan, dressed in yellow eyelet organdy with matching headdress was junior bridesmaid and carried a nosegay.

Mr. Carl Reid, of Stirling, cousin of the bridegroom, was groomsman and Messrs. George Clark and Howard Elliott acted as ushers.

At the bride's home, a wedding luncheon was served to 75 guests. The bride's mother received wearing a navy triple sheer gown with navy accessories with a corsage of red roses. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother attired in navy taffeta with matching velvet accessories and wearing a corsage of red roses.

The bride's table was beautifully arranged with white Irish linen and centred with a magnificent three-tiered wedding cake displaying a bride and bridegroom decoration.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Merrick to which the bridegroom responded inviting everyone to visit them in their new home.

Misses Norma Clare, Lois Mirfield, Evan Reid, Marilyn Reid, Mildred Taylor and Barbara Bellamy served for the reception.

The bride's gift to her bridegroom was a gold Masonic emblem ring and to her attendants, necklace and earrings to match; to her waitresses, china cups and saucers.

The bridegroom's gifts to his attendants were, chrome brush and comb sets.

For travelling, the bride wore a gray English gabardine suit with navy topcoat and matching accessories.

The happy couple left amid showers of confetti for a honeymoon around Lake Ontario, via Lake Placid, Syracuse, and Toronto. Upon their return they will reside near Chatterton.

Prior to her marriage, Wanda was the recipient of many beautiful gifts including a lovely silver tea service, her friends at Corbyville. A towel shower and a grocery shower.

ST. ANDREW'S W.M.S.

Mrs. W. Mantle presided for the monthly meeting of the W.M.S. of St. Andrew's Church, on Tuesday afternoon. The missionary silent prayer was observed in tribute to Mrs. M. J. Barlow, who was an active member and who had passed away recently.

The thank offering meeting will be held on the second Sunday of November with Mrs. Laura Pelton as speaker and on the following Monday, Mrs. J. Walker of Stirling will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. Lancaster read a letter from a missionary in British Guiana. Twenty-three visits were recorded.

Mrs. Kane was in charge of the devotions. Mrs. Craig gave the prayer and Mrs. York read the scripture. Mrs. Wright and Miss M. McIntosh each read the study book on "British Guiana". With duets as part of the British Commonwealth and sends many supplies to Canada. There are all races and creeds and a small percentage of whom are British.

The Protestant Church first came with the European settlers; first the Dutch, bringing the Reformed Church.

One missionary, Dr. J. Cropper, brought up in the West Indies, served from 1908 until his death in 1933.

The first church was opened in 1866. It was only a small unpainted building, building with borrowed benches and a table with a borrowed silver basket for communal bowl. Only a basket full of poorly clad people attended. With Dutch material, and much faith, churches have been built and maintained the world over.

After the meeting closed a pot of tea and a social half hour was enjoyed by all.

Magnificent Performance Given By Noted Ballet Russe Company In First of Community Concerts

BY EUGENE LANG

The 1952-53 series of concerts of the Belleville Community Concert Association got under way to an exciting start Friday evening at the Collegiate Auditorium as hundreds upon hundreds of musically minded people crowded their way into every available seat to witness the magnificent performance given by the renowned "Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo Concert Company," who made their initial appearance here.

Until this season, no major company has been organized to bring "in the flesh" productions of major dance numbers to the some 500 cities and towns in Canada and the U.S.A. which have never seen an important ballet group in action. This brilliant new troupe which gets its name from another company, the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo was organized for the special purpose of presenting ballet to those who would otherwise not have a chance to witness the best in ballet that emanates from Monte Carlo, Paris, London, Rome, Rio de Janiero and New York.

Specially designed new costumes combined with brilliant adaptations of the original orchestral scores for two pianos are only two of the many innovations that this company inaugurates into the art of the dance, giving to the many problems presented by continually excessive travelling from place to place it would be, and is, an impossibility for the company to transport with it any great amount of stage props and scenery, therefore a minimum of stage equipment is used, but this does not in any way detract from the enjoyment of the performances presented. Released from heavy stage work the Practically half of the dancers are alumni of the original Monte Carlo Ballet Russe and have been released by that company for this new and extraordinary work that they are so courageously doing against the odds of a back-breaking schedule of one night stands, the normal hazards of long transportation and the technical problems that stages of all sizes and shapes present, all of which makes tremendous physical demands upon the dancers.

The program consists of four numbers selected from the repertoire of the standard ballad fare. The opening presentation was "Les Sylphides", a superb live "Swan Lake", here performed in the classic tradition of the woman wearing the conventional white tutus (a short skirt which allows complete freedom of motion in performing this graceful and charming number) which gives a certain beauty and purity that would remind one of Sappho Goes.

The second offering was again danced to the music of Chopin, however, this time being the "Blisebird and the Enchanted Princess" Pas de Deux (Steps for Two) from the full-length production, "The Sleeping Beauty". This item shows the great Russian in a more dramatic mood and allows the dancers a decided opportunity to exhibit their bravura technique and demands of the performers the utmost in suppleness, athleticism and agility, both so ably danced by Muscovite Larkin and Roman Jasinski.

The third selection is one that is of a more modern tendency and is trending towards an American expression of movement. This was the "Cirque de Deux" (Circus for Two) interpolated against the lively tempo setting of the Ballet Music from Charles Gounod's "Faust". It contains more or less of a satirical burlesque of the refined airs and mannerisms of the Russian trained dancers translated into circus terminology. In this number an unusual effect was obtained with movable props on which the ballerina and the premier danseur, Larkin mounted about the stage by their two partners—a novel and different but highly convincing in the presentation.

And last of all—the anxiously awaited one and only "Gaite Parisienne" by the scintillating and effervescent melodies of the prolific Offenbach, darling of the Parisian opera loving fanatics during the days of Napoleon III's near-free Second Empire. The choreography (steps or patterns of the dance) was given in a revised version from Leonide Massine's original production of 1938 which has since created a sensation wherever it has been presented.

The costuming in this number was extravagant and colorful beyond words, representing so realistically the variegated silks and damasks of the ladies, the fantastic uniforms, stovepipe hats, waxed moustaches and medal adorned tunics of the cavaliers. The risque "can-can", the pantaigle waltzes and romantic "Barcarolle" were all danced to with that zest and sentiment that so correctly reflected the period that gave us the gaiety, recklessness and verve of the Parisian world of only a century ago.

How futile, how inutile, it would be to attempt adequately describe the movements of the Corps de Ballet in their pulsating gyrations of the more spectacular dances, the inspired gracefulness of the slower opus, the lines and costuming of the entire performance that was at artistically perfection, the co-ordinations shown between dancers and group so sympathetically played by the duo pianists in their clever arrangements, the expressions brought out by the troupe in their every articulation, be it shown by the hands, legs, eyes, arms or whatever means was needed to convey the thought—yet without the use of the spoken phrase.

Here was Ballet as we want it, and we got it that way. An art that is needed much more than it is being shown, one that audiences will clamour to see and which will give hrhly delight and enjoyment to the fullest by all who like fine, finest cultured entertainment as shown through the medium of the dance. It is to be hoped that Belleville will again witness the matchless interpretations of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo Concert Company in the near future.

FOXBORO I.M.S. AND GUILD

The October thank offering meeting of Foxboro Guild and W.M.S. of the Presbyterian Church was held in the church on Tuesday evening with Mrs. Juby presiding. Nine members were present. Mrs. Skinner played quiet music.

The unison hymn for program was in keeping with the Thanksgiving season, "Come, ye thankful people." A thanksgiving psalm was read and Mrs. Bartlett gave a reading in keeping with the topic.

A business discussion followed. A letter of thanks was read from Mrs. Dier for kind remembrance during her illness, also letter of appreciation from the Indian Residential School of Brantford, Manitoba, for box of Christmas gifts sent to them in September. Mrs. MacFee favored with a piano solo, Mrs. Johnston gave a paper on "What the multitude of good things make us forget the giver, Thanksgiving Day" and along the same line, that the soul must not be stifled under the load." reading "Cause for Gratitude", was read by Miss Bell.

The offering was $8.80.

SISTERS ALL

By Jean Love Galloway

Something like a Baked Alaska, is a simple dessert which brings down the house with cheers. And it can be made up ahead of time.

Basis for the wonder dish, is a chocolate cake mix which you bake in an eight-by-four inch baking tin. Remove the cake from the tin and place it on a narrow platter . . . When it is thoroughly cool, place two bricks of vanilla ice cream on top of it. To make the ice cream fit the rectangular shape of the cake, you have to slice it in a few long, wide slices so that it will come out evenly.

Then you plaster the cake and ice cream with three cups of chocolate meringue. Sprinkle some chocolate shavings over it for a finishing touch.

Slide the whole lopsidness, platter and all into the freezing compartment of the refrigerator set at a temperature to keep it cold, but not to freeze it hard. When ready to use, just set the platter containing the dessert on the table. Serve, by slicing it in thick slices as you would bricks of ice cream.

This is a grand dessert for a supper party, or after a night's bridge. It's easy enough for the job can be done ahead of time. This amount serves 10 persons generously.

If your freezing compartment is not spacious, you can make up the same dessert by cutting the cake and ice cream into much smaller sises and turning them into two or four smaller desserts. The cake will be smaller, of course, more impressive when put on a table for serving.

Dollar Drapes

Last week, we went to a firm's sale where they were selling flannelette at 25c a yard. Thought this would be a fine window drape were needed for a blue room at the lake. We bought enough flannelette in drapes for some time.

With a quantity of powder blue flannelette, in one evening, we stitched by hand, two yard-wide floor length drapes.

The material pressed up beautifully and hangs in soft, crease-resistant folds. Places at the top are pretucked by two inches to advance where the gathers crowd in. Neighbors admiring these when using what kind of material was used as it is so soft, like doeskin.

Food For Thought

Readers' Saturday Column

By Mary Moore

QUESTION:

Cooking is to you seems such a pleasure and you are helping me to like working in my kitchen a little more every day. I am enclosing recipe for pineapple Upside Down Cake—I like it because the cake is thin on the fruit ...but mine turns out soggy. Do you think the recipe as given to me is right?—Mrs. C. S. W.

ANSWER:

The recipe looks okay, but I want to give you a idea then I can be sure I am recommending something that I have tested.

PINEAPPLE UPSIDE DOWN CAKE

In a heavy 10-inch frying-pan melt 1-3 cup butter. Sprinkle 1-2 cup brown sugar over it. Arrange slices of pineapple over buttersugar coating, and garnish with maraschino cherries and pecan or walnut halves—in centre of rings and in little spaces. Pour over this the

CAKE BATTER

Beat until thick—for at least 3 minutes—2 eggs, then gradually beat into them 3-3 cup sugar. Add 6 tablespoons canned pineapple juice and 1 teaspoon vanilla and beat. Sift together 1 cup sifted cake flour, 1-4 teaspoon baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt and sift this over the wet mixture and beat hard to mix. Pour over prepared fruit in frying-pan. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 45 minutes or until toothpick comes out clean when tried at centre of cake. Immediately turn upside down on large serving plate, but do not remove pan for a few minutes, for the brown sugar mixture will run down cake. Serve warm with plain or whipped cream.

Note: Prunes, peaches, apricots, blueberries may all be used instead of pineapple—some of them may be used in combination.

QUESTION:

Have you a recipe for Tomato Marmalade or Tomato Jam? It sells for oranges or lemons at both—Mrs. Sam S.

ANSWER:

I think this recipe answers all of your requirements.

RIPE TOMATO MARMALADE

Eight lbs. ripe tomatoes, 8 lbs. granulated sugar, 6 lemons, 1 tablespoon ginger. Peel and chop tomatoes and grate rind of lemons and add it and their juice. Boil everything together until thick, then add chopped walnuts if you want to. They are recommended. Pour into sterile jars and seal.

QUESTION:

I have noticed that people write in for different recipes and would appreciate it if you would give me a recipe for canning pumpkin to use in pies during the winter.—Mrs. O'K.

ANSWER:

Do they ever! About the only thing I haven't been asked for is broiled humming-bird's wings—but there's plenty of time.

CANNED PUMPKIN

(I strongly recommend that pumpkin be canned in pressure cooker—I would not can pumpkin if I did not have a pressure cooker, but if you do not have one it must be processed in hot water bath 3 hours.)

Cut or break pumpkin open and remove all seeds and stringy portions. Cut into pieces of size to handle. These may be steamed or baked; or boiled in a small amount of water—they must not be watersoaked. Cook until tender. Scrape from skins and force through sieve or colander. Bring to boiling point, adding a very little boiling water to prevent pulp from scorching. Stir constantly until it boils all over. Pack boiling hot into sterile jars leaving 1-2 inch headspace. Process in pressure canner 70 minutes at 10 lbs. pressure for pints; 80 minutes for quarts. Process 3 hours in hot water bath for both pints and quarts.

QUESTION:

Could you send me recipes for glazing vegetables. I would like to make some glazed carrots ... could you tell me if they would go with any meat, or if they go better with certain foods?—Eileen M. H.

ANSWER:

The glazed vegetables seem to be most popular with pork products and chicken. I don't fancy them as much with beef or veal or lamb. But if you or any members of your family do, go ahead.

GLAZED CARROTS

Cook carrots until almost tender in any shape—whole, shredded, in strips or rings, in as little water as possible. Cook each 2 cups of carrots drained, in 1-4 cup each butter and sugar until soft and glazed all over—they must be turned gently and heat must be low. They must be boiled in salted water first. This treatment is good for undercooked sweet potatoes too.

VICTORIAN ORDER OF NURSES

The V.O.N. is a national public health organization with headquarters in Ottawa. The Victorian Order Nurses will call at the home or anyone in the community, rich or poor, where a sick person needs attention. The nurse works under the direction of the family physician and will visit daily or less frequently depending on the need of the patient.

Should a member of the family be recovering from an operation, a V.O.N. nurse will give special treatment or dressings as ordered by your doctor. In this day, professional home care means a considerable saving as well as a re-united family.

The services of the V.O.N. are essential to the community. Help to maintain it by contributing to the Community Chest, so that the call may be made to the V.O.N. will be answered.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

The services of the Children's Aid Society are always available for any child who is being neglected. The society will investigate and take protective action whenever alleged neglect is reported to it.

The report of the society for the year ending 1952 reported that 271 children were given services in their own homes, 79 unmarried mothers were helped, 64 protected children were taken into the society's care and 282 children were in care at the end of the society year. 34 children were locally adopted.

Your contribution to the Community Chest this year will help to maintain these services.

BOY SCOUT ASSOCIATION

The Boy Scout Association is a benefit to the boy and to the community. Scouting will save certain boys from becoming community "problem cases," and not infrequently such boys through the guidance of scouting, become notably entertaining and valuable citizens.

Every Scout promises that he will do his best. To do his duty to God and the Queen; to help other people at all times, and to obey the Scout Law.

Your contribution to the Community Chest will help to further Scouting in Belleville.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Y.M.C.A. fills an important place in every community. It is a world-wide Christian movement seeking to assist in the development of a world brotherhood of men. Membership is open to anyone regardless of race or religion. The prime requirement is that a person be interested in self development and service to others.

Last year 6,794 boys, girls, men and women took part in active games in "Y" programs. 321 boys and girls learned to swim. 94 "Y" groups met 2329 times. 31 community groups held meetings in the "Y" for discussions of over 2000.

Your contribution to the Community Chest will aid the YMCA to continue their good work.

NAVY LEAGUE OF CANADA

The Navy League is entirely supported by voluntary contributions. The League supports and maintains hostels with sleeping accommodations, recreation facilities and canteens for naval and merchant seamen in our large seaports. Warships leaving our ports are relieved by welcome-i comforts of books, writing paper, games, canned foods, etc.

The League has a scholarship for son and ex-sea cadets, which helps to educate needy young men.

In Belleville the Navy League sponsors the Navy active and reserve sea cadet corps, under the very capable command of Lt. Jerry R. MacKenzie, a veteran of four years' active service in the Royal Canadian Navy. The organization of the sea cadets is to create self reliant, resourceful citizens by a program of skilled instruction and training.

Your contribution to the Belleville Community Chest helps to continue the work of the Navy League.

ST. JOHN AMBULANCE

St. John Ambulance is the oldest charitable organization in the world, dedicated to the service of humanity. It was founded in 1099 A.D. The Belleville division was started during the war years with a men's division which disbanded at the end of the war. The women's division was formed at the same time and has been active ever since. Over 75 first aid duties are performed at company picnics. At the Belleville Fair, local members put in 250 hours of first aid duties.

During this year continuous First Aid, Home Nursing and Preliminary First Aid and Home Nursing classes were carried on in Belleville and district. 28 persons were trained in First Aid and 25 in Home Nursing. Classes maintains an emergency home nursing service, and a call any time of the day or night will bring help to you that will stay at your side until professional help is obtained that can take over. Day for Special Forces With Special Jobs Passing In Consolidation of Army

The Canadian Army has made an three emphasis say officers and terms of service for each theatre. This change of a picture, de- nothing the problems caused by recent expansion and what is planned for overseas duty.

By DOUGLAS ROW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Canadian army is entering a period of consolidation to "nail down" the advances it has made since war broke out in Korea.

In 1939 it had six units, all on home defence. Now it has 26,000 men in 22 combat units—between one and two divisions—on active service in Korea, Germany and in Canada. Its total strength is about 48,000.

The expansion, one high officer says, has "left us skating on thin ice."

There are too many privates, not enough skilled officers and non-commissioned officers. Not infrequently they become sergeants only 12 months after enlistment because of need for N.C.O.s.

At one army they say half-de- ficiency that a man is likely to find himself wearing a lance-cor- poral's stripe if he speaks in a loud, firm voice.

This balance must be redressed. It will take about 18 months.

Then the army's consolidation plans go beyond that.

Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, chief of the general staff, intends to make one army again, not something which tends to be three armies with a different term of service for each theatre.

The army he feels there should be no more special 18-month en- listments, as there were for Korea, and no more promises of discharge after a year in Germany.

May Serve Anywhere

The average soldier now will en- list for the regular three-year stint and be liable for service anywhere. He may serve in all three theatres. At home, in Korea and in Ger- many. A triangular shuffle of units is contemplated.

For example, the 2nd battalions of the three Permanent Force regiments made up the original 25th brigade in Korea and now are in Canada learning the lessons of airborne warfare peculiar to the defence of this country. A year from now they are likely to be in the army. The duty of special forces for special jobs is passing.

This Korea-bound battalion, the movement and vice versa is slated to become the future order- getting ready to sail for Europe.

Planning Stage

A fairly extensive reorganization may develop but it is still in the planning stage.

The army can think of consoli- dation because it is nearer than the other services in its manpower goal under the three-year rearmament program which started in 1951.

The original goal was 20,000 men and the army reached that in the spring. This summer Special Forces men back from Korea started tak- ing their discharges and by Sep- tember the army's strength was down to about 48,000. Recruiting fell off seasonally during the summer but the Defence Department expects an increase in the autumn.

However, continuing Korea dis- charges and return from Germany of 1,000 a month who can get out if they wish will probably hold army strength at the 48,000-50,000 level. The 1954 target is 53,000 al- though this figure could be raised upward.

Defence headquarters say no all- out recruiting drive is in the offing. They report they are meeting all objectives at home and abroad and still have men to spare.

Special Campaigns

There were special recruiting campaigns in the late fall and winter for Korea and the 27th for Europe but otherwise recruiting for Can- adian regular army is by adver- tising, radio programs, posters, display windows and local recruit- ers.

Inducements introduced during the last year include combat pay for men in the front line or in ac- tion zones and liberal income tax rebates of $1 a day for those on duty in the Far East, and higher pay allow- ances for all ranks. A first- class private now is paid $133 a month, including subsistence allow- ance; a sergeant's $168, a warrant $226, a major $468 and a colonel $694.

Wartime mobilization plans are believed to call for fairly quick mobilization in divisional strength- ually, the army isn't too far away from that position now.

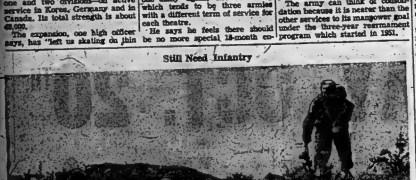
There are three brigades in a division. Canada has out-sized bri- gades in Germany and Korea and the equivalent of another on home defence in the Canada, plus enough two more brigades training in Can- ada, as overseas replacements.

For Home Defence

The home defence units are those which originally fought in Korea. They are in a state of transition but army authorities say have always had paratroops in them to defend Canada against unexpected attack.

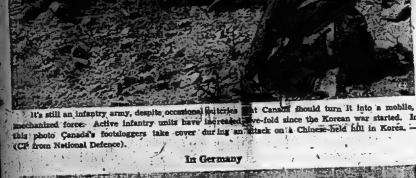
This formation used to be called an airborne brigade. Now it is called a "mobile striking force," a terminology the army considers bet- ter because battalions plus supporting units.

They are independent because army strategists say it is impos- sible for any potential enemy to mount an attack against Canada on a scale large enough to demand use of any force larger than a bat- talion—about 900 fighting men. Small-scale airborne attacks against radar stations and other remote defence centres are looked on as the likely threats to Canada.



One long-standing worry to the army is the lack of adequate transport planes to get its mobile units into action. The first of 35 Fairchild Packet transports to fill this need have just come to Canada from the U.S.

URGES TAX REDUCTIONS



TORONTO (CP)—George Hees, Progressive Conservative member of the Commons for Toronto Broad- view, said last night the federal government should reduce personal income taxes and the 10-per-cent sales tax. In a speech he repeated his party's plea for a tax-reducing budget when the next session opens Nov. 20.

It's still an infantry army, despite occasional flurries of mechanized force. Active infantry units have increased five-fold since the Korean war started. In this photo Canada's foothsoldiers take cover during an attack on a Chinese-held hill in Korea. — (CP from National Defence).

Builders of Nazi Luftwaffe Ready to Set Up Shop Again When Post-War Rules Lifted

By JACK HINDS

DUSSELDORF (Germany) (Reu- ters)—The men who designed and built the planes the Luftwaffe used in blasting Europe in the Second World War are getting ready to set up shop again as soon as postwar restrictions are lifted.

The industry, slowed down by the Allies after the war, now is like a head without a body, awaiting manufacturers. Ernst Heinkel, Claude Dornier, Willy Messer- schmitt and others, still are avail- able, but there are no manufactur- ing plants.

The Allied ban on aircraft manu- facture is intended to be maintained indefinitely by West Germany's Government. Former manufactur- ers, however, are already saying that these regulations "have long been overtaken by actual events."

Messerschmitt has gone on mak- ing and developing planes in an office in Spain, and Dornier and Heinkel have been travelling about Europe and linking with foreign aircraft manufacturers.

Form Own Company

Their efforts were officially co- ordinated on the "Verband zur Foerderung der Luftfahrt E.V.," a private organization, moved here from Stuttgart a few weeks ago and started working in earnest.

The association came to North Rhine-Westphalia, the home of the Ruhr, because the state govern- ment had given more help in avia- tion research and manufacture than the federal government has been able to under Allied restrictions.

The North Rhine-Westphalian government has, for instance, pro- vided research facilities for the 40-year-old German Aviation Re- search Institute as a technical college in Aachen, and at the for- mer Luftwaffe airfield of Essen- Mindhein.

At the same time, a staff of highly-qualified men, including the head of the Luftwaffe's radar re- search and development depart- ment Leo Brandt, radar expert Prof. Abraham Esau, and air- frames expert Prof. Adolf Schmidt, are preparing blueprints which will enable German industry to start swing into action once the go-ahead is given.

French, British and other air- craft manufacturers have been in close contact for some time with the leading German manufacturers. Heinkel, Dornier and others were invited to the British industry's recent display at Farnborough, England.

Wants to Build Comet

Heinkel, the most active of all, says he wants to build Britain's latest commercial airliner, the jet- driven Comet, under license in Germany. Others also said that if they were given licenses they could start building planes at short notice.

Most of the plants in West Ger- many could be re-equipped for air- craft manufacture at an estimated cost of 60,000,000 Deutsche marks (about $14,000,000).

The manufacturers say that they expect the economic volume of a re- born West German aircraft in- dustry will exceed 3345,000,000 a year and will yield up to 3138,500,- 000 a year in taxes.

C.C.F. to Advance Health Insurance Plan Says Speaker

"At the next federal election the CCF will put before the Canadian people a Health Insur- ance plan which will be prepaid, which will be adequately sup- ported by Federal grants, and which will remove from the heart of every Canadian the fear of sickness and ill-health," said William Dennison, Toronto, speaking at a CCF meeting in the city last night.

"You have discovered over the years that the Liberal and Con- servative parties have no intention of bringing in a practical hospital or health service plan. Mr. Drew in 1943 promised such a plan, he said that "medical, dental and other health services will be available to all" but the Drew and the Frost government have done nothing to implement that promise. Their "Municipal Health Services Act" lies rotting on the shelves. Not a single municipal health plan has been set up under it.

"The Liberal record is even worse. On March 6, 1953 the Liberals at Ottawa voted solidly against a CCF motion to provide a National Health Insurance plan. One would have thought, after the Walter Thompson cam- paign, which professed so much love for the wonderful CCF Health Services in Saskatch- ewan, that at least every Ontario Liberal would vote for such a motion. But every one of them except two voted against this motion for Health Services.

"The two delinquents were Mr. C. Henry of Rosedale and Mr. D. Croll of Spadina, who both dodged out of the House and did not vote at all. In To- ronto the day before yesterday Mr. Croll spoke to the Dan- forth Beaches Liberal Associa- tion and the Ems has come for something to be done about health insurance." What a farce! You might as well try to pin a piece of jelly to the wall with a toothpick as expect a Liberal politician to keep his promises once he gets elected.

"The real test of how much concern a government has about the health of its citizens lies in the percentage of its annual re- venue, which it spends on health. By this test the Liberal provin- ces of Canada stand at the foot of the list. In a report tabled in the House of Commons last March it was disclosed that the Saskatchewan CCF Government stood at the top of the list spend- ing 32 per cent of its revenue on health services, while the Lib- eral administrations in the three Maritime Provinces stood at the foot with an expenditure of only 12 per cent on health services.

"To make the Liberal betrayal on health promises complete the Liberals at Ottawa refused to permit the taxpayer to deduct all medical expenses from in- come for tax purposes, although the commons had carried a CCF motion to that effect."

Malenkov Group Appears To Have Gained Party Control Over All Phases Soviet Life

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Developments of the Communist party congress, including the selection of its new presidium announced today, tend to confirm the impression that the Malenkov group, firmly in control, is about to enforce the strictest party discipline over all phases of Soviet life.

The domination of Georgi Maximilianovich Malenkov is evident from at least two aspects of the new presidium, the demotion of Alexei N. Kosygin from full politburo membership to alternate membership, and the dropping of politburo member Andrei A. Zhdanov, considered by Malenkov a Communist opponent.

It is also plain that the breed of Communist epitomized by Malenkov — with the accent on youth — holds the reins of the party, and that these Communists have determined to guard this control jealously, particularly from any possible encroachments from the Soviet army and navy.

Tighten Control

On the surface, the selection of a presidium with 25 members and 11 alternates to replace a 13-member politburo looks like a broadening of the base of the party leadership. The likely purpose was stricter party control. Outside the top rulers of the party, members of the presidium are either regional party leaders or heads of ministries or party sections.

The authority of the "heirs of Joseph Stalin still holds sway, but there was little question the Malenkov group is making full use of this authority, largely under the direction of the aging Stalin himself. Stalin retains the top position of the party. But the secretariat of the party seems fully in the hands of Malenkov. Malenkov even now may be the operating head — in effect, the general manager.

The demotion of Kosygin is highly significant. Kosygin, at the youngest member of the politburo, made a meteoric rise under the sponsorship of Andrei Zhdanov, once considered Malenkov's chief rival for the mantle of Stalin. Zhdanov died in 1948, and many of his adherents subsequently disappeared.

Defeat for Molotov

The plodding and colorless Andrei Gromyko has been bettering for a long time. His failure to make the presidium indicates a drop in the prestige of his protector, Foreign Vyacheslav M. Molotov.

It also indicates the loss of the contest over how Soviet agriculture was to be developed. Andreyev represented caution — one of the instincts of the peasants. His disappearance from the presidium probably signals a crackdown on the peasantry to transform it more and more into a corps of agricultural laborers.

Finally, there is a notable lack of military influence at the top. No career military man made either the presidium or the party secretariat. This is just one more evidence of the historic Russian tradition — the army is not to be trusted.

FRANKFORD

Rev. A. McConnell Shows Colored Slides

Frankford—The Lions' Club of Frankford Inc., held their regular bi-monthly meeting in the Community Hall Wednesday evening.

There was a sad atmosphere at the meeting as Lion Clifford Sine, a faithful member of the Frankford Club, and one of the oldest Lions in Canada will no longer be taking his place at the head table. Lion Clifford passed to his reward this week, and Lions observed a period of silence in memory of their dear friend. A number of Frankford Lions will be attending the funeral Monday in Gananoque.

Lion Clifford Sine received a special award from the Frankford Club in appreciation for the many services he has rendered as a Lion and a good citizen.

Among many things, Lion Clifford was the man who was instrumental in having the "Trillium" recognized as the official flower of Ontario.

Financial Campaign

Among the various items of business, plans were made for the financial campaign of the Boy Scouts in Frankford. The Scouts have been inactive for approximately four months, as no leader was found to take over on the resignation of the former Scoutmaster.

Special attraction of the evening was a beautiful collection of color slides shown by Rev. A. McConnell of Trenton. It was a special occasion for the president of the club, Lion Jim Johns, as he and Mrs. Johns were married 19 years ago from the building night by none other than Rev. A. McConnell. Mr. McConnell spoke along with his presentation of pictures, covering his recent trip to England, Ireland and Scotland, Belgium and Holland. His story was spiced with bits of humor, which made it an enjoyable evening.

Comrade H. J. Madill, president of Branch 267, Canadian Legion attended the funeral of the late Harold Down in Hastings. Comrade Down has been a member of the Frankford Branch for some years.

Mrs. William Davidson, of Detroit is visiting Mrs. Harold Rogers this week.

Approximately 30 members of the United Church Sir Clifford Sifton Memorial Church, Toronto, spent the week-end with his father, Mr. John MacAulay.

Mr. Murray Macaulay of Toronto, spent the week-end with his father, Mr. John MacAulay.

The W.A. of the Eastern United Church has postponed their regular monthly meeting for one week, and willgmeet on October 20 at the usual time and place.

Linen Shower

Approximately 30 friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mrs. Michael Cosgrove for a linen shower for Miss Shirley Smith, bride to be November 2. An enjoyable evening was spent compiling a "Bride's Book" Shirley then opened her gifts, displayed each, and every one. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Rose have taken up residence in Glen Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Madill have purchased the green front home on Pinnacle Street in Trenton.

The senior boys' and girls' classes of the Frankford United church Sunday School held a weiner roasting Wednesday night in the Sunday School hall. It is planned to prepare these boys and girls for Young Peoples work in the church. Young Peoples Union formerly strong in Coleman Presbytery, has been inactive for several months and it is hoped that these two classes will form the executive of a new Y.P.U. in the near future.

Die-Hards Still Dubious About Chihawks Form; Habs Can Grab Lead

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

A couple of the box-fisted fraternity were at the ageold topic the other morning regarding the respective abilities of present-day pugs and the champions of bygone eras. Out of the maelstrom of mouthings came at least one point they thought was well-taken. One of the loiterers lambasted "experts" who go with the statement that the present crop of boxers in the top-flight circles lacks the "punch" of the old-timers.

While it may be all well and good from the viewpoint of the pub who pays twenty bucks up to watch a couple of gloved tiddlers waltz through a fifteen-round boxing ballet, the fact definitely remains that the days of the second, third and fourth "knockouts are becoming as extinct as the reverend dodo bird.

It took Rocky Marciano thirteen rounds before he could lay-on the haymaker that sent the venerable Jersey Joe Walcott to bye-bye land. All right, all right . . . Jersey Joe is a good boxer. So were a lot of the oldtimers who went down before the lethal smashes of a Dempsey or a Louis in the early rounds. And we recall the good old days of the first Canadian Division in Otz Lamson when we went to Albert Hall to see Georges Carpentier, the Orchid Boy of France, fight Britain's bull-dogish Joe Beckett. To use an old boxing cliche, there were two blows struck, one when Carpentier hit Beckett and the second when Beckett hit the canvas. It was over in 45 seconds. That is one time we bought a seat and never used it.

The only quick knockout of recent date is that of Burn. Reynolds who was layoed in the second round by Ezzard Charles, who has the reputation of not being able to punch his way out of a paper bag. Reynolds, we recall, was sent into the ropy boy scampering through the waste-paper baskets looking for his licket on the pool. Up here the boys drawing rounds numbered less than ten, lose 'em away up there and the figure in modern boxing they haven't got a chance unless the ticket calls for the tenth or better round. And thus far they haven't been too long, sabe.

In that Jimmy Carter-Laure Salsa ballet the other night there were enough blows struck to sink the piles for a half-mile bridge. We refer to the show all the way Carter and Salsa stood up under the fire. Carter, as the upper-dog in the recordings to Steve Ellis, a fight-manager, and alleged announcer, was beyond all human comprehension.

It was clearly evident that Carter was the boss-man throughout although it appeared his "sharp punching" could not throw a grape. As for Salsa chin was one of the unconvincing objects, one reads about.

And as Dan Parker notes, any mosquitoes descending on the gave shed for sustenance would have died of anemia.

One of the greatest lightweight champions the world ever produced didn't have much of a punch when he was the world title. He was Benny Leonard who retired undefeated and dropped dead in a ring in St. Nicholas Arena, New York. Lights referred a bout. Benny realized that he had to develop a punch, one that was deadly effective, and he concentrated his efforts to this end. He succeeded as his record will show. Carter never would as well as emulate the revered Benny. It would save him a lot of time and effort besides cutting short some of these modern-day marathons that come under the rules of championship boats.

FINE SPIRIT

St. Michael's gallant little team of "never-say-dies", battled the big Albert College squad in a scheduled game at the college campus yesterday afternoon and went down fighting by a 7-0 count. Knowing they were outclassed by the heavy starry collegians the Irish nevertheless gave all they had and made it highly interesting at times for Pete Bosak's "Steel Trust".

However, the Albert coach threw all his reserves into the fray to give them a workout and the sportsmanlike gesture was appreciated. The first to admit it was Coach Jack Doran of St. Michael's who personally expressed his appreciation to Coach Bosch.

This afternoon at 2.30 the Belleville Collegiate seniors tangle with the Oshawa C. I. in a scheduled COSSA tilt at. King George School Field. Oshawa edged the Church Street students 6-5 in their last meeting and Coach "Red" Townsend anticipates a thriller when the teams meet this afternoon.

BRAND PARTY

One of the hitherto unsolved problems of the present day is, "What is the hot-dog, ice cream, soft drink capacity of a healthy athletic youngster between the ages of 11 and 15."

The minor division of the Belleville Baseball Association attempted to reach some sort of an answer at the party given the minor baseballers at the "Y" last night, but today they are still in the dark.

The "mysteries-in-tights" disappeared down youthful gullets at an alarming rate during the refreshment period as did bits chicken and ice cream. And they clamored for more after the "cupboard was bare".

It was a grand show and Chairman Frank Grandame, Alderman Art. Keegan and others of the committee are to be commended on a highly successful wind-up to a successful season.

There were no speeches. Champions were presented with trophies and awards with two or three individual presentations being made. The evening belonged to the youngsters and that is the way it was. They enjoyed high-class entertainment by the talented youngsters of Barbara Dimen's Dancing Studio, "Dandy-Boy" Smith, and saw sports and comedy motion pictures. Recreational Director, "Red" Dornan and Chairman Grandame were two of the busiest men in the city for a couple of hours. However coaches and managers "stag'in" with a helping hand and everything went off splendidly. Good show.

All They Have To Do Is Take Bruins, Wings Over Weekend Providing Leafs Pluck Hawks

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The National Hockey League may have a new leader after week-end games.

Montreal Canadiens, now two points behind the league-leading Chicago Black Hawks, can go in front by beating Boston Bruins tonight and Detroit Red Wings Sunday. The Sunday fixture is second-place Detroit's only week-end contest.

The other game tonight finds New York Rangers visiting Toronto. The Maple Leafs go to Chicago Sunday while Rangers meet Boston. Sunday's Chicago fixture may give some indication of whether the Black Hawks are reverting to previous year's paralyzed play.

N.Y. Adds Strength

The revamped Hawks, started this year in terrific fashion by whipping their first four games, before being dumped 7-0 by the Red Wings Tuesday night.

The winless Leafs tonight encounter a refurbished New York squad. Beaten in three consecutive starts, Rangers have brought in three youngsters from Guelph Biltmore Juniors in the Ontario Hockey Association. The trio are defenceman Harry Howell, centre Andy Bathgate and left-winger Dean Prentice.

Howell will fill in for injured Leo Reise, expected to miss weekend games because of torn shoulder ligaments.

Smythe Kicks Up Fuss

Conn Smythe, Toronto's managing director, suggested last night he has filed a protest with N.H.L. President Clarence Campbell over the refereeing of Cooper Carmody. Smythe claimed Gravel discriminated against the Leafs in handing out penalties. The Ted Sloan-Thursday night when Toronto was [illegible] Smythe said he was protesting [illegible] finally [illegible] across [illegible] Gravel [illegible] the third time Gravel has been involved in match penalties to Toronto players. I'm getting sick of it. I've had enough. We're not getting a break."

It took five stitches to close a wound on Sloan's face. He said Labine cross-checked him into the boards and cracked him over the head. Labine also was given a match penalty.

Disputed Goal Gives Cleveland Win Over Hornets

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A disputed third-period goal by Ike Hildebrand gave Cleveland Barons a 2-1 victory over the defending champion Pittsburgh Hornets first night in an American Hockey League opener. Referee Jack Egers first ruled that Hornet goalie Gil Mayer had stopped the puck with his hand but referee Bill Morrison overruled him, giving the goal—and the victory—to Cleveland.

The Barons scored first on Roy Cereskos's shot at 8:35 of the first period. Pittsburgh tied it up at 1:28 of the second period as rookie Bob Sabourin broke loose and skated the length of the ice, passing to Ken Timgren who scored. Sabourin crashed into the boards on the play and suffered a possible rib fracture.

Attendance was given as 2,500.

Intercounty Moves To Prevent Court Procedure

GALT (CP) —Interim injunctions will be a thing of the past in Intercounty Baseball League circles if a proposed amendment to the league constitution is ratified at the annual meeting of the association next month.

Senior club executives met here Thursday night to study revising the league constitution as recommended by a special committee composed of Otto Maeder, league president, Jack Blakney, secretary, Ernie Osborn and Ernie Keyes, executive members. They recommended that hereafter there would be no recurrence of such incidents as when London obtained an injunction to restrain the league playoffs last summer.

In future, it is proposed, in effect, that all clubs renewing or seeking membership in the senior league must agree to abide by the rules and regulations as set down in the constitution, and under no consideration shall a club or player have recourse to a court of law.

In all, 23 recommendations to revision of the league constitution were drafted by the special committee. Some of the recommendations sought to strengthen the executive in administering league affairs, while others of a minor nature merely eliminated sections which have become outmoded under present day conditions.

Flyers Continue Unbeaten String, Edge Oshawa 4-3

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Barrie Flyers forged ahead in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A race last night, carrying their unbeaten streak to four games. Their first-place lead was strengthened by a 4-3 win over Oshawa Generals, sitting next-to-last with only a tie to their credit.

Last night's action also saw the Kitchener Greenshirts move into second place, downing the last-place Windsor Spitfires 4-0. Windsor hasn't won a game in four starts.

Guelph Wins First

Guelph Biltmores won their first game in four by trouncing Toronto Marlboros 4-2. The Bilts are tied for third place with the Marlboros at three points, one point behind Toronto St. Michael's and Galt Black Hawks.

Barrie fought a see-saw battle with Oshawa before Ken Collins scored the tie-breaker in the third. The Flyers took an early lead on a goal by Bill Stewart and Bob Meder in the second. Ralph Willis put Barrie ahead early in the third but Harry Armstrong tied it up. Then Collins slammed in the winner.

Kitchener goalie Bill Harrington chalked up his first shutout of the season by holding off the luckless Spitfires. Len Croke led the Shirts attack with two goals. Singles were potted by Cev Yeazir and Greg Hicks.

Marlies Bow Early

After a scoreless first period at Guelph, the Bilts opened on a goal by Billy McCreary. Wally Maxwell tied it up three minutes later. Guelph went ahead again on a long shot by defenceman Ted Brady, his first in two seasons. McCreary and Irv Scott took advantage of two minor penalties to Marlboros to increase Guelph's lead. The final Marlboro goal was netted by Louis Berdon.

Here's That Man Con Smythe Again, Files Protest Against Ref. Gravel

TORONTO (CP)—Conn Smythe, managing director of Toronto Maple Leafs, last night announced that he has filed an official protest with Clarence Campbell, National Hockey League president, against the refereeing of George Gravel.

The protest followed the Leafs' 2-1 defeat by Boston Bruins in Boston Thursday night.

Although the protest was made over the game it was directed at Gravel's action in giving Ted Sloan of the Leafs and Leo Labine of the Bruins match penalties following a stick-swinging bout.

"I'm phoning the game finally to get my point across about Gravel," Smythe said. "This is the third time Gravel has been involved in match penalties to Toronto players. I'm getting sick of it. I've had enough. We're not getting a break."

Five stitches were required to close a wound in Sloan's face when, according to Sloan, Labine crosschecked him into the boards and cut him across the front of the head. Labine was not injured.

Both players were given match penalties under N.H.L. Rule 44 "attempt to injure." Smythe maintained the penalties should have been under Rule 45 "deliberate injury of opponent."

"The Leaf senior said Labine should have been penalized under the "deliberate injury of opponent" rule while Sloan should have been charged under "attempt to injure."

He claimed the "deliberate" ruling the guilty player is retired from the game, automatically fined $100 and his team must play shorthanded for 10 minutes. The player also faces further penalties from the league president.

Sport in Brief

DURHAM (CP)—The new $65,000 recreational centre and community centre was opened last night.

Hundreds of local and district residents were on hand as Rev. W.A. Young, chaplain of Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, opened the 343-by-109 foot centre. Judd Minister Phillips, scheduled to open the arena, was not able to attend.

CHATHAM (CP)—Taking a five-goal lead in the first 25 minutes of play, Chatham St. Clair Maroons last night coasted to a 5-3 victory over Troy Bruins in an exhibition hockey game.

The victory gave the Maroons a clean sweep of three exhibition games played before the opening of the Ontario Hockey Association senior A schedule.

Breeders Assoc. Bull Senior, Grand Champion

Rockwood...Rocket Tone, one of the bulls in the Artificial Breeding Unit of the Quinte District Cattle Breeders' Association, Belleville, was a senior and grand champion at the championship Holstein show held Oct. 15 at Peterborough. He will be recalled as grand champion at the Royal Winter Fair last year and All-Canadian three-year-old bull. A get sired by Rocket Tone stood first in the junior get-of-sire class while he also sired the reserve junior champion female and the first prize senior bull calf. The reserve junior champion was the winning junior yearling heifer owned by R. C. McCluskey, Queensville, while the first prize senior bull calf was owned by Stephen B. Roman, King.

Max Brunsdale, Maple, combined with entries of Evans, Petherick and Metcalfe to win second prize in the senior get-of-sire class, a get from another Quinte Unit sire, Regsaborne R. A. Royal Governor.

Jack Burnside, Madoc, had the fourth prize junior yearling bull and the 8th prize junior bull calf while Earl Burnside, Madoc, had the 6th prize junior bull calf. Walter and Max Burnside the 9th prize senior yearling heifer and 10th prize junior yearling heifer. Hugh Gray, Belleville, showed the ninth prize junior bull calf.

The Hastings entry stood sixth in the county herd class.

Bucceroni Edges Dave Davey In Ten-Rounder

NEW YORK (AP) — Favored Danny Bucceroni piled up a big lead and weathered a bit of it last night to gain a narrow but unanimous decision over Dave Davey of Tacoma, Wash., at St. Nicholas Arena.

The 140-1 pound Bucceroni weighed 137½—the heaviest of his career—to Davey's 141.

The lanky, 24-year-old Philadelphian floored Davey for nine in the second round and that proved to be the difference in the scoring.

Both judges had it even in rounds 4-4-2, but both awarded the fight to Bucceroni on the decision of Referee Al Berle had Bucceroni ahead on rounds, 4-4-1.

The Associated Press scorecard had Bucceroni in front, 4-4-1.

$50,000 International Horse Race Attracts Attention World Experts

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—A long-range effect on international horse racing is expected to result out of today's Washington International steeplechase for a purse among four foreign and three United States thoroughbreds.

The $50,000 Laurel race is being watched as an experiment by horse experts on both sides of the Atlantic. They all admit it's not a case of the best American thoroughbreds racing the best European, but the ingredients for such a future are here present.

The most important aspect to Southern dirt owners is whether horses can be taken across the ocean and quickly be ready for a good showing. This test is being made in the Laurel race.

Entries:

Zucchero, owned by George Rolls and Company, owned by R.C. Boucher, were flown from England last Tuesday. The other two foreign entries, Max Bell's Debate, Hemp, representing Canada, and Mr. Thyssen's Niederlander from Germany, have been over here only a few weeks.

Indian Hemp was purchased by Max Bell, Calgary publisher, in England where he has a farm.

Meeting the invaders at their own game, on the infield turf over a 1¼-mile distance with a walk-up start—equal to European conditions—are Brookmeade Stable's Greek Ship, Hasty House Farm's Rube and Mrs. R. L. Strous' Pilaster.

This is the first time several horses from different countries have met in the United States. In 1923, the Epsom Derby winner Papyrus and the Kentucky Derby winner Zev met in a match race in New York. Zev was the Derby who won easily.

The English fell avenged in 1936 when the Triple Crown winner, Bahram, went over for the $100,000 gold cup and was beaten by the appropriately named Quashed.

Turf Parade

A majority of American experts figure Greek Ship should will run one-two-three in the Laurel race. Greek Ship, the only successful turf runner of the year in 1950 U.S., is rated the choice with Pilaster second. Pilaster is a rugged horse and, always at his best this time of the year.

Zucchero is given the best chance of upsetting the American applecart. The Epsom winner will have one of England's best jockeys, Charles Smirke, to ride any of his noted temperamental acts.

On the other hand, Greek Ship is to be ridden by the top U.S. jockey, Eddie Arcaro.

Baseball Prexy Lauds Efforts Recreation Com.

Following is a copy of a letter sent by Malcolm Robb, president of the Belleville Baseball Association to Mr. William Vantassell, chairman of the Belleville Recreation Commission. It speaks for itself.

We have just completed a very successful year with a total of approximately 320 boys playing minor baseball on 16 different teams.

"The occasion for this letter is that we can only realize that we could have not had such a successful season without the constant help and co-operation of the Belleville Recreation Commission, and certainly that was what we had.

"I would especially like to congratulate the Belleville Recreation Commission upon its choice of Reid Dorian as director of Recreation. It was a most difficult task to find a playgrounds for all games and practices of these minor baseball teams. Reid did a real fine job with Mr. Doran took upon himself and his handling of it was masterful. The discharge of that task in-volved a great deal of work, very considerable organization on his part and secondly a great deal of tact and diplomacy in slightly. Certainly Mr. Doran did a wonderful job and for this the directors of the Belleville Baseball Association are very grateful.

"In conclusion on behalf of the directors of the Belleville Baseball Association, we wish to thank you for your very successful year which has just passed and we look forward to further years of co-operative endeavour with you."

Spinning's Place in Angling

"Spinning reel of French manufacture. One of the first to be brought to this country."

BY JOHN ALDEN KNIGHT
(Noted sportsman, author and creator of Selmac Tables)

In case you happen to see these news stories more or less regularly, you no doubt have formed the opinion that I am definitely opposed to spinning. Having been taken to task by not a few readers, perhaps I had best clarify my position concerning this new simplified boon to the anglers.

Way back yonder in 1936 Mr. Charles Ritz of Paris, France, came over to this country for a visit. With him he brought two Luxor spinning reels, a bountiful supply of lures, and dozens of spools of monofilament line.

Charley and I went on several fishing trips together and it was during these trips that I saw my first spinning reel in action on a trout stream. He did not use a spinning rod. Instead he simply clamped the reel to the grip of a fly rod. With this he would cast his little lures surprising distances.

Charley wanted me to take on the United States agency for the Luxor reel and to introduce the sport to American anglers. After considerable thought. I decided against the idea. Even then I could see the handwriting on the wall should these spinning rigs become popular.

First Sales Slow

Years passed, another firm took on the agency for the Luxor reel and for French spinning lures. Promotion was slow at first but gradually the idea took hold. Today practically every fisherman, woman and child who goes fresh-water fishing is familiar with spinning.

Unquestionably the method has its place in the angling picture today. Its general popular appeal proves that beyond doubt. Folks who could not catch brown trout on years ago can now compete with the seasoned fly-rod angler.

When Charles Ritz first showed me a spinning reel I was skeptical on our trout streams being overcrowded with bait and spin fishermen and the use of fly rod varieties. I felt sure then that time would not tell a Guilt Gordon from a Royal Coachman would be lining the banks of our trout streams and catching trout on spinning lures. That, my friend, is exactly what has happened.

Now, far be it from me to begrudge a spinning fan a day's sport and a few trout to take home. Far from it. The money he spends for his licence is just as good as mine to finance the activities of our fish commission in keeping our streams supplied with trout. What I do deplore is the manner in which most owners of spinning rigs operate. Many of them, I'm sure, are able to observe, only a few of them know enough about angling and trout streams. Fewer still seem to know anything of angling etiquette.

No Deadly Affairs

The spinning lures with which I am familiar are not the deadly affairs the makers would have you believe. A good fly-rod man can hold his own with the best and gets without much trouble. Our trout supply is not in peril because of spinning lures.

Spinning rigs will do, and do very well, is something that the makers do not stress in their literature. Even then, I doubt if a spinning lure among a school of trout would be any more one of them. The rest of the school is immediately put down, scared to the point of complete inactivity for the next hour or so.

Some anglers seem to have do respect the priority rights of a fly-rod man who is fishing a riffle or a pool. They reel in, walk around him, and leave him a reasonable amount of undisturbed water. These men, I'm sorry to say, are in the minority category. The rest simply cast their lures right through the water down your fish, and go their way.

There are spots in every large trout stream where it definitely cannot be fished with a fly rod—the big pools where it is impossible to wade and with little or no space for a back cast. For these places the spinning rig is ideal. Moreover, such spots almost invariably hold large fish and these will take a spinning lure.

Good for Bass

In the bass lakes and rivers the spinning rig will cast light lures and enable an indifferent caster with orthodox tackle to complete successfully with the plug casters. The little lures produce good results and often will take fish when the larger plugs will not. Thus, the spinning rig finds itself a very secure place in bass fishing.

One of the places where a spinning outfit pays off is in the salt water surf-casting streams fishing in southFlorida. In the channels between the sand flats of the Florida Keys a spinning lure, which can be flashed and drawn rapidly, will take fish more consistently than the conventional fly-rod lure.

Over in the Tamiami Canal and the canals around Marco on Everglades the spinning rig really pays off. These places do not lend themselves always to fly-rod fishing. Many of them are overgrown that fly casting is virtually impossible. Yet they swarm with game fish, ready to take well-presented lures.

In these canals a good rod with a spinning rig can find anywhere from the plug caster and the fly rod man will be unable even to cast. Cag. my son, Dick, who now lives in Miami, tells me that he would be lost without his spinning rig.

So there you have it. Spinning has its place in angling today there is nothing wrong about that. Just the same, I do wish that the average avid girl would hold to their funny-looking little spinning lures out of my favorite trout streams.

Stars Make "We're Not Married" Unusual and Refreshing Comedy Romance

One of the most unusual and refreshing comedies to come our way in some time is Twentieth Century - Fox's chuckle-a-minute-masterpiece, "We're Not Married", which sets up shop yesterday at the Belle Theatre and immediately has the audience into gales of uninhibited laughter.

With an all-star cast to guide it along its merry way, "We're Not Married" is a luxurious confection of mirth and confusion as five pairs of supposedly married couples discover, after their two years of wedded life, they really aren't married at all — victims of an over-anxious Justice of the Peace. Each sequence is a cameo of human frustration, elation and contrasting emotion, interspersed into one finished gem, they make for a memorable entertainment, in this motion picture entertainment.

The cast, which producer Nunnally Johnson and director Edmund Goulding assembled, is as star-studded a group as even the most avid movie fan could wish for. Each performer outdoes the other in transforming the hilarious story to reality.

Amply proportioned Marilyn Monroe and David Wayne provide scintillating revelry as Marilyn enters a beauty contest for married women only to discover she's no longer eligible, Ginger Rogers, the ever-glamorous lovely of long standing, and Fred Allen the star-witted expatriate from radio and TV, are superb as the "Mr. and Mrs." radio couple who disdain the sight of each other.

The rest of the players are equally impressive. Paul Douglas, Eve Arden, Eddie Bracken, Mitzi Gaynor, Zsa Zsa Gabor and Louis Calhern are all brilliant, bothered and unbothered.

Victor Moore makes his awaited return to the screen as the bungling Justice of the Peace and pours his delightful personality into the characterization. Let's hope that he makes his movie visits more frequent.

Goulding, has kept the dialogue moving at a rapid pace making certain that the humor floats fast and easy. Johnson in addition to his producing duties, fashioned the screenplay with expert care and should take a bow for the rib-tickling lines which permeate the entire film.

"We're Not Married" is the kind of entertainment you don't want to miss. For star appeal and laugh-appeal this is the picture for you. Go and see it and get happy.

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SUNDAY, OCT. 19, 1952.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Excellent day to reflect on the week just past. What can you do to make future actions more effective? Give due thoughts to religious, home, civic matters, of course.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Veto any high-pressure methods. Rather a time for rest, relaxation. Pay attention to health

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Benefic rays should encourage you to mix with fellow men in neighborly fashion. A helping hand not only aids the recipient but gives the donor a big "lift."

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Friendly aspects, particularly for family, personal, social matters. Seize all opportunities to spread a little cheer and happiness. Your ready smile tops.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Start day with church, thought of lowly ones, their welfare. Pitch into Sunday's schedule with enthusiasm. If on an outing, trip or at athletics, don't overstrain.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Avoid tendency to be careless this "lazy" day. Arrange your activities to conform to best form. Church interests, socials in order.

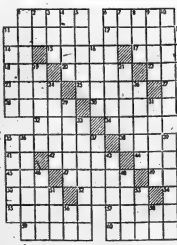
It Pays
To Advertise

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Proceed with steady, even pace whether at work or play. Interest in children's plans always worth while.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Good thoughts, will-ing hands and eager-to-do-the-right-thing attitude are vital. Be firm about principles, careful in method.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Wanting to do the right thing and striving to do it must go together. You are an industrious straight-shooter, and like others to be the same.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Don't hesitate to say a good word for a person; too often we leave the healing, encouraging tidbits unsaid. You will be happier, too.



January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Start with prayer, church services. Thus you will be led into surer, finer channels. Tend to your other affairs then.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Don't permit any feeling of insecurity or self-depreciation. This is a day, week, year for Pisces to give of its grand personal assets to strengthen self and others.

YOU BORN TODAY can lead or follow in admirable way if living up to your fine traits, practising things you know to be right. Libra's sense of justice and diplomacy be careful about associates; injustice arouses your sympathies, they could be imposed upon.

Birthdate of: Fannie Hurst, author; Leigh Hunt & Sir Thos. Browne, authors, the latter a physician.

CAMPBELLFORD

Mrs. A. W. Nelson
Addresses H-S Assoc.

Campbellford—The Home and School Association held their regular meeting for the month in the Campbellford public school. Mr. Ross Jewell presided.

Mrs. A. C. Newman introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Mrs. A. W. Nelson, who outlined what is a association could mean to the parents. She stated the child and these and of teachers, home teachers, school teachers and community teachers, which included playgrounds and church leaders, and of these the home teachers were the most important.

The school could only build on the cultural structure developed by the home. The child's personality is well founded before he starts school and fixed by the time he leaves public school. Any changes in personality after school time are fractious.

A Good Home

To offer a good home as one where the child is secure and happy, where he has room to grow without feeling cramped or frustrated, where he can find learns all discipline through being permitted rights and privileges as well as responsibilities and he in turn is required to respect other people's rights.

She asked Home and School to support the council of domestic family life. Mrs. Nelson urged parents to support and assist community leaders, as often their children resorted to the gang and the undesirable individuals withdrawing as leaders of town and family spirit.

Mrs. Jewell thanked the speaker for her interesting talk, after which the parents of Kindergarten and Grade I pupils met their teachers to meet the teachers and discuss their child's progress.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jewell and social convener and her committee.

Plain Words for New Czech Envoy

On presenting his credentials in Washington, Dr. Karel Petrzelka, the Czechoslovakia's new ambassador to the U.S., was told bluntly that Canada and U.S. relations will remain bad so long as U.S. envoy Ellis Wilson Ottis is imprisoned. Acting Secretary of State David Bruce told Petrzelka that the Czech government must have to release Ottis — imprisoned in Prague on charges of espionage between the two countries will improve. — Central Press Canadian.

U.S. Demands Compensation For 'Unjustifiable' Attack On Plane Missing Since Oct. 7

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States charged today in a note to Moscow that Russian planes made a "wanton and unjustifiable attack" on the American B-29 plane missing off Japan since Oct. 7. The note demanded compensation.

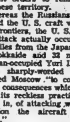
Payment is in order, the U.S. said, both for the loss of the plane and for the lives of any of the crew of eight who may have perished.

The U.S. declared the B-29 was on a routine flight off the northern end of Japan, was entirely unarmed and its officers were under explicit orders to remain within Japanese territory.

Whereas the Russians have contended the U. S. craft violated Soviet frontiers, the U. S. note said the attack actually occurred some six miles from the Japanese island of Hokkaido and 32 miles from Russian-occupied Turi Island.

The sharply-worded U.S. note advised Moscow "to consider the grave consequences which can flow from its reckless practice, if persisted in, of attacking without provocation the aircraft of other states."

It rejected the Soviet claim, made in a Russian note of Oct. 12, that the bomber was over Soviet territory and opened fire on two Soviet fighter planes before it disappeared.



Moscow was asked to furnish an immediate report on the results of a search operation believed to have been carried out by a Soviet patrol boat reported from Shikotan Island, and to provide full information about any crew members who might have survived.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The old man of distance racing, Clarence D. Demar, is going to run another 26 miles in the third annual Baltimore marathon Sunday.

"Why, Dutch," quizzed Doc Heinicke, race chairman. Heinicke bases that on personal observation, having been beaten by 64-year-old De Mar 14 years ago and watching him finish the Boston marathon last year.

"De Mar, a printer from Reading, Mass., missed the Boston marathon for the first time in decades this year. He won it seven times, but he announced he wasn't retiring.

It was an unbroken rule at the sanctuary that at least one member of the family, health and weather permitting, must attend service in the village mission on Sunday mornings. Under the circumstances, Colly dare not leave Sandy alone with Paul Gates, and Paul Gates confessed truthfully that he didn't have the necessary clothes to appear in church. So Colly ran Sandy across the lake in his boat and returned only to go back later to bring her home.

The afternoon was spent in reading and sleeping, but in the evening they were all outside listening to the Americans who were having a sing-song. Paul listened to them for a while, then he turned to Colly who was sitting on a bench at the side of the house.

Miners Angered By Wage Cutback Poised For Strike

Nearly Half of 375,000 Diggers Reported Idle

PITTSBURGH (AP) — More than half the country's 375,000 soft coal miners refused to work today as a protest against the government-ordered cut in the $1.90 daily wage boost they recently won from the industry.

Major coal-producing states counted at least 200,000 miners idle.

West Virginia, the country's No. 1 coal-producing state, led with 115,000 diggers refusing to work. That figure represents the state's entire union membership.

Come-to-work pickets were ignored by 67,500 miners in western and central Pennsylvania alone. These diggers joined the 160,000 miners who refused to work last week across the country while the Wage Stabilization Board was debating approval of the pay increase for miners formerly earning a basic minimum daily wage of $18.35.

After the W.S.B. approved $1.50 of the pay increase, bringing the new basic daily wage to $17.85, more miners joined their idle fellow workers. Now at least 227,000 are staying away from work, including 30,000 in Kentucky, 17,000 in Ohio, 8,300 in Indiana, 17,000 in Illinois and 700 in Oklahoma.

Assess Blame

The walkout came at a time when coal stocks are at a near record high. The nation estimated 85,000,000 tons of stored coal is the biggest stockpile in history except for 1942 when the supply of coal above ground was around 120,000,000 tons. Ample supplies mean that industry and householders won't feel a coal shortage for two months or more if it is kept up.

Most miners said they considered the W.S.B. action unfair in lifting their contract. Members of the United Mine Workers traditionally won't work without a contract.

Aussie Menace As Crocodiles Escape Drouth

DARWIN, Australia (reuters) — Seeking escape from the worst drought in Northern Australian history, thousands of crocodiles are crawling south from coastal areas in search of fresh waterholes.

They pose a new threat to ranchers whose herds are dying off from lack of water. Posses have been sent out to hunt down and kill them before they get at the cattle and buffalo roaming the plains.

The crocodiles found in Northern Australia are the largest type known. They sometimes reach 30 feet in length.

The drought is affecting about 250,000 square miles — about one-fifth of the continent. Approximately 4,000,000 cattle graze in this area and some cattle stations have lost as much as 50 per cent of their herds.

Britain to Fly Troops to Cope With Mau Mau

LONDON (AP) — Britain is flying a battalion of white troops to Kenya tonight to cope with Mau Mau terrorists out to drive the white man from the East African colony.

The Colonial Office said the crack Lancashire Fusiliers will be at Mombasa, 600 miles from Nairobi, within the next few days to support troops in the Kenya capital.

It will be the first time in years that a British battalion has served in East Africa. The colony normally is patrolled by African soldiers serving under white officers.

During the last few weeks Mau Mau terrorists have committed dozens of murders, arson, cattle killing and other crimes.

The Mau Mau is a secret, society of the kikuyu tribe — the warriors ranged the plains of Kenya until the British farmers moved in around the turn of the century.

Africans who refuse to take the Mau Mau oath — usually sworn over the entrails of a goat at dead of night — are hung by the neck from rafters until unconscious.

Figures given to the House of Commons by Colonial Secretary Oliver Lyttelton last week showed that the society has a membership of 43 murders, including a prominent African chief and several Britons. Other people have been driven to suicide by fear of the Mau Mau.

Meek Mentally Fit to Stand Trial Says Jury

CORNWALL (CP)—The trial of Elias Meek, charged with the murder of Mrs. Dollie Alguire at her home here a year ago, resumes today following a special jury decision that Meek is mentally fit to stand trial.

Chief Justice J.C. Mellmer of Ontario, Cornwall, yesterday halted Meek's second trial on the charge late Friday. He ordered a special jury to decide whether Meek, 31, is fit to stand trial.

The jury decided late Saturday after a 40-minute hearing that Meek is sane. Three doctors testified that the young farmhand suffered from a mental disorder when two others said he is sane.

Meek was convicted previously of the fatal stabbing of the 28-year-old wife of his employer Sept. 27, 1951. His appeal on the trial jury was misdirected was upheld and a new trial ordered.

ELEVEN KILLED, 27 INJURED IN RACE RIOTS IN AFRICA

Orgy of Violence, Looting and Arson

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — Heavily-armed police ringed New Brighton township today following week-end riots which left 11 persons dead, at least 27 injured and great property damage in the Negro section.

The township, a part of Port Elizabeth housing 40,000 Negroes, was quiet today after an orgy of violence, looting and arson Saturday. Only authorized persons were allowed to cross the police cordon.

Before gun-firing police were ordered to restore order Saturday night, a New Brighton post office, a large motion picture theatre, five shops and stores and many automobiles were burned. The railway station and municipal buildings badly damaged.

Trouble flared first at the station when railway police tried to arrest two negroes on charges of theft. Bystanders attacked the police, who opened fire to disperse them. Later a bigger mob returned to the attack.

Flames soon fanned out, burning and looting buildings and setting fire to cars and trucks. At one time police were forced to charge and fought a running battle with the police.

Police reinforcements were rushed from Port Elizabeth and surrounding areas, cities. defence units were notified and police took up positions at power stations and other strategic points around the city. The trouble did not spread beyond the Negro quarter, however.

The disorders were reported to have had no connection with the current native campaign of civil disobedience protesting South African racial laws. New Brighton had been regarded previously as a model for racial harmony. The Negroes there were considered more settled and contented than elsewhere in the Union and the crime rate was relatively low.

Oil Find May Prove Important

TORONTO (CP) — Oil slick samples found in the French River district of Northern Ontario will be analyzed here by government chemist Dr. Minshen Kelly said today.

The seven samples, taken from the property of Col. Roy Nelson, were said by some Mines Department officials to indicate "good possibility" of an oil bonanza for northern Ontario.

Mr. Kelly, however, was noncommittal.

It would be premature to say that oil has been found on Col. Nelson's property, he said, until tests have been taken and will be analyzed.

An official said geologists contend the "oil belt" runs from Timmins Chrich to Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Northern Ontario. Hundreds of oil claims they have seen oil slicks on swampy land.

Eisenhower Expected to Train Campaign Guns on President In Tour of New England States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower whistle-stops into New England today with campaign guns expected to be trained on President Truman again rather than Governor Adlai E. Stevenson on both pinned for whistle-stops of their own tomorrow.

President Truman returned to the White House Sunday from a three-day jaunt through New England and New York. He boards his special campaign train for tonight for another three-day whirl through New Jersey, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Maryland.

Stevenson and his aides put the finishing touches at Springfield, Ill., to preparations for a 12-state tour, including 30 appearances in New York State, which begins tomorrow.

Eisenhower's headquarters indicated he may reply, during the New England tour, to President Truman's criticism of the general on immigration policies.

The criticism was in a speech read by Truman Friday in which he said Eisenhower, by endorsing some Republican senators who had voted for the McCarran immigration bill, showed he was willing to embrace "the prejudices" to become president. The bill specifies varying immigration quotas for various countries.

Drive for More Fighting Allies in Korea Hinted By Acheson in U.N. Address

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)— The United States is preparing for a "hard" campaign to get more troops from Korea war-front members onto the Korean battlefield.

The drive for more fighting allies was hinted at by State Secretary Dean Acheson in his opening U.N. policy statement, and was kicked off by Assistant Secretary D. Hickerson, assistant secretary of state.

Addressing the annual U.N. week meeting of the American Association for United Nations, Hickerson said:

Asks More Troops

"We intend to press hard in the general assembly to get as many United Nations troops as are available who have not done so to face up to their responsibilities in Korea. Those who have chosen troops there now, ready to continue the fight, will be given the necessary."

Canada has contributed troops and air force and navy units.

Hickerson said the campaign should result in "one of the best debates about U.N. action on a Korean settlement up to the present U.N. Assembly political committee, beginning next week or two."

Russia's Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky indicated in his policy statement Saturday that Communists intend to continue their refusal to break the Korean deadlock.

The U.S. State Department put Russian experts to work on Vishinsky's official Russian text, to determine if any significant changes indicated some Communist change in position would be made apparent when Vishinsky and the U.N interpreters raced through the Saturday speech.

Acheson's speech held an unmistakable note for the anti-Communist majority in the assembly when he said, "It is time that we and our whole structure of collective security is meeting its supreme test. We will have no opportunity by action at this assembly to demonstrate to the Communists that we are united in purpose and firm in resolve."

The North Koreans, meanwhile, sent a message to U.N. Secretary General Trygve Lie in Pyongyang that their representatives take part in discussions on the Korean truce question taken by the U.N. in our general assembly in the present age said. They refuse to accept the Allied proposal that prisoners be given the right of Communist upon repatriation.

The general policy debates are scheduled to continue in the Assembly's committees today.

Also today, most of the assembly committees — social, economic, political, budgetary and others — are to elect officers and decide in what order they will take contentious questions on their heavy agenda.

40 Children Stranded Since Sunday, Rescued

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — The Coast Guard early today rescued 40 children stranded since Sunday afternoon when a pleasure boat ran aground.

The children and five adult chaperones — all from Waterbury — spent anxious hours waiting to be rescued when the Coast Guard cutter Ingham, a small craft that could reach the boat stranded in shallow water.

Many Districts In South Ontario Visited by Snow

TORONTO (CP)—Snow fell on most of southern Ontario last night.

Light flurries began in Toronto about 8 p.m. and lasted intermittently three hours. Most of the snow melted as soon as it hit the ground but some stayed through the night on lawns.

It was an early first snow for southern Ontario but nothing new for points farther north. Snow has been reported for the last few weeks. North of Sudbury, where there has been several light falls, the snow reached a depth of four inches.

In western Ontario motorists were cautioned to drive carefully along the slippery roads and highways. In some sections visibility was poor with a "blinding" snowfall for short periods in some areas.

S.A. Passenger Train Derailed

COLENSO, South Africa (CP)— The Durban-Johannesburg passenger train was derailed in an embankment in Natal today, killing 22 passengers and injuring 31 others.

The leading coach plunged off the embankment first and dragged others with it.

Many of the heart itself, certain kinds of obstructions in the valves to the heart, diseases of the heart and nervous reflexes all may play a part in bringing about the fall in pressure.

THREE MILLION VEHICLES NOW ON CANADA'S ROADS

Group Told Highways Lack a National Menace

QUEBEC (CP) — The Canadian Good Roads Convention was told today that in spite of current highway-building programs, expansion of highway facilities in Canada is lagging and is menacing continued development of the country's economy and defence.

President William A. Wecker of General Motors of Canada said that because of Canada's dependence on automotive transport, roads and highways should no longer be merely the concern of provincial and municipal governments.

He suggested a voluntary form of co-operation between these bodies and the federal government. A national highway-building policy should be framed on national, not regional, needs.

He said:

"Try to imagine how many of the fatal accidents which crowd the front page of our Monday morning papers resulted from outdated highways with their level intersections. A modern road has no crossroads. Add to the cost of such highway mileage the price we pay for delays due to congestion. The cost of not providing adequate roads becomes almost beyond calculation."

"At the end of the war we felt that any prediction of 3,000,000 vehicles in Canada by 1955 would not be justified. Already in 1952 we have reached that total. Now we are looking ahead to 1960 and later, and there is danger of being wrong, as we were then. Some economists believe there will be 4,500,000 motor vehicles registered in Canada by 1960. I think the estimate is conservative. . ."

Bette Davis Collapses On N.Y. Stage

DETROIT (AP) — Actress Bette Davis collapsed in her dressing room at the stage of the Shubert theatre here during the premiere performance of her new play, Sunday night. "Two's Company."

The Hollywood film star was carried off the stage by two stage hands, but returned a few minutes later to finish the show.

"You can't say I didn't fall for you," she told an applauding first-night audience.

Miss Davis said overwork in preparing for the revue was responsible. She said the week on the stage role is her first in several years.

Local drama critics agreed that "Two's Company," while in need of extensive polishing, is a potential hit.

Vaccine Tested Gives Promise of Being Effective Against All Types of Polio

By WILLIAM MANCHESTER
(Copyright, Baltimore Evening Sun)

BALTIMORE (AP) — Working with little children, a Johns Hopkins scientist has developed and tested a vaccine which gives promise of being effective against all three types of polio.

"I am satisfied that it is possible to produce a satisfactory level of polio antibodies in human beings," Dr. Howe Mitchell Davies Taylor, professor of epidemiology at Hopkins, said today.

Antibodies are specific agents which can be developed in the blood to produce immunity against a disease.

Using a vaccine made of killed polio virus, Dr. Howe found that it made children develop antibodies against the virus. He presented his findings today at the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association in Cleveland.

Preparation of a triple vaccine made Dr. Howe's work especially difficult. Polio is really three diseases. Any one of its three types can cause paralysis, Dr. Howe and Leon—can cripple. A preventative must be aimed at all three.

Dr. Howe warned that the vaccine is not ready for use—that he is not even sure that the best vaccine to be used in large trials. Further testing will be necessary to improve it.

The children, all two to five years old, were low-grade imbeciles at Rosewood State Training School. Their parents assisted in the experiment. No child was in danger at any time.

They were inoculated with a vaccine formed from the spinal cords of monkeys stricken with polio and a chemical rendering the polio viruses harmless but still capable of producing antibodies.

In 1950, Dr. Howe had found that he could immunize chimpanzees. Eleven bedridden children at Rosewood, in good physical condition, despite their handicaps, were used in the first human tests.

Blood tests showed only one of the children had antibodies against more than one type of polio virus, before the vaccination.

Special Session Will Ratify New Tax-Rental Bill

Highway Expenditures Will Be Made from Reserve Fund

TORONTO (CP) —Legislation aimed at improving the financing of highway construction in Ontario will be introduced at the special session of the Ontario Legislature which opened today.

The surprise announcement was contained in the Speech from the Throne read by Lieutenant-Governor Louis Breithaupt at the opening ceremonies.

The 300-word speech, outlining proposed Government legislation, also dealt with two other measures —forecast in advance by Premier Frost—which will come before the assembly.

One will be a bill to ratify the tax-rental agreement between the province and federal government signed last Aug. 29 by Premier Frost and Finance Minister Abbott. Under this Ontario will turn its personal income and corporation tax fields over to the federal government in return for fixed annual payments over a five-year period ending March 31, 1957.

Compensate Owners

The second will provide legislation to compensate property owners along the upper St. Lawrence River whose lands is expropriated or damaged during the proposed St. Lawrence hydro development, to be built in conjunction with the seaway project.

The throne speech said the new bill will also "enable the government and the Hydro - electric Power Commission of Ontario to deal effectively with other special problems of planning, rehabilitation, the rendering of services and any exceptional claims that may arise."

The highways bill, the speech said, "will render more effective the financing of the construction and maintenance of provincial highways, the construction program for which has been greatly extended."

Vote Highway Funds

"It is proposed that hereafter all monies to be provided for highway purposes shall be voted for such purposes by the legislature."

In the past, highway expansion and improvement costs have been paid out of funds provided automatically under the highways improvement act. Members have been unable to deal with specific highways expenditures.

The new legislation will establish a special highway reserve account from which highways expenditures will be made.

The speech also told members they will be asked to vote money in this session to the new highways fund.
